

A Family Newspaper—Devoted to Literature, Agriculture, Politics, Business and General Intelligence.

THERE ARE TWO THINGS, SAITH LORD BACON, WHICH MAKE A NATION GREAT AND PROSPEROUS—A FERTILE SOIL AND BUSY WORKSHOPS—TO WHICH, LET ME ADD, KNOWLEDGE AND FREEDOM.—Bishop Hall.

BY E. BEATTY.

CARLISLE, OCTOBER 31, 1849.

VOLUME L.—NO. 9.

Cards.

A Card.
DR. JAS. McCULLOUGH will give his attendance in the various parts of the province, in town or country, at all times, may favor him with a call. OFFICE opposite the 2d Presbyterian Church and Wer's Hotel, lately occupied by Dr. Poole.
Carlisle, Sept 5

Doctor A. D. Lippe.
HOMOEOPATHIC Physician. Office in Main Street, in the house formerly occupied by P. B. Lechler. ap 9 '46

Dr. L. C. Doonick.
WILL perform all operations upon the Teeth that are required for their preservation, such as Scaling, Filing, Plugging, &c. &c. Teeth that are loosened by inserting Artificial Teeth, from a single tooth to a full set. Office on Pitt street, a few doors south of the Railroad Hotel. Dr. L. Leach-out the last ten days of every month.

John B. Parker.
ATTORNEY AT LAW. OFFICE in North Hill Street, in the room formerly occupied by the Hon. F. Watts. March 21, 1849

Garson G. Moore.
ATTORNEY AT LAW. Office in the room lately occupied by Dr. Frazier, deceased.

Wm. M. Penrose.
ATTORNEY AT LAW, will practice in the several Courts of Cumberland county. OFFICE in Main Street, in the room formerly occupied by Dr. Frazier, deceased.

James R. Smith.
ATTORNEY AT LAW. Has RE-MOVED his office to Beston's Row, two doors from Burkholder's Hotel. (ap 1)

Justice of the Peace.
OFFICES at his residence, corner of Main street and the Public Square, opposite Burkholder's Hotel. In addition to the duties of Justice of the Peace, with a view to the convenience of the public, he will attend to all kinds of writing, such as deeds, bonds, mortgages, indentures, articles of agreement, notes, &c.
Carlisle, ap 29 '49

Plainfield Classical Academy.
FOUR MILES WEST OF CARLISLE, BETWEEN THE NEWVILLE STATE ROAD AND CUMBERLAND VALLEY RAIL ROAD.

SEVENTH SESSION.
THE Seventh Session will commence on MONDAY, Nov. 5th, 1849. The number of students is limited, and the school is prepared for College, counting house, &c. &c. The situation precludes the possibility of students associating with the dissipated or depraved, being remote from town or village, though easily accessible by State Road or Cumberland Valley Railroad, both of which pass through lands attached to the institution.

TERMS.
Boarding, washing, tuition, &c., (per session) $50.00
Latin or Greek 5.00
Instrumental Music 10.00
French or German 10.00
Circulars with references, &c. furnished by request.

R. K. BURNS, Principal.
OFFICE OF LIME just received, from Dr. Rawlin's Drug Store. (ap 20)

Newville Academy.
SELECT CLASSICAL AND SCIENTIFIC SCHOOL—NEWVILLE, CUMBERLAND COUNTY, PA.

It is confidently believed that for the past two years has been in the habit of relieving the most distressing cases of Rheumatism, Sciatica, and other painful affections of the limbs, and that the experiments I have made with it at it richly deserves to be adopted as an article of every day use by the profession at large. Yours truly,
B. B. Z. D. Phila.

READ THIS.
Philadelphia, Dec. 29, 1847.
To James McAllister, Dear Sir: I take pleasure in making known to you the great benefit I have received by your Vegetable Ointment, or the World's Salve. I had an opportunity of testing it on several persons, for which I find it an excellent article; also in all cases of inflammation. Ed. THOMAS.

I certify the above statement is true. JAS. McALLISTER, No. 90 Market Street, Phila.

