He continues the system of "no abatement of prices." which he has pursued for the past ten years, and desires to call the special attention of the public to it as the only the system of retail burioess, and which is decidedly to the interest of the purchaser to promote. It is quite time the fundalent practice of asking a high price, and abating to make the purchasers believe they are the "favoured few," was done away with, as, nine times out of ten, they are made 40 pay a higher price (however great the reduction,) than the like style and quality can be purchased at the "One Price Store." A. B. M. is in regular receipt of the newest and cheapest scassnable goods, and when any article depreciates in value the price is at once marked down so low that it cannot be undersold.

By this system the purchaser can at all times buy with confidence and satisfaction, and without waste of time in uscless bargaining. He-
