

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 22, 1847.

Mem. Jasper E. Brady, M. C. has our thanks for his kind intentions, but the "document" have not reached us yet.

Peace!—The Mexican News in to-day's paper is thought by many of our contemporaries to hold out an encouraging prospect of Peace.

The State Legislatures of South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, &c. are beginning to discuss very freely in resolutions against the Wilcox proviso.

GRAND COLLEGE.—The Board of Directors of Grand College, have elected the Hon. Joel Jones, now President Judge of the District Court of Philadelphia, President of that institution. Mrs. Ann G. Tilghman, a daughter-in-law of the late Chief Justice Tilghman, has been chosen Matron.

The venerable and illustrious Chancellor Kent is no more. He died in the city of New York on Sunday afternoon week at the age of eighty-five years. He was one of the most eminent jurists in this country. He was the American Blackstone, and as the author of the "Commentaries," his reputation will last as long as the system of American law upon which he so ably rests.

MONEY AND BANKS.—Money matters are very "stagnant" in the cities. Several heavy failures have already taken place in Philadelphia and New York, and more are expected. Stocks are falling, and interest rising. Goods are coming in from Europe, and specie going out daily. Such are the blessings of the Tariff of 1846, which induces our country to buy, instead of manufacturing the fabrics needed for her own consumption. The times will soon show the fallacy of free trade, without further argument.

Are we to understand our neighbor of the Democrat as saying, distinctly that a Locofoco will "do nothing for money?" He tries to break the force of "John of York's" scorching letter by saying that Mr. Toney wrote the attack on the Administration to gratify the editors of the "North American," because he was employed and paid by them! For our part, we have a higher opinion of Mr. Toney's integrity. He unquestionably uttered only his real sentiments, and those of the majority of the Army, too, for his opinions are reiterated more severely in the "South" despatches!

Gerrit Smith, the great Abolitionist, has done a sensible thing. He has withdrawn from this party. He says he will never again take part in organizing a temporary political party, or a party, which, like the "Liberty Party," goes for the promotion of but a single specific reform. His regrets, however, come after the mischief is done. The Liberty party, by defeating Henry Clay in 1844, may be justly held responsible for the present condition of our country.

Potomac, the spirited Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Patriot, says that he has seen a letter from a distinguished gentleman in New Orleans, who had had an interview with Gen. Taylor on the subject of the Presidency. It can only say, adds 'Potomac,' that it is all right, and that old Buena Vista takes like a look on the subject.

PROGRESS OF GEN. TAYLOR.—The progress of the old Hero from New Orleans upwards was a continued scene of triumph. People were going assembled along the banks of the river at every villa and cottage, greeting the steamer with loud huzzas, waving flags and every demonstration of enthusiasm and respect. On Monday week he was welcomed with public honors to his home at Baton Rouge. He has accepted an invitation to visit Natchez.

Senator Dickinson, of New York, has a high regard for the will of the people; to be sure. His State has declared by forty thousand majority in favor of the Wilcox proviso, and yet he introduces resolutions into the Senate which go the whole length for the extension of slavery! Small men like him, however, can do such things with impunity.

It is thought that a letter will soon be forthcoming from Gen. Taylor, giving his opinion of "what we shall do with Mexico." A year ago Gen. Taylor advocated the Deleware Line policy, and we do not now see that our government will be able to get out of the scrape by any other means so well as that.

Mr. Buchanan's friends are about planting themselves on the platform of his anti-war speech of 1815, as we judge from the fact that that speech being republished in the Ledger of Saturday. Who but a friend of his would have paid for so expensive an advertisement?

The Philadelphia papers say the notes of some of the country banks have got into bad odor in the city. The Susquehanna Bank is instanced as one of them, and one of the banks in Trenton, N. J. Lewistown notes are selling at 100 to 75 per cent. discount.

Mr. Butler, the confidential clerk of Mr. Buchanan, is about to take charge of the "Lancaster Intelligencer," and will take into life again. The Buchanan and Dallas war grows fiercer every day. "Hurry, hurry, hurry, bear!" as the woman said.

A communication in the Harbinger Agnes commences with stating that the writer, who by the way dates from Cumberland Valley, has become satisfied that the friends of Gen. Taylor in Pennsylvania are decidedly in favor of Capt. Partridge for the Vice Presidency. This is news indeed.

The Virginia Chronicle and Old Dominion says that Mr. Winthrop, who first moved the so-called Wilcox proviso, as an amendment to the Oregon bill, in February, 1815, before Mr. Wilcox was in Congress.

The Presidency.

There is one thing quite certain, that if our country is to remain in a state of war for several years longer, it seems to be an undisputed and determined fact, that the necessity of taking the government out of the reckless and incompetent hands of such men as James K. Polk and his advisers, and calling to the head of affairs a man in whom we may trustingly confide to conduct the country safely through the stormy scenes of war, tumult and strife on which we have entered. With this view, the Presidential election being near at hand, thousands of anxious eyes are now turned with deep interest to the illustrious heroes of the war—WILKINS, SCOTT and ZACHARY TAYLOR. Which of these two shall be the standard-bearer of the Whig party in the great contest which is coming on, is properly the province of a Whig National Convention to determine, and that decision shall direct our course.

Our preference, nevertheless, we have no hesitation in saying, is in favor of the noble, the generous and brave, "OLD ROBIN AND READ." We have a choice above him, too, and it would be stifling our warmest and proudest emotions, if we did not say that first of all living men we desire to see HENRY CLAY elected to the Presidency of the United States. The banishment of HENRY CLAY in 1844, so cruelly unjust, unnatural and ungrateful, has seemed to us as wrong as foul that it was worth years of the nation's regenerative energies to repair. But is there any sign of relenting in that fiend-like spirit of malignant detraction which has ever made the lowering fame of HENRY CLAY its slinking mark? We fear not, and shrinking from another such sacrifice to political malice we turn reluctantly to other prospects.

