THE FAMILY CIRCLE.

GOD IS LOVE.

God is love. He writ in every page of Nature. We read it in the glorious sun—
The far off twinkling stars; even the silver brook,
That leaps and sparkles 'mid the silent woods,
Speaks to our hearts in soft and gentle murmurings,
Of the boundless love of God, our father,
For all his erring children. Not a tree,
Or flower, but bears the impress of his Goodness. The gentle falling showers, watering
The parched up earth, giving new life to leaf
And blossom, clothing the fields in brighter
Verdure. The feathered songsters, breaking
Forth in one continued song, to Him
The Giver of all Good—all, all assures us
Of His watchfulness, and Nature offers up
A mute but grateful hymn of praise
For such unwearied care. Can man, His Noblest work, one instant doubt the greatest
Of His attributes?—desolate indeed
The heart that feels not confidence and trust
In the rich promise of His Son,
Who died that we might live, and with
The angels in the spirit land unite;
And strike the harp and lute in loud hosannas
To God and to the Lamb.

BEAUTIFUL INCIDENT.

One day the Queen of Sheba gave Solomon a ring with many score of oxen.—She bade him bestow it on the wisest of his sages. So Solomon commanded his wise men to appear before him on the feast of the full moon. They came from Bethel and Dan, the court and the school of the prophets.

Then King Solomon, arrayed in the regal robes, sat on his throne, the sceptre of Isreal in his right hand. The Queen of Sheba sat beside him. He commanded his sages to speak. Many opened their mouths and discoursed right eloquently. They told many things. The eyes of the Queen shone like dew drops which quiver at sunrise on the peach blossoms. Solomon was sad.

At last one rose of courtly mien. He too told of wondrous cities in far off lands. How the sun scalds the dew of Sahara.—How it forsakes the chill North for whole months, leaving the cold moon in its place. He spoke of the fleets that go down to the sea; he told how they weave wax at Tyrus, spin gold at Ophir; and of the twisted shell that comes from Oroba, and the linen in Egypt that endures the fire. He spoke of fleets; of laws: the art that makes men happy.

"Truly, he is wise," said the king. But let others speak.

Another came forth, he was young in years. His cheek was burning with enthusiasm. The fire of genius shone in his eye like the day-star, when all the others are swallowed up in the light. He spoke of the works of the great one. Told how the cedar of Lebanon, when the sun kisses its forehead, lifts up its great arms with a shout, shaking off the feathery snow in winter, or the pearly dew of autumn, to freshen the late calms that glitters at its foot. He spoke of the elephant, the antelope, the jackall, the eagle, the mule. He knew them all. He told of the fish that made glad waters as the seasons dance and frolic round about their head. He sang in liquid softness, of the rose to the stars, spoke of old chaos, of the world, the offering of love. He spoke of the stars; the crown; Nazareth, and the tall ladder Jacob saw. He sang again the star of creation. "He is wiser than Solomon," said the king; "to him belongs the prize."

But at that moment some men in humble garb, brought a stranger unwilling along. His raiment was poor, but comely and snow white. The seal of labor was on his hand; the dust of travel covered his sandals. His beard, long and silvery, went down to his girdle; a sweet smile, like a sleeping infant sat, unconscious, on his lip. His eye was the angel's lamp, that burns in still devotion before the court of Paradise, making the day. As he leaned on the shepherd staff in the gay court, a blush like a girl's stole over his cheek.

"Speak," said the king.

"I have nothing to say," exclaimed the hoary man. "I know only how unwise and frail I am. I am no sage."

And Solomon's countenance rose. "By the sceptre of El-Shaddoh I charge thee to speak thou ancient man."

Then he began. "My study is myself; my acts, my sentiment. I learn how frail I am, I of myself, can do nothing. I can listen to that voice within; and I know all: I can do all!" Then he spoke of his glees and his glooms, his hopes; his operations; his faith. He spoke of nature; the modest tress, the pure golden stars.—When he came to Him who "is all in all," he bowed his face and was dumb.

"Give him the ring," said Solomon.—"He knows himself, he is the wisest. The spirit of the holy is in him."

"Take back the gift," said the sage, "I need it not. He that knows himself needs no reward. He knows God. He sees the All of things. Alas! I do but feebly know myself—I deserve no ring. Let me return to my home and my duty."—N. Y. Mirror.

