THE FAMILY CIRCLE.

BETTER MOMENTS.

BY N. P. WILLIS.

My mother's voice! how often creeps
Its cadence on my lonely hours!
Like healing sent on wings of sleep,
Or dew to the unconscious flowers.

I cannot forget her melting prayer
While leaping pulses madly fly,
But in the still unbroken air,
Her gentle tones come stealing by—
And years, and sin, and manhood flee,
And leave me at my mother's knee.

* * * * * * *

My heart is harder, and perhaps
My manliness hath drank up tears;
And there's a mildew in the lapse
Of a few miserable years—
But nature's book is even yet
With all my mother's lessons writ.

I have been out at eventide
Beneath the moonlight sky of spring,
When earth was garnish'd like a bride,
And night had on her silver wing—

* * * * * * *

And when the beautiful spirit there
Flung over me its golden chain
My mother's voice came on the air
Like the light dripping of the rain—
And resting on some silver star
The spirit of a bended knee,
I've poured out low and fervent prayer
That our eternity might be
To rise in heaven, like stars at night,
And tread a living path of light.

AN AMERICAN HOME.

BY REV. ALBERT BARNES.

Here let us pause a moment. An AMERICAN HOME—what an idea is conveyed by that word! The ancient Greek and Roman and Hebrew, know not the term. It is a stranger to the modern Gallic people, and is found in few of the languages of the world. The Greek and Roman talked of a house and a household; and, doubtless, there were attractive ideas in the word to them. Around the oriental phrase, "the shepherd's tent," there is thrown some charm of Romance—more in the idea than in the reality—though there are, to an oriental, pleasurable associations connected with it. So in our boyhood, also, we were charmed with the description of the happiness of the dwellings in Arcadia—more in the dreams of poetry than there ever was in the reality. The word we have obtained from our old Saxon tongue, and we have invested it with ideas such as could have been gathered around such a word among no people except those of Saxon origin. Transport the word to the heart of Africa, or to China, or to Persia, or to Turkey, or to Russia, and it loses its meaning. You cannot clothe it there with what is attractive in it here.

How many tender and beautiful conceptions enter here into the meaning of the word—home! It is not merely the place of our birth, nor the place where our father and mother—our brothers and sisters live; it is not merely the place where we have been trained, and where we sported in boyhood; it is not that our house is more beautiful or splendid than can be found in other lands; it is not that we are clothed in fine linen and fare sumptuously every day—but it is that there clusters around an American home, what is rarely, if ever, to be found in any other habitation of man. All homes in our land, are not, indeed, precisely the same—but there is a beau ideal which easily conveys the conception, and which will find its original in thousands of the abodes in this Republic, and not often in the older portions of the world—rarely except in our own native land. It is the abode of Liberty. The father is allowed to pursue his own plan, for the good of his family, and, with his sons, to labor in what profession he chooses, and to enjoy the avails of his own labor. The results of his toil are not liable to be torn away by rapacious officers of government; nor is he subject to the will of another as to the amount of labor which he shall perform, or the kind of employment which he shall pursue. He may live where he pleases—he may purchase a field as his own—he may plant or sow, or build, where and what he chooses—and there undisturbed he may lie down and die. It is the abode of neatness, thrift, and competence. It is not the wretched hut of the Greenlander or the Caffrarian, or the underground abode of the Kamschatkan, or the stye of the Hottentot. It is the abode of intelligence. We associate with the word instinctively, the idea that they who reside there can read; that they have the Bible; that they are not strangers to other books and other modes of transmitting thought. They are acquainted with the constitution of their country; they know their rights as citizens; they know the value of a vote; they know where to find redress if they are wronged—they feel sure that if they are wronged they will have redress. It is the abode of contentment and peace. The bond that unites all is love and mutual respect. A father and mother are respected, obeyed, and loved. They have intelligence and virtue which constitute a claim to respect, and they have laid the foundation for this in the careful training of their children. It is the abode of kindness. There is kindness to each other and to all who have a claim on compassion. The poor neighbor has a share of the sympathy existing there, and is sure that he shall not be sent empty away. It is the abode of safety. On my own father's house, which has stood for nearly half a century, there has never been a lock, or a bolt, nor when left alone, as it has often been, has it ever been in any way secured against robbers—and yet it has never been entered for an evil purpose. To these things, as they might be expanded and illustrated, you were to add the idea of religion—of the blessings of the gospel in the purest form known since apostolic times, producing kindness, contentment and peace—sustaining the soul in adversity, and in prosperity leading the heart up to God with gratitude; inclining to his daily worship in the habitation, and the ordering of all the plans of life in accordance with the principles of religion, you would have completed the image of an American home.

