HERALD & EXPOSITOR

CARLISLE, PA.

Wednesday Morning, April 9, 1845.

☞V. B. PALMER, Esq. No. 59 Pine street, Philadelphia, and 169 Nassau street, (Tribune Buildings) New York, and South east corner of Baltimore and Calvert streets, Baltimore, is our authorized Agent for receiving advertisements and subscriptions to the "CARLISLE HERALD & EXPOSITOR," and collecting and receipting for the same.

☞There was a fall of snow in Philadelphia and New York on Sunday morning last. Here it has been too cold for that. It is feared that the severely cold weather of the last few days has nipped in the bud the prospect of fruit.

☞We see by the last intelligence from Texas that the Hon. David S. Kauffman, member of the Senate of that country, has been appointed by President Jones as Charge d'Affaires to the United States. Mr. Kauffman is a native of South Middleton township in this county, where his parents now reside.

Fire in the Mountains.

☞A very destructive fire has been raging for several days in the South Mountain, and at our last accounts had received no check but threatens to extend its ravages along the whole Southern border of this county. It commenced, we understand, near Big Pond Furnace, a few miles from Shippensburg, and had its origin in the bursting of a coal-pit. The usual means have been employed to put a stop to it, but the exceeding violence of the wind for several days past has defeated every such effort. Agreeably to Professor Espy's theory, so extensive a fire must speedily cause the fall of rain, a consequence now most anxiously looked for by those who live along the mountains. The destruction of forest timber, cord-wood, and other property, we regret to learn, has been very great.

Another Fire!

☞Yesterday morning, about one o'clock, a fire was discovered in the Dry Goods Store of Mr. HENRY ANDERSON, in this borough, which before it was extinguished consumed a considerable amount of cloths and other goods. The fire is thought to have been originated by a spark from the stove in the room, which had become secreted among the cloths in the early part of the evening, and had thus proceeded in destructive work for some hours unnoticed. Mr. Anderson's loss, we are glad to learn, is fully covered by insurance.

Legislative Proceedings.

☞By the article in another column from the Harrisburg Intelligencer, the people will learn that the bill for the sale of the public works has received the final go by at the hands of the present Locofoco Legislature. It is quite as probable that the bill to sue and collect the money due the State from numerous defaulters, amounting to about $500,000, will share the same fate. The bill for re-chartering the Girard and the Chambersburg Banks have become laws. A bill has passed the Senate, and was to have been taken up in the House yesterday, re-chartering the Carlisle Bank. All these charters provide for the individual liability of stockholders for the redemption of the notes of the Bank. The bill for the payment of the troops ordered to Philadelphia during the riots, has passed both Houses. It gives to the Major General $200; to each Division Inspector $10; to Brigadier Generals $88; to Captains $30; to Lieutenants $25; to non-commissioned officers $13, and to privates $11. The whole cost to the State will be about $65,000.

Mr. Cooper's bill to reform the Judiciary has passed the House of Representatives. The bill for the suppression of riots has also passed the House. The general appropriation bill has passed the Senate with amendments. J. King Findlay, Esq., of Lancaster, has been nominated and confirmed as one of the Judges of the District Court of Philadelphia. The Legislature has before it a bill granting to the Commissioners of Cumberland county the power to raise a loan for the building of a new Court House.

Mr. Walker's "Attachment."

☞The New York correspondent of the National Intelligencer, says: "The musical world here is at present divided between the merits of the two newly invented attachments for the pianoforte—Coleman's and Walker's. Many give the preference to Mr. Walker's, as producing greater variety in the tones, and adding more to the sonority of the instrument. It is believed that Mr. Walker's 'attachment' is the one most likely to be introduced into general use. A combination of the two inventions would render the piano the most comprehensive of all musical instruments."

Fire Apparatus.

☞What are the borough authorities doing toward replacing the fire apparatus which has been destroyed? The unusual inclemency of the season shows that there is still danger to be apprehended from fires, and therefore as little time should be lost as possible in procuring new engines and hose. Many persons would be glad to see energetic measures speedily adopted for this purpose.

