

and despatch. DEPOTS. Buzby 8: (Go., 345 Market Street, Phila Goorgo Small, 'Small's Depot,'' 72 North George'Sinall, 'Small's Depot,' 72 Nort street, Baltimore. an21 WOODWARD & SCHMIDT. TRANSPORTATION. TIE andorsigned are now prepared to freigh

duced rates, with regularity and despatch. DEPOTS. DEPOTS. Frood, Ward & Freed, 315 Market Street Philadelphia A. II. Barnitz, 76 Merill Street, Baltimore. Michael Horr, North Street, Baltimore. Bop226m J. & D. RHOADS.

NEW CLOTHING STORE.

THE subscriber has just returned from THE BURSCHOFT has Just Fourtied interface philabilitia with a vory choice belderion of CLOTHSECASSIMERES and VESTINGS Pearl Drah, Brown and Murbled cloth to OVER COATS. Mesides a splendid lot of FANCY STRIPED CASSIMERES, which he will make up into coats, ponts and vests of the latest styles. He will also keep Shirus Drawers, Under Shirus, Shirt Collars, Gloves Drawers, Under Shirts, Shirt Collars, Gloves, Cravats, Hoso, indeed overy thing kept that Gentleman's Furnishing Store, Hoving en-gaged the services of W. B. PARENSON, a wolf known cutter, he will be able to make slothes to order in a superior manner. He is determined not to be excelled by any in the county as to make, material or price. Our motto is not to be undersold by any. Give us a call at our store in South Hunover street, directly topposite Bentz's store, and eee lo directly lopposito Bentz's store, and see f yourselves. CHARLES BARNITZ. nov. 21,1852[tf.]

PLATFORM SCALES.

THESE superior scales word invented by Thomas Ellicott about 25 years ago; they have been in constant use, and normality of the subscribers, and warranted correct and unsurpassed for accuracy and dutability; after a fair trial, if nat aphrobed, they can be roturned. Scales for Rail Roads, Canals, Hay, Cattle, Coal, Stores, and for weighing all kinds of Merchandise, manufactured at the old estab-lished stand, Ninth Street near Coates Street, Philadelphia Philadelphia. ABBOTT & CO.,

Successors to Ellicon & Abbott. AGENTS. AGEN TS. TRUMAN & SHAW, 333 Markot St., Philad'a. FRANK POTT Politeville. [sent83m]

WALL PAPERS. 10.000 PIECESI

I HAV 2 just opened the largest assortment of WALL PAPERS ever opened in Car-lisle, consisting of about 0,000 pieces of the latest French and American designs, ranging In price from 5 cis to $1 75, also. Window Pa-pers and Fire Screens, Plain Green and Blue Papers, & 2, Persons wishing to purchase any of the above can save at least 25 per cent by of the above can save at least 25 per cent b of the above can save at least 25 per cent b JOHN P. LYNE'S calling at Har Iwara Store, West Side of North Hanow Street, Carlisle

Oarlisle Female Seminary.

MISSES PAINE will commence the SUMMER SESSION of their Seminary on the second Monday in April, in a new and commodious school reom, next door to Mr. Loonarde, North Hauovor street. Instruction in the languages and "rawing, no Anerueton in the tanguages and extra charge, Musre taight by an experienced teacher, at an extra charge, (sep13(1)

WINES AND LIQUORS. MADEIRA, Tentoriffe, Malaga, Lisbon, Madeia, Grupo Juice, Port and Anduor brand Champugno, Wlass. Boston' Rum, 'Ginger Btandy, Clierzy Brandy. Pale Cogniae and Dark Brandy. Holland Gin and Wine Ritters. Sporn & A DLES 310 por 'paulid, Byrup and Mlauga MOLALSES', Washing Soda, graftics Y. Hyson, Imperial and Black 'PEA3; and the box or reall, bring on your pipes and try hom, (my26) CHAS, BARN172.

rude touch bid its whiteness glow, That snowy hand I love so well. Would it were now in mine, That I might leave love's sign, Itis signet, and his sweetest seal On that hand, which, thro' woe and weal, I'll love-my lady's hand !