Such is the home that is loved—that we revert to with pleasure, when far away, and when we are tossed on the billows of life; and that we love to revisit again, after we have been absent many years. And, it may be added, it is such a home, and in the strong attachment which is formed for it, that the stability of our institutions lies. You have an indissoluble hold on the virtue and good conduct of your sons, as long as home is what it should be, and as long as it shall seem to them when they are abroad, to be the most pleasant spot on the earth. Our strength as a people is there; our hope is there; the foundations of the Republic rest there. Other things are, indeed, important; the laws that shall be enacted; the foreign and domestic policy; the patronage of the arts, and the fostering of science, are all important, but none of them have an importance that can be compared with the purpose of making an American home what it should be. Now, it is much that, at the close of the year, we can reflect that these influences have been silently and steadily gowing forward through out another whole year; that in ten thousand habitations of the land, the virtues which are to go most into the future welfare of the republic, have been uninterruptedly cultivated, and that ten thousand virtuous and pious fathers and mothers have been noiselessly at work every day in making more firm the foundations of virtue, of liberty, and of religion. We have no arithmetic to express the value of this silent influence for a year, or even for a day. Who can tell how much the dews that fall around our dwellings at night are worth?—Some time since an ingenious utilitarian attempted to estimate the value in this country to the national wealth of a single day's sunshine; but our arithmetic is not well adapted to such things. There are influences collateral, unobserved, or remote, in the dew-drop, and the sun-beam, and the training in a virtuous home, which you cannot bring within the compass of your calculations.

MILITARY EXPIATION.—A letter dated Luxemburg, December 2d, says:—The suicide of a young Prussian officer belonging to the garrison has produced an extraordinary sensation. The deceased had stolen some articles of silver. Whereupon his fellow officers assembled to deliberate on the proper mode of vindicating the honor and dignity of their order. Propositions on the one hand to deliver the offender over to the justice of the laws, on the other to furnish him with the means of flight beyond the reach of prosecution, were alike rejected; and it was resolved that the stain upon their escutcheon could only be washed out with the blood of the delinquent. So the wise conclave, with characteristic military promptness, proceeded to load two pistols, with which they repaired in a body to their comrade, to whom they announced their decision, and presenting him with the instrument of death, told him they would retire till summoned by the explosion. This they heard before they descended the staircase; and on remounting they found the dead body of their comrade bathed in blood.

THE ROMANCE OF REAL LIFE.—A Ghent Journal states that there is among the convicts in the prison in that place, a man who, ten years ago, having murdered a schoolmaster for jealousy, was condemned to hard labor for life, and this man is now worth nearly a million of francs. He is clothed in the livery of the convicts, and is working as a bricklayer's laborer. In the same prison there is also living a man who half a century since, was pardoned, and to whom liberty has been offered many times. He, however, is so much accustomed to the life of a prison that he requested as a favor to be allowed to remain there until the time of his death. He is about 90 years old. He has lost all his relations and friends long since, and has no desire to mix again in a world in which he knows nobody. He is very kindly treated in the prison, as his conduct was always good."

BENJOINTED RACE.—Whilst taking my Susoo lesson, (says an African Missionary) I was surprised to find that, according to my interpreter, the Susoos have no word to express the act of "praying," and none for God." After many repetitions of the word "to pray," and inquiry respecting it, I found that he had all along misunderstood me's for while I had been speaking of "praying he had understood me as playing!" Having pointed out his mistake, and asked for the desired word "to pray" he frankly told me that they had no word corresponding with it, because the Susoos never prayed and knew not what it was. The only religious notions which the Susoos have, are those imbibed from the Mahomedans. Their opinion is, that the Mahomedan religion teaches black people the art of healing diseases, and of protecting from danger by means of writing charms taken from the Koran; and that the Bible teaches white people how to make money. This is the character which Europeans have carried into the interior of Africa of their religion! Need we wonder that nations cannot at first believe, much less understand, the disinterested motives of missionaries in going to them, when their religion, their money, and the color of their skin, are thus identified.

PROTECTION AGAINST LOSS BY FIRE.

