

Carroll's Herald.

A Family Newspaper, Devoted to Literature, Agriculture, Politics, Business and General Intelligence.

THERE ARE TWO THINGS, SAITH LORD BACON, WHICH MAKE A NATION GREAT AND PROSPEROUS—A FERTILE SOIL AND BUSY WORKSHOPS.—TO WHICH, LET ME ADD, KNOWLEDGE AND FREEDOM.—Disin. Hall.

BY E. BEATTY.

CARLISLE, JULY 24, 1850.

VOLUME L.—NO 47

Cards.

John Williamson,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.—Office, in the house of Miss McGinnis, near the store of A. & W. Bonta, South Hanover street, Carlisle, Pa. No. 10150

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Doct. H. Hinkley.
OFFICE on Main Street, near the Post Office. Dr. H. is prepared to use Galvanism as a remedial agent in the treatment of Paralysis, Neuralgia and Rheumatic affections, but does not guarantee success, his applications are all or every one of these diseases. Relief has been given and cured in a number of instances, and may be in others.

Dr. J. S. McCullough will give his attendance in the various branches of his profession, in town or country, to all that may favor him with a call. OFFICE opposite the 2d Presbyterian Church and West's Hotel lately occupied by Dr. F. McKee.
Carlisle, Sept 5

Doctor Ad. Lippe,
HOMEOPATHIC Physician Office in Main Street, in the house formerly occupied by P. B. Leichter.
No. 97-100

Dr. J. J. Loomis, will perform all the duties of a Dentist, and is prepared for their preservation, such as Scaling, Filling, Plugging, &c., or will restore the loss of his teeth by inserting Artificial Teeth, from a single tooth to a full set. OFFICE on Pitt street, a few rods south of the Railroad Hotel. He is absent the last ten days of every month.

Dr. J. W. Hendel, Surgeon, Dentist, and Accoucheur, has removed to the residence of his former patrons that he has removed to Carlisle, and wishes to attend to the duties of his profession.
No. 103-104

Garson G. Moore,
ATTORNEY AT LAW. Office in the room lately occupied by Dr. Foster, deceased.
No. 31-37

Wm. M. Pentose,
ATTORNEY AT LAW, will practice in the several Courts of Cumberland county. OFFICE, in Main Street, in the room lately occupied by G. Brandenburg, Esq.

James R. Smith,
ATTORNEY AT LAW. Has removed his office to Beeton's Row, two doors from Burkholder's Hotel.
No. 101-102

GEORGE EGG,
JUSTICE OF THE PEACE. Office at his residence, corner of Main street and the Public Square, opposite Burkholder's Hotel. In addition to the duties of Justice of the Peace, will attend to all kinds of writing, such as deeds, bonds, mortgages, indentures, articles of agreement, &c., &c.
Carlisle, Aug 24, 1850.

Plainfield Classical Academy,
FOUR MILES WEST OF CARLISLE.
The Eighth Session will commence on MONDAY, May 10, 1850.

In consequence of increasing patronage a large and commodious brick edifice has been erected, rendering this one of the most desirable institutions in the State. The various departments are under the care of competent and faithful instructors, and every effort will be made to promote the moral and intellectual improvement of students. The surrounding country is beautiful and healthy, and the institution sufficiently distant from town or village to prevent visitations.
Terms—$50 per Session (Five Months).
For circulars with full information address
J. R. HUNTS, Principal,
Plainfield P. O., Cumberland County, Pa., 10150

Newville Academy,
SECRET CLASSICAL AND SCIENTIFIC SCHOOL.—NEWVILLE, CUMBERLAND COUNTY, PA.
It is confidently believed that few institutions offer greater advantages to students than the above. Located in the midst of a community proverbial for their intelligence, morality and industry, and surrounded by a beautiful and fertile soil, it is well adapted to the study of the physical sciences, surpassing those of most similar institutions. Advantages are also offered to those desiring to pursue the study of the liberal arts, and wishing to send them to a seminary of learning, are respectfully solicited to visit Newville, and judge for themselves of the advantages of this institution. A circular, containing full particulars, by addressing JAMES HUSTON, Principal, Newville, Aug 22 1/2

