

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 18, 1846

For Canal Commissioner. JAMES M. POWER, OF MERCER COUNTY.

The interesting letter of our Washington correspondent gives all of importance that has transpired in Congress for some days.

We have compiled the proceedings of the Whig State Convention from the reports given by the "Herald and Express" and "Intelligencer."

Read the Washington letter on our fourth page. Will Pennsylvania freemen submit that an Agent of English Manufacturers shall be stationed at our National Capitol, decrying and underrating American Manufactures for the purpose of showing the policy of looking to England alone for all our manufactured articles? What say you workmen?

The Rev. Dean - We are authorized to state that the carriage of passengers and freight from Philadelphia to Pittsburg, over the Cumberland Valley Rail Road, will go on without any embarrassment or delay for a few days. A regular line of ferry-boats will be immediately established at the river, and the water will soon be down to the ordinary Spring stage, the passage across the river may be accomplished with the utmost safety and with no more delay than formerly.

The mails were brought across the river on Monday. With the male came two females, who were the first passengers that crossed after the destruction of the bridge. Their irregular venture produced a great sensation among the spectators. We learned that the two young ladies were enroute to St. Louis, but very much doubtful whether such daring heroines can "settle" short of Oregon!

NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTION. - We learn by the New York Tribune and the Boston Atlas, that Locofocoism has been defeated in New Hampshire, their Eastern strong hold, there being no choice for Governor or Member of Congress. The Legislature is believed to be hostile to the Texas inquiry. In 89 votes heard from, Williams the Locofoco candidate has 21,440 votes, and the other candidates 15,008 - majority against Williams thus far 2,568. In 8 counties where the Whigs have elected 77 Representatives, the Independent Democrats, 12 - and the Locofoco 45. The Atlas states that the Locofoco loss last year is from 50 to 60, rendering altogether probable, if not certain, that they will be in a minority in the Legislature. The vote was the largest ever given in the State which renders the prostration of Locofocoism in the Granite State still more glorious. New Hampshire is waking to a sense of her degradation, and we have no doubt, will cast off the shackles that have bound her.

The U.S. Gazette of Monday gives complete returns of the Whigs and Independent here - the vote for the redemption of our dead and benighted New Hampshire!

Our readers, the "Volunteer" is no doubt, last week, if not week before, a "Globe" article containing the statement that it was the Whig's recent bill and not the Foreign Intelligence received by the Standard. Our high-minded neighbor, however, makes a mistake in his conclusion from the "Herald" in relation to the Revolution, which might possibly convict us of a misstatement if not of a number of other "Herald" published just one week before the article of the said "Standard" - and for an additional fact that the quotation bears not the most remote resemblance to the question at issue. They will see that we risked nothing by the offer (which was only a reason for speaking) and that like the fox with the grapes, the article was most expedient for them to "despise" it.

As you will see by the "Herald" of Monday, the Pennsylvania Canal for the flood, will probably cause a suspension of navigation for some time, a suspension of the "Western" trade will be obliged to seek its destination by rail road from Philadelphia to Chambersburg, and thence to Hagerstown. Our country friends who have fine teams will not doubt be glad to have a profitable employment.

The "Herald" of Monday, we are informed, has announced in the Baltimore papers, that Mr. Bababraham, well known throughout the country, as the "Bank of America" at Louisville on Tuesday night, of dropsy in the chest, which he died of at 80 years of age. We are informed, that $20,000 worth of property, all of which will go to his wife in the event of her death, and that he was not ill with for many years.

Great Flood and destruction of Property!

PROBABLE LOSS OF LIFE!

This section of country was visited on Friday evening last, with a heavy fall of rain, accompanied with lightning and thunder, which lasted through the greater part of the night, and during which the rain fell in torrents, with little or no intermission. A warm atmosphere contributed at the same time to hasten the dissolution of the snow upon the mountains, until every stream and creek was swollen to a height that exceeded all former bounds. The flood that ensued has exceeded in magnitude and disaster even the "pumpkin" flood, which is recollected only by the "oldest inhabitants."

FLOOD ON THE SUSQUEHANNA.

The rise of water in our Creeks, and the consequent destruction of property, bears no comparison, however, with the extent and devastation of the flood upon the Juniata and Susquehana rivers. At Harrisburg the water is said to have stood at about thirty-two feet above low-water mark! Those who have witnessed the most destructive freshets upon that river, were appalled by the sight!

The Harrisburg Telegraph, published on Saturday morning, says, that the river was then higher than it had been the year before and was still rapidly rising, leading to the anticipation that a great flood would ensue from the melting of the snow on the mountains of the north. A few persons, however, could have anticipated the flood of ice and water which swelled the river to a mountain height on Saturday night and Sunday - rushing forward with raging force, overthrowing all that impeded its mad career, and carrying away in its resistless course bridges, mills, houses, fences, &c., in one accumulated mass of wreck and destruction!

