The highest knowledge of Chemistry, and the latest discoveries of the art, have all beet brought into requisition in the manufacture of the Old-Dirk Sarasparilla. The Surfaparilla root, it is well known to medical men, contains many medicinal properties, and some proporties which are into true-less, and others, which if retained in preparing it for use, produce fermentation and acid, which is injurtuous to the system. Some of the properties of Sarasparilla are, so relatifie that they entirely expirate and acid, which is injurtuous to the eyaction, if they are not preserved by a geientific process, known only to those.