CERTIFICATE.
I do certify that I have used McAllister's All Healing Vegetable Ointment for coldness of my feet; also for Rheumatism of my limbs and Corns on my feet, and have been entirely relieved. Believing it to be a good Medicine, I do hereby recommend it to the friends of the afflicted. LEONARD VAILE, Norris St., Washington Pa. Aug. 21, 1847.

I certify that I have used McAllister's All Healing Vegetable Ointment, or the World's Salve, for a swelling in my wife's breast, which has given her incalculable benefit; also on one of my feet, and I have used it with great success. I therefore, recommend it as a good medicine. PARKER REED, Hopewell Pa. Washington Co. Pa. Aug. 21, '47.

I have used McAllister's All Healing Vegetable Ointment, or the World's Salve, for a swelling in my wife's breast, which has given her incalculable benefit; also on one of my feet, and I have used it with great success. I therefore, recommend it as a good medicine. PARKER REED, Hopewell Pa. Washington Co. Pa. Aug. 21, '47.

Look this Way.
THE undersigned would respectfully inform his friends and the public generally that he has just opened a new LUMBER AND COAL YARD in West Hill, near a few doors east of Messrs J. & H. Stewart's Warehouse, where he now has a large stock of lumber, which he will keep constantly on hand a first rate assortment of all kinds of seasoned pine boards and planks, and all other kinds of stuff, all of which he will sell low for cash. SAMUEL SIFE, ap 14 '49

NOTICE.
THE Commissioners of the Board of Commissioners deem it proper to inform the public, that the stated meetings of the Board of Commissioners will be held on the second and fourth Mondays of each month, at which time any persons having business with said Board, will meet them at their office in Carlisle.

NOTICE.
APPLICATION will be made at the next Session of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, for an alteration in the Charter of the Bank of Deposit Bank, so as to confer upon the Institution the rights and privileges of a Bank of Issue. By order of the Board of Commissioners, W. S. COBBAN, Cashier.

Dr. J. W. Riley, Clerk.
OFFICE in North Hill Street, in the room formerly occupied by the Hon. F. Watts. March 21, 1849

Dr. J. W. Riley, Clerk.
OFFICE in North Hill Street, in the room formerly occupied by the Hon. F. Watts. March 21, 1849

Dr. J. W. Riley, Clerk.
OFFICE in North Hill Street, in the room formerly occupied by the Hon. F. Watts. March 21, 1849

Dr. J. W. Riley, Clerk.
OFFICE in North Hill Street, in the room formerly occupied by the Hon. F. Watts. March 21, 1849

Dr. J. W. Riley, Clerk.
OFFICE in North Hill Street, in the room formerly occupied by the Hon. F. Watts. March 21, 1849

Dr. J. W. Riley, Clerk.
OFFICE in North Hill Street, in the room formerly occupied by the Hon. F. Watts. March 21, 1849

Dr. J. W. Riley, Clerk.
OFFICE in North Hill Street, in the room formerly occupied by the Hon. F. Watts. March 21, 1849

Dr. J. W. Riley, Clerk.
OFFICE in North Hill Street, in the room formerly occupied by the Hon. F. Watts. March 21, 1849

Stors & Shops.

EXTRAORDINARY REDUCTION IN THE PRICE OF HARDWARE.
I HAVE just received the largest and cheapest stock of HARDWARE, Glass, Paints, Oil, Varnishes, Dry and Wet, and Cabinet Maker's Tools, Mahogany Veneers and all kinds of Building Materials ever brought to Carlisle. I have also a complete assortment of Wares and Spikes. Persons about to build will find greatly to their advantage to look at my stock before purchasing elsewhere. Come and see the Goods and hear the price and you will be convinced that this is really the Cheap Hardware Store. Also, in store anvils, vices, files and rasps; and a complete assortment of Wares Best Bar Iron, also Rolled and Hoop Iron of all sizes. I have also the Thermometer Churn made by Mr. George Spangler, the best article now in use.

SCYTHES.—I have just received my Spring scythes of Grain and Grass Scythes, manufactured expressly for my own uses, and warranted to be a superior article. Cradle makers and others will find these Scythes to be the best article ever offered at the market and at the lowest wholesale and retail at the old stand in North Hanover street.