Extensive Furniture Rooms.
JAMES R. WEAVER would respectfully call the attention of House Keepers and the public to his extensive stock of FURNITURE, including Sofas, Wardrobes, Cases and other Tables, Dressing and plain Bureaus and every other article in the line of household furniture, and the largest assortment of CHAIRS in Carlisle, at the lowest and most reasonable rates. He solicits a call at his establishment on North Hanover street, and which all both old and young, are invited to participate. The exhibition will be conducted upon a plan entirely different from any before got up in this neighborhood, both for cheapness and dispatch, and the pleasure it will afford those who join in it, is generally to be estimated. Tickets will be furnished at half the usual price, and the public can start from any point they please, stopping only at the CH. AND IMPROVED.
May 20, 1850.

John P. Lyne
WHOLESALE and Retail Dealer in Foreign and Domestic Hardware, Paint, Oil, Glass, Varnish, &c., at the corner of High Street, Carlisle, Pa. Has just received from New York and Philadelphia a large addition to his former stock, to which the attention of his customers is respectfully invited. He has lower than any other house in town. April 3, 1850.

Lumber Yard.
THE subscriber would respectfully inform his friends and the public generally that he has just opened a new LUMBER AND COAL YARD in West High Street, a few doors east of Messrs J. & D. Rhoads's Warehouse, where he now has and will keep constantly on hand a first rate assortment of all kinds of seasoned pine boards and plank and all other kinds of stuff, all of which he will sell at the lowest rates in the market. JOHN N. ARMSTRONG
April 3, 1850.

Notice.
The Commissioners of Cumberland county deem it proper to inform the public, that the annual meeting of the Board of Supervisors will be held on the second and fourth Mondays of each month, at which time any persons having business with said Board, will meet them at their office in Carlisle.
Wm. RILEY, Ck.

NOTICE.
UMBRELLAS, Parasols and Saunehats made, covered and repaired, by the subscriber at his Sun Shop, on Water street, opposite the "Tavern" cash, but prices low.
CARLISLE, JANUARY, 29, 1850.
WM. FRIDLEY.

Iron Iron.
10 Tons Hammered and Rolled Iron, just received at the cheap Hardware store of the subscriber in East High Street, Carlisle, Pa. Feb. 15, 1850.
HENRY BAXTON.

Dyeing and Scouring.
WILLIAM BLAIR, in Louth Street, near the College, dyes Ladies' and Gentlemen's apparel, all colors, and warrants all work satisfactory. Orders in his line respectfully solicited.
Sep 24

Ohmney Board Papers.
JUST opened a variety of Paper for covering Ohmney Boards. Also, for covering Binders. An entirely new style of Ohmney Board.
G. W. HITNER.

Stores & Shops,

DRUGS! DRUGS! DRUGS!
Fresh Spring Supply!
I HAVE just received a fresh stock of Medicines, Patins, Glass, Oil, &c., which having been purchased with great care at the best prices, are confidently recommended to Families, Physicians, Country Merchants and Dealers, as being fresh and pure.

Patent Medicines, Herbs and Extracts, Fine Lincts, Spices, ground and whole, Nutmegs, Cloves, and other spices, Pure Essence of Oil, Perfumery, &c. Col. Lard, and other Groceries.

Indigo, Madder, Sumac, Alum, Log and Cam Woods, Oil of Turpentine, Oil of Sweetgum, Lac Dye, &c.

Whetmill & Brocher, Pure Lead, Chrome Green and Yellow, Paint and Varnish Brushes, Jersey Window Glass, Lubricated Oil, Turpentine, Col. Lard, and other Groceries.

FANCY GOODS, FRUITS, Confectionary, and innumerable other articles, which are sold at the lowest cash prices, at the cheap Drug Book and Fancy Store of the subscriber on North Hanover Street.
S. W. HAVERSTICK.
May 22, 1850.

