HONEY BEES.

The A bany Cultivator has an interes ting article on honey bees, from the pen of a distinguished professor, from which we quote the following paragraph:

Many nearly every body suppos that the bee culls honey from the nectar of the flower, and simply carries it to its cell in the hive. This is not correct.— The nectar of the flower is a portion of its food or drink; the honey it deposits in its sell is a secretion from its mellific or honey-secreting glands (analogous to the milk-secreting gland of the cow and other animals.) If they were the mere collectors and transporters of the honey from the flowers to the honey-comb, then we would have the comb frequently filled with molases whenever the bees have fed at the molasses hogshead. The honey bag in the bee preforms the same functions as the cow's bag or udder, merely receiving the honey from the secreting glands, and retaining it until a proper opportunity presents for its being osited in its appropriate store-house the honey-comb. Another error is that the bee collects pollen from the flowers accidentally, while it is in search of honey. Quite the contrary is the fact.-The bee, while in search of nectar, or honey as it is improperly called, does not collect polien. It goes in search of pol-len specially, and also for nectar. When the pollen of the flower is ripe, and fit for the use of the bee, there is no nectar :when there is nectar, there is no poller fit for use in the flower.

It ir generally supposed, also, that the bee collects the wax from which it con structs its comb. from some vegetable substance. This is also an error. wax is a secretion from its body, as the honey is: and it makes its appearance in the small-scales of flakes, or under the rings of the belly, and is taken thence by other bees, rendered plastic by mix ture with the saliva of the bees mouths and laid on the walls of the cell with the tongue, very much in the way a plasterer uses his trowel."

Catterpillars.

A correspondent reminds us that this is the season to destroy the nests of ver min that so disfigures our trees. Look at many of the trees in the country, and you will see hanging from its branches innumerable pendent nests, swing in the breeze, looking like natural appendages of the tree. They are dried leaves wound into coniform shape and glutinated firmly. Open one of them and you will find thousands of catterpillars' eggs inside: thus protected from the frosts of winter, and waiting for warm weather to come forth and devour the leaves, and fi nally to work destruction to all our shade trees. Every good citizen should fee bound to cut them from trees on his grounds, for his own sake and the pub-

These destructive vermin may be easily removed when the trees are getting trimmed, or an individual, with a long rod, may be able to take or whip them all off. They look like dead leaves on the tree, but may be known by their cocoon form, and by hanging by a filement to the branches.

How we used to Plough,

In some parts of Scotland, in former times, the plows used to be drawn four horses abreast, and required the assistance of three men. The business of one man was to drive. For that purpose he placed himself between the middle horses, with his face towards the plow, to guide it straight, and in this position he stepped backwards with the reins in hi hand.' Another walked behind the hor ses with a cleeked staff, which he fasten ed in front of the beam, and by means o it regulated the depth of the furrow by raising or lowering the plow, as occasion required. The plowman followed with ld of the stills; and in this formidable and ludicrous manner they repeated their attacks on the soil.

Milking in Winter.

Fresh cows come in towards the close of winter, and the teats often become badly cracked by exposure to the cold winds. This effect is increased by the contraction and drying of the varnish formed by the saliva of the calf. To prevent this difficulty, always wash the teats before milking, with the hand, and after the suckling of the calf. It will dry during milking, and leave the udder clean and soft. Cold water is much better than milk, which acts not much unlike the calf's saliva. If the soreness is considerable, apply fresh unsalted butter.-

PRESERVE YOUR TEETH BY USING Zermans Gelebrated Tooth Wash. PATENT CIDER MILL.

THIS valuable preparation has long been used in New York and Philadelphia, where it has attained an immense popularity, for cleansing, preserving and beautifying the teeth. It is an excellent remedy for sore, soft or bleeding gums. It also imparts a delightful freshness to the mouth and agreeable odor to the breath. Read the following from Dr. Murray.

Read the following from Dr. Murray.

