HERALD & EXPOSITOR.

CARLISLE, PA.

Wednesday Morning August 14, 1844.

CIRCULATE THE DOCUMENTS.

NOW IS THE TIME!

THREE COPIES of the Herald and Expositor will be sent to one Post Office and to one address, from this time until the Presidential Election for ONE DOLLAR, or FIFTEEN COPIES for FIVE DOLLARS. The friends of CLAY, FRELINGHUYSEN and MARKLE, may possibly do something to forward the good cause by assisting us to circulate the documents and spread the truth among the people.

☞ Notices of several Clay Clubs are unavoidably postponed until our next.

☞ Our thanks are due to the Hon. WILLIS GAYLE, Chairman of the Whig Congressional Executive Committee at Washington, for a number of valuable documents, and a copy of the "Whig Text Book, or Democracy Unmasked."

This is a pamphlet of 32 pages, and contain extracts of the letters, speeches and votes of Mr. Benton, J. K. Polk and other prominent locofocos, giving their views on annexation, tariff &c.

Lecture.

☞ We have been requested to state that the Rev. Mr. Barnes will deliver a Lecture on Odd Fellowship, on Thursday evening next, in the Lutheran church of this borough, which the public are invited to attend.

Clay and Markle Badges.

☞ Badges for the County Mass Meeting on the 17th, of different colors and designs, and tastefully executed, may be had at our office at moderate rates.

That Roast Beef!

Messrs. Crouse & Carl, two of our enterprising Victuallers, request us to announce that they will slaughter on Friday afternoon next, a crack BEEF, weighing alive 2400 lbs. which was raised by Mr. Holliday in the vicinity of this borough. Those who intend to treat their whig friends of the mass meeting on Saturday next, with considerable civility and "roast beef" can be accommodated with some of the finest "cuts" at moderate prices.

The Buckeye Blacksmith.

☞ JOHN W. BAER, the celebrated "Buckeye Blacksmith," well known for the hammerings he gives the locofoco candidates, will probably be here at the great Mass Meeting on Saturday. Mr. Baer, owing to his numerous engagements, could not positively promise the committee of arrangements to be here, and therefore his name was not included among the gentlemen named on the large bills, but the probability is that he will be present.

☞ Since the above was put in type a friend who saw Mr. Baer in Lebanon, assures us that he exacted a promise from him to be here on the 17th, and that he will positively be with us.

Death of Mr. Muhlenberg.

☞ Our community was startled on Monday morning by a rumor, brought by the Eastern train of cars, of the sudden death of HENRY A. MUHLENBERG, the candidate of our opponents for Governor. Subsequent intelligence confirms the melancholy report. An extra from the office of the Reading Gazette, dated Monday morning, says,—"With feelings of deep and unfeigned sorrow, we are called upon to give publicity to an event which has painfully proved how true is the oft-repeated sentence, that in the midst of life we are in death." HENRY A. MUHLENBERG, our distinguished and beloved fellow-citizen, departed this life, at his residence in this borough, yesterday (Sunday) afternoon, at 4 o'clock. He had an attack of apoplexy, on Saturday evening, about 10 o'clock, while sitting as was his usual custom, at the front door of his mansion, and was taken up in a state of insensibility, and remained so until the hour of his death."

Speeches on the 17th!

☞ One of the greatest attractions of a public meeting is the speaking, and we can assure our friends they need fear no disappointment on this score on Saturday. A number of our most eloquent and popular orators are announced, who cannot fail on such an inspiring occasion, to give us a rare treat. If Mr. Berrien or Mr. Clayton do not attend, there will be Gibbons, and Cooper, and Smyser, and Chambers and Weisel, Yost, and others, all of whom are favorably known for their powers "on the stump." Besides these, the well known "Buckeye Blacksmith" will be here to "put in the big licks" fast and thick! Our friends may rest assured of hearing good speaking.

More "Mummeries!"

