GOD IS PASSING BY

Where the gentle streamlets flow, Where the gentle streamlets flow.
Where the morning dow drops glow,
Where the sophyrs wing their flight,
In the cool and welcome night;
Whispering through the fragrant grove,
To the heart that "God is love;"
Where the light clouds skim the sky,
Worship! "God is passing by!"
Hoary forrest, rugged rock,
Ronring torrents, carthquake shock,
And when thunder rends the sky,
Tremble! "God is passing by!"

REFLECTION.

The Past-where is it? It has fled. The Future? It may never come.
Our friends departed? With the dead.
Ourselves? Fast hastening to the tomb What are earth's joys? The dews of morn Its-honors? Ocean's wreathing foam. Whore's peace? In trials meekly borne. And joy? In Heaven; the Christian's home.

THE PASTOR'S MISSION.

It is a sweet ministration, that of giving comforting hopes to the child of sorrow, and pouring balm upon the wounds that earth can never heal; it is a holy office to stand in the presence of immortals, and portray the glories of the future world, to unfold lofty visions before the repentant transgressor, who fain would lift the veil of sin from before his inner tabernacle, and gaze upon the revealed beauty of a risen Redeemer. Little the pastor reali zes the extent of the blessings which God permits him to scatter on all whoe move in his path. Eternity will unfold them, and then he will smile as he murmurs, "how often did i seem to me a hopeless task to convince the stubborn heart, and subdue the strong will; could I have known all this-"-

And an angel may whisper in tones softer thon those of his heart-"there would not then have been so much joy for thee in heav-

The pastor's mission is a laborious one, and fraught with more real joy than any other that could be delegated to man.

He may enter his pulpit with a downcas eye, throbbing temple and weary spirit; he may feel as he opens the lids of the great book, as if God had withdrawn His presence from him, because poor humanity faints by the way, and the cares of earth have left some shadows on his soul; perchance an unkind word from a brother, yet lingers in his ear, or the listless faces that meet his glance, tempt hope and faith to sink down nerveless beside the altar of prayer.

He does not know how eagerly some humble wayfarer waits till the holy words shall fall upon his ear. He cannot raise the mask from all the careless seeming around him; he beholds not, in these so outwardly clothed in smiles deep and abject self condemnation, that his appeals may quicken into more active life; he cannot see the unspoken grief that like children bereft of speech, telling their sorrows to their own hearts and heaven, bear all things uncomplainingly, yet love the soothing of a tender spirit.

In the dark hour the pastor's prayer is the last sweet sound that lingers on dying ears; he prepares the doubting mind to meet its God in peace, breaks the bread of the covenant and bears it to the quivering lips, quoting the while rich promises from the mine of imperishable treasure. The greatest, the wisest, the best, long, in that time when the last enemy triumphs, to feel the warm clasp of the pastor's hand. Hgit was who taught them the way to heaven and shall he not go with them to the threshold of eternity and mark its dawning splender already reflected upon their dying brows?

Then what faithful minister, in view of these sweet offices, will not feel refreshed and strengthened when he knows that the little rill of pure love poured into the fainting bosom of the wayward one, may swell to a mighty river, bearing upon its tide thousands of souls, who shall in eternity point to him as their crown of rejoicing? How can he but say-if my cares are burdensome, my joys outweigh them all.

Syst. m.

THE constant, unis-licited application for Life Insurance, gives the most at undant and gratifying proof that the public mind is deeply impressed with the vast importance of this subject. The great object, however, of Insurance should be safety, otherwise the whole motive to insure may be disappointed. Too much care cannot be practised in the selection of an office with which to effect the contract.—The choice should be regulated not by present and constant large inducements, as thus, is certainly incompatible with future benefits. The premiums on life are calculated for the future, if present and prospective benefits therefore are given, the result ultimately, must terminate in litigation, disappointment and rain. The object aimed at by this institution is stability and perpetually prepared with reference to fluctuations.—The cash system of payments has also been adopted. Unpaid premium rotes constitute no part of the assets of this company, and every contingency being fortified with an ample copital, security stamps the whole system. This feature, paramount to all other considerations commends the company to public favor. Explanatory pamphlets, Llanks, application papers information, and every facility will be cheerfully furnished the public by Mr. E. BEATTY, who has been duly appointed medical Examiner.

A NO D CONSUMPTION.

Among the numerous discoveries Science has made in this generation to facilitate the business of life—increase its enjoyment, and even prolong the ferni of human existence, none can be named of more real value to mankind, than this contribution of Chemistry to the Hedling Art. A vast trial of its virtues throughout this broad country, has proven beyond a doubt, that no medicine or combination of medicines yet known, can as surely control and cure the numerous varieties of pulmonary disease which have higherto swept from our midst thousands and thousands every year. In. midst thousands and thousands every year. In-Remedy has at length been found which can be relied on to cure the most dangerous affections of deed, there is now abundant reason to believe a Remedy has at length been tound which can be relied on to cure the most dangerous affections of the lungs. Our space here will not permit us to publish any proportion of the cures effected by its use, but we would present the following opinions of eminent men. and refer further enquiry to the circular which the Agents below named, will always be pleased to furnish free, wherein are full particulars, and indispunable proof of these facts. "I deem the CHERRY PECTORAL an admirable omposition from some of the best articles in the dateria. Medica, and a very effective remedy for he class of diseases it is intended to core."

New Anven, Ct., Nov. 1, 1849.

MAJOR PATTISON, President of the S. C. tenner, states he has used the CHERRY PECTONAL with wonderful success to cure an inflammation of the lungs.

FROM ONE OF THE FIRST PHYSICIANS IN MAINE.

IN MAINE.

Dr. J. C. Ayer, Lowell. Dear Sir:—I am now constantly using your Cherry Petroral in my practice, and prefer it to any other medicine for pulmonary complaints. From observation of many severe cases, I am convinced it will care coughs, colds, and diseases of the lungs, that have put to defiance all other remedies.

I invariably recommend its use in cases of consumption, and consider it much the best remedy, known for that disease. Respectfully yours.
