"The sufferings of the present time are not wor-thy to be compared to the glory that shall be revealed My feet are worn and weary with the march Over rough roads and up the steep hill-side; O'l city of our God, I would fain see The pastures green, where thy peaceful waters gille.

My hands are weary, toiling on, Day after day, for perishable meat; I city of our God, I fuin would rest, I sigh to gain thy glorlous moray-seat.

My garments, travel-worn and sinined with dust.
On rest by briars and thorns that crowd my way,
Would fain be made, on Lord, my righteousness,
Spoiless and white in heaven's unclouded ray.

My cyds are weary, looking at the sin, Implety and scorn mon the earth: Ol city of our God, within thy walls All, all are clothed upon with thy new birth.

My heart is weary of its own deep sin— Siming, repenting, sinning away f When shall my soul thy glorious presence feet, 'And find its guilt, dear Saviour, washed away t

Patience, poor soul! the Savior's feet were worn. The Savior's heart and hands were weary, too; His garments stained, and travel-worn, and old, His pacred eye blinded with teras for Joy.

Love thou the path of sorrow that He trod, Toll on, and wait in patience for thy rest; O! city of our God, we soon shall see Thy glorious walls, home of the loved and blest.

The Power of Faith.

Ii cannot be that man should set him self fully against the wickedness of his own heart, and the wickedness of the world around him, and resist the sallurements of temptation, and defy the powers of nature wielded by persecution and endure to the end, and overcome except as "seeing Him who is invisi-"This is the victory that over cometh the world, even our faith." Only this can enable the true missionary to forsake country and friends, and devote his life, in a heathen land, to good of those whom he knows but as redeemed by the blood of Christ; only this can sustain him in attacking forms of sin that seem as ancient and firm as the hills: this alone can enable him to labor on till death, and die in hope, while yet the darkness of midnight lies upon the mountains. Such a faith has nothing to do with nature. She comes down from above into the sphere of nature; she contemplates objects of which nature knows nothing; and when she acts ra-tionally with reference to those objects-to a kingdom and laws that are above nature—nature says she is mad. She is not mad;—the might of the universe is with her; God is with her; eternity shall vindicate her. This, not money not machinery, or confidence in them but this it is that the church needs. Let her come directly to God in the strength of perfect weakness, in the power of a felt helplessness and a child-like confidence, and then, either she has no strength, and has no right to be, or she has a strength that is infinite.

Human Thoughts.

which man voluntarily enteriains will a bide with him forever. If it be a tho't in harmony with the Divine will, and he has acted in harmony with it, it will never cease to yield him good; if, he has not so acted, it will never cease to reproach and condemn him. If it be an evil thought, and he have repented of it, and have not carried it out into action, it can yet never cease to be an occasion of regret. If he have not repented of it, it remains with him, in effect, as an overrunning fountain of pollution. How terrible the ordeal of having to meet the pinful thoughts of a long life of guilt!-How fearful the prospect of having to confront them, not for an age merely, or a million of ages, but to have the ordeal repeated through every point of endless duration.—Harris' Man Primeval:

God's People Known to Kim.

Tamar may disguise herself, and walk in an accustomed path, so as Judah may not know her. Isaac, through the dim ness of his sight, may bless Jacob and pass Esau. Fract of time may make Joseph forget or be forgotten of his breth Solomon may doubt to whom of right the child belongeth; and Christ may come to his own and not be received But the Lord knoweth who are his, and his eye is always over them. Time, place, speech or apparel, cannot obscure or darken his eye or car. He can discern Daniel in the den-Job, though never so much changed, on the dunghill; let Jonah be lodged in the whale's belly, Peter be put into a close prison, Lazarus be wrapped in rags, or Abel rolled in blood; yet can ho call them by name, and send his angels to comfort them. Ignorance and forgetfulness may cause love and knowledge to be estranged in the creature, but the Lord is not incident to either; for his eye, as is essence, is everywhere; he knoweth all things .-John Barlow, 1616.

Beautiful Extract.

Do trees talk? Have they leafy lungs —do they not at sun:rise; when the winds blow, and the birds are carolling their songs, play a sweet music? Wh has ever heard the soft whisper of the green leaves in spring time, on a sunny morning, that did not feel as though rain bow gleams of gladness were running through his heart? And then, when the peach blossoms hang like rubies from the stem of the parent tree—when the morning glory, like a nun before the shrin of God, unfolds her beautiful face, an the moss roses open their crimson lips sparkling with nectar that falls from hea ven, who does not bless his Maker?

harter Perpetual—Copital $25,(C—cih Syst.m.

THE constant, unsolicited application for Life Insurance, gives the most abundant and gratifying proof that the public mind is deeply impressed with the vast importance of this subject. The great object, however, of Insurance should be safety, otherwise the whole motive to insure may be disappointed. Too much care cannot be practised in the selection of an office with which to effect the contract.—The choice should be regulated not by present and constant large inducements, as this, is certainly incompatible with future tenefits. The promiums on life are calculated, for the future, if present and prospective benefits therefore are given, the result ultimately, must terminate in higation, disappointment and ruin. The object nimed at by this institution is stability and perpetually. The rates of premium have been carefully prepared with reference to fluctuations.—The cash system of payments has also been adopted. Unpaid premium notes constitute no part of the assets of this company, and every contingency being fortified with an ample capital, security stamps the whole system. This feature, paramount to all other considerations, commends the company to public favor. Explanatory pamphlets, blanks, application papers information, and every facility will be cheerfully furnished the public by Mr. E.