☞ So perfectly satisfied are our opponents that their meeting was a failure, that we understand they intend making another and a stronger attempt for which purpose they appointed committees on Monday evening! The next mass meeting is to be held on Friday the 6th of September, and like the one which failed, is to be a grand affair—if they can make it so. Our quiet, sober and sedate opponents have been hitherto much opposed to the "mummeries and tom-foleries" of mass meetings, but they seem to have got well of that all at once. How does this agree with the last Volunteer, which says, the democratic party is composed of the working classes, who have neither leisure time nor money to spare to attend many meetings? Who stands the blunt, then?

Preparations for the 17th.

☞ We hear of lively preparations for our Mass Meeting on Saturday next, in every township in the county. The people are preparing to come en masse. Our neighbours of Franklin, Adams, Dauphin and Perry will also be here in large numbers. Let them come! they will find us "latch strings out" and meet a hearty welcome!

☞ The Tuscan, one of the most beautiful and palatable sequents we know of, is now fully in season. We had one presented to us a few days since, which was grown in the garden of the Misses Kingsbury of North Middleton township. It measured sixteen and a half inches in circumference and weighed a pound and a half, being a perfect monster in its way.

☞ In addition to our list for York Friends, his honor Judge Hepburn very obligingly adjourned Court on Monday morning about 11 o'clock. Prompt, in every duty, remarked there would be wagon loads of people arriving every few minutes about which time all the avenues of approach to Court and business would be interrupted. The result proved the truth of the observation. Many persons arrived even at that late hour, and the Court House was crowded to overflowing. The meeting itself produced no very great excitement in town.

OUR TURN NOW!

Whigs! are you ready for Saturday?

☞ The preparations for the grand Whig Mass Convention in this borough on Saturday next, are going on finely. Our whig citizens have entered fully into the spirit of it, and are progressing with the preliminary arrangements with energy, promptness and enthusiasm. Our friends may prepare for a rare sight! This convention will as far outstrip that of 1840 as did that outstrip an ordinary township meeting, both as to numbers and enthusiasm, and especially as to a brilliant display of banners, flags and other devices.

We extend a cordial invitation to whigs far and near to attend our meeting on Saturday.—We pledge them a whole-hearted, soul-cheering welcome. Come to our meeting and infuse into the bosoms of your whig brethren here a portion of that glowing enthusiasm and burning zeal which animates the whigs throughout the country! Come! and bring your wives and daughters, that their cheering presence and smiles, ever beautiful and bright, may enkindle upon the altar of every whig heart a pure and radiant flame of patriotism! Come, then in hundreds and thousands! The warm hospitality of our ancient and goodly borough will be freely and cordially extended to all.

Come one, come all! Let it be emphatically a meeting of THE PEOPLE—men, women and children! Come, rain, or shine, and let neither horse nor vehicle be idle within the borders of our county on the glorious 17th.

The Polk Mass Meeting!

☞ The Mass Meeting of our loco foco friends on Monday, we believe disappointed all parties. Indeed it was so slim an affair after all the great flourish and preparations, as to be scarce worthy to be chronicled. The day was beautiful, such as we should like next Saturday to be, but with all that the people did not "come by hundreds and flies in wagons, on horseback," &c. as the Volunteer so pressingly invited them. The delegation from Silver Spring, which we believe was the largest on the ground numbered only a-but sixty-two! A delegation from Perry county and from York county of some forty each, with smaller delegations from Dickinson and South Middleton, and a hundred or two of straglers who came in through the morning in rather more stylish equipages than big wagons, made up the great Polk mass meeting! They had but one or two banners, but almost every man carried a withered poke bush! We would not undertake to say how many were present, although they could have easily been counted if the great number of Whigs who mingled in the crowd had been separate from them, but we might safely estimate that there were several hundred good Polk men in the meeting. In every respect it was a failure—in numbers, in spirit and in enthusiasm, it was felt to be on all hands a splendid failure! So much for the "overwhelming demonstration of party strength!" which was to scare the senses from the coons! Instead of being alarmed, we venture to say the coons were delighted and now more than ever feel perfectly assured of their ability to carry old Mother Cumberland for CLAY and MARKLE! Never was there a more complete abortion—never a weaker and spiritless display of poke-bush enthusiasm! The coons are entirely satisfied with it!

