BETH OTTS, of this place, met with a sad accident on Saturday evening week, as she was returning from church. She was walking at a smart pace down Pomfret street, when she stumbled and fell, breaking her leg in a most shocking manner. The cap of the knee was split and the limb much splintered. The limb was set by Drs. Baughman and Dale, and the patient is doing as well as could be expected.

The Belles Lettres Exhibition.

Mr. Editor-It was with great pleasure and satisfaction, that we listened for nearly three hours, to the specohes delivered at the celebration of the 64th anniversary of the Belles Lettres Society, of Dickinson Collège, in the M. E. Church, of this place, on the 22nd inst. It was beyond a doubt, a remarkably fine display o genius and talent. The speakers did honor to their society, to their college, and to themselves. The church was crowded with a respectable and intelligent audience, all of whom we have no doubt were very much pleased.-The exercises were commenced with music by the Barracks Band, which was followed by a prayer by Dr. Prog. President of the College. The Anniversary Address -was one of the finest we have ever heard. The culogies on the doad were written with taste and skill-To one part of the address however, we slightly objected, the part relating to the fair maids of Carlisio, for in this the speaker showed too plainly that he was not skilled in the art of fluttery. He poured the libation so profusely on the altar, that he put out the fire. His delivery was good, but he labored under the disadvantage of having too weak a voice, which rendored the address scarcely audible to persons in the back part of the church

The Triumph of Learning .- We were not disleased with this speech, but objecte the gentleman's manner of declamation. From his oscillatory movement on the stage, we would THE LARGEST AND CHEAPEST NEWSPAPER suppose him to be some near relation to Mr. Harrison the inventor of the Grid-iron pendulum. We noticed also some slight defects in the composition, superfluity of words, inaptness. of metaphor, &c. The gentleman's classical allusions strongly impressed us that he had