Every island in the river was completely submerged, and their terrified inhabitants obliged to flee for their lives. We visited the scene on Monday last, and although the water had fallen several feet, the view of the noble river was yet fearfully grand. Its mad ravages of the day before, however, had left a melancholy picture of ruin and devastation. The beautiful island opposite Harrisburg, so rich in fertility and luxuriance, was now a dreary waste. Of the new Rail Road Bridge, in the rebuilding of which considerable progress had been made, scarcely a vestige of pier or superstructure now remained. Of the old Harrisburg Bridge, the eastern section, extending from the island to that borough, is totally swept away, while the western section is much shattered. The bank on either side of the river was lined with fragments of wrecks, timbers, &c. The loss at this point on the river, must amount to many thousands of dollars.

We were able to learn of the ravages of the flood on the river above and below Harrisburg, were necessarily very few and imperfect. We shall give them as they came to us, leaving them open to future correction or corroboration. It is about Harrisburg we learn that much injury was done. Forcing its way through the fields a mile or more above, the water flowed downward until it entirely covered the plain along the border of the Canal in the rear of the borough. It did no injury here, however; further than extinguishing the fires of the new Furnace, built by Ex-Gov. Poitier. The rail road and the township bridge over Paxton Creek, immediately below Harrisburg, were carried away. The rail road and the Canal for several miles have also been much injured, and the passage of the car impeded. Much destruction of property we learn has also taken place at Middle town and on either side of it.

On the Pennsylvania Canal, particularly between Lewisport and Mexico on the Juniata, the amount of injury was said to be so great as in all probability to render the Canal wholly useless for this season. Two spans of the bridge at Clark's Ferry, we learned have been carried away. Duncan's Island had been completely overflowed, and the inhabitants of the houses on the island were obliged to betake themselves to boats, which were secured to trees, to wait in this perilous situation for the subsiding of the waters. It was stated to us that, one family which had gone into a canal boat on Saturday night had not since been heard of, having probably been carried down the stream. This is more melancholy if true. At Duncan's Iron Works in Perry county, the loss is said to be at least several thousand dollars, from the injury done to the Furnace and mills.

James M. Power.

The "Herald and Express" says: "It is with great interest and a high confidence of success at the coming election, that we follow the name of the Democratic Whig Convention at the head of our paper as the candidate of the party. That the name of a man of extensive and intimate acquaintance with the public works of our own, and of the neighboring States, is well known and universally admitted, even by our opponents. And that he is a man of sound judgment, unquestioned integrity, and sterling worth, no one has or can deny. He is also in the prime and vigor of life, and coming as he does from the West, he is now the recipient of a high reputation in the minds of the people of the West, and for the people, as the day of trial will prove. We are confident that a better selection, or one that will prove more satisfactory to the tax-payers of the Commonwealth, could not have been made."

Congressional

Extract of a letter to the Editor, dated Washington, March 13, 1846. Dear Sir - Not from the beginning of the exciting debate upon the North-West boundary, has such an excitement prevailed in this city, as at the present moment. Speech after speech has been made, and some of those of the most furious character, but none has produced the effect that has attended the delivery of Mr. Haywood's, of North Carolina, made in the Senate on Thursday last week. Remarkable were the results, and astounding the impressions made on the minds of the audience. Of the fiery and bombastic speeches of Messrs. Allen, Cass, and Hannegan, you have doubtless seen full reports. Those gentlemen are called the 34 deg. 40 min. men, who demand that Mr. Allen as Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, give authority in his sentiments, as it was supposed to be in possession of the confidence of the President and to express his views. If such were the fact, our friends in the Senate could not help but conclude that "war was inevitable." Such has been the impression through the whole of the debate. That impression was removed only on Thursday last, after the delivery of the able and eloquent speech of Mr. Haywood - a Locofoco, (or Democrat, as the members of the old Federal party are now called by themselves) from North Carolina, but a follower of Mr. Calhoun on the Oregon question.

To a stranger who enters the Senate Chamber, Mr. Calhoun is an object of very general attraction. But no man can look at the distinguished Senator from South Carolina, and not notice a very young but exceedingly interesting Senator at his side. The ladies would call him handsome, and the gentlemen pronounce him to be very interesting. He dresses with great elegance and taste. His coat and pants are black, his vest snowy white, and on his hands, his well fitted gloves are generally seen. A perfect specimen of the silk stocking hating demagogue, do I hear you say? He rarely speaks - is modest in his appearance, with a voice soft or silvery, he seems the very personification of amiability. Always in his place, yet seems to attend to nothing that is going on in the Senate. Yet such is the Senator that has thrown a bombshell into the Senate - split the "democratic" party into fragments, and pronounced a speech, which, for its startling assertions, keen and severe thrusts, witty repartees, and flashing, overwhelming eloquence, has found no parallel in all the exciting speeches of this exciting session.

It was late on the afternoon of Wednesday, when he obtained the floor, and at his request the Senate adjourned. He was greeted by a crowded house on the morrow, and what a sensation he produced! He averred that the offer to settle the Oregon question on the 49th parallel was honorable on the part of the President - was honest - that the President was for peace - that in honor he is bound to receive an offer from Great Britain and close the subject by agreeing that 49 shall be the dividing line and that Mr. Allen is mistaken when he contends that the President will demand 51 40, or go to war. He intimated that he was in the confidence of the President, and that Senator Allen was not - that all the talk about the "whole of Oregon" and the country being agitated from one end to the other, was intended "to put very small men in very large offices."

