GOD IS PASSING BY.

Where the gentle streamlets flow,
Where the morning dew-drops glow,
Where the zephy/s wing their flight,
In the cool and welcome night;
Whispering through the fragrant grove,
To the heart that "God is love;"
Where the light clouds skim the sky, Worship !: "God is passing by!"
Hoary forrest, rugged rock,
Roaring torrents, earthquake shock,
And when thunder rends the sky,
Tremble! "God is passing by!"

REFLECTION.

The Past—where is it? If has fled.
The Paure? It may never come.
Our friends departed? With the dead.
Ourselves? Fast hastening to the tomb.
What are carth's joys? The deavs of morn.
Its honors? Occuss wreathing foam.
Where's peace? In trials meekly borne.
And joy? In Heaven, the Christian's home.

d Our Own Consequence.

BY REV. ALBERT BARNES.

-Wethink-of-our-own conscouence: our talents; our attainments. We think of the mourners who will gather around us with broken hearts. We think of the solemn, sad procession that will go with us to the tomb :-- forgetting how seldom it is that the hearts of any considerable proportion in a funeral procession are serious and solemn at all, or care anything about the dead, We look at our own affairs and press them for-ward as if the world had no interest so great that they may not be required to ield to our convenience. Now, how contrary is all this to truth and reality, it is hardly necessary to attempt to show. Few will care about it when we die; and the world at large will care nothing, and know nothing a bout it. A very little circle of friends will be affected-as a little circle of water is agitated when a drop of water falls into the ocean. At the centre of that small circle of friends, there will be some deep emotion, and some tears of genuine grief will be shed; at a very hule distance, the emotion will be fainter and feebler; at a point but a little more remote there will be none, and soon, very soon, all the agitation there will have died away, as when the little drops of rain fall into the ocean-

The gay will laugh, When thou art gone, the solemn brood of care Plis favorite plantom - Bayara.

A few friends will go and bury us; and then they will turn away to their own concerns, forgetful that we are sleeping in the grave. Affection will rear a stone, and plant a few flowers over the grave -but the hand that reared the stone or planted the flowers will soon become unable to cut the letters deeper as they become obliterated, or to cultivate the flowers—and in a brief period the little hil lock will be smoothed down, and the stone will fall and neither friend nor the stranger will be concerned to ask which one of the forgotten millions of the earth was buried there. No." Old Mortality!" will go to cut again those effaced words which told our name, and the time of our birth and of our death .-Every vestige that we ever lived upon the earth will have vanished away. All the little memorials of our remembrance -the lock of hair encased in gold, or the portrait that hung in our dwelling, will cease to have the slightest value to any living being, nor will even momentary curiosity be excited to know who wore that hair, or whose countenance is delineated there.

On my grassy grave,

The men of future times will careless tread,
And read my name upon the sculptured stone;
Nor will the sound familiar to their ears
Recall my vanished memory.—H. Kerke Wurr. GEWS.

and gratifying proof that the public mind is deeply impressed with the vast importance of this subject. The great object, however, of Insurance should be sufery, otherwise the whole motive to insure may be disappointed. Too much care cannot be practised in the selection of an office with which to effect the contract.—
The choice should be regulated not by present and constant large inducements, as this, is certainly incompatible with future benefits. The premiums on life are calculated for the future, if present and prospective benefits therefore are if present and prospective benefits therefore are given, the result ultimately, must terminate in litigation, disappointment and rain. The object aimed at by this institution is *fabrility and per petuty. The rates of premium have been carefully prepared with reference to fluctuations.—The cash system of payments has also been adopted. The time has now arrived, that persons suffering from secret disease need no more become the VICTIM OF QUACKERY as by the prescriptions contained in this book any one may care himself, without hindrance to business, or the knowledge of the most intimate friend, and with one tent the usual expense. In addition to the general routine of private disease it fully explains the cause of manhood's early docline, with observations on marringe—besidee many other derangements which it would not by proper to enumerate in the public priets.

GREAT COUGH REMEDY. KER'S CHERRY PECTORAL:

For the Cure of COUGNS, COLDS,
HOARSENESS, BROWCHITIS, CROUP, ASTHMA, WHOOPING-COUGH AND CONSUMPTION.

In offering to the community this justly celebrated remedy for diseases of the thront and lungs, it is not one wish to trifle with the live or health of the afflicted, but frankly-to lay he fore them the opinions of distinguished men and some of the evidences of its success, from which they can judge for themselves. We sincerely pledge our selves to make no wild assertions or false statements of its efficacy, nor will we hold out any hope suffering humanity which facts will not warrant.

Many proofs are here given and many translations of the statements of the self-case will not warrant.

New Haven, Ct., Nov. 1, 1849.

Prof. CLEYELAND, of Bowdoin College, Me. Writes—"I have writessed the effects of your CHERRY PECTORAL? in my own family and that of my friends, and it gives me satisfaction for state in its favor that no medicine I have ever known has proved so aminently successful of curing diseases of the throat and dungs."

REV. DR. OSGOOD

Writes—"That he considers CHERRY PECTORAL? the best medicine for Pulmonary affections over given to the public," and states that "his daughter being obliged to keep the room four months with a severe settled cough, accompanied by raising of blood, night sweats, and the attendant symptoms of consumption, commenced the use of the "CHERRY PECTORAL? and had completely recovered."

HEAR THE PATIENT.

Dr. Ayer—Dear Sir: For two years I was afflicted with a very severe cough, accompanied be spitting of blood and profuse might sweats.—By the advice of my attending physician I was induced to use your CHERRY PECTORAL, and continued to do so till I considered myself cured, and ascribe the effect to your preparation.

Dr. Keeler's Sarsaparilla Panacea. For the removal and permanent cure of al Diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood and habit of body.

The All-wise Creutor has implanted in all organized bodies an innate disposition to self-preservation. The vital powers possess the property of resisting the influence of external causes, but as the BLOOD is the common par bulum from which all parts of living matted derives its renovating elements, and consequent—ly-upon-which time life of organized beings depend, it is probable that in cases of accident, or where artificial means have been employed to deprive it of an essential property, the vital effects of the whole system will be directed to-ward restoring tu'lt that propesty. In all constitutional and hereditary effections, this fluid has undergone some primary alteration, which has undergone some primary alteration, which is the cause of the special disease, or which essentially contributed to its production. Resto soutially contributed to its production. Restoration to health can only be obtained by a removal of the morbific cause through the medium of the circulation, and Dr. Keeler's Sarsaparilla, is the most powerful modifier of agent effecting this fluid known. See pamphlets.