The Rome Cirele. A FEW HINTS TO A FATHER.

Father, you have a son, a darling son. He And I told this to my Jennie. I thought has facilities for good and for evil, and must she would certain'y bless me as a here. I act. Each capable of such intense action that thought she would bind a scarf about my waist, both cannot act on a level; one must be in and bid me go " where glory waits thee," if I some measure subservient. Your son is now still remembered her. But, when I said I young; he has no habits, on principles, no should leave her for a while and come back character. These must be formed, and you with honor, and pride, and the memory of have been appointed by Providence to super- brave acts, and the conscious gratulations of a breast that never knew fear she became pale, intend and assist in this formation. This you and looked at mo sorrowfully, and fell upon my must do whether you will or not. The nature of the relation existing between you and your neck, weeping most bitter tears. I asked her son render your non-participation in the for- | why she could grieve, and said the danger was mation of his character impossible. one chance among innumerable probabilities Toward what course of life would you di- of success. But she only sobbed and trembled. rect his innocent footsteps ? What would you and pressed me to her bosom, and prayed me noi to go. have him become; a man in form only; inde-I reasoned with Jennie. I tried to persuade pendent only of good, with feeble wavering energy ; his self respect a mere low disgusting her of the glory of war. I told her how much more worthy of love she would think me when pride ? You can easily train him for this, as a thousand have been and are being trained, I came back adorned with laurels. (O how unless his mind is very far above the common- green are the leaves that bloom from slaughality. Treat him as a machine, impress 1t ter !) I said her image would be my companupon him that he is a mere tool, and he will ion ; her voice would be my vesper bell, her soon become such. Make him keenly feel his smile my star of the morning ; her face would inferiority, check all his aspirings; and like a be the visitant of my, dreams ; her love the sapling bent to the ground, he will soon learn mercy that would shield me from every danger. She listened with suspended sobs and to grow downward. But if you would wish trembled, and all the while her eyes were aphim to become a strong minded, truth loving, pealing to my own, and penetrating to my whole souled man, treat him as a man, that heart to invoke its faith, that I might not is to be an equal. Draw out his better nature : tempt misfortune to blight the early bridal of strengthen all his aspirings for that which is our hearts.

high and good. Teach him to curb his strong When I had done, her answer was as if I passions, and to attain that solf control which had not spokap, for still she only said that I enables man to influence his fellow men. Let must not go. She gave no more reasons now. him feel that he has the germ of the man And I-did I deserve her love, when I thought within him, which needs only a right cultivathat explaining and personading were answers tion to make it serviceable to himself and mankind. Teach him at all times to bring his to the pleading tears, and swelling bosom, and actions and motives to the standard of right, quivering frame, and speaking eyes of that and only right. Be sure that he feels confimaiden Niebe shaken by her mournful fears ? "You will be chánged when you return," dence in you as a sympathizing friend in all she said: cases. Never elevate yourself or depress him

I ohange ! I knew I could not change ! Why so that he can approach you only with an efshould Jennie doubt my truth ? I would prove fort. Ho has his world of joys and sorrows, it. My mind was fixed. . My fancy was flushhopes and fears, which, although small to you, ed by ambitious anticipations. I was resolved are all to him, Encourage him to action ; place before him some desirable object, which to leave, Jennie, at length, when her entreatho may procure by self-denial and extra exies failed, reproaching me, but so gently, that her very upbraiding sounded like a benedicertion. Man needs something for which to tion. And so it was. It was not even the labor, why not he? Let him find by experiselfishness of affection. It was a pure, tenment that there is something to gain by right, or lose by wrong, and an inducement to virtuder, earnest solicitude. She told me I was ous notions will be given him. Learn him to breaking faith with her in thus going away to thing correctly for himself, and act for himself engage in war, Was it for this that she had while young and under your care, and he will become the uffanced of my heart? Was it for feel his own individual responsibility, and will this she had pledged her love, with overy sanot be so casily enticed and deceived when ored vow, to answer mine ? Was it for all that thrown upon his own resources. Above all. I should take my hand from the pleasant cares early learn him to look upon God as his Fath. of peace to corrupt it in the villanies of war; er, and heaven as his home, and the chief ob. that I should mix with the worst of my kind; ject of his life here to do good. Early teach that I should ride over the harvests of the him by precept and example to love, the Lord | poor, and carouse in the glare of their burning and keep his commandments, and it shall be homes, and see sweet babes made fatherless well with thee and thy house to future genor- and wives bereaved, and brides lofe desolate in the world ? Oh no. It was I that broke ations. • • • . and a second second and the second second