The meeting was organized in the market house at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, by the appointment of George H. Becher, Esq. of Silver Spring, as President, with a long string of Vice Presidents and secretaries. The President made a speech on taking the chair in the happy style of eloquence for which his gifted family is distinguished! Col. McClure was then called on, but as the people were ping a little ahead of the cut-and-dried proceedings, he declined speaking until the names of the committee on resolutions were read. A motion was then made to adjourn the meeting to the guide of the market house. Col. McClure then mounted the stand and made a good humored speech, which was plentifully bestrewed with anecdote in lack of arguments, and showed how badly off our opponents are for principles. He could see what his party were opposed to, but not what they were in favor of! Col. McClure also spoke upon the subject of Protection, and after wiring in and wiring out a considerable time to prove that Mr. Clay had not been a consistent Tariff man, at length candidly admitted Mr. Clay to be in favor of a Protective Tariff, and Mr. Polk in favor of a revenue Tariff. It is very strange that one of our opponents have yet come across any of Polk's speeches to the people of Tennessee in full, wherein he states his opposition to the present Tariff and his desire to see it repealed!

Col. McCoy closed his speech in making which he was evidently ill at ease for want of material, by introducing Col. John J. McCahen of Philadelphia an individual who has the advantage of Col. McClure in being able to fabricate with great facility what his subject does not legitimately furnish. He brought up a little of every thing, in the way he felt disposed to take notice of, but we hope his audience observed that he concluded the portion of his remarks on the subject of the Tariff by repeating several of the old Southern stereotyped arguments about a Tariff being oppressive. We believe it is not denied that Mr. McCahen is in principle an Anti-Tariff man. Such are to persons who attempt to prove that Polk is a per Tariff man than Clay!

After Col. McAhen had concluded, Mr. Hamill from the committee on resolutions reported, and the proceedings of the day were ended by erecting a Hickory pole at the corner of the square. More speaking took place in the Court House in the Evening, which we did not hear. So ended the greatness meeting.

The Upper End awake.

Our friends in Shippensburg and the adjoining townships in the upper end of the county seem to be alive with enthusiasm in the good cause. The last Shippensburg News? notices a Clay and Markle meeting in Newtown, near that place, which it says was attended by at least a thousand people. The News? says from Shippensburg and vicinity there was a very large turn out, among whom were some who have always heretofore been Locofocos. From the spirit manifested in Cumberland county we think there is no doubt but that Old Mother Cumberland is safe for CLAY and MARKLE!

We also learn from the News, that a large Whig Meeting was held in that place on last Saturday evening, and as no convenient building could be had to hold the great number in attendance, they met on the open street in front of the Post Office, at which addresses were delivered by I. McCauley Esq. of Chambersburg, R. P. McClure, Esq. and D. Fenton, of Shippensburg. Keep up the ball!

☞ The U. S. Light Artillery made a small some parade in town on Monday morning, under command of Lieut. Phelps. They were accompanied by their battery, and made an elegant appearance.

☞ A son of France Gibson, of Perry county, was killed by the cars on the Harrisburg and Lancaster Railroad, on last Saturday week. He was walking on the track, and was struck by the engine, and instantly killed. He was about 18 years of age.

Dr. Ritner!

