Atwood's Empire Cooking Stove.

In again calling attention to this unequalled STOVE, the proprietor has the pleasure to inform the public that (externally) it has undergone an entire change—the pipe and hearth placed opposite each other, and a SUMMER HEARTH AND BOILING APPARATUS, being added, thus rendering it faultless, and unless there is another faultless Stove in the market, this is unquestionably the best, as it now embraces every valuable improvement possessed by any other Stove, in addition to some peculiar to itself, secured by Letters Patent.

The success of this Stove, since its introduction is unequalted. Nothing has ever been offered for cultinary purposes that has given such general satisfaction. Stoves have been copied after its form; some dealers have even used its fundamental principles, but the proportions were so unlike the original, that they bear the relative value that a countorfeit does to a ganuine coin.