و نو ا

would not force myself upon her. I would Anon, there came rumours of a mighty host that had melted in the north, and glutted with ratification of her promise. I loved her still, its blood the Russian snows. and should always with tenderness, remember Then there came a strange ambition into my mind. My blood became hot. A calamitous fraa t frenzy filled my brain. The name of Glory consecrated all these . murders to my imagination. I would carry a flag in one of those armies. I would mix in the crimson throng. I would myself bear a sword amid those forests of flashing steel.

her ; but I was bound to release her. She was Free! Free, by virtue of a written lease .-Free, by one line, when the interwoven mem-her heart ; when every root of affection that tation wrought out the rest." had struck into her bosom had sprung up with new blossoms of hape, to adorn the visionary future. Free, by my honorable conduct-when she cherished as on an altar, the flame of the vestal love, made fragrant by purity and trust.

Her letter was not like mine. It was quick, assionate, burning with affection. It began ith a reproach, and the reproach was blotted with a tear-it ended with a blessing, and a tear had made that blessing sacred too. . Let mo come to her. Let her see my face. Let durance. Its usual paces are but two-a quick her embraco me. Let me never leave her walk, often averaging four or five miles an more; and she would soothe me for all the hour, and a balf-running canter; for only pains I had endured. Not a word of her own when pursued does a Bedouin put his mare at sorrows!

Scarcely could that happiness be real. And had my long absence, had my miscrable dis- comparative trifle of food they require, which asters made no change ? Was I still, for Jen- render the Arabian horses so valuble. nie, the beloved of other days? "What did Layard says that he knew of a celebrated you tell her ?" said I to my confidential com- mare which had carried two men in chain ar ade, the one eyed commodore, a bluff old here, mor beyond the reach of some Aneyza pursuwith a heart as warm as over beat under gold ers. This mare had rarely more than twelve buttons. He had taken my letter, and brought handfuls of barley in twenty-four hours, exback Jennie's answer.

" I said you were battered about the hull, were green ; and it is only the mares of the till you were a wreck." wealthy Bedouins that get even this allowance. "And what did she say, Did she shudder, The consequence is that, except in the spring, s with aversion ?"

the Arab horse is lean and unsightly. They "No; she sobbed, and cried, and asked me are never placed under cover during summer, f you were injured much, and said you must nor protected from the biting winds of the nove suffered bitterly; but; she said, too, that desort in the winter. The saddle is rarely ou must dome to her. 'Miss,' I said, 'he is taken from their backs. Cleaning and groomo knocked about that you won't know him .- ling are strangers to them. They sometimes le'll frighten you. Ho's a ruin. He has reach fifteen hands high, and never fall below hardly any body left.' And then she flushed fourteen. In disposition they are docile as o the brow; 'Give him that,' she oried, 'and, lambs, requiring no guide but a halter: yet brace the statue of Napoleon at the top. He tell him to come. If he has enough body left in the flight or pursuit their nostrils become o hold his soul, I'll cling to him !'" blood-red, their oyes glitter with fire, the neck And where in tale or song, in history or fa-lis arched, and the mane and tail are raised ble, is an answer recorded of more heroic and spread out to the wind : the whole animal beauty ? What had I to teach her of honour. becomes transformed. Hers was the honor of the heart ; the truth of The vast plains of Mesopotamia furnish the the soul ; the fidelity and love of a woman born best breeds, and those breeds are divided into have no metal about them. He begged the bless this world. Mine was an honour worn like a feather in a cocked hat, like an epaulet, ike a spur. It was regulation honor-honor by the rules of "the service." Jennie's was pedigrees are kept scrupulously, and their val- neighboring restaurant, where they dined in a better than mine. ue is so great that a thoroughly bred mare is