While expressing our preference for Gen. Taylor, we desire to be understood as pledging ourselves to his support only as the candidate of the Whig National Convention. We can see no other safe course for the Whig party than in submitting the selection of a candidate to a National Convention, whose deliberations and decision we may hope will unite and harmonize every interest of our party, and bring us out of the most Presidential campaign with our glorious Whig flag streaming in light and victory!

Mr. Clay and the Presidency.—The Louisville Journal, in commenting upon Mr. CLAY's celebrated speech, uses the following language:

"We are unprepared to concur in the opinion expressed by many of the Eastern editors that this speech will inevitably make Henry Clay the Whig candidate for the Presidency, for we strongly incline to the belief that even if the mass of the Whig party shall seem disposed to nominate him, he will decline the nomination."

We are well convinced that Mr. Clay will not (and assuredly he should not) permit his name to be used in another doubtful contest. A letter from Washington in the N. York Commercial says:

"Mr. Clay has engaged lodging here for the winter. He will arrive on the 23d of December. He has two courses to try in the Supreme Court, and it is uncertain which way he will come on. One of his Kentucky friends says he will remain here until after the adjournment of the Court. His visit to this city is preceded by the announcement that he is not and will not be a candidate for the Presidency. No one supposed that he would again run the gamut of parties, unless he should be induced to do so by a very general demonstration of the public will in his favor. This disclaimer is opportune. And yet, even Mr. Clay's visit to Washington from any misconception. It will serve also to relieve some of his friends from considerable embarrassment as to their course during this Presidential-making session. The number of Taylor-Whigs will now rapidly increase in Congress."

President Polk is a modern Janus, for while he has one face for Congress and the public he has another for his private views. This, while he preaches to Congress the doctrine that no more propositions of peace will emanate from him, but that on the contrary, the war must be pressed vigorously into the vitals of Mexico, he is at most of the same moment endeavoring to persuade a distinguished Catholic prelate—Bishop Hughes—to go privately, but at the Government expense, to do his endeavor to induce the Mexican Congress to listen to overtures for an amicable settlement of difficulties. The proposition was wisely declined, and it is now understood, that if circumstances will permit, he will be named as one of three Commissioners to accomplish what Mr. Polk desired him to do alone and without official authority.

The "manifest destiny" doctrine is catching. England we suppose has just got it into her head, too, for we see it stated in the New York Herald that the British Government, under certain pretenses, has seized upon St. Juan de Nicaragua, a town situated at the mouth of the river of Nicaragua, which flows from the lake of that name, into the Atlantic. This town is claimed by the government of Guatemala, in opposition to the British. This act of the British government in that quarter of the world, may have been precipitated by the possession of the capital of Mexico by the victorious armies of the United States.

The Albany Evening Journal says:—The President is improving. In his last message he to be found the names of Gen. Taylor and Scott. They are not, however, mentioned complementarily, but in connection with their refusal to levy contributions upon the Mexicans. The allusion may be easily construed into a censure, and our only surprise is, that he did not charge them with affording aid and comfort to the enemy by their leniency.

Mr. Brodhead, of Northampton county, has given notice in the House of Representatives of his intention to introduce a bill to repeal the law of last session which laid a postage tax on newspapers. This is a good beginning, and we hope that he will never give it up until that law is repealed, and given back to the country press, under the post office reform.

The veteran Gen. Sumner met with a brilliant reception at Mobile, on the 5th instant.

Letters from Mexico.

On our first page will be found several extracts from letters written by officers and privates in the Army. These letters abound with interesting incidents, and tell also a sad story of suffering, disease and death, in the ranks of the brave men who have given their lives to their country. No one can fail to learn from reading these letters that the announcement of "peace" would send a thrill of joy through the American camp in Mexico. They have enlisted however to serve "during the war with Mexico," and if the government persists in its reckless scheme of subjugation and occupying all Mexico, these brave fellows may give up all hope of ever returning to the United States. They can proudly conquer Mexican troops, but they cannot triumph over the pestilence that wasteth at noonday! Is all Mexico worth such a noble sacrifice?

It is earnestly to be hoped that Congress will speedily be able to devise some plan for securing an honorable peace, or at least that the policy of the war may be changed from the ruinous plan of subjugation to that of taking a defensive line upon our present conquests. We submit some further extracts of letters. The first is an extract from a letter written by our townsman, Maj. J. F. Hunter, to Gen. Willis Foule, of Carlisle:

CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 30, 1847.
DEAR UNCLE—I am now in the city of Mexico, quartered in the convent of San Domingo, a very large building, which takes up one whole square. Col. Farnesay having been left at Puebla, Lieut. Col. Graham having been killed at the storming of Molino del Rey, and Maj. Morgan ordered on the recruiting service, the command of the regiment has devolved upon me since the 8th of September.

(The Major's account of the fighting we omit, as we have published so many descriptions already.)

I am now spending my time in drilling three or four hours a day, when the weather permits, and about once a week I am field officer of the day, and I have an opportunity of going over the city, visiting the different guards.

We have a great variety of amusements here, Circuses, Theatres, Bull-fights and Earthquakes.

On the 5th inst., about 7 o'clock, A. M. a severe shock of an earthquake was felt in this city, lasting two minutes and a half, and the first shock was followed by a second, and the third, and the fourth, and the fifth, and the sixth, and
