

THE HOME MARKET.

Extrscts from an address delivered before the Charles Co., (Md.) Agricultural Society by Hon. J. G. CHAPMAN. "I have said that the market for the products of the farm, is the home of the consumer; and the common sense of every man will tell him that the expenses of transporting those products to that E Simb market is deducted from its sale and paid by the producer. We ship our products to the most convenient ports,they are sold by our factors to the speculators, or factor of an Eastern manufacturer, or European capitalist. It is in transit until it reaches the place where it is bought for consumption, and the price which we receive is just so much as the article will sell for, clear of all as the article will sell for, clear of all exactions to which it is subjected. The factor who sells for us is paid a commission. The speculator who pugchases of him must have a commission or advance for his rouble and risk. The New York purchaser or agent, adds on his commission, and the consumer buys the article in competition with similar articles articles that are grown nearer to cles articles that are grown nearer to ses of factorage, commissions, freights, insurances and exchanges, are deducted from the price paid by the customer and the balance minus the profits of speculation, is the price paid to the farmer of his products. ducts to every part of the world—thus keeping the consumers of her products in the condition of colonists to her.—

"She is emphatically the workshop of he world." Contrast the condition of Portugal with that of England. The sun never shone upon a fairer region than Fortugal, and there is no country more inviting, and affording greater inducements by nature to the agriculturalist, yet she is in a state of worse than vassalage to England, because she has by treaty stipulations bartered her manby treaty stipulations bartered her manufactures for a market for her vines, and removed the customer so far from the producer, that the costs of transportation producer, that the costs of transportation alone exceed the value of the article, and her name is now "synonymous with poverty and wretchedness."

"It is population which produces wealth, and population which improves agriculture. We want more consumers for our products. The products will increase if the consumption would increase. Your land will become rich, if your population will fill an and consumers. Your population will fill an and consumers. January 3, 1849.—1v. your population will fill up and consume what is made. The more that is required for domestic consumption, the more will the capacity of the production be increased. Your lands will grow rich as your population demands from them the ratio of the demand upon the capacity of the land for supplies for domestic consumption. You want population.—You want consumers. You want the artizans, and mechanics, and machinists, and manufacturers as consumers of your products: For your corn—your wheat—oats—hay—potatoes—turnips—cabbage,

Because we have no market for them! There is no demand for them. There are no consumers for them. Let there be consumers and we shall raise them. We shall find our capacity to increase, in proportion to the demand for consumtion, and as the population increases, so will our productions. Every means should be adopted to create a larger demand for our products and to lessen the expenses of sending those products to market. We must create a market for our smaller agricultural products—our beef, veal, mutton, turnips, potatoes and cabbages. These must be exchanged for the implements which the farmer requires in the pursuit Be it so-and why not? Because we must be exchanged for the implements which the farmer requires in the pursuit of his husbandry. Your hoes and axes, and ploughs, and carts, and barrows should be got in exchange for your productions, which now tot on your hands; or for such commodities as may readily be produced, if there was a demand for them. Your wool must be exchanged for cloth or manufactured at home. Your hides must be given in exchange. Your hides must be given in exchange for shoes. The tanner and the shoemaker, the machinist and the manufacturer. the blacksmith and the weaver, must be brought near to the plough they must inhabit the same neighborhood, and they Do not gradge the cost and labor necessary to plant a few of the best shade trees round your house; and if you have any doubts about what to plant, stick in an elm. There are few trees in the world finer than a fine sweeping elm ; and two or three of them will give even a common looking dwelling a look of dignity. If you plant fruit trees for shade. they are likely to be broken to pieces for the fruit, and they grow unsightly by the time that forest trees grow spreading and umbrageous. There are few men whose friends build so fair a monument to their memory as they can raise with their own hands, by planting an elm or maple where it can grow for a century.—Hon-

Scrofula or King's Evil, Rhoumatism, Obstinate Cutaneous Eruptions, Pimples or t'us-tules on the Face, Blotches, Biles, Chronic Sore Eyes, Ring Worm or Tetter, Seald Held Enlargement and Pain of the Bones and ounts, Stubborn Uleers, Syphilitic Symptoms Sciatica or Lumbage, and Diseases arising from an injudicious use of Mercury, Ascites or Dropsy, Exposure or Imprudence in Life, Also, Chronic Constitutional Disorders. In this preparation are strongly concentrated all the Medicinal properties of Sarsaparita, combined with the most effects it aids, the most salutary productions, the most potent simples of the vegetable kingdom; and it has been so fully tested not only by patients them-selves, but also by Physicians, that it has received their unqualified recommendations and the approbation of the public; and has established on its own merits a reputation for VALUE and EFFICACY far superior to the various compounds bearing the name of Sarsaparilla. Diseases have been cured, such as are not furnished in the records of time past; and what it has already done for the nousands who have used it, it is capable doing for the millions still suffering and strog-gling with disease. It purifies, cleanses, and trengthens the founts in springs of lite, and infuses new vigor throughout the whole ani

