From the New York Bun.

Hon. James Cooper. The following paragraph from the Nel York Sun-a paper that has a daily citen tion of 52,000, and an immense weekly -and which is considered as leaning t Locotoco side of politics, may be considered as a notice worthy of boing copied, from the source from which it springs:

"Among the distinguished sons of th Kaysiona Shite, spoken of hor Hie gubernato-rial chair, there are few who command a larger share of public esteen than Mr. Coop-RR, a Whigd He is a man of great natura ound statesman in a more eminen degree than any other of the canditlates within our personal knowledge. And we are confident that the interests of that great State could not be in safer hands, nor could the noble Commonwealth clevate a man whose whole career is more worthy the imitation of her children and her youth. It is to self made men that states and nations should award their highest honors, and thus stimulate the rising generation to pursue an exemplary course through life, as the surest means, o attaining an elevated position in the councils of the people."

It was Gen. Invin's popularity that first enabled the Whigs to elect a Momber of Con-press in the Centre, Huntingdon, and Mifflin. District in 1840; and although the Locotocos added their County of Juniata in 1843 in order to defeat him, he was triumpliantly relected in that year-and the district has since been Whig. So favorable is his standing at home, that he even received on one occasion a majority in Centre county, which during the last five or six years under his influence has been gradually, becoming more and more delached from the Locofoco party-its forme majority of 1000 having dwindled down to a tile over 100 this year. Invin, and who can doubt or dispute -leaving out of view the strong and influen-tial counties in the East-which are known to be in his favor-the policy of his nomination? If nominated he will most assuredly heat any Locofoco that can be put in the field.

the service of the State. Here where he is known any panegyrie upon his personal or business character would be superfluous, onr people, that the war would so n be brought to a close. We take from their arbut as a decent respect to the opinions of men ticle the following pategraph :---

We have heard it repeated of fate that here would be no more fighting. It is impossible to discover any basis for such a consciare. The conduct of the soldiery at Taasco, The behaviour of the troops m Alturameans of do, no less than at the battles of the Rio Grande and the desperate struggle at Monte-rev, gave evidence of anything else than a speedy reseation of hostilities. The people throughout Mexico cherish a hatter of the Americans that will scatcely permit their iners to offer peace, if they were disposed to do so. And the recent shipment of letters of nurque to Havanna, accompanied by natur-alization papers and offers of extraordinary privileges to all who will sail under them, is oken of a protracted and determined contest. 0 Too many of the rumors upon which hopes of peace have been founded. have proceeded from Washington. Very few have come from the seat of war, and even those were derived from supposed action at Washington, us witness the belief entertained at the fall df Monterey that Commissioners had pr coeded to Washington to treat for peace.
