WESTERN FARMERS AND THEIR MARKETS.

WE find, in some of the papers, a very magnificent account of agricultural operations and prospects in the Wabash Valley of Indiana, -as in the case of the farm of the Hon. H. L. Ellsworth, formerly Commissioner of Patents, who appears to have a nice little, field of Corn, of one thousand acres, with an estimated crop in it of sixty thousand bushels .--This is doing business on a pretty large scale; but that seems to be the scale on which rural matters are managed there; for the same writer who gives an account of Mr. Ellsworth's corn, speaks of myriads of hogs raised to consume this grain in all the neighborhod, as well as the immense herds of cattle-there is one of ten thousand head on the Grand Prairie, -which is "fed for the Eastern mar-

But, perhaps, this show of agricultural prosperity in the West, is, after all, an illusion; perhaps Western farmers are not any the richer for it; and there is one little fact in the statement, of very great interest to farmers in our part of the country All these vast herds of cattle that pasture on the Western prairies are fed "for the Eastern market;" and that is the case with the swine which consume the crops raised on these rich, thousand-acre corn-fields. Are Eastern farmers any better off for this competition at the hands of their Western brethren whose surplus products rule and glut the Eastern market? Are our Western farmers any the richer for being compelled to seek these markets, across rivers and mountains, on the sea-side, eight hundred or a thousand miles from the Wabash, instead of selling all at their own doors? Why cannot the Eastern farmers be left to supply the Eastern market; the Western farmers building up for themselve markets of their own, at which they could obtain Eastern prices, without any deduction for the expenses of transporta-

This is a question, which, if Eastern and Western farmers would only agitate it sufficiently among themselves, would bring up the merits of the PROTECTIVE EVSTEM- as one on which THEIR interests depended more completely, and immedi ately than those of any other class in the United States. Farmers never can be prosperous-that is, they never can enjoy the first prices for their products, nor the wares they consume at the lowes prices—until they have good and suffi-cient markets for purchase and sale AT THEIR OWN DOORS; and those they never can have until the encouragement of manufactures & the mechanic arts brings about an equitable division of employment -pairs off the consumer with the producer-covers the country cities-and makes every district hum with the activity of its own local trade.

depending on distant or foreign markets for the sale of their products, are, and alloss and beyond the reach of medicine to ways have been, rook ones-and, in former times, in Europe at least, they have been dependent and enslaved. This was ... the case with Africa, Egypt, and the oth er grain-bearing countries which ancien Rome preserved as her garners; and this is the case, to the full extent, with Poland, and other exclusively agricultural countries of our day. It is impossible, in fact, that any community can flourish which has but one trade to engage its industry. In such a country, industry must pine, energy must die, intelligence and the pride of independence must vanish. It is the encouragement of all arts, ot all forms, methods, and products of industry, which gives animation, prosperity, universal happiness to a commu-

With all the mighty crops of Corn raised in the West, what does it profit the farmer there-since he cannot sell it or transport it to our distant market? It will not bear the cost of transportation.-It can only be fed to cattle and swine, in the form of flesh to be brought to the Eastern market, with the final result, Eastern market, with the final result, and the depreciating the value of Eastern produce, of selling for a price of which a large proportion has been sunk in the cost of transportation. We stern farmers, in truth, for their own sake, to say nothing of the benefit of their Eastern rivals; ought to provide a none consumption with their selections. ought to provide a none consumption for grain and ment, raising for distant markets only such products of higher price such as wool, hemp. flax, silk, price—such as wool, heinp. flax, silk, madder, &c.; as will bear the cost of a distant carriage. But to do this, they must encourage and protect American foldstry of all kinds—and if they can so licit it to their own doors, so much the better: every thing sold there is so much put into their own pockets, instead of put into their own pockets, instead of case is worned were expelled in another 1864, the state of the state of the state of the modified of the state of the modified of the m or grow rich—at farming, in the West, and therefore order as above. Brandreths Pill's Have a principle in them similar, or which accords with and truly streng hens the purifying principle of the blood. Read and understand.