. . . . I lived with her near the old place .. And It is not often that a real Arabian can be purmy wife, the love of my early days, was still chased. The reason is that on account of its fond Jennio-gentle, tender, trustful-and, flectness and powers of endurance it is invalfrom that day, I burled my ideas of the pride uable to the Bedouin, who, once on its back, f war.

althful to merforever 1

Tinner Sonra-There are three kinds of almost before an Arabian became warmed up non in this world-the wills, the wonts, and to its work. Where therough-bred mires have the cants. The former effect every thing, the been sold, they have brought as high as six other oppose every thing, and the latter fail in thousand dollars ; but these it is understood emy of Solonees. overy thing. I will builds our railroads and lard not of the best race. The Arab who sells steamboats; I wont don't bellevo in experi- bis mare can do nothing with his gold, and can ments and nonsense, while I can't grove weeds not over keep it, for the next Bedouin of a hung on Friday of next week, still protests for wheat, and commonly ends his days in the hostile tribe who comes across his path, and that he is innegent, and his son guilty of the slow digestion of a court of bankruptoy. | who has retained his mare, will take it from murder, ...

tion and instructive delight. Thus I learned since his committal, one of whom has taken to spare her feelings. I would not extort a final the little English I know. But I learned some- herself another, husband, and it may be that, thing more besides. I learned politics. What ! like the celebrated razor-strop man, Wardle politics from Shakspeare ! Yes, gentlemen, what has "a few more left," soattered here and else are politics than philosophy applied to the so- there over England. All the eight wives, with cial condition of man, and what is philosophy but the exception of the last were brought to the knowledge of Nature and of the human heart; Glougester for the purpose of being conand who ever penetrated deeper into the recesses of fronted with their faithless Don Juan, and the ories of a life's long faith were bound about these mysteries than Shakspeare did? Ho furtrial was expected with the deepest interest. nished me the materials-contemplative medi-The women were all placed in a room by themselves, and formed quite a harem of every complexion, from the fairest blonde to the darkest brunette : while so great was the anxiety and curiosity of the immense crowd about Layard, the explorer of Nineveh, who is as the court house to see them, that the officers familiar with Arabs as he is with antiquities, in charge might have made a handsome specgives, in his late work on Assyria, some curiulation by exhibiting them at so much a head ous details respecting the true horse of the The gossipping public were, however, doomed desert. Contrary to the popular notion, the to disappointment. Wardle, in view of the real Arab is celebrated less for unrivalled crushing proofs arrayed against him, pleaded swiftness than for extraordinary powers of enguilty. The Judge deferred passing sentence, but if a man is sentenced to ten years' transportation for marrying more than one wi'e. this fellow should get a ticket of leave for at least eighty. If the Judge had the power of speed. It is the distance they will travel in centencing him to pass the remainder of his emergency, the weight they will carry, and the days in the same apartments with all his eight wives, Wardle would have anything but a pleasant life before him.

THE ARAB BORSE.

TABLE-TURNING WONDERS.