FRESH GROCERIES
JUST RECEIVED by the subscriber, among which a selection of COFFEES,
from strictly prime to common, at 10, 11 and 12 cents per pound. Also BROWN SUGARS,
at 5, 6, 7 and 8 cents per pound. Also, a general assortment of
FRESH TEAS,
Green and black, selected at the Tea house, and the best in the North Hanover street. The subscriber has just returned from the city and has now opened a very large and handsome of every style and variety. Such as Dresses, Shawls, Linens from 10 cents to any price you want. Linen Lustres, from 12 to 31, Linen Lustre Bays, a new article, Flannel Silks, Col. Blue, Pink and Fig. 4 Daines, Calicoes from 3 to 25 cents per yard, Bonnets, Ribbons, Hosiery, Gloves, and many more articles for Ladies and Gentlemen.
SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,

W. W. GOODS
AT THE "BEE" AND "THE HIVE."

All persons desiring of seeing the newest and best Goods of the season, let them call at the "BEE" and "THE HIVE" street. The subscriber has just returned from the city and has now opened a very large and handsome
SPRING & SUMMER GOODS,
of every style and variety. Such as Dresses, Shawls, Linens from 10 cents to any price you want. Linen Lustres, from 12 to 31, Linen Lustre Bays, a new article, Flannel Silks, Col. Blue, Pink and Fig. 4 Daines, Calicoes from 3 to 25 cents per yard, Bonnets, Ribbons, Hosiery, Gloves, and many more articles for Ladies and Gentlemen.

EXTRAORDINARY REDUCTION IN THE Price of Hardware.
I HAVE just received the largest and cheapest stock of HARDWARE, Glass, Paints, Oil, Varnishes, Saddlery, Carpenter's and Cabinet Tools, and all kinds of Building Materials ever brought to Carlisle, consisting of Locks, Hinges, Saws, Nails and Spikes. For the sake of the public, and to the benefit of my trade, I have resolved to sell all the above at a great discount, and to the lowest price ever offered. Come and see the Goods and hear the reasons why they are so cheap. I have also the Thermometer Churn and all the different articles necessary to constitute a complete household. I have also the Thermometer Churn and all the different articles necessary to constitute a complete household.

Clear the Track!
THE undersigned, by the particular request of thousands of his friends, hereby announces to all who seek and love pleasure, that a Grand and Splendid Race will be held every day throughout the season in the beautiful facility "Chicopee," propelled by the low pressure steam engine, and which all both old and young, are invited to participate. The exhibition will be conducted upon a plan entirely different from any before got up in this neighborhood, both for cheapness and dispatch, and the pleasure it will afford those who join in it, is generally to be estimated. Tickets will be furnished at half the usual price, and the public can start from any point they please, stopping only at the CH. AND IMPROVED.
M & L STEINER.

Clothing Emporium.
next door to Burkholder's Hotel on West Main Street, where the cheapest and most fashionable assortment of CLOTHING can be found—all the latest styles in the most fashionable and cheap as they can be bought at any of the large city establishments, and 20 per cent. lower than at any other house in this through. We respectfully invite the public to take this pleasant trip to our store, and examine our large assortment of CLOTH, DRESS, FROCK AND SACK COATS of various colors and Styles, Pants, Vests and Roundabouts, Pen Jackets, HATS and CAPS, Shirts and Stockings, Suspensors, Cravats, and all the different articles necessary to constitute a Gentleman's Wardrobe. Don't forget the place—next door to Burkholder's Hotel, to where we have just removed. Having a large assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres and Vestings on hand, we are prepared to make up to order all kinds of Clothing, at the shortest notice and at the most reasonable terms.
M & L STEINER.

Great Bargains!
CAN be expected from the subscriber, as he has just received a new and splendid assortment of WINTER GOODS, which he offers to his customers and others who may favor him with a call at great Bargains!
CLOTHS AND CASSIMERES of various colors, velvet cords, Ky. jeans, scarlet, red, yellow, white and Canton Flannel, tickings, muslin, calico, cassimeres, de lais, alpaca, Coarse cloth, gloves, hosiery, Irish linen, comforts, &c.
SHAWLS! SHAWLS!
A large and splendid assortment of Long Shawls, Shawls, at all prices to suit the times.
BOOTS AND SHOES.
Also, Boots and Shoes, which he is determined to sell low, at his stand in North Hanover street, below Haverstick's Drug Store, Carlisle, Pa. J. G. CARMONY.

