The Judges of the Supreme County our letters state the shall hold their offices for the term of fifteen counties respectively. In Wayne county our letters state the wheat crop may be put down at about two-thirds an average yield. In Richland and Haron we gather from the reports, about one-half, or two-thirds of a full crop has been harvested. In Henry county, and some others, in the north west corner of the state, the wheat crop county, and some others, in the norm west corner of the state, the wheat crop is said to be good, though comparatively little is raised. Frem all that we gather therefore we set it down, as our opinion that the wheat crop of Ohio is not over one-third of a full average yield. This consider the cause which shall not be sufficient reasonable cause which shall not be sufficient reasonable cause which shall not be sufficient reasonable as impaculation. will be only about enough, for home consumption and for seed. In all the States, we have already thirds of each branch of the Legislature. The shown that Indiana and Kentucky, and the Western portions of Pennsylvania election of this commonwealth next after the adoption of this amendment, and the commisthe Western portions of Pennsylvania and Virginia, have shared with us in the loss of their wheat crop. But east of the mountains, in Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, &c., the crop is said to be full an average one; and the recent accounts from New York indicate above an average crop in that State. In Upper Canada, and in Michigan, also, the crop is very good—full an average, if not better, In Illinois most accounts speak favorably of the crop—only a few counties have suffered.

Now, in order to furnish data, on which to base an opinion in regard to the effects of the partial failure of the crop,

The principal wheat growing States are as follows:--

Ohio -.-.20,000,000 New York -- 15,000,000 Pennsylvania - 15,000,000 Virginia -Michigan -- 12.000.000 - 10,000,000 Indiana -8,000,000 6,000,000 5,000,000 Maryland - -

Judges during their continuance in office shall reside within the district or county for which Here we have eight States, producing ninety millions of bushels. Suppose one-half this amount to be surplus, and that Ohio and Indiana are excluded entirely, we then withdraw nearly one-third of the amount, This would no doubt materially affect prices. But we suppose, as is probably the case, that the crop of New York and Michigan is considerably better than last year, and add the whole of this increase to their amount of surplus, and also take into the account of old wheat on hand, we shall find reason to conjecture, that the deficiency will perhaps not be materially felt and no very great advance of price will take place.