JOHN P. LYNNE.
NEW and Cheap Hardware Store.

Now opening by JACOB SENER, who respectfully calls the attention of his friends and the public generally and all dealers in HARDWARE, to his new and splendid assortment of all kinds of Hardware, such as Saddlery Tools and Saddlery Ware of every description and style, all kinds of Carpenter's tools, and all kinds of material used by Cabinet makers. Also, Sheet Findings of all kinds, a large assortment of French and English iron, with the very best of hammered iron, warranted good, also all kinds of rolled, sili, round, band, and strap iron, cast, sheet, spring English and American blister steel, warranted good, also a lot of sheet iron for tinner's. Housekeepers can also be supplied with every article necessary for household use in the Hardware Line.

Ethereal and Pine Oil Lamps of every description just received, also ethereal and pine oil for sale. Also, all kinds of paints, oils, varnishes, turpentine, also, a first rate article to preserve leather shoes, and keep the feet dry.

Farmers, Mechanics and Housekeepers and all who use the article of HARDWARE, call on JACOB SENER, formerly kept by Lewis Harlan, in North Hanover street, next door to John Corman's tavern stand, now kept by H. Harlan, also next door to George Keller's Fancy Hat and Cap Store. Call and examine for yourself, and save money, as we are determined to sell at the very smallest profit for CASH, and we think we shall be able to sell a little lower than any other Hardware Store in Carlisle, and we think you will find a good assortment of every article in the Hardware Trade. Don't forget the Stand, as cheap sales and small profits is the order of the day.

JACOB SENER.

McAllister's All Healing Ointment.
OR THE WORLD'S SALVE, contains no Mercury. The following Certificate is from a regular Physician, of extensive practice in Philadelphia:

Ed. THOMAS.
I have for the past two years been in the habit of relieving the most distressing cases of Rheumatism, Sciatica, and other painful affections of the limbs, and that the experiments I have made with it at it richly deserves to be adopted as an article of every day use by the profession at large. Yours truly,
B. B. Z. D. Phila.

READ THIS.
Philadelphia, Dec. 29, 1847.
To James McAllister, Dear Sir: I take pleasure in making known to you the great benefit I have received by your Vegetable Ointment, or the World's Salve. I had an opportunity of testing it on several persons, for which I find it an excellent article; also in all cases of inflammation. Ed. THOMAS.

I certify the above statement is true. JAS. McALLISTER, No. 90 Market Street, Phila.

CERTIFICATE.
I do certify that I have used McAllister's All Healing Vegetable Ointment for coldness of my feet; also for Rheumatism of my limbs and Corns on my feet, and have been entirely relieved. Believing it to be a good Medicine, I do hereby recommend it to the friends of the afflicted. LEONARD VAILE, Norris St., Washington Pa. Aug. 21, 1847.

I certify that I have used McAllister's All Healing Vegetable Ointment, or the World's Salve, for a swelling in my wife's breast, which has given her incalculable benefit; also on one of my feet, and I have used it with great success. I therefore, recommend it as a good medicine. PARKER REED, Hopewell Pa. Washington Co. Pa. Aug. 21, '47.

I have used McAllister's All Healing Vegetable Ointment, or the World's Salve, for a swelling in my wife's breast, which has given her incalculable benefit; also on one of my feet, and I have used it with great success. I therefore, recommend it as a good medicine. PARKER REED, Hopewell Pa. Washington Co. Pa. Aug. 21, '47.

Look this Way.
THE undersigned would respectfully inform his friends and the public generally that he has just opened a new LUMBER AND COAL YARD in West Hill, near a few doors east of Messrs J. & H. Stewart's Warehouse, where he now has a large stock of lumber, which he will keep constantly on hand a first rate assortment of all kinds of seasoned pine boards and planks, and all other kinds of stuff, all of which he will sell low for cash. SAMUEL SIFE, ap 14 '49

NOTICE.
THE Commissioners of the Board of Commissioners deem it proper to inform the public, that the stated meetings of the Board of Commissioners will be held on the second and fourth Mondays of each month, at which time any persons having business with said Board, will meet them at their office in Carlisle.

