BELICICUS PROGRESS.

2 The progress of Christianity, not less than improvements in the arts, discoveries in science and advances in civil diberty, has left its indelible stamp upon the last-half century. In the last 50 years the moral aspect of the world has undergone a complete change. The Missionary real of the Romish Church has been rivalled by the followers of Luthery and nations of the existence of which we were ignorant in 1800, now rejoice in the light of the gospel and the blessings of civilization. Then China and India were known only for their commercial importance; no one had heard of Nestorians and Armeniuns; Africa was thought of only as the producer and bazar of human flesh, the Islands of the Pacific-that great moral Dead/Sea-was known only for the canibalism and other enormities of their inhabitants; and no one dreamed of reclaiming them to humanity," much less impressing them with the image of God: Fifty years have passed and what a change ! Two thousand missionaries have been sent to different heathen countries, 7,000 native assistants have been employed in teaching and preaching, 4.000 churches have been organized, composed of 250,000 converts, 3,000 schools have been established embracing 250,000 children, and all this on a soil which was a moral waste-where there was not a missionary, a school, a church, a convert ! At the commencement of the contury there were four millions of copies of the Bible, now there are thirty millions; then the scripture had been published in fifty languages, now they exist in two hundred langunges and dialects; then they were accessible in languages spoken by a hundred millions of mankind, now in tongues and dialects spoken by six hundred millions.

VICE COSTS MORE THAN VIRTUE. It costs more to support a drunkard than a sober man; more to sustain the licentious than the chaste; more to secure and convict a criminal than it would have cost to have prevented him from becoming a criminal, by placing him under religious influence. Sabbath-breaking is an expensive vice. One Sabbath spent in idleness and dissipation, in neglecting the sanctuary, costs more than five days spent in the discharge of their appropriate duties. Which is best, to spend the Sabbath in idleness and dissi-pation, and resume business on Monday morning with an empty purse and languid spirits, and "a' heart aching under the remorse of conscience; or to lay aside business affairs at a proper hour on Saturday evening, close the ledger and lock the desk, and shut the world up in the counting room, and relax the energies of the week in the social endearments of the family, "The only bliss that has survived the fall."-

Rise early Sabbath morn, and utgin the day with its appropriate duties; and then to the Sabbath School to swim in the smiles and glad faces of earth's brightest similitude of heaven-

-litNe/children-and then mingle with the people
