PHILADELPHIA MARKET.

Philadelphia N. American Office Weekly Review, August 15, 1851. I REMARKS.—The operations of the past week, owing in some measure to the continued tightness of the money market, have been on a restricted scale generally, and in some instances at a considerable reduction in prices.—Cotton is in better demand. Breadstuffs are very dull; and When't and Corn have decimed materially. Groceries remain about stationary. Provisions are firm, with a good demand for Bacon at a further advance. Iron is stationary, with moderate transmetions, and Coal is selling freely at full prices. In other articles there are no marked changes to notice since the close of last week.