THE CUMBERLAND VALLEY MUTUAL PROTECTION COMPANY, having incorporated by an act of the Legislature of the present session, and fully organized and in operation under the direction of the following Board of Managers, viz: Thomas C. Miller, John Moore, David W. McCullough, James Weakly, William Moore, Samuel Galbraith, Thomas Paxton, A. G. Miller, Philip Spangler, Samuel Woods, Abraham Kurtz, George Brindle, Scott Doyle, call the attention of the inhabitants of Cumberland Valley to the cheapness of their rates and the many advantages which this kind of insurance has over any other.

1st. Every person insured becomes a member of the company and takes part in the election of officers and the direction of its concerns.

2d. For insurance no more is demanded than is necessary to meet the expenses of the Company and indemnity against losses which may happen.

3d. The inconvenience of frequent renewals is avoided by insuring for a term of five years. But policies can be taken for any period from one to five years.

4th. Any person applying for insurance must give his premium note for the cheapest class at the rate of five per centum which will be $50 on $1000 for which he will have to pay $2,50 for five years and $1,50 for surety and policy, and no more unless he sustains a greater amount than the fund on hands will cover, and then no more will be required than a pro rata share. These rates are much cheaper than those of other companies, except such as are incorporated on the same principles.

For some time past I have been afflicted with a distressing racking cough accompanied with a great oppression and difficulty of breathing with a sensation of tightness at the chest. Becoming greatly alarmed a friend who had been much benefitted by your medicine recommended me to try it. I done so and in a very short time every alarming symptom disappeared, my expectoration became free, an oppression left me, my cough ceased and in a few days was able to go out and attend to my business as well as ever. FACTS WORTH KNOWING

Dr. Leidy's

Sarsaparilla Blood Pills,

Are the only Pills in existence containing Sarsaparilla.

Their composition is of a peculiar character, composed of Vegetable Extracts that are diuretic, aperient and cathartic, by which combination they are adapted to most forms of disease and may be taken at all times, by young and old, robust and feeble, with perfect safety, without interfering with habits, occupation, or regular course of living.

They will, at all times, be found serviceable as a Purgative, cleansing the stomach and bowels, as well as a purifier of the blood and animal fluids, in addition, to their other qualities, because, containing Sarsaparilla and other valuable medical extracts in their composition, and which makes them preferable to all other Pills.

More than 1,000 Certificates have been published at various times of their efficacy in various diseases, and where all other medicines had failed; as the public must have read many of them; further publication of them is deemed unnecessary, on account of the great expense.

More than 100,000 Boxes

have been sold in Philadelphia alone, the past year, thus showing that in the place where they are manufactured, they have a reputation, greater than any other pills—which arises from the fact that Dr. Leidy is well known at home as a regular Physician, and his pills are consequently employed with greater confidence than any other; in addition to their known efficacy.

Let it be remembered

'tis not the quantity of pills of other medicine you can get for the same money, is the best or cheapest, —but the quality. Of cheap medicines or pills, you, of course, get the most, and you are induced to take the more, under the impression if a little does good, more will do more good, and you make drug shops of your stomachs, causing oftentimes serious injury to yourselves for life.

Dr. Leidy's Blood Pills are composed of more expensive ingredients, and require more nicety and labor in their preparation than any other pills—the apparatus alone for preparing the extracts contained in his pills, costing over three thousand dollars.

Price 25 cents a box.

They are prepared only, and sold wholesale and Retail, at Dr. Leidy's Health Emporium, No 191 North Second street below Vine st. Also by

THOMPSON'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF TAR AND WOOD NAPTHA.

For the Prevention and Cure of Pulmonary Consumption.

OF all diseases incident to our climate there is none so universal and at the same time so insidious and fatal as Consumption. In this country especially Pulmonary Consumption is emphatically a scourge, and in its resistless career sweeps o'er the land as a destroying Angel, laying low with relentless hand the strongest and fairest of our race! Hitherto all efforts to arrest this dread disease have proved in vain and all that seemed within our power was at best the alleviation of suffering, rendering sometimes what smoother the certain progress to the tomb!

The Compound Syrup of Tar is a combination heretofore unknown, exerting a power over the disease scarcely conceivable, having a specific action on the mucous tissue and at the same time bringing the whole system under its powerful influence it completely eradicates the cause of disease be it hereditary or otherwise; and thus by striking at the root of the complaint, imparts tone to debilitated organs, affords renewed vigor to the general system and thus restores the patient to permanent health.