NOTICE.
APPLICATION will be made at the next Session of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, for an alteration in the Charter of the Bank of Deposit Bank, so as to confer upon the Institution the rights and privileges of a Bank of Issue. By order of the Board of Commissioners, W. S. COBBAN, Cashier.

Dr. J. W. Riley, Clerk.
OFFICE in North Hill Street, in the room formerly occupied by the Hon. F. Watts. March 21, 1849

Dr. J. W. Riley, Clerk.
OFFICE in North Hill Street, in the room formerly occupied by the Hon. F. Watts. March 21, 1849

Dr. J. W. Riley, Clerk.
OFFICE in North Hill Street, in the room formerly occupied by the Hon. F. Watts. March 21, 1849

Dr. J. W. Riley, Clerk.
OFFICE in North Hill Street, in the room formerly occupied by the Hon. F. Watts. March 21, 1849

Dr. J. W. Riley, Clerk.
OFFICE in North Hill Street, in the room formerly occupied by the Hon. F. Watts. March 21, 1849

Dr. J. W. Riley, Clerk.
OFFICE in North Hill Street, in the room formerly occupied by the Hon. F. Watts. March 21, 1849

Dr. J. W. Riley, Clerk.
OFFICE in North Hill Street, in the room formerly occupied by the Hon. F. Watts. March 21, 1849

Dr. J. W. Riley, Clerk.
OFFICE in North Hill Street, in the room formerly occupied by the Hon. F. Watts. March 21, 1849

Dr. J. W. Riley, Clerk.
OFFICE in North Hill Street, in the room formerly occupied by the Hon. F. Watts. March 21, 1849

Dr. J. W. Riley, Clerk.
OFFICE in North Hill Street, in the room formerly occupied by the Hon. F. Watts. March 21, 1849

Dr. J. W. Riley, Clerk.
OFFICE in North Hill Street, in the room formerly occupied by the Hon. F. Watts. March 21, 1849

Dr. J. W. Riley, Clerk.
OFFICE in North Hill Street, in the room formerly occupied by the Hon. F. Watts. March 21, 1849

Dr. J. W. Riley, Clerk.
OFFICE in North Hill Street, in the room formerly occupied by the Hon. F. Watts. March 21, 1849

Dr. J. W. Riley, Clerk.
OFFICE in North Hill Street, in the room formerly occupied by the Hon. F. Watts. March 21, 1849

Poetry.

Edgar A. Poe's Last Poem.
ANNABEL LEE.

"It was many and many a year ago,
In a kingdom by the sea,
That a maiden there lived whom you may know
By the name of Annabel Lee;
And this maiden she lived with no other thought
Than to love and be loved by me."

"I was a child and she was a child,
In this kingdom by the sea,
But we loved with a love that was more than love,
And we lived there as happy as three birds
And were her song to me,
Coveted her and me."

"And this was the reason that, long ago,
In this kingdom by the sea,
A wind blew out of a cloud, chilling
My beautiful Annabel Lee;
So that her highborn kinsmen came
And bore her away from me,
To shut her up in a sepulchre
In this kingdom by the sea."

"The angels, not half so happy in heaven,
Went envying her and me—
Yes—'that was the reason' for their spite,
In this kingdom by the sea,
That the wind came out of the cloud by night,
Chilling and killing my Annabel Lee."

"But our love it was stronger by far than the love
Of those who were older than we—
Of many a waltz that we danced,
And of many a song that we sang,
Nor do we dream that we ever again
Shall meet here or under the sea,
Can ever dissolve our link or break,
Of the beautiful Annabel Lee."

"For the moon never beams without bringing me
Dreams of the beautiful Annabel Lee;
And so the nightingale, in its song that night,
Of the beautiful Annabel Lee;
And so every night, when the wind blows soft
In her sepulchre by the sea—
In her tomb by the sounding sea—"

Miscellaneous.
AN EVENING AT HOME.

BY T. S. ARTHUR.

"Not going to the ball?" said Mrs. Lindley, with a look and tone of surprise. "What has come over the girl?"

