WIT every change that is Taking place in the body, it is manifest that it is brought about by something having d substantive existence. If we suppose the organs of our body originally perfect, they must continue perfect unless changed by the intervention of something that bears an unleal-thy relation to it. In all cases of disease, there must be the intervention of some new intervention Atwood's Empire Cooking Stove. IN again calling attention to this unequalled STOVE, the proprietor has the pleasure to inform the public that (externally) it has underthy relation to it. In all cases of disease, there must be the interposition of some new ingredient which by playing its part as a cause served to modify the properties before connected with the body. It is absurd to talk of spontaneous disease taking place in organs previously healthy, with-out the interposition of some norbific agont; as well might we expect a pirce of chalk to transfer itself'spontaneously into Plaster of Paris, without the nid of Sulphutic Acid. In all disease there is a prior cause which must be removed. thro' the agency of the Blood. For this purpose there is no remedy superior to the Pancea.