This invaluable medicine is put up in bottles, having the following words blown in the glass—Thompson's Compound Syrup of Tar for Consumption' without which none is genuine.

COMPOUND PURATIVE SYRUP.

For the cure of Obstinate Eruptions of the Skin; Pimples or Pustules on the Face; Biles which arise from an impure habit of body; Scaly Eruptions; Pains in the Bones; Chronic Rheumatism; Tetter; Scrofula or King's Evil; White Swellings; Syphilitic Symptoms; and all disorders arising from an impure state of the blood, either by a long residence in a hot and unhealthy climate, the injudicious use of Mercury, &c.

This Medicine has frequently been found highly beneficial in Chronic Coughs, or Colds of long standing.

This Medicine has been extensively used in the United States with decided benefit in Scrofula, Mercurial diseases, and in all cases of an ulcerated character. As an alterative in the spring and fall seasons, it is unequalled. It possesses many advantages over the decoction, and is introduced as a preparation more portable, not liable to injury by long keeping, and better adapted to the use of persons travelling or residing abroad.

The proprietor begs leave to call attention to the following certificates, selected from a large number approving its efficacy:

READING, March 3, 1839.

This certifies that my wife Mrs. Deem, had for nearly eleven years suffered from a scrofulous eruption resembling tetter, which ate deep holes in her face, neck and arms, the constant discharge of which destroyed her health, and frequently confined her for different periods to her bed, during which time her sufferings were very great. The best medical attendance was obtained, and all the known remedies were tried with but an alleviation of her complaint, which always returned with increased malignity.—Having lost all hopes of recovery, she had almost determined to give up the use of any other medicine she was however, by persuasion, induced to try Oakeley's Depurative of Sarsaparilla, the use of five bottles of which has removed the disease, and restored her to perfect health.

THOMAS DEEM,
opposite the depot, Reading, Pa.

This is to certify that my little son, about eight years old, had suffered for a long time from extensive sores on the right knee and leg, supposed to have been white swelling, which I found impossible to heal, even by the aid of the most respectable medical advice, until I was recommended to use Mr. Oakley's Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, 8 bottles of which not only healed the sores, but perfectly restored the child's health, which had suffered much in consequence of this affection.

CATHARINE BINGEMAN,
7th, above Penn street, Reading.

The above case was presented to me both before and after the use of Mr. Oakley's Syrup of Sarsaparilla, and I have no hesitation in believing that it was the agent of his restoration.

JOHN P. HESTER, M. D.

DOUGLASSVILLE, April, 19, 1843.

Mr. Oakley:—My son Edmund Leaf, had the scrofula in the most dreadful and distressing manner for three years, during which time he was deprived of the use of his limbs, his head and neck were covered with ulcers. We tried all the different remedies, but to no effect until recommended by Dr. Johnson, of Norristown, and also Dr. Isaac Hester, of Reading, to use your Depurative Syrup of Sarsaparilla, of which I obtained several bottles, the use of which drove the disease entirely out of his system, the sores healed up, and the child was restored to perfect health, which he has enjoyed uninterruptedly ever since, to the astonishment of many persons who seen him during his affliction. I have thought it my duty, and send you this certificate, that others who have a like affliction in the family may know where to obtain so valuable a medicine. Yours, truly A. D. LEAF.

CHILDREN CRY FOR SHERMAN'S LOZENGES, and grown people say they are the pleasantest and most effective medicine in use. Enormous quantities are sold and every body likes them. Freeman Hunt, Esq., editor of the Merchants' Magazine, says they cured his cough in a few hours.—The Rev. Mr. Dunbar, of the McDougal street church, was cured of a very bad cold and cough in one day. The Rev. Mr. Anthony, of the Methodist Church, was cured of consumption by them.

SHERMAN'S WORM LOZENGES have saved the lives of thousands. Ask W. E. Evans, Esq., 6 Walker st. the Hon. Edward J. Porter, Hon. R. B. Rogers, Dr. C. Hunter, and nearly all our physicians, what they think of Sherman's Lozenges, and they will tell you they are excellent—the only infallible medicine known.