"I don't know, but she says she's not going."

"Doesn't her ball dress fit?"

"Yes, beautifully."

"What is the matter, then?"

"Indeed, ma, I can not tell. You had better go up and see her. It is the strangest notion I ever heard of. Why, you couldn't hire me to stay at home?"

Mrs. Lindley went up stairs, and entering her daughter's room, found her sitting on the side of the bed, with a beautiful ball dress in her hand.

"It isn't possible, Helen, that you are not going to this ball?" she said.

Helen looked up with a half serious, half smiling expression on her face.

"I've been trying, for the last half hour, to go, or stay at home. I think, perhaps, I ought to remain at home."

"But what earthly reason can you have for doing so? Don't you like your dress?"

"O yes! very much. I think it beautiful!"

"Doesn't it fit you?"

"As well as any dress I ever had."

"Are you not well?"

"Very well."

"Then why not go to the ball? It will be the largest and most fashionable of the season. You know that your father and myself are both going. We shall want to see you there, of course. Your father will require some very good reason for your absence."

Helen looked perplexed at her mother's last remark.

"Do you think father will be displeased if I remain at home?" she asked.

"I think he will, unless you can satisfy him that your reason for doing so is a very good one. Nor shall I feel that you are doing right. I wish all my children to act under the government of a sound judgment, impulse, or reason; not to be spoken of freely to their parents, should in no case shun their actions."

Helen sat thoughtful for more than a minute, and then said, her eyes growing dim as she spoke:

"I wish to stay at home for Edward's sake; and why for his, my dear?"

"He does not go to the ball, you know?"

"Because he is too young, and too backward. You could not hire him to go there, and that is no reason why you should remain at home. You would never partake of any social amusement, which this always influences you. Let him spend this evening in reading. He must not expect his sisters to deny themselves all recreation in which he cannot but participate."

"He does not. I know he would not hear of such a thing as my staying at home on his account?"

"Then why stay?"

"Because I feel that I ought to do so. This is the way I have felt all day, whenever I have thought of going. If I were to go, I know that I would not have a moment's enjoyment. He need not know why I remain at home. To tell him that I do not wish to go will satisfy his mind."

"I shall not urge the matter, Helen," Mrs. Lindley said, after a silence of some moments. "You are old enough to judge in a matter of this kind for yourself." But Emma said, I think your father ought. You will not find Edward disposed to sacrifice so much for you?"

no one can tell what might not have been the consequences. Sensual indulgences carried to excess, amid songs and sentiments calculated to awaken evil instead of good feelings, might have stamped upon my young and delicate mind a bias to low affections that never would have been eradicated. That was the starting point in 'life—the period when I was coming into a state of rationality and freedom. The good prevailed over the evil; and by the agency of my sister, as an angel sent by the Author of all benefits to save.

Education of Classes.

We often hear it objected, says the Star of the North, that public offices of eminence fall into the hands of professional men. It is said that they are becoming the privileged class in this country. Now, there may be some point in this objection, but we suspect that the evil complained of is owing rather to a defective system of education among us, than any partiality for the professional classes.

In fact, we know that there is rather a prejudice against the class than a real preference for it. Thus, we are quite certain that if a farmer or mechanic is an opposing candidate to a lawyer or doctor for office, and the intelligence and education of the two men be equal, the professional man will be defeated.

The mistake is, that education is not deemed necessary to a farmer or mechanic. The mere routine of toil is thought to be alone his duty, and he seems to be treated rather like a machine than as an intelligent being. The lawyer and the physician have their minds exercised in early life, and implanted with the principles of their profession. The farmer-boy is taught to follow the plough and scatter the seed upon the earth, in a fashion indicating a prevalent idea that there are no principles upon which the earth yields its increase. The mechanic pounds and pulls and cuts away, as though there were no principles upon which the mechanical arts are based. Here, we take it, is the error.