You can form no estimate of the excitement, intense and undisguised, that followed. Interpolated several times - questioned in sharp and angry tones, by Senators Allen and Hannegan, he was calm, courteous, serene in his retorts. It was denied that Mr. Haywood spoke the views of the President - his authority was demanded, but nothing could shake or move him. When Mr. Allen asked him (in the most and manner peculiar to the young and lowering Dependence of the Senate,) if he spoke by authority, Mr. Haywood replied that he was Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, and was driven to the necessity of asking questions here about the views and opinions of the President, he should quit. This was the severest cut of all, and fell by Mr. Allen. Mr. Hannegan, who is one of the most bludgeoned men, and who has enjoyed the reputation of being "in the confidence of the President, and of expressing his views, was excited to the highest degree. He avowed that if Mr. Haywood spoke by authority when he said that Mr. Polk stood upon 49, and felt bound in honor to accept that boundary if offered by England, then James A. Polk has spoken words of falsehood and with the tongue of a serpent! The question now is, in which party of the Democratic party are in the confidence of the President?

Additional excitement has been produced in our city during the past week, which is likely to result in the expulsion of members from the Senate, and the ordering of military and police force to the city. A report is currently circulating that a regular corps of soldiers will be ordered to the city, and that the military force will be increased. The Editor of the "Herald and Express" (the organ of the 34 deg. 40 min. men of the "democratic" party,) in his paper of Friday last, charged upon the majority of the Senate, for the course of professing their confidence in the Whigs, and a portion of the Democratic party - enough to make a majority in the Senate - had a caucus at which the British Minister was present, and that at that time a plan of notice was agreed upon, which plan was afterwards consummated at the dinner table of the British Minister; and by the honor of the country was sold for a mess of pottage. Mr. Colquitt, the "democratic" Senator from Georgia, who introduced the resolution, which the editor of the "Herald and Express" has now reprinted, rose in his place in the Senate on Monday last, and after reading the article at length, commented for some time on the "unfounded assertions of his author who ever he might be." He denied the whole charge from beginning to end. And, (looking Mr. Allen intently in the face,) he remarked that "whether or not the editor of that paper was the writer he would not undertake to say; however this might be the thoughts incorporated in it, could never have been conceived but by a scoundrel's head, could never have been written but by a scoundrel's pen."

In the Times of Tuesday evening the charge was repeated in all its parts with additional accusations more aggravating in their character, and the speech of Senator Colquitt justified in that style of chasteness and purity of language as peculiar to a certain class of editors. The words "scoundrel," "scoundrel," "scoundrel," "scoundrel," and other choice epithets are used in high profusion. The editor, after reiterating the charges, dates an investigation into their truth, and says he can prove all that has been charged. A general impression is that the author is more than Senator Allen, of Ohio. Yesterday, the attention of the Senate was called to this subject by Mr. James, of Tennessee, who introduced a resolution that a committee of five be appointed to investigate the matter, with power to send for persons and papers. Senator Mangum pronounced the whole thing, in all its parts, to be false - to be a calumny - on the Senator on the British Minister, and on the President himself, as no such plan could succeed unless he would approve of it; and as the editor of the Times gave as his authority a member of Congress, he thought it was time to know who he was. Messrs. Benton, Speight, Bagby, Chalmers and Calhoun, all Democrats, reprobated the publication - disavowed the whole statement, and thought it due to the Senate that the investigation should be made. The resolution passed unanimously, and a committee consisting of three Democrats and two Whigs were appointed by the Vice President.

The Times of last evening, in a short editorial, notices the appointment of the committee, and is evidently preparing the way for a total "back out." It says that should "we" be summoned by the committee and permitted to call other witnesses, we will endeavor to show that what we said was true. But I must stop. POTOMAC.

THE STATE OF TEXAS.

The first Legislature of the State of Texas met at the town of Austin on Monday, the 16th ultimo, and was duly organized by the election of Edward Burleson as President of the Senate, and W. E. Crump as Speaker of the House of Representatives. On canvassing the votes recently cast by the people for a Governor and Lieutenant Governor of the State, it appeared that Henderson received for the first office 8,910 votes and Dr. Miller 1,672. For the second office, Gen. Darnell had a majority of 48 votes according to the official returns; but these did not include the returns of six counties, which gave Col. Horton an aggregate majority of 600 votes. It is considered doubtful, therefore, whether Gen. Darnell will accept the office.

On the 18th Governor Henderson was duly installed in office, in the presence of the Legislature and a large concourse of spectators. The ceremony was unusually solemn and imposing. After prayer had been offered up to the throne of Grace, President Jones delivered his valedictory address. The oath of office was then administered to the Governor-elect by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, when the banner of the Republic descended from its position above the Capitol, to give place to the Stars and Stripes, and a peal of artillery announced that the Republic no longer existed, and the annexation of Texas to the American Union was complete.

Messrs. Houston and Rusk have been elected to represent the new State in the Senate of the United States. The following are the names of the members of the new Legislature: SENATE - James H.