☞Our neighbour of the 'Statesman' appears to be perfectly horrified at our language and charges in speaking of the means by which the loco foco party secured the election of Polk. It is quite probable that an unsophisticated person like Mr. Gitt may not have been initiated into the depths of fraud and villainy which the leading spirits of his party practised in different parts of the country in the Presidential canvass, but that does not affect the truth of our statement. It is a pity Sam Hamill has gone—he might give our neighbour a few lessons!

☞Some persons have very frequently asked Mr. Gitt (as he states in his last paper,) to "give some account of the custom of fool-making on the first of April." Some people are entirely too troublesome, and very annoying with their quiet earnestness, but Mr. Gitt good-naturedly set to work to look up the desired information. "Many a quaint and curious volume of forgotten days," he remarked, but the end of his researches left him no wiser than before. He is fully satisfied, however, to use his own words, "that not only to every part of the United States and all over Europe does it prevail, but as we read, it is in full force among the Hindoos at the celebration of their Hull festival which is held on the 31st of March." These very active troublesome people will be astonished Mr. Gitt next to tell them why "the 4th of July" is held on the 3d sometimes!

☞There is a rumor from Washington that Mr. Buchanan is about to be superseded in the State Department by Mr. Calhoun.

Our Business Men.

☞In looking about our streets since the 1st of April, we find a number of changes in the location of our business men, that it may serve a good purpose to notice. We shall of course only note their points of location, leaving it to these gentlemen themselves, if they understand their own interests properly,—to acquaint the public more fully with the details of their business through our advertising columns. In the way of public houses there are several changes. The old "Mansion House," on West High street, will be hereafter in charge of Mr. J. A. Winrott, formerly of Gettysburg, who gives good promise from his experience in ministering "creature comforts" to the travelling community, to keep the Mansion House in a style worthy of the place and deserving of patronage. We understand that extensive internal and external repairs are contemplated to the building, which will contribute as well to its appearance as to the comfort and convenience of the sojourners there. Gen. Foulk, who retires from the Mansion House, has located himself in the "Cumberland Valley Hotel," on East High street, corner of Bedford street. Gen. Foulk knows how to cater for epicurian tastes, and assured his friends that things shall be ordered in a "quiet, genteel way," in his new location. The public house formerly kept by Mr. William Brown, in East High street, sign of the "Sheaf," has been taken by Mr. Johnson Martin, formerly of Monroe township. The other public houses in town remain in the same hands as heretofore.

We notice also a number of changes, and new faces, among our friends in "the cotton trade and sugar line." North Hanover street has a still livelier business aspect than before. Mr. Harris has removed his Dry Goods and Grocery Store from this street to the fine large room on East High street, formerly occupied by Mr. T. H. Skiles, Merchant Tailor. On the West side of this street, the Messrs. Bentz have opened a new stock of Dry Goods, &c. The Dry Goods Stores of Mr. Anderson, Messrs. Arnold & Einstein, and others, remain as heretofore. Mr. John P. Lyne has removed his stock of Hardware, &c., and may be found hereafter in the elegant new building recently erected on this street near the Post Office. The stand occupied by him on the East side of this street, has been taken by Messrs. Halbert & Monyer, who will in their new stand minister to the public taste as usual in the way of choice Confectionary, Fruits, &c. Messrs. Myers & Haverstick also continue the Drug, Book and Fancy Store in the stand heretofore occupied by them. The Hardware Store of Mr. Jacob Sener and the Variety Store of Mr. Alfred S. Sener, may be found as heretofore on the East side of North Hanover street.