The Paris correspondent of N. Y. Weekly Times relates the following :---cepting during the spring when the pastures The Charivari has seen some marvellous experiments in the turning of tables and other objects more or less ponderous. Sixteen people the other day got into an unharnest omnibus, joined hands and started the wheels. Its motion gradually accelerated, and it finally landed them at their place of destination .---But this is nothing to an achievment performed by two individuals upon the Column Vendome. A gentleman willing to be convinced, 'saw an invalide 'climbing up the spire, to emcalled to him to hold out his hand, and the two formed the chain of connection around the brazen column. But no motion succeeded. The gentleman looked at the invalide. He had a silver nose! No science had haid it down as an important condition that the experimenters five races of which the original stock was the invalide to remove his nose, which he did with Koncylch. The most famous belong either to an alacrity above all praise. But the column the Shammer or to the Aneyza tribes. Their did not move. Thought best to adjourn to a delightful frame of mind. Between them they drank three bottles of champaign. After the generally owned by ten or even more persons. coffee, they again repaired to the column, formed the chain and waited. This time their success was complete. Not only did the column turn, but the little iron ralling, the whole Place Vendome, the ministry of Justice and all the houses in sight revolved with it. The invalide had his silver nose on during the experiment and it did not seem in the least to nterfere with its success. A detailed account of the phenomena witnessed on this interesting occession, is to be submitted to the Acad > nen_Spring, the murderer, who is to be 2. s f (

between six and seven o'clock in the evening, a hard frost set in, the ground previously having been wet and sloppy. The prints, therefore, could not have been made in the morning. when the ground was hardened by the frost which had intervened, as it were, to fix a seal on his testimony of guilt !

PUT YOUR NAME IN YOUR HAT .--- A COTTOSoondent of the Providence Post alludes to the cent railroad accidents and the frightful loss of human life by which they were attended, and says that for some time he has not traveled without his name in his hat, with his place of residence, and a duplicate of the direction on his trunk. If he experienced the common ot of travellers, and gets killed in any of the various ways now in vogue, the railway officials, who are always exceedingly polito to the remains of the passengers, will not only find this, but also full directions; where to apply for money to defray the expenses for sending ome the body. nen_There is a power in numbers mentally s well as otherwise. Who, for instance, could to eloquent with nothing for an audience but four apple women and an indentured apprentice ? No one. 'Cause why ? it is impossible, and " can't be did.". Before a nation can produce a Domosthenes it must first produce mobs. Place man an hundred miles apart, and such a thing as eloquence would never have been heard of. Ideas, like horned critters, are gregarious in their habits, and only become ablime when properly hemmed in by sympathy. 155 A Chinese eating saloon has just been d at San Francisco. We quote from the opence as ball I remonent

bill of fare:	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
Grimalkin Steaks,	25
Bow-wow Soup,	12
Roasted Bow-wow,	. 18
Bow-wow Pic,	5 6
Stews Ratified,	•
The latter dish rather mont by stows rat-ified ?	bothers us. What is ment by stows ratified t	frank mu Langer

per " Come in, Joe, and let's take a drink." Thank ye, Thomas, can't afford it." "Well, I'll pay for it." "Ob, I am not speaking of the money." "What then?" "Loss of health and energy ; for I tell you what it is, Thomas, I find it=up-hill=business to work stendy on under the influence of liquor :- it oes well enough for half an hour, and then' get lazy and moody, want more, and become reakless ; and that's why I can't afford it -- so ere's home to dinner !"

Bor A man's spirit depends a good deal on he way he moves. Rush along at the rate of a mile a minute, and your consations will beome as buoyant as a; stock market. [Substly tute for this the inanimate crawl of a canal boat, and in less than an hour, your soul will fool as if it were laboring under two fifty-sixes and a suppor of pig's feet. If you don't wish o become melancholy, and dwell on the adantages connected with charcoal fumes, never travel behind a horse that takes over three ninutes to do a mile, A special edict with a switch tall. Obey and live, the first starting and A dog that will fotoh a bone will take no. No allusion to taitlers.

can defy any pursuer but a Shammar or Aneyza Jennie wag, my only glory, and she was with a swifter or stronger mare than his own. An American racer, or even an English hunter, would break down in those pathless deserts

- - -