SHERMAN'S CAMPHOR LOZENGES are real antidotes to headache, palpitation, sea sickness, lowness of spirits and despondency—or the effects of dissipation. Capt. Chadwick, of the Wellington, Mr. Ackerman, the great sign painter, Mayor Clark, and almost every body knows their value.

POOR MAN'S PLASTER—Sherman's we mean—costs 12½ cents, and is sure to cure rheumatism, lumbago, pain or weakness in the breast, side, or back, also piles—and the ring worms when applied to the part. Ask Joe Hoxie, or any one who has used it, and would give $5 for one sooner than five cents for all other plasters.

Sold in Carlisle at HUNTER & KNEEDLER'S Book Store, East High street, who are sole Agents for Carlisle.

Worms! Worms!

IF parents knew the value and efficacy of Dr. Leidy's Patent Vegetable Worm Tea, they never would be without it in their families, as children are subject at all times to Worms.

Dr. Leidy's Worm Tea is composed of vegetables altogether, and may be given to children of all ages. Directions accompany each paper of package.

Children suffer much, not times, from so many things being given them for worms, without any effect. Much medicine given to children, has a tendency to destroy their general health, and they are more or less delicate ever after.

To avoid the necessity of giving medicine unnecessarily when you are certain your children have worms give them at first Dr. Leidy's Worm Tea. It is all that is necessary.

Reference might be made to several hundred parents in Philadelphia city and county, of the efficacy of Dr. Leidy's Worm Tea. Try it and you will be convinced.

Price 12½ cents a small, and 25 cents a large package. Prepared only, and for sale, wholesale and Retail, at Dr. Leidy's Health Emporium, No. 191 North Second street, below Vine, (sign of the Golden Eagle and 3 serpents,) Philadelphia.

IT CANNOT BE DENIED

(For Truth is Mighty) that

DR. LEIDY'S SARSAPARILLA

Is the purest, strongest, and most efficacious of any other preparation of Sarsaparilla that is made.

It is warranted to be stronger than 6 bottles of MOST others—stronger than four of St ME, and stronger than three of the STONGEST prepared by any other in the United States.

Dr. Leidy's Sarsaparilla is recommended by all respectable physicians in preference to any other. All who have ever used it, have derived more benefit from one bottle than three to ten of others; and those who, after having used other's preparations, without benefit, will use Dr. Leidy's, will soon be convinced (as thousands have already been) of the foregoing assertion.

The apparatus with which Dr. Leidy's extract is used in his preparation of Sarsaparilla as prepared is the only one in the United States imported by Dr. Leidy himself from the celebrated house of Pelletier & Caventon, in Paris, at a great expense, and is capable of extracting the medical virtues of Sarsaparilla and other roots, more effectually than by any other process.

AS SEVERAL HUNDRED CERTIFICATES OF remarkable cures, and recommendations from clergymen and physicians, have been from time to time, published in different papers, it is only thought necessary to keep the public acquainted as to where Dr. Leidy's Sarsaparilla can be obtained in this city genuine, namely, at Dr. Leidy's Health Emporium, 191 north Second street, (sign of the Golden Eagle and Serpent,) Philadelphia. Fred. Brown, James Bond, and Fred. Klett, Doctor.

Price ONE DOLLAR per bottle, 3 bottles for $2,50.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR

CONSUMPTION OF THE LUNGS

Affections of the Liver, Asthma, Bronchitis, or Weakness of the Breast or Lungs, Chronic Coughs, Pleurisy, Hemorrhage of the Lungs and all Affections of the Pulmonary Organs.

NATURE'S OWN PRESCRIPTION.

A compound Balsamic preparation of the Prunus Virginiana or "Wild Cherry Bark," combined with the Extract of Tar, prepared by a new chemical process, approved and recommended by the most distinguished physicians, and universally acknowledged the most valuable medicine ever discovered.

NO QUACKERY!!! NO DECEPTION.

In setting forth the virtues of this truly great medicine we have no desire to deceive those who are labouring under affliction, nor do we desire to eulogize it more than it justly deserves. Yet when we look around and see the vast amount of suffering and distress occasioned by many of the diseases in which this medicine has proved so highly successful, we feel that we cannot urge its claims too strongly or say too much in its favor.

Such, indeed, are the

SURPRISING VIRTUES

Of this Balsam, that even in the advanced stages of CONSUMPTION, after all the most esteemed remedies of physicians have failed to effect any change, the use of this medicine has been productive of the most astonishing relief, and actually effected cures