Even now, we frequently find our laws very defectively drawn up, and sometimes in direct conflict with the constitution. Men of high intelligence and ability decline to act in our State Legislature, on account of its many attendant annoyances and meagre pay. These offices, hence, fall into the hands of men who have often nothing but cleverness and amiability to recommend them. The mechanic and the farmer should be qualified by education, and then take their share in the legislation of their country. Of public bodies should be composed of men of all classes, but these should, first of all, be fit for their stations. We often hear it said of some candidates, that although clever, he is totally unqualified for the office he seeks. Some merit of intelligence as well as honesty, we insist, belongs to a public officer of trust. The industrial classes among us must be true to themselves, before they ask others to be partial to them. They must qualify themselves for public positions before they ask them.

ADVICE TO THE LADIES.—The address at the Rockville Agricultural Fair, in Maryland, last week, was delivered by Elisha Whittlesey, formerly of Ohio—a name hardly well known in the country, as associated with private worth and practical wisdom. In the course of his remarks, as reported in the papers, Mr. Whittlesey advocated the dignity of labor, and pointed out the advantages of agriculture; deprecated emigration to the West and to the Pacific, when so much prosperity could be enjoyed at home, with a proper cultivation of the soil. He spoke for at least an hour and a half, on many interesting topics, and in conclusion, he complimented the Fair, by saying that the patriotism of Woman dispelled the darkness which hung over the American Revolution. And thus of the present generation he said, in substance, "if you desire your husbands, your sons, and brothers, to enjoy the pleasures of the scenes of their childhood, and abandon the idea of emigration to the Pacific, encourage their efforts to make you country desirable for their dwelling place. Wives, encourage the industry of your husbands, and make home, sweet home, a paradise. Young ladies, those who are not captivated or engaged to be led to the hyemal altar, give neither your hands nor your hearts to any man who is wanting in industry and strict morality, and if you wed, be to your partner a helpmate in prosperity and adversity."

Mr. W. Buchanan, a minister of the Scotch Kirk, having had a difference with the editor of a Kirkman journal, who stated that the reverend gentleman had threatened only for his coat, to horse-whip him (the editor), his reverence has written in relation to that statement—"My friends know I should be well that my coat never gives me the least concern when I have anything to say, and I think my duty of hand. What I consider proper to do with my coat, and in case of my coat, and if the supposition had ever crossed my mind that a horse-whip would have mended the morals of this incorrigible fellow, he should have had it, with every bone in his body roared for mercy!"

EMPEROR AND EPIDEMIC DISEASES.
Certain of the diseases, which afflict the human body are found to be confined to particular localities, and are sometimes termed epidemic. Two Greek words signify that which is in or among a people. Epidemic, again, which, prevailing only for a certain time, over a greater or less tract of country, afterwards disappears again to return at uncertain periods, are termed epidemic from Greek words signifying upon or over a people.

Let us see, says the blind man.

AN INCIDENT BEFORE MARRIAGE.

BY SOLITAIRE.

Walker's celebrated Exchange, in Louisville, is the favorite resort of the citizens of that burg—and its gentlemanly proprietor enjoys a popularity there which would almost elect him Governor of the State, if he would but consent to run for the office. Strangers, of course, go to Walker's, and he takes them in, but sometimes he puts them out—a case of the latter kind was related to us the other day, which deserves to be chronicled.

A young gentleman arrived in L. about two weeks since, on a matrimonial visit, and of course he deemed his best subject to visit his doxy. He made his call, arranged all the preliminaries, passed a delightful afternoon and evening, sipped a honeyed kiss from the lips of his fair innamorata at parting, and started down to his lodgings at the Galt House. The wedding was set for the next day, and the happy young dog tripped along, so buoyed up by his anticipation, that you would have guessed, to have seen him, he had mercury-like wings to his heels. On his way down he observed that the light was still burning in "Walker's," and the large placard at the door of "fresh oysters in the shell," was too tempting an invitation, at that interesting period, to be stochastically passed by, so he thought he would just step in and taste a dozen by way of invigorating his dreams. He entered, a dozen was called for; served, tasted, and washed down with a glass of the proprietor's choice Madeira. The general good feeling of the young stranger was measurably heightened! He turned to leave, and as he was the last customer the barkeeper followed him to the door to lock it after him. At that moment a jolly crowd came from the corner, singing—

"Piscayene Butler's come to town."

