BY CORNWALL. Day dawned. Within a curtain room, Filled to faintness with perfume. A lady lay at the point of doom.

Day closed. A child had seen the light, But for the lady, fair and bright, She rested in undreaming hight!

Spring came. The lady's grave was green, And near it oftentime was seen A gentle boy with thoughtless mein. Years fied. He word a manly face And struggled in the world's rough race,

And won at last a lofty place. And then he died ? Behold before ye, Humanity'y brief sum and story : Life, Death, and all there is of-Glory

A CHURCH.

A band of faithful men Met for God's worship in an upper room. Or canopled by midnight's starry dome, On hill-side or lone glen, To hear the counsels of his holy word, Pledged to each other and their common Lord,

These, few as they may be, Compose a church, such as, in pristine age, Defied the tyrant's zeal, the higot's rage,-For where but two or three, Whatever place, in faith's communion meet, There, with Christ's presence is a Church com

EDUCATION.—Education does not commence with the alphabet. It begins with a mother's look, with a father's nod of approbation or sign of reproof, with a sis. ter's gentle pressure of the hand on a brothers's noble act of forbearance, with handfuls of flowers in green dells, on hills and daisy meadows, with birds nests' admired but not touched, with creeping ants, and almost impreceptible emmets, with humming bees and glass bee-hives, with pleasant walks in shady lanes, and thoughts directed in sweet and kindly tones and words, to nature, to beauty, to acts of benevolence to deeds of virtue, and to the source of all good-to God himself.

BEAUTIFUL EXTRACTS FROM PHILLIPS SPEECHES .- "When guilt once kindles within the human heart, all that is noble it our nature becomes parched and arid; the blush of modesty fades before its glare, the sight of virtue fans its lurid flame, and every divine essence of our being but swells and exasperates its infernal conflagration. It might perhaps have been that in the spring of life, when fancy waved her fairy wand around them, till all above was sunshine, and all beneath was flowers; when to their clear and charmed vision this ample world was but a weedless garden, where every tint spoke Nature's loveliness, and every sound breathed heaven's melody, and every breeze was but embodied fragrance; it might have been that, in this cloudless holiday. Love wove his roseate bondage around them, till their young hearts so grew together, a-separate existence ceased, and life itself became a sweet indentity."

"She was in the dawn of life with all its fragrance around her, and yet so pure that even the blush which sought to hide her lustre, but disclosed the vestal deity that burned beneath it."

WHICH WILL YOU Do !-- One of the two things must be done in this country. Parents must spend money to educate their children, or they must pay taxes to build penitentiaries and to punish crime. There is a great mistake about what is called education. Some suppose a learned man is a educated man. ... No such thing. That man is educated who knows himself, and who takes accurate common sense views of men and things around him. Some very learned men are the greatest fools in the world; the reason is, that they are not educated men. Learning is only the means, not the end; its value consists in giving the means ataple and Fancy, consisting in part, of Cloths, Cas vimeres, Sattlinetts, Linens, Gambroons. Summer Cloths, Vestings, Silks, Hombazines, Ba grines, Lawns, Crape and Mous de Laines, Swiss Cambries, Jackinet, and all other kinds of Muslins, Calicoes, Shawls, Cheeks, Ticking, Velvet Cords, Cotton goods of all descriptions, Carpet claim and Cotton, Varn, Limbrellas, Parasois, Sunshades, Groves, Hosley, Ka. of ecquiring, in the discipline, which, when properly managed, it gives the mind. Some of the greatest men in the world were not overstocked with learning, but their actions - proved that they were thoroughly educated. The Matvellous.—We copy the following partiraph from the New York Mirror. To the Public. THOMPSON'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF TAR AND WOOD NAPTHA.

For the Prevention and Cure of Pulmonary Consumption.

OF all diseases incident to our climate there is none so universal and at the same time so insidious and fatal as Consumption. In this gountry especially Pulmonary Consumption is emphatically a scourge, and in its resistless career sweeps o'er the land as a destroying Angel, laying low with relentless hand the stroggest and fairest of our race! Hither to all efforts to arrest this direat disease have proved in vain and all that seemed within our power was at best the alleviation of suffering, rendering, somewhat smoother the certain progress to the tomb!

The Compotind Syrup of Tar is a combination heretofore unknown, exenting a power over the disease, scarcely conceivable; have me a specific action on the mucous tissue and at the same time bringing the whole system under its powerful inflence it completely endicates the cause of disease has the disease. on the mucous tissue and at the same true bringing the whole system under its powerful inflence it completely cradicates, the cause of disease be it liveralization or otherwise; and thus by striking at the root of the complaint imparts tone to debilitated organs, affords renewed sigor to the general system and thus rectores the patient to permanent health.

This invaluable medicine is put up in buttles, having the following words blown in the class. Thomner the following words blown in the class.

DH. EEIDY'S SAKSAPARILA D

The Truth is Mighty) that of DR. EFIDYS SARGAPARILA_D

Is the purest, strongest, and most efficacious of any other preparation of Sarsaparilis that is inde. It is awaranted to be stronger than 6 bottles of MOST others—stronger than four of St'ME, and stronger than there of the ST ONGEST prepared by any other, in the United States.

Dr. Leidy's Sarsaparilis is recommended by all respectable physicians in preference to any other. All who have even used it, have derived more benefit from one bottle than three to ten of others; and those who, after having used other's preparations.

J. without benefit, will use Dr. Deidy's, will soon be convinced (as thousands have already been) of the foregoing assertion.

The apparatus with which Dr. Leidy's extracts used in his preparation of Marsaparilla as prepared is the only one in the United States imported by Dr. Leidy hamelf from the deletrated house of Pelleter & Caventou, in Paris, it a 'great expense, and is capabile of extracting the medical virtues of Sarsaparilla and other roots, more effectually than by any other process.
