AND CONSUNIPTION.

In offering to the community this-justly celebrated remedy for diseases of the threat and lungs, it is not our wish to trifle with the ilive or health of the afficted, but frankly to lay before them the opinions of distin-uished men and some of the cridences of its success, from which they can judge for themselves. We sincerely pledge our selves to make no wild assertions or false-statements of its efficacy, nor will we hold out any hope suffering humanity which facts will not warrant.

Many proofs are here given, and we solicit the inquity from the public into all we publish, feeling assured they will find them perfectly reliable and the medicine worthy their best confidence, and patripunge.

The constant, analogical application for Life Insurance, gives the most abundant and gratifying proof that the public mind is deeply impressed with the trans importance of this subject. The great object, however, of Insurance should be safely, otherwise the whole motive to insure may be disappointed. Too much care cannot be practised in the selection of an office with which to effect the contract.—The choice should be regulated not by present and constant large inducements, as this, is certainly incompatible with future benefits. The premiums on life are calculated for the future, if present and prospective benefits therefore are only on the result ultimately, must terminate in filingation, disappointment and ruin. The object, aimed at by this institution is stability and perpetuity. The rates of promium have been care tilly prepared with reference to fluctuations.—The cash system of payments has also been adopted. Unpaid premium rotes constitute no part of the assets of this company, and every contingency being fortified with an ample capital, security stamps the whole system. This feature, paramount to all other considerations, commends the company to public favor. Explanatory pamphlets, blanks, application papers, planatory pamphlets, blanks, application papers, information, and every facility will be cheerfully turnished the public by Mr. E.