☞ "The highest and most profitable learning," says Thomas a Kempis, "is the knowledge of ourselves. To have a low opinion of our own merits, and to think highly of others, is an evidence of wisdom. Therefore, though thou seest another openly offend, and commit sin, take no occasion to value thyself for superior goodness, since thou canst not tell how long thou will be able to continue in the narrow path of virtue. All men are frail; but thou should reckon none so frail as thyself." No self-government is perfect without religion; for since there are agents within us whose force we may fail to estimate, and which springing suddenly into action, may destroy the harmony on which philosophy has labored for years; and since we have not the gift of prescience, and cannot always measure the future by the past, is it not the safest to rely for aid on the Father of our spirits, who hath said, "If any man lack wisdom; and ask of Him, He giveth liberally and upbraideth not."

CHRISTIAN COURTESY.—The influence of the Christian religion is scarcely less manifest in purifying the heart, than in subduing the temper, improving the manners, and adorning the spirit, with all that is attractive and lovely. In cases not a few, a morose and sullen disposition has been completely transformed by the influence of the Gospel, so that its possessor has become kind and courteous in all his intercourse with society. In this is seen the power of the Gospel, and its perfect adaptation to the wants of men. Nobody doubts that the cultivation of a spirit of Christian courtesy contributes greatly to happiness and usefulness. It removes many occasions of disquietude, and is a short way to peace with one's self and others. It secures the confidence and love of observers; and often wins them to an imitation of the example they behold.—Happy is he that can add to decision and faithfulness that amiability of manner and softness of temper which approves itself to every man's conscience. Calmness of spirit, self-respect and the respect of others, will be his reward.

THE MIND.—Of all the noble works of God, that of the Human Mind has ever been considered the grandest. It is, however, like all else created, capable of cultivation; and just in that degree as the Mind is improved and rendered pure, is man fitted for rational enjoyment and pure happiness. That person who spends an existence without a realization of the great ends for which he was designed; without feeling a soaring of the soul above mere mercenary motives and desires; not knowing that he is but a portion, as it were, of one vast machine, in which each piece has a part to perform; having no heart beating in common with those of his fellow men, no feeling in which self is not the beginning and the end, may well be said not to live. His mind is shut in by a moral darkness, and he merely exists, a blank in the world, and goes to the tomb with scarcely a regret.

Such beings we have seen, and wondered at; wondered, that a mortal, endowed with so many noble qualities, and capable of the highest attainment of intellectuality, should slumber on through a world like ours, in which is everything beautiful, lovely and sublime, to call forth his energies and excite his admiration—a world which affords subjects for exercising every lively attribute with which we are gifted, and opens a scene of the richest variety to the eye, the mind, and the heart, and of such a diversified character that we may never grow weary.

If, then, you would wish to live, in the true sense of the term, cultivate the mind, give vent to pure affections and noble feelings; and pen not every thought and desire in self. Live more for the good of your fellow men; and in seeking their happiness, you will promote your own.

HONOR TO WHOM HONOR IS DUE.

It may be truly said, that no one has ever been so successful in compounding a medicine, which has done so, to relieve the human family, to rob disease of its terrors, and to restore the invalid to health and comfort, as the Inventor and Proprietor of that most deservedly popular family medicine DR. SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY, and none has been so generally patronised by the Profession and others, both in this country and in Europe, nor has there ever been so great an effort in the short space of only six or seven years, to deceive the credulous and unthinking, by putting up Nostrums of various kinds, by various individuals, affixing the name of Wild Cherry, and as much of the name of original preparation as will screen them from the lash of the law, and one of the Impostors who puts out the common paregoric of the shop and call it the Balsam of Wild Cherry has had the impudence to caution the public against the Original preparation, Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, which is doing so much good in the world.

☞ BEWARE OF SUCH IMPOSTERS.☜

And purchase none but the original and only genuine article as prepared by Dr. Swayne, which is the only one compounded by a regular Physician, and arose from many years' close attention to the Practice of the Profession, and which, lead to this great discovery. Thousands and tens of thousands of the best testimonials of the unparalleled success of Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry for the cure of

CONSUMPTION,

Coughs, Colds, Spitting Blood, Liver Complaint, Tickling or Rising in the Throat, Nervous Debility, Weakness of Voice, Palpitation or Disease of the Heart, Pain in the Side or Breast, Broken Constitution from various causes, the abuse of calomel &c, Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough, &c., were declared to the world years before any other preparation of Wild Cherry came out. The most skeptical may satisfy themselves as to the truth of the above, by a little inquiry in Philadelphia. The genuine article is prepared only by Dr. Swayne, whose office has been removed to N. W. corner of 8th and Race street, Philada; The Balsam and other spurious articles of Wild Cherry has been sold out and re-sold out, and the proprietors are obliged to resort to Falsehood and Strategem to make their own out of it. The genuine article is put up in plain style in square bottles, covered with a blue wrapper, with a yellow label with the proprietor's signature attached.