On the S. W. corner of the public square, the Messrs. Irvine are just opening an entire new stock of Dry Goods, &c., in the room formerly occupied by N. W. Woods. In East High street the Dry Goods Stores of Messrs. G. W. Hitner & Co., Mr. Ogilby, Mr. Barnitz and Mr. Engney, remain as heretofore—as also does the extensive Drug Store of Mr. Elliott. We notice no change either in the stores of Messrs. Richards, Mr. Woods, Mr. McMath, Messrs. Gray & Flint, and others in South Hanover street.

On West High street the changes are few.—Mr. Harris, as we mentioned before, takes the stand formerly occupied by Mr. T. H. Skiles, who removes one door above. Colonel Stevenson, opposite the Mansion House Hotel, has associated with himself in the Drug and Chemical business, Mr. Franklin Mehaffey, formerly of Marietta, Lancaster county, a gentleman young in years, but who will commend himself to the confidence and patronage of our community, by his thorough acquaintance with the details of that business, as well as by energetic and careful business habits. There are the only changes in this street. Mr. Eby, Mr. Loudon, Mr. Carl, and others, will see their friends in the same stands they have heretofore occupied. We have not spoken of the changes among our mechanics, which are numerous, and which it would occupy too much space to mention particularly.

The indications presented this spring prove that the business and prosperity of our borough are steadily if not rapidly advancing. We learn that a large number of new dwelling houses are in contemplation during the ensuing summer, the building of which, while it will infuse greater life and spirit into the various channels of business, will beautify in no small degree the appearance of the town. The erection of the new Court House, which will shortly be commenced, will also largely contribute to this end. We may therefore expect to find the coming season enlivened to a more than ordinary degree with industry, enterprise and activity in every branch of business in our borough.

☞A correspondent of the Hanover, York county, "Spectator," gives in a late number of that paper some "curiosities of literature," characteristic probably of that section of country, of which the following are specimens. (By-the-way, we believe it was in Hanover that our friend, Mr. Gitt, acquired his accurate and familiar knowledge of the Latin language.) But to the extracts. The correspondent says, "being called upon the other day to balance the account of a very worthy farmer with his tenant, my eyes fell upon a page of which the following is a transcript:

☞Some loco focos here have very unkindly intimated that Mr. Gitt's procrastination and hesitancy in publishing his engraving of "the Rev. John C. Forney," was owing to an apprehension of abolitionism, or sympathy with the black population, being laid to his charge. The Cumberland county democracy have no need to fear that Mr. Gitt will compromise their interests on this great national question—his sympathies are wholly and entirely wedded with his fellow sufferers of that other large class of humanity—the whites.

☞George G. Richardson, Esq., has been appointed Attorney General of Maryland.

Distressing Suicide.

☞We learn that F. E. Bailey, Esq., who has lately been appointed Prosecuting Attorney for York county, committed suicide on Monday afternoon last, in that borough, by hanging himself. He had been subject to attacks of temporary insanity, and in a moment of mental derangement perpetrated this deed of self-destruction.

Elections.

☞The election in Connecticut for State officers and members of Congress took place on Monday last. We have no returns yet. The charter election in the city of New York took place yesterday. The contest was a triangular one—the Whigs, the Natives, and the Locos each having separate tickets. The latter will of course succeed. The State election in Virginia takes place the latter part of this month.

Mobocracy in Harrisburg.

☞Miss Abby Kelly, the well known Abolition lecturer, accompanied by a party of her friends, has been holding a series of meetings in Harrisburg. On Wednesday and Thursday evenings last, while she was lecturing in the Court House, a disgraceful assault was made upon the party by some disorderly persons, who commenced throwing eggs, and in various ways disturbed the meeting. Proceedings of this kind are disgraceful to the capital of the State, and most dishonorable to the character of those engaged in them.

WILLIAM M. WATTS, Esq.—The Erie (Pa.) Gazette, last week, says, this gentleman has permanently removed from amongst us, and intends hereafter pursuing the iron business in Cumberland county, Pa. The gratitude of our citizens has been so often tazed by the voluntary service of his energetic and generous character, that his name will remain with us in grateful recollection for years to come. The evening preceding his departure, a public entertainment was tendered him, at which many of our good citizens were in attendance, and much good feeling interchanged.