"I cah, with the utmost confidence, recomment to the public, Zerman's Anti-Scorbitta Tooth Wash as the best in use. In my practice as a Dentist, I have used and recommonded it for me last five years, and have found it to give satisfaction in every instance, as the Wash does not contain acid, or anything injurious to the teeth or gums; but, on the contrary, is the best antiseptic in the practice, and therefore, would be entire in the practice, and therefore, would be entired in the practice, and therefore, would be entired in the new of it, not only to those who wish to preserve their teeth and gums, and haven wholesome ibreath, but also to those who have diseased gums tor teeth. The use of the Wash, for a short time, will insure a return to their healthy state,

GEORGE E MURRAY, Dentist,
No. 61, S. Eloventh st., below Chestnut Phil'a.

Br. Hendel, of Carlisle, says;—'' Mr. Zerman, I am well pleased with your Tooth Wash; it not only cleanses and whitens the teeth without injuring them, but it cures sore or bleeding gums. I cheerfully recommend it to the profession and public, as the very best preparation that can be used for cleansing and preserving the teeth, healing the gums, and giving sweetness to the breath.

IMPORTANT TO FARMERS

TIME AND LABOR SAVED! The Old Fashioned Mills Done Away With!

In all former times it was supposed that a large quantity of cider could only be made by using a ponderous machine, that slowly crushed the apples without grinding them fine. They were then made into a massive cheese in straw, and a most severe and long pressure was required to extract a portion of the cider, a considerable quantity being absorbed by the straw and the mass of pomice, and to obtain this unsatisfactory result the farmer had to take all his hands, and perhaps his six horse team, and devote a whole day that could have been more profitably employed, to make from six to twelve barrels of cider. To obviate the difficulty the farmers have hepetofore labored under this machine has been invested, and the statement of a few facts will prove that it is not only the BEST MACHINE of the kind in existence, but that it is the most profitable that a man can have on his farm. The apples are by this machine grated, up into a fine pulp, so that it requires but a comparatively light pressure, and that but a minute or two, to extract all the cider, it being ascertained by practical experiment the cider. The Old Fashioned Mills Done Away With! and that but a minute or two, to extract all the cider, it being ascertained by practical experiment that one fourth more juice can be obtained than by the old process. Besides this it only requires two hands to gyind up and make into cider a larger quantity of apples than can possibly be made on the old fashioped machines. On this press, owing to the compactness of the pomice in the tub, and the complete-manner in which it is ground, a prossure of from three to five tons—that can easily be obtained—will produce a more favorable result than one hundred tons pressure on the ordinary cider press, even if the apples were ground as finely as on the improved mill; and if the apples were merely crushed as on the nut machine, it would require a pressure of two hundred tons to produce the result accomplished by this Patent Mill. The following may be adduced as the decided advantages of this mill:

First—It will make more cider than any other mill, with a given quantity of apples in a er mill, with a given quantity of apples the given time, and with much less labor and ex-second-It will make cleaner and sweete Second—It will make cleaner and sweeter cider than any other mill.

Farmers, Dairymen and Horsemen, and the confidence and success with which they have need it have set the heads of other Druggists at work to make an article. professing to be of equal merits, thinking to take advantage of our Powder's popularity, and by these means introduce other articles into the market, which have no affinity to our preparation whatever, Every person knows, who has read anything of Agricultural Chemistry, that no powder porsessing suchqualities as that which we prepare was ever known in any part of Germany, Europe or America. We advise all persons to read Prof. Leibigs's works and see-for themselves whether they or any one cles, ever knew of a Cattle Powder in Germany, Europe or América, that ever professed to have the same virtues, which we claim for ours.

The discovery is of American Birth, \(\pe\) of apring of the proprietors, and there is no cattle powder now known in the world, that was ever manufactured from the same combination of Chemical eldments as that of Breining, Fromefield & Co.

Do not therefore suffer yourselves to be decived, or think that our powder is a humbog because you have tried those mongref substitutes and found no good fellow but rather injurious results. Never give an opmone unless you have tried the only genium Vegetable Cattle Powder in the world; as compounded and prepared by Breining, Fronnefield & Co., No. 187. Neth Third Street, Philadelphia.
