Miscllancous. Sunday Beading. THE THREE. TABERNACLES. Methinks it is good to be hero. If thou will fet us build, -but for whom 1 Nor Ellas nor Mosse appear; But the shedowe of eve that encompass the gloom, The abode of the dead, and the place of the tomb. Shall we build to Ambition ? Ah ! no : Affrighted, he shrinketh away; Affrighted, he shrinketh away; For see, they would pin him below To a small narrow cave; and, begirt with cold.clay, To the meanest of repliles a peer and a prey. To Beauty? Ah ! no : she forgets The charms that she wielded befor

The claring the foul worm that he frets. The skin which but yesterday fools could adore, For the smoothness it held, or the tint which it wore.

Shall we build to the purple of Pride, The trappings which dizen the proud? Aiss they are all laid as de.: And here's neither dress nor adornment allowed, But the long winding-sheet, and the fringe of the shroud.

• To Riches? - Alas I tis in vnin t. Who hid, in their turns have been hid ; The transures are squanderod again ? And here, in the grave, are all metals forbid, But the tines that shono on the dark coffin-flu.

To the pleasure which Mirth can afford, The revel, the laugh and the jeer, An i here is a plentiful board. But the guess are all mute as their pltiful cheer, And none but the worm is a reveller here.

Shall we, build to Affection and Love i Ah ! no : they have withered and died, Or fled with the spirit above. Friends, brothers, and sistors, are laid side by side, Yet none have saluted, and none have replied.

Unto Sorrow 1 The dead cannot grieve; Nor a sob, nor a sigh meets mine eur, Which compassion itself could relieve: Ah! sweelly they slumber, nor bone, love, or fear, Peace, peace, is the watchword, the only one here.

Unto Denth, to whom monarchs must bow ? Ah ! no : for his empire is known, And here there are trophies enow : Beneath the cold dend, and a ronnal the dark stone, Are the signs of a sceptre that none may disown.

The first tabernacle to Hope we will build And look for the sleepers around us to rise, the second to Faith, which insures it fulfilled, And the third to the Lamb of the Great Sacrifice, Who bequeathed us them both when he rose to the skies.

A Good Exchange,

I shall never forget, says the Bishop of Norwich, visiting the cottage of a man who had been all his life a drunkard, and which was an abode of misery and wretchedness. He became a teetotaler, and in six months afterwards I found his abode the scene of comfort and domestic happiness. This man with tears in his eyes, placing his hand on a quarto family Bible, said, " This is the first thing that I purchased with the money saved by giving up drunkenness; it was an alien to my house before, but it has been my daily comfort and companion ever since I reformed."

FAMILY DEVOTION.-It is a beautiful thing to behold a family at their devotions. Who would not be moved by the tear that trembles in the mother's eye, as she looks to Heaven, and pours forth her fervent supplication for the welfare of children ? Who can look with indifference upon the venerable father, surrounded by his family, with his uncovered locks, kneeling in the presence of Almighty God, and praying for their hap-piness and prosperity? In whose bosom is not awakened the finest feelings on beholding a tender child, in the beauty of. its innocence, folding its hands in prayer, and imploring the invisible, yet eternal Father, to bless its parents, its bro-there and sisters and its playmates ?

SUNDAY SCHOOLS .--- Bishop Beveridge has truly and strikingly said, "Who knows but the salvation of ten thousand immortal souls may depend upon the ed-ucation of a single child. Connect with this the remark of a living Bishop of the church of England, that "Sunday schools have saved the manufacturing districts,"

-and also the fact mentioned by Dr. Bowring, that "out of 1.065 convicts sent for crime to the penal colonies, only fourteen had ever been in the Sabbathschool," and what an argument. we have for the importance of these institutions,

A GRAND DISCOVERY .--- A man, says Cecil, may find much amusement in the Bible ; variety of prudential instruction; abundance of sublimity and poetry; but if he stops there, he stops short of his great end, for " the testimony of Jesus 1s the spirit of prophecy." The grand se-cret in the study of the Scriptures is to discover Jesus Christ therein, ' the Way, the Truth, and the Dife.'

Gon's Work .- In all his dispensations, God is at work for our good. In prosperity, he tries our gratitude ; in mediocrity our contentment ; in misfortune. our submission ; in seasons of darkness, our faith ; under temptation, our steadfastness ; and at all time, our obedience and trust in him.

THE CONCLUSION OF THE WHOLE MAT-TER .--- The sum and substance of the preparation needed for a coming eterni-ty is, that you believe what the Bible tells you, and do what the Bible bids you .- Chulmers on Romans.