"We wont pile Pelion upon Osa."—Statesman.

☞Very wisely determined, but to keep your hand in at the old business, friend Gitt, how would you like to pile bricks awhile out upon the square?

☞We received from a correspondent, a few days since, the following stanzas commemorative of the old Court House Bell. We do not by publishing endorse them as poetry.

THE COURT HOUSE BELL.

Let's sing of our heroes when liberty calls,
Let's sing of our loves when in moonlight's repose;
But save one due moment when silent our halls
And breathe to Utility's worship we close.

Peraps worthy lips may join with numbers so mild
To sing of the old bucket that hung in the well;
But higher the theme, though an humbler child
Of the muse, may not I tune my harp for the bell?

How oft on the wings of the gale has been borne
That clear tone stern justice attended so well;
And innocence stung by deception's dark thorn,
How oft has she throbbed at the sound of the bell?

How oft, too has guilt hid its face in the shade
And feared to depart from the gloom of its cell,
When summon'd to answer those deeds that had made
To shrug at the mandate which came from the bell.

The Sabbath all silent and solemn at rest,
As the kine that repose in the shade of the dell,
Long time has awoke but to smile on the blest
While their ranks mov'd to worship at call of the bell.

And when from our midst have been bidden away
The friends so long held in affection's gilt spell,
How cheerless we felt as we timed our sad lay
To the chime of the music which tolled from the bell.

Old time on his lightning car speeding along
We've thought with our peaceful amusements to dwell
Till th' hum of his wheels and his wind driven song
Have roused in their passage old sentinel bell.

Shall such recollections of services done
Die wanting a tongue, of their merits to tell,
Will gratitude sleep like the tones which have gone
And sighed their own dirge o'er the wreck of the bell?

For the last clear vibration on night's ear had died
When the fire-dog lap'd with his flame tongue of hell
And down from his rough cracking jaws, glutted wide
Drop'd piecemeal and tongueless our cinder'd old bell.

Then sing of your heroes when liberty calls
And sing of your loves—heavy care to dispel,
But hero and lover, ere the mid-hour falls
Join voices and sing for the old Court house bell.

ANTIQUITY.

DIED,

In this borough, on Wednesday last the 2d of April, Mr. WILLIAM WEAKLEY, formerly of South Middleton township, aged 60 years.

In this borough, on yesterday afternoon, Mr. HUGH REED, an aged and respectable citizen.

On Thursday last, the 3d instant, Mr. ANDREW COMFORT, a worthy and upright citizen of this borough, aged about 44 years. His remains were attended to the grave on Saturday morning last, by the Division of the Sons of Temperance of this borough, accompanied by a respectable deputation of the same Order from Harrisburg, and a large concourse of relations and friends. Mr. Comfort had been for many years a regular and consistent member of the Presbyterian church of this borough, and died rejoicing in the hope of a glorious immortality.

Washington Division, No. 9, S. T.

Extract from the minutes of a special meeting of the Division, held on Saturday the 5th April, 1845. The following resolutions were offered by S. D. Adair, and adopted.

Whereas, it has pleased Providence to remove from our midst, by death, our esteemed brother, ANDREW COMFORT, it is therefore

Resolved, That while we submissively bow to this decree of an Omniscient God, we lament the loss of one who was a worthy member of our Order, an estimable citizen, and an upright man.

Resolved, That we sorrow with the widow and children of the deceased, who have been bereft of their kindest earthly protector and friend.

Resolved, That the Regalia of this Division be shrouded in mourning for the period of thirty days.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be communicated to the family of our deceased brother.

On motion of Jacob Bretz,

Resolved, That these proceedings be published in the papers of Carlisle.

Who Burnt the Court House.