It is principle of Life, that subtle and invisible principle which animates the fine man frame and whose sout is in the blood, by one of the most impenetrable secrets of the Creator. We cannot comprehen his principle, but we know that it is in the blood, for it we occases the amount of blood in the body; we decrease the principle of lite: and that, it we draw all the blood from the body, that life comes. So we must believe what the Scriptors are at this whites to me can doubt it. tures say on this subject, no one can doubt it.

The life of the flesh is emphatically in the blood.—There can be no anstake on the subject; so we must then be also convinced that any thing which impedes the circulation of the blood must depress or bear down the principle of Life and nake the bedy suffers to siple of Life, and make the body subject to receive injury from the principle of correptibility also implanted in the human frame. We cannot dony it. There is in every created be-ing a principle of corruptibility as well as a principle of animation. It is when this corcuptibility becomes too pewerful for the Life Principle or blood, that disease commences,— It is not because it does exist, but because it mately destroy him, and when of age he transmits them to his children.

The principle of corruption is subject to the influence of many causes of vittation. It is, therefore, necessary that we be provided with a anple means to prevent injury from it; or, in consequence of this vititation that putricity while be produced which would destroy the individual ere he had arrived at that period of life which he would have done from the principle of life which was in him. Now, to accomplish this, we must provent an accumulation of those humors which beardown the principle of life. Do not wait for an attack of lickness, but on the first appearance of the choiny as ist nature in her operations to expel him from the body. This is the object always attained by those who use Brandreth's Pills. Thousands who have kept their beds for years have been restored by the use of this medicine. They are as harmless as a piece of bread, yet all powerful for the removal of discase whether chronic or recent infections, or atherwise. By the use of Brandreth's Piles, the blood as gradually purified, and becomes too strong for all impediments to its free course, and thus the blood is restored to perfect health, and usefulness. The isken of two spirits, the one good and the other evil, having power over man, is thus given a corpored ap-plication, and, what is better, we know how to sasist the good principle, the blood, to conquer the bad humors, and thus produce health and cheerfulness, where before there was nothing

Rahways Medicated Soap.

OGREAT EXCITEMENT IN PITTSBURG!—Our agent of this place writes of a mysterious incident which occurred in that place, in relation to an excellent young lady, but who unfortunately possessed a very repulsive complexion. Her face was covered with pimples, blotches, pustules,—her skin dark and yellow, cracked and chapped—her lips in cold weather would become sore and bleed. She had, however, several good traits, one of which-was to read the newspapers. One morning as she was looking over the columns of the Dispatch, she saw in large lotters the words Rānway's Chinese Medicated Soap! As a sure exterminator of all skin blemishes, with a direction for all ladies to read the papers! Now mark the advantage. On Sunday morning she took her place, as usual, among the choristers, and to the utter surprise of her fellow-songsters, presented a complexion as fair as a lify, and beautiful as the most admired bello of the town.—Strange wondering and much excitement was exhibited by the busy crowd, and nothing short of an explanation of how this sudden transformation from urliness to beauty was attained, would answer. The lady, like all her sex, full of gentleness and kindness, explained the cause, and to the great, grand and beneficial effects of Radway's Medicated Chinese Soap, which she had been using for two weeks, was awarded the full appropation of the people, as the "restorer of lost" appropation of the people, as the "restorer of lost" appropation of the people, as the "restorer of lost" appropation of the people, as the "restorer of lost" way's Medicated Chinese Scap, which she had been using for two weeks, was awarded the full approbation of the people, as the "restorer of lost beauty." Our agent concludes thus—"Since the above has become known. I have had a perfect rush for Rahway's Scap."

current and increasing precisions of the body, it is manifest that it is brought about by something having a substantive existence. If we suppose the organs of our body originally perfect, they must continue perfect unless changed by the intervention of something that bears an unhealthy relation to it. In all cases of disease, there must be the intervention of something in the intervention of some new interventions. thy relation to it. In all cases of disease, there must be the interposition of some now ingredient which by playing its part as a cause, served to modify the properties before connected with the body. It is absurd to talk of spontaneous disease taking place in organs proviously healthy, without the interposition of some morbific agent; as well might we expect a piece of chalk to transfer itself spontaneously into Plaster of Paris, without the aid of Sulpharic Acid. In all disease there is a prior cause which must be removed, thro' the agency of the Blood. For this purpose there is no remedy superior to the Panacea. Having been apprised of the mature of the Panacca, it allords me much pleasure to be able to recommend it as a valuable remedy for all those chronic constitutional and glandular diseases, to which it is especially adapted. To those who are afflicted, and require medicine as an alterative, they cannot obtain it in a more agreeble, active and uniform state than is to be found in the Panacca. I have used it in several instances with decided and signal success. Yours, &c.

such as Chronic Dysentory, described in the following certificate:

Philadelphia, Sept. 9, 1847.

