Sunday Reading.

ON THE BIBLE.

A nation must be truly blest if it were governed by no other laws than those of this blessed book; it is so complete a system, that nothing can be added to it; it contains every thing needful to be known or done,—it affords a copy for the king, Deut. xvii, 18, a rule for a subject, and authority and direction for a magistrate; it cautions a witness; requires an impartial verdict of a jury, and furnishes the judge with his sentence; it sets the husband as lord of the household, and the wife as mistress of the table; tells HIM how to rule and HER how to manage; it entails honor to parents, and enjoins obedience to children; it prescribes and limits the sway of the sovereign, the rule of the ruler, and the authority of the master, commands the subjects to honor, and the servants to obey, and promises the protection and blessing of its author to all that walk by its rules. It gives direction for weddings, and for burials; it promises food and raiment, and limits the use of both; it points out a faithful and Eternal Guardian to the departing husband and father; tells him with whom to leave his fatherless children, and in whom his widow is to trust, Jeremiah, xix 11; and promises a father to the former, and a husband to the latter; it teaches a man how to set his house in order, and how to make his will; it appoints a dowry for a wife, and entails the right of the first born, and shows how the younger branches shall be left; defends the right of all, and reveals vengeance to every defrauder, over-reacher, and. oppressor. It is the first book, and the oldest book in all the world; contains the choicest matter; gives the best instruction, and affords the greatest pleasure and satisfaction that ever was revealed; it contains the best laws, and profoundest mysteries that ever were penned. It brings the best of tidings and affords the best of comfort to the inquiting and the disconsolate; it exhibits life and immortality, and shows the way to glory; it is a brief recital of all that is past, and a certain of all that is to come; it settles all matters in debate, solves all doubts and eases the mind and conscience of all their scruples. It reveals the only living and true God, and shows the only way to him, and sets aside all other Gods and shows the vanity of them. In short it is a book of laws to show right or wrong; a book of wisdom that condemns all folly, and makes the foolish wise; and a book of truth, that detects all lies, and confutes all errors; and a book of life, and shows the way from everlasting death. It is the most compendious book in all the world, the most authentic and the most entertaining history that ever was published; it contains the most ancient antiquities, strange events, wonderful occurrences, heroic deeds, unparalleled wars. It describes the celestial, terrestrial, and infernal worlds; and the origin of the angelic myriads, human race, and devilish legions. It will instruct the most accomplished mechanic, and profoundist artist; it will teach the best rhetorican and exercise every power of the most skilful arithmetician, Rev. xiii, 18, puzzle the wisest anatomist, and exercise the wisest critic.—It corrects the vain philosopher, and confutes the wise astronomer; it exposes the subtle sophist, and makes the diviner mad. It is a complete code of laws, a perfect body of divinity, an unequalled narrative, a book of lives, a book of travels, and a book of voyages; it is the best covanent that ever was agreed on, the best evidence that ever was produced, the best will that ever was made and the best testament that ever was signed. To understand it is to be wise indeed; to be ignorant of it is to be destitute of wisdom; it is the king's best copy, the magistrate's best rule, the house-wif's best guide, the servant's best directory, and the young man's best companion. It is the school boy's spelling book, and the learned man's masterpiece; it contains choice grammer for a novice, and profound mystery for a sage, it is the ignorant man's dictionary, and the wise man's directory; it affords knowledge of witty inventions for the humerous, and dark sayings for the grave; and it is its own interpreter. It encourages the wise the warrior, the swift, and the overcomer, and promises an internal reward to the excellent, the conqueror, the winner, and the prevaling. And that which crowns all, is that the Author is without partiality, and without hypocrisy; in whom there is no variableness, nor shadow of turning.

Now I LAY ME DOWN TO SLEEP.—There are probably no four lines in the English language that are repeated so many times daily as the following:

"Now I lay me down to sleep,
I pray the Lord my soul to keep;
If I should die before I wake,
I pray the Lord my soul to take."

And this not only children and youth that repeat them. Many whose heads are silvered over with age, have been accustomed to repeat them as their last prayer before closing their eyes in sleep, every night since they were taught them in infancy. The late ex-President of the United States, John Quincy Adams, was among the number. A Bishop of the Methodist church, in addressing a Sabbath School, told the children that he had been accustomed to say that little prayer every night since his mother taught it to him when he was a little boy.

To Owners and Dealers in Horses.

CARLTON'S FOUNDER OINTMENT, for the cure of Founder, Split Hoof, Hoof-bound Horses, and contracted and Feverish Feet Wounds, bruises in the Flesh, Galled Backs, Cracked Heels, Scratches, Cuts, Kicks, &c, on horses.

CARLTON'S RING-BONE CURE, for the cure of Ring-bone, Blood Spavin, Bone Shavin, Windgalls, and splint—a certain cure. The Ring-Bone Cure and the Founder Ointment are prepared from the recipe of a very celebrated English Farrier, and will cure in ninety-nine cases out of one hundred of any of the above complaints. They have been used by farmers, livery-men, stage proprietors, and others with the most marked and decided success. For Sale by C. GOLDEY

Also, Shoe Findings of all kinds, a good assortment of Men's morocco, kid, French straits, lining and binding skins for shoe-makers, all articles used by shoe makers constantly kept on hand. Blacksmiths can be supplied with the very best of hammered iron, warranted good, also all kinds of rolled, slit, round, band, and strap iron, cast, shear, spring English and American blister steel, warranted good, also a lot of sheet iron for tinners. Housekeepers can also be supplied with every article necessary for housekeeping in the Hardware Line.

Ethereal and Pine Oil Lamps of every description just received, also ethereal and pine oil for sale, just fresh, all kinds of paints, oils, varnishes, turpentine, also, a first rate article to preserve leather shoes, and keep the feet dry.—Look out and bear in mind,

Farmers, Mechanics and Housekeepers and all who use the article of HARDWARE, call at the old well known new arranged HARDWARE STAND, formerly kept by Lewis Harlan, in North Hanover street, next door to John Cornman's tavern stand, now kept by H. Glass, and also next door to George Keller's Fancy Hat and Cap Store. Call and examine for yourselves, and save money, as we are determined to sell all articles at the very smallest profit for CASH; and we think we shall be able to sell a little lower than any other Hardware Store in town, as our goods are well selected and are purchased right in order to sell low, at the new arranged Hardware Store, well-known as Lewis Harlan's old stand, where you may find a good assortment of every article in the Hardware Trade. Don't forget the Stand, as quick sales and small profits is the order of the day.

Call and examine for yourselves.

JACOB SENER.