The above is the question asked by all; and the unanimous opinion of the public is that the person or persons who perpetrated the horrid deed, should be severely punished. But while we are endeavoring to discover the rascals! let us not forget that John Bentz, has now on hand as complete an assortment of as was ever offered to the tasty citizens of Carlisle and vicinity. It consists of the following variety:

READY MADE CLOTHING

COATS—Tweed, Linen (plain and fancy) Gambroon and a large assortment of fashion goats of various patterns.

PANTS—Plain and fancy Cassimere, Sattinett, Beaverteen, a first rate article of Velvet Cord, and Summer Pants in abundance.

VESTS—Satin, Cloth, Satinett, Valencia, and light figured and striped vests, &c.,

ALSO, Stocks, fancy Cravats of the latest styles, Shirts, Drawers, Handkerchiefs, &c.

All of which will be sold on the most reasonable terms, for cash. Give me a call and you will not go away disappointed.

Bread Bakery!

THE Subscriber takes this method to inform his customers and the public generally, that he has removed to West Pomfret street, one door West of J. Worthington, Esq., where he continues to carry on the BREAD BAKERY as usual.—He believes from the information received through his patrons that his bread is superior to any sold in the borough. No alkalies or any other deception is used in the process of fermentation, to expand one pound of dough when baked to the size of a small inflated balloon. We need not the aid of chemistry or natural philosophy to instruct us on the subject of expansion and compression in the manufacture of bread; this fact we know by observation and experience. Come all ye who love good homemade bread, and honest sized loaves for five cents, (larger than can be purchased at any other bakery for the same amount.) We say, come and help us to make a living for ourselves and family. Our old friend, the Trumpeter, down town, having now two establishments, and being determined to let no one else sell, must not take offence if we should get some of his custom; not because he is not sufficiently accommodating nor bakes good bread, but for one of the most just causes, viz: he has more wealth than he will ever live to enjoy, and we are poor, consequently, need a living the most. To live and let live is all we ask.

NOTICE TO BUILDERS.

THE Commissioners of Cumberland county, will receive proposals at their office in Carlisle, until Saturday the 19th of April next, for the plan, materials and construction of a Court House, in the public square of the Borough of Carlisle.

Some general features which the Commissioners think necessary are, that the building should be of brick, that there should be at least four fire proof public offices on the lower story, that the Court room should be on the second story, and that there should be a Cupola for a Bell and Clock upon the building.

The person whose plan and proposals shall be adopted will be required to commence immediately, so that all the masonary and plastering shall be done during the present working season. And the Commissioners also make known that whilst they purpose to have a building erected which will be useful for all the purposes intended and in appearance creditable to the county, yet they do not feel justified under existing circumstances in incurring so great an expense as some of the adjoining counties have done.

CAUTION TO ALL.

LET all the world take notice, and be careful not to buy the (sugar coated) Improved Indian Vegetable Pills, unless every box has on it the written signature of the original inventor and patentee.

B. BENJAMIN SMITH, M. D.

These pleasant Pills possess powers to open all the natural drains of the system—viz: the Lungs, Kidneys, Skin and Bowels—hitherto unknown in the practice of Medicine; and so complete has been their triumph over all other medicines, that many have been led to suppose they contain some powerful mineral; but upon examination by Doctors Chilton, Randolph, Huntington, and others; this supposition is at once proved to be groundless.

Sold in New York, at the principal Office, 179 Greenwich street, and also by MYERS & HAVERSTICK, sole Agents for Carlisle.

AN OBSINATE CASE.

Dr. H. W. Andrews, Baltimore, Feb. 15th, 1845.

SIR—The box of Dr. Smiths Sugar Coated improved Indian Vegetable Pills I purchased of you, some two months past, I found in their application to my son, (of about 15 years of age,) the most happy effect on the system. He had been for some years, very delicate in health, and very much subject to fever and chills, so much so as to create alarm for his future health. And for two or three years we had to keep him from school the most of the time. I am now frank to acknowledge the complete restoration of his health and a fair prospect of its permanent enjoyment.