☞ The Public are requested to remember that it is Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, that has and is repeatedly performing such miraculous cures of diseases which have baffled the skill of the Profession, and set at defiance the whole catalogue of Patent Medicines, which are daily puffed through the organs of the press. Therefore ask for Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, and purchase no other.

PROTECTION AGAINST LOSS BY FIRE.

THE CUMBERLAND VALLEY MUTUAL PROTECTION COMPANY, being incorporated by an act of the Legislature of the present session, and fully organized and in operation under the direction of the following board of Managers, viz: Thomas C. Miller, John Moore, David W. McCullough, James Weakly, William Moore, Samuel Galbraith, Thomas Paxton, A. G. Miller, Philip Spangler, Samuel Woods, Abraham Kurtz, George Brindle, Scott Doyle, call the attention of the inhabitants of Cumberland Valley to the cheapness of their rates and the many advantages which this kind of insurance has over any other.

1st. Every person insured becomes a member of the company and takes part in the choice of officers and the direction of its concerns.

2d. For insurance no more is demanded than is necessary to meet the expenses of the Company and indemnity against losses which may happen.

3d. The inconvenience of frequent renewals is avoided by insuring for a term of five years. But policies can be taken for any period from one to five years.

4th. Any person applying for insurance must give his premium note for the cheapest class at the rate of five per centum, which will be $50 on the $1000 for which he will have to pay $2,50 for five years and $1,50 for survey and policy, and no more unless he sles sustained to a greater amount than the fund on hands will cover, and then no more will be required than a pro rata share. These rates are much cheaper than those of other companies, except such as are incorporated on the same principles.

alone, can testify to the wonderful efficacy of that powerful remedy, THOMPSON'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF TAR AND WOOD NAPTHA. Read! Read! Astonishing cure of Chronic Bronchitis!

Philadelphia, May 23, 1844.

Mr. S. THOMPSON—Dear Sir, For more then four years past I have had been dreadfully afflicted with an affection of the throat, which my physician pronounced "Chronic Bronchitis," caused by repeated and neglected colds. The distress suffered is indescribable. My throat was literally raw with violent coughing, so that blood would come from it; also great oppression, pain and tightness at the chest and fever—in short all the usual pulmonary symptoms showed themselves, showed themselves, causing entire loss of necessary repose—my throat was leached and blistered over and over again. I made trial of every known remedy, and at different periods had the advice of six physicians, and all with no avail. About two months since, I made trial of your Compound Syrup of Tar and Wood Naptha, and before I had taken the first bottle I felt relief. I continued until I had taken seven bottles, which completely removed the disease and restored me to perfect health, and I firmly believe I should not now be living, had it not been for your invaluable medicine.

FACTS WORTH KNOWING
Dr. Leidy's
Sarsaparilla Blood Pills,

Are the only Pills in existence containing Sarsaparilla.

Their composition is of a peculiar character, composed of Vegetable Extracts that are diuretic, sudorific, expectorant and cathartic; by which combination they are adapted to most forms of disease, and may be taken at all times, by young and old, robust and feeble, with perfect safety, without interfering with habits, occupation, or regular course of living.

They will, at all times, be found serviceable as a Purgative; cleansing the stomach and bowels, as well as a purifier of the blood and animal fluids, in addition to their other qualities; because, containing Sarsaparilla and other valuable medical extracts in their composition, and which makes them preferable to all other Pills.

More than 1,000 Certificates have been published at various times of their efficacy in various diseases, and where all other medicines had failed, as the public must have read many of them, further publication of them is deemed unnecessary on account of the great expense.

More than 100,000 Boxes

have been sold in Philadelphia alone, the past year; thus showing that in the place where they are manufactured, they have a reputation, greater than any other pills—which arises from the fact that Dr. Leidy is well known at home as a regular Physician, and his pills are consequently employed with greater confidence than any other; in addition to their known efficacy.

Let it be remembered

'tis not the quantity of pills or other medicine you can get for the same money, is the best or cheapest but the quality. Of cheap medicines or pills, you, of course, get the most; and you are induced to take the more, under the impression if a little does good, more will do more good, and you make drug shops of your stomachs, causing oftentimes serious injury to yourselves for life.

Dr. Leidy's Blood Pills are composed of more expensive ingredients, and require more study and labor in their preparation, than any other pills—the apparatus alone for preparing the extracts contained in his pills, costing over three thousand dollars.

Price 25 cents a box. Sold at the Depot and wholesale and Retail, at Dr. Leidy's Health Emporium, No. 191 North Second street below Vine st. Also by

To the Public.

THOMPSON'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF TAR AND WOOD NAPTHA.

For the Prevention and Cure of Pulmonary Consumption.