☞ Our readers will recollect the frenzy of enthusiasm which a few locofocos got up a few weeks ago, when Dr. Ritner arrived from their retirement several distinguished gentlemen who have always been prominent advocates of Whig principles, but who have not actively appeared in the present canvass, and proclaimed them with a great flourish of being opposed to Henry Clay.—Among the gentlemen thus made the subjects of loco foco misrepresentation, stood conspicuously Louis McLane of Delaware, Gov. Ritner of this State, W. Cost Johnson of Maryland, Traddeus Stevens and several others. Terrific was the yell of rejoicing which locofocism set up, over those imagined proselytes to the sinking party and the rotten cause of Polk, Dallas and Texas! These gentlemen had been subjects of the grossest abuse and vilification by the loco foco press for years, but now that they were supposed to be disaffected toward Mr. Clay, loco focoism, true to its corrupt nature, turned about and with equal facility prepared to greet them with as cringing and fulsome adulation. They that were formerly the most hated and abused by locofocoism, were now pronounced pure patriots who were too consistent and honest to give their support to a man so morally and politically corrupt as Henry Clay.

This delusion of our opponents was destined to a short-lived existence. The story of the detection of these gentlemen had scarcely taken the round of the loco foco press until public letters or speeches appeared from each which gave the lie to the slander, and extinguished the last ray which had brightened the hopes of Polkism. The tune is now changed and the loco foco press is again engaged in the work of defamation. The letter published in our paper of week before last, has elicited from the Volunteer, a most unjust and illiberal attack upon Ex-Gov. RITNER. This letter, containing the Governor's sentiments in relation to certain public measures, the Volunteer affects to doubt that he himself was the author of! If the editor of the Volunteer really has any doubts we can remove them by showing him the manuscript of the letter, which is in the Governor's own writing, just as it was addressed to the Chairman of the State Central Committee. If the Volunteer therefore bases its charge of "notorious incompetency" on the supposition that Mr. Ritner did not himself write the letter which appeared over his signature, it is grossly in error.

It has not perhaps been Gov. Ritner's good fortune to receive a thorough education, but that he has a clear, vigorous and comprehensive mind, we have heard conceded by even his political opponents. And we can assure the Volunteer that he pays Gen. Markle a higher compliment than he intended, by comparing him with Joseph Ritner. There is no eulogy of Gov. Ritner required at our hands, but we may say for him that he retired from the chief Magistracy of this State, with his integrity unimpeached and his character unstained by a single imputation. There may have been errors committed in his administration, but no reminiscences of "lumber transactions" or high crimes or misdemeanors, can ever arise to harass him in his retirement. To Joseph Ritner's lasting honor be it said, that he retired from the office of Chief Magistrate as poor as he went into it. No stain rests upon his integrity—no dark suspicions follow in his train. And the people of this State are beginning to find out, though in sorrow it be, that the chief qualification in a Governor of Pennsylvania now should be HONESTY.—This at least they had in Gov. Ritner, and this they will have in the veteran soldier, Gen. Joseph Markle.

☞ The Portland Bulletin, a neutral paper thus rebukes the slang of the locofoco press:

"Mr. Clay has been subjected to the most gross and slanderous abuse, and yet there are few men in our country whose reputation for honor, for virtue, for strict integrity, for all that ennobles man, will compare with his. For more than thirty years he has served the public—sometime invested with almost unlimited power, at others having vast amounts of the public moneys at his command, and yet notwithstanding the lynx eyed watchfulness of the whippers in and two penny scribblers of the political press which opposed him, no single instance of the slightest abuse of power—no solitary charge in the most minute degree affecting his honor or integrity, has ever yet been substantiated against him.

No one need ever be in error in regard to his principles. Once having made up his mind, he is there, as a Kentuckian would say—and fame and popularity in vain offer their flattering allurements to draw him aside. His sentiments, in regard to the Bank, the Texas question—indeed upon all the great questions of public policy which have of late been agitated, are well known; and we may judge from the past what his future course will be. If his opponents deem his opinions in reference to these mooted points erroneous, it would be far more manly for them to bring their forces to bear upon these opinions, than to seek to injure him by attacks upon his reputation for honor, honesty and virtue. It is the measures even more than the man that should be looked to."
