Milton Mthat man ever knew," stands une poems that will hand mind "riame to the latest period of sunge hallowed themes of Christiande Howard, the benevolent friend of ne prisoner, of whom a poet, that was no Christian wrote:

* * The spirit of the just When first arrayed in virtue's purest robe, They saw nen Howard traversing the globe, Mistook a mortal for an angel guest, "And asked what seraph-foot the carth imprest. Onward he moves; discign and death relief, And murmuring demons hate him and estimica." Howard-was a Christian, and Christianity made him what he was. Washington the patriot, whom all admire, avowed himself a Christian. But the time would fail to tell of Johnson, and Addison, and Jones, and Boyle, and Hampdon, and Russell, and of thousands more of the most intelligent and distinguished of mankind in the different classes of society who have investigated the claims of Christianity, have confessed its divinity. Is there, not reason to think that religion may be true, whose evidences such men have investigated, and whose truth and divinity they then acknowledged ?

Is there no reason to believe that those who treat it with indifference or hostility, really know nothing respecting its nature and its claims ; or are willing to submit to its requirements? Is there not cause to think they desite a reproof similar to that given by Sir. Isaac Newton to Dr. Palley :---"I am always glad to hear you speak about astronomy, or other parts of mathematics, because that is a subject which you have studied, and well understand, but you should not talk of Christianity, for you have not studied it. I have; and am certain you know nothing of the matter."

Does it display wisdom folly, to treat with contempt or neglect what Ba-con, and Milton, and Newton, and Locke, and Johnson, and Washington, revered and believed ? Does it display wisdom, to profess to be wise by scorning what the wisest and most distinguished of mankind have revered as the truest wisdom ? Rather does not such a course display the self-conceit and ignorance of the most destructive folly ?

A mother, who was in the habit of asking her children before they retired at night, what they had done during the day to make others happy, found two young twin-daughters silent. The older one spoke modestly of deeds and dispositions, founded on the golden rule, "Do, unto others as you would they should do unto you," Still those hutle bright faces were bowed down in silence.

The question was repeated. "I can remember nothing good all this day, dear mother, only one of my school, fellows was happy, because she had gained the head of the class; and I smild on her and ran to kiss her. So she said I was good. This is all, dear mother."

The other spoke still more timidly. "A little girl who sat by me, on the bench at school, had lost a baby brother; I saw that while she studied her lesson, she hid her face in her book and cried. I felt sorry, and laid my face on the same book, and cried with her. Then she looked up and was comforted, and put her arms around my neck. But I do not_know_why_she_said-I-had-done-her-

The mother knew how to prize the -first-blossomings- of sympathy.---She said come to my arms beloved ones! "I'o rejoice with those who rejoice, and to weep with those who weep, is to obey our blessed Redéemer."

A military officer being at sea, in a dreadful storm, his lady, who was sitting in the cabin near him, and filled with alarm for the safety of the vessel, was so surprised at his composure and serenity, that she cried out-

"My dear, are you not afraid? How is it possible that you can be so calm in such a storm ?"

He arose from his chair lashed to the deck, and supporting himself by a pillar of a bed, he drew his sword, and pointing it to the breast of his wile, he exclaimed-

"Are you not afraid ?"

"No: certainly not," she replied "Why ?" said the officer.

"Because," rejoined his lady, "I know that the sword is in the hands of my husband, and he loves me too well to hurt me." "Then," said he, "remember 'I-know in whom I have believed, and that He holds'the wind in His fist, and the water in the hollow of His hand."

THE HEART .- The little I have seen of the world, and known of the history of mankind, teaches me to look upon the errors of others in sorrow, not in anger. When I take the history of one poor heart that has sinned and suffered, and represent to myself the struggles and temptations it has passed through; the brief pulsations of joy; the foverish in-quietude of hope and fear; the pressure of want; the desertion of friends; the scorn of the world that has little charitv : the desolution of the soul's sanctuary, and threatening voices within, health .

FEVER AND AGUE.

For this scourge of the western country these Medicines will be found a safe, speedy, and certain remedy. Other medicines laws the system sub-ject to a return of the disease—a cure by these medicines is permanent—TRY THEM, BE,SA-TISFIED, AND BE CURED.

Bilious Fevers and Liver Complaints.

General. Debility, Loss or APETITE, AND DISEASES of FEMALES-these medi-incs have been used with the most beneficial-coulds in cuses of this description :- KING'S EVIL, and SCHOPULA, in its worst forms, yields to the mild yet powerful action of these remarkable Medicines. Niarr Swears, NERVOUS DEMILTY, NERVOUS COMPLAINTS of all kinds, PALFITATION, OF THE HEART, PAINTER'S Colic, are speedily cured.

MERCURIAL DISEASES.

INERCORIAL DISEASES. Persons whose constitutions have become im-paired by the indicious use of MERCURY, will find these Medicines a perfect cure, as they never fail to eradicitie from the system all, the effect of Mercury infinitely sconer than the most powerfal preparations of Sursaparilla. A single trial will place them beyond the reach of competition, in the estimation of every patient. BE CAREFUL OF COUNTERFEITS. Several have lately been discovered, and their netarious authors arrested, both in the city of New York and abroad.