Messrs. Sans: Gentlemen—Sympathy for the afflicted induces me to inform you of the remarkable cure effected by your Sursaparilla in the case of my wife. She was severely afflicted with the secolula on different parts of the body; the glands of the neck were greatly enlarged and her limbs much swollen. After suffering over a year and finding no relief from the remedies used, the disease attacked, and below the knee suppourated. Her physician below the kuce suppurated. Her physician advised it should be laid open, which was advised it should be laid open, which was done, but wi hout any permanent benefit. In this situation we heard of, and were induced to use SANDS Sarsadarilla. The first bottle produced a decided and favourable effect, relieving her-more than any prescription she had ever taken, and before the had used six bottles, to the astonishment and delight of hor friends, she found her health quite restored. It is now over a year since the cure waeffected, and her health-remains good, showing the disease was thoroughly cradicated from the system. Our neighbors are all knowing to these facts, and think very highly of Sands' Sarsaparilla. Yours with respect

Extract from a letter from Mr. Ingraham, a gentleman well known in Dalaware county. It commends itself to all similarly afflicted. Gentlemen: -My wife has used several bot-tles of your Sarsaparilla, which I obtained of your agents in this place, from which she has received such pecial benefit, that I am in. duced to add mine to the abut dant testimeer now before the public in favor of its medi-nal virtues. Her father, mother, and man other relatives, have fallen victims to consum tion, and it was supposed that she too was in-tioned the same way. She had several turns of raising blood, &c., and at length became so reduced that her life was despaired of from day to day. We were induced to try your sars. aparilla, as before mentioned, from the use of which her health has been restored; so the the past year she has been able to attend

Spangler, in N. Hanover street, next door to the office of D. Santh, Esq.

The principal advantage this Churn has over all others is, that it is so constructed that the top can be taken off so as to give free access to the inside of the churn, which makes it convenient to put in the cream and get out the butter. A Thermometer is attached to the end of the Churn so as to show the exact temperature of the cream, which experience shows should be 60 degrees to make good Butter. A chamber or space is arranged around the bottom of the churn, for the purpose of admitting cold or warm warter, so as to bring the cream to the desired temperature without mixing the water with the cream. The secret in churning butter is, to have your cream at the proper temperature; it will produce more and, better butter, and take less time in churning; it churns equally well in cold or warm weather—no such thing as having scalded butter. All that is necessary to make good bûtter all seasons of the year, is to get one of Crowell's Patent Thermometer Churns—We would most respectfully invite the public to call and examine for themselves.

Spanglor—I have had the Crowell Thermometer Churn you made for me in use at my place, and I do not hesitate to say that no Furmer should be without it. Fifteen minutes is all that time required to make Butter, and the value of this saving of time and labor consists in this, that it requires no more time at any one season than another; and that the temperature of the cream necessary to make butter, is produced with erream necessary to make butter, is produced with erream of water with the cream itself.

For the benefit of the hotter part of man (woman) I give this certificate. After using the Thermometer Churn made by Mr. Spangler of this place, I would have none other in my family. We have been using the ald-barrel churnfor thirty years past, and I must say it is not to be compared to Crowell's Thermometer Churn, either for speed of churning or convenience; in the old barrel churn it took generally from four to six hours to churn the churning, now in the Thermometer Churn we can churn butter in from fifteen to twenty minutes, by brining the cream to the propertemperature. In again calling attention to this unequalled STOVE, the proprietor has the pleasure to inform the public that (externally) it has undergone an entire change—the pipe and hearth placed opposite each other, and a SUMMER HEARTH AND BOILING APPARATUS, being added, thus rendering it faultless, and unless there is another faultless Stove in the market, this is unquestionably the best, as 'throw embraces every valuable improvement possessed by any other Stove, in addition to some peculiar to itself, secured by Letters Patent.

The success of this Stove, since its introduction's 'unequalled. Nothing has ever been offered for culliary purposes that has given such general satisfaction.