Messrs, Ketcham & Henshaw—Gents:—A bout fike years ago I was afflicted with what was called chronic dysentery. There suffered with it ever since, and physicians, have told me that my liver was affected, and that my bowels were ulcerated, for bland and pus, attended with a poculiar putrid smell, wore the frequent discharges. A short time since I made a visit to Massachusetts, in hopes of bonofit from change of air, but suffered more sovere than ever before. While there, a physician offered to cure me for $40, in three months. Happily, in the midst of intense pain, excasionally relieved by laudnum, I saw in the wrapper of your Electuary, a perfect description of my complaint, together with many certificates of cures. This gave mor great confidence in the medicine, and I purchased a box, nine doses of which has apparently cured me, and I am prepared to say, everything in its favor, or render any service I can to humanity by subscribing to its merits.

Respectfully yours,
BENJ. PERCIVAL, 80 S. SERIL, st. Weakness and inflammation of the Spine, falling of the bowels, womb &c, that femalesparticularly are subject to, under peculiar circumstances; for which many certificates could be given of speedy cures—but dollency forbids their publication.

Severe and habitual contiveness, flow of blood to the head, dyspepsia, fistulus inflammation of the stomuch, find a speedy cure in Dr. Upham's Electuary. It is an internat ramedy, and cures by its action on the bowels and blood, the relaxed state of which is the ause of the above named diseases. UNIVERSAL COMMENDATION From every city, town and village, where Dr. Upham's Vegetable Pile Electiony has been infreduced, the most gratifying intelli-gence of its effects have been received by the Proprietor. letter of Capt. G. W. Bean, late of the U. S. service, and Member of the N. J. Legislature Rahway, June 16, 1847 I have been: allieted for years with the Piles, and have tried, without anything like permanent benefit, almost everything assuming the name of a remedy. I had as a matter of course, lost all confidence in medicine.— Under this feeling I was induced—not without reluctance, I confess—to use Upham's Electuary, and having used it about three weeks, according to the directions laid down, I find to my surprise, as well as satisfaction, that every symptom of the disease has left me. I think it due alike to Dr. Uphutu and myself to muke this statement.

My Dear Sir—I cannob express to you my sincere and heart felt thanks B1-the wonderful cure I have experienced by the use of your truly valuable Pile Electuary. I have been a perfect martyr to the Bleeding Piles for ten years past, so much so, that I became reduced to a more helden with less of resettions. to a mere skeleton, with loss of appetite and general decangement of the digestive organs; my eyes also became affected, and in fact I was a misery to myself, and was obliged to give up my office here, which I held in the Custom House some years. I have tried all kinds of medicine, had the hest advice the kinds of medicine, had the hest advice the physicians of Bos'on and this place equild give, spent much money and twice submitted to a surgical operation. I had become perfectly tired of life, and at the suggestion of my friends I was induced to try a box of your medicine. The first I found relieved me sightly, still I persevered and purchased a second, and assure you when I got half through I found mysolf, gotting well; I still kept dp, and now I am a new man. My dear sir, language cannot express my thanks, that I am once more restored to health, and now in Messrs. Ketchum & Henshaw. This certifies that I was been severely afflicted for many years with the Piles, but more particularly within the last nine months. Having used all the remedies prescribed by my physician, also having tried other means to little or no advantage, I became very much discouraged and foll as though. I must suffer as long as I lived, But providentially I was informed by Mr. Mott, instructor of the public school at Staten Island, that I could be cared by your valuable Pile Electuary. Having confidence is his statement, I immediately procured some of the medicine and am very happy to inform statement, I immediately procured some of