The barkeeper knowing the crowd was making for W's, and it being already after midnight, he desired to shut them out, so he politely hurried the young stranger through the door, slammed it to, locked it, put the bar across, and retreated with his lamp up stairs. Presently there was a tremendous rapping at the front door, but the barkeeper satisfied that it was the noisy company he had barred out, rolled himself up in the quilts, and turned over to take his "winks."

"Mike, will you open this door, you dand fool!" shouted one of the crowd with stentorian lungs.

"I ain't no such jolly," grumbled Mike; as he pulled the covering tighter around him.

"Will you open this door?" was yelled again.

"I want—that's flat!" growled Mike to himself, in answer, and off he dropped into the land of dreams. He slept as it might be supposed a soldier would who was listening to the storming of Chapultepec.

An amusing scene was transpiring all this time on the outside. The young stranger, in hastily passing through the portal, brushed up one of the tails of his new coat, and the barkeeper in shutting one half the door securely lashed the coat tail in the opening. Supposing of course that he would observe it, and instantly release him, he stood still quietly for a moment, and the noisy party surrounded him.

"Stand aside, stranger, and let us in," said the foremost of the party.

"I would like to gentlemen," was the reply, "if I could, but upon my word, just at present, I am unable to comply."

"Well, we'll help you," said another, and seizing him by the arm, he slung him minus the coat tail, out upon the pavement.

Here was a very fine opening for a small fight—but one of the party perceiving the difficulty at a glance, interfered with a thousand apologies for his impetuous friend, stated that the torn garment should be paid for, &c., and offered to lend him his own coat until the morning. The destruction of the wedding garment was very unfortunate, and the young stranger lost temper at the idea of his being so awkwardly fastened to the door by the barkeeper, but what was his further horror to find that a package of money, amounting to $500, intended to bear the expenses of himself and bride to her father's home, was in the coat-tail pocket, and like it, fast in the door. He did not exactly know whether it was prudent to let the present crowd into a knowledge of the fact that such an amount was in the pocket, but to go the door open he told them that the marriage certificate was in the wedged-up coat-tail. On this announcement they all vowed they would rescue the precious document, or tear the filth of their combined undergarments in the effort, and accordingly they assailed the barrel portal in a mass. They were preparing to follow up their fruitless efforts of assault with feet and fists, by exhibiting an awning post for battering ram, when a watchman, interested, inquired the cause of trouble, and volunteered to visit the door of Mr. Walker's premises, and have the gentleman's coat released—this arrangement was generally agreed to, and watchy started. In the meantime, the outsiders held a small caucus of condolence with the groom, during which several animated resolves were passed, that the would keep the barkeeper, when they got in, by keeping him up until daylight. The banging of the door behind them, and the shock of the bar closing in the iron grasp aroused their attention, but it was too late!

The barkeeper on learning the trouble had quietly descended, opened the door, pushed out the coat tail, and fastening the entrance, beat a retreat again. The outsiders stormed, but it was no use; they therefore concluded to pick up the trophy beat it along to some other establishment, and hold a jollification over its rescue. The owner recovered his package of money, and wished to return, but they were in the mood to pay him, but they wished to hear all details before they separated, drink the health of the lady.

"What, Mr. Speaker, what shall I say to my constituents?" exclaimed a wrathful member of Congress on the passage of a bill to which he was violently opposed. "What shall I say?" he repeated, but found it impossible to get beyond the interrogatory.

"Tell them," replied the waggish Speaker, "that you tried to make a speech, but couldn't!"

THE GRANDFATHER MAN.—"The birth of an infant," it has been truthfully said, is a greater event than the production of the sun. The sun is only a lamp of sensual matter; it is not its own light; it feels not its own heat; and with all its grandeur it will cease to be; but that infant, beginning only to breathe yesterday, is superior to reason, claims a principle infinitely possessed of all matter, and will live through the ages of eternity." Let the immortal mind shed its lustre upon the world.

THE FASHIONS.—The fashions of New York have gotten out a new style of brocade for ladies dresses, at only $6 a yard!