NOTICE.
A fine lot of new received and for sale by box or retail at HAVERSTICK'S Drug & Variety Store
Feb. 13-20

Poetry.

SONNET.
By MISS ZANE ROBERTS.

How oft beneath his roof and healing wings I have sought refuge—'neath his winged arm— Like a weak bird, all headless of my lot, Perched on the eaves of his merciful heart. Now would my soul return, and trembling bring The weary and aching of my wounded feet. And fall with you, and in your arms be met. Oh! Father in Thy mercy, hold me fast. For I am worn with mortal passions' strife. My fears and cares—my doubts and fears, And please me, to ascend his native hills. With innocent hearts, and hearts that yearn. And never to desert his mansion more.

Miscellaneous.

ADVENTURE WITH A GHOST.

A STORY WHICH PROVES TO BE TRUE.

About four-and-thirty years ago I was traveling through Denbighshire upon a mission which needed despatch. I had, in fact, in my charge, some papers, which were required for legal preliminaries to a marriage, which was about to take place in a family of consideration upon the borders of that county.

The season was winter, but the weather delightful—that is to say, clear and frosty; and even without foliage, the country through which I passed was a pleasant one. I anticipated an agreeable visit, and a cordial welcome; and the weather and scenery were precisely of the sort to second the cheerful associations with which my excursion had been undertaken.

Let me not, therefore, suggest that I was predisposed for the reception of gloomy or horrible impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I had not proceeded very far when I found myself close to a pretty old church, whose ivy-covered tower, and conical spire, were, in the moonlight, glittering in the moonbeams—a high, irregular hedge, overtopped by tall and ancient trees enclosed it; and rows of funeral vaults showed black and mournful among the trees as they were seen through the gloom of the night. I had not proceeded far when I found myself close to a pretty old church, whose ivy-covered tower, and conical spire, were, in the moonlight, glittering in the moonbeams—a high, irregular hedge, overtopped by tall and ancient trees enclosed it; and rows of funeral vaults showed black and mournful among the trees as they were seen through the gloom of the night.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

ing down, as if his neck was broke. I can't think of half the shapen he has took at different times; but they're all had: the very child, they say, when he opines in that shape, has the face of Satan—God bless us! and nobody's over the same that sees him once!

By this time I was again seated in my vehicle, and some six or eight minutes' quick driving whirled us into the old fashioned street, and brought the chaise to a full stop before the open door and well lighted hall of the Bell Inn. To me there has always been an air of indescribable cheer and comfort about a substantial country hostelry, especially when an arrival, as I did, upon a keen winter's day, with an appetite aching, and something of that sense of adventure and excitement which before the days of down trains and tickets, always in a greater or less degree, gave a zest to traveling. Greeted with that warmest of welcomes for which, alas! I am celebrated, I had once satisfied the impertinencies of a keen appetite; and having for some hours taken mine ease in a comfortable parlour before a blazing fire, I began to feel sleepy, and betook myself to my no less comfortable bed-chamber.

It is not to be supposed that the adventure of the church-yard had been obliterated from my recollection by the suppressed bustle and good cheer of the Bell. On the contrary, it had occupied me almost incessantly during my solitary ramblings; and as the night advanced, and the stillness of repose and desertion stole over the old mansion, the sensations with which the train of remembrance and speculation was accompanied became anything but purely pleasant.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recesses of the oddly-shaped impressions. When the sun set, we had a splendid moon, at once soft and brilliant; and I pleased myself with watching the altered, and, if possible, more beautiful effects of the scenery through which we were smoothly rolling. I was to put up for the night at the little town of— and on reaching the hill—over which the approach to it is conducted, about a short mile from its quiet little street—I dismounted, and directing the position to walk his jaded horse leisurely up the winding road, I trod on before him in the pleasant moonlight, and sharp, bracing air. A little by-path led directly up the steep ascent, while the carriage road more gradually ascended by a wide sweep—this little path, leading through fields and hedges, I followed, intending to anticipate the arrival of my conveyance at the summit of the hill.

I felt, I confess, fidgety and queer—I searched the corners and recess