OF all diseases incident to our climate, there is none so universal and at the same time so insidious and fatal as Consumption. In this country, especially Pulmonary Consumption is emphatically a scourge, and in its resistless career sweeps over the land as a destroying Angel, laying low with relentless hand the strongest and purest of our race! Hitherto all efforts to arrest this dread disease have proved in vain and all that seemed within our power was at best the alleviation of suffering, rendering somewhat smoother the certain progress to the tomb!

The Compound Syrup of Tar is a combination hereto fore unknown, exerting a power over the disease scarcely conceivable; but as a specific action on the mucous tissue and at the same time invigorating the whole system under its powerful influence it completely eradicates the cause of disease be it hereditary or otherwise; and thus by striking at the root of the complaint imparts tone to debilitated organs, affords renewed vigor to the general system and thus restores the patient to permanent health.

This invaluable medicine is put up in bottles, having the following words blown in the glass "Thompson's Compound Syrup of Tar for Consumption," without which none is genuine.

Price 50 cents per bottle. Six bottles for $2,50.

CAUTION TO ALL.

LET all the world take notice, and be careful not to buy the [sugar coated] Improved Indian Vegetable Pills, unless every box is known to the written signature of the original inventor and patentee.

C. BENJAMIN MITH, M. D.

These pleasant Pills possess powers to open ALL the natural drains of the system—viz: the Lungs, Kidneys, Skin and Bowels—hitherto unknown in the practice of Medicines; and so complete has been their triumph over all other medicines, that many have been led to suppose they contain some powerful mineral; but upon examination by Doctors Chilton, Randolph, Hastings, and others, this supposition is at once proved to be groundless.

Sold in New York, at the principal Office, 179 Grenwich street, and also by MYERS & HAVERSTICK, sole Agents for Carlisle.

Smith's Sugar Coated Pills.

AN OBSINATE CASE.

Baltimore, Feb. 15th, 1845.

Dr. H. W. Andrews,

Sir:—The box of Dr. Smiths Sugar Coated improved Indian Vegetable Pills, I purchased of you, some two months past, I found in their application to my son (of about 15 years of age,) the most happy effect on the system. He had been for some years, very delicate in health, and very much subject to fever and chills, so much so as to create alarm for his future health. And for two or three years we had to keep him from school the most of the time. I am now frank to acknowledge the complete restoration of his health and a fair prospect of its permanent enjoyment.

CAUTION.—As a miserable imitation has been made by the name of Sugar Coated Pills, it is necessary to be sure that Dr. G. Benjamin Smith's signature is on the box. Price 25 cents.

Philadelphia, Jan 3, 1843.

Mr S P THOMPSON—Dear Sir: From a sense of gratitude to you and a desire that the afflicted may have recourse to your truly invaluable medicine, I would state the benefit I have experienced from its use. For some time past I have been afflicted with a distressing racking cough, accompanied with a great oppression and difficulty of breathing with a sensation of tightness at the chest. Becoming greatly alarmed a friend who had been much benefitted by your medicine recommended me to try it. I done so and in a very short time every alarming symptom disappeared, my expectoration became free, all oppression left me my cough ceased and in a few days I was able to get out and attend to my business as well as ever. Any further information will be cheerfully given the afflicted by calling at my residence No South Front street

IT CANNOT BE DENIED

(For Truth is Mighty) that

☞ DR. LEIDY'S SARSAPARILLA ☜

Is the purest, strongest, and most efficacious of any other preparation of Sarsaparilla that is made.

It is warranted to be stronger than 6 bottles of MOST others—stronger than four of St ME, and stronger than three of the STONGEST prepared by any other in the United States.

Dr. Leidy's Sarsaparilla is recommended by all respectable physicians in preference to any other. All who have ever used it, have derived more benefit from one bottle than three to ten of others; and those who, after having used others preparations, without benefit, will use Dr. Leidy's, will soon be convinced (as thousands have already been) of the foregoing assertion.

The apparatus with which Dr. Leidy's extracts used in his preparation of Sarsaparilla as prepared is the only one in the United States imported by Dr. Leidy himself from the celebrated house M. P. Hillier & Cavanton, in Paris, at a great expense and trouble of extracting the medical virtues of Sarsaparilla and other roots, more effectually than by any other process.

AS SEVERAL HUNDRED CERTIFICATES OF remarkable cures, and recommendations from clergymen and physicians have been from time to time published in different papers, it is only thought necessary to keep the public acquainted as to where Dr. Leidy's Sarsaparilla can be obtained in this city genuine, namely: at Dr. Leidy's Health Emporium, 191 north Second street (near the corner of the Golden Eagle and Serpent), and Brown's James Dock and Fred. Klett's Drug Store, ONE DOLLAR per bottle, 8 bottles for $5, 50.
