Is it Superstition?

Tradition has handed, down, from time immemorial, among farmers, some pecu-liar notions about the influence of the moon on vegelation, &c., which the skephiers of millern agricultural writers have generally agreed in rejecting as re-lics of a superstitious age.

The human mind is so constituted that, like the pendulum, (which when made to swing on one side of the center of gravity, will vibrate to the opposite extreme) it has over vibrated between the opposite extrem 's of superstition and incredulity, and reffecting minds are be ginning to comp to the conclusion that, generally, in the zeal manifested to reject everything that savored of superstition, a great deal of truth has been thrown away

We have been among the number of those who have heretofore summarily tejected the idea that the moon had any influence over vegetation, but, in review ing a controversy upon the subject now going on in some of the public journals, we are induced to hold our judgment in suspense; and wait for more light upon the subject;

One writer furnishes some quite curious statements upon the subject of luner influences, in which it is asserted that if a board is laid on the young growing grass when the moon is in her de scending mode, it will be found on taking it up after a week or so, that it has smothered the grass under it, and settled close to the earth, while a similar board similarly placed, in the time of the moon's ascension, will not prevent the grass from growing, and that it will even lift the board by its growth. It is like-wise asserted that if the head of a large marigold be selected, and a part of th -seeds-planted-near-the-full-of-the-moon when it e sign is in Gemini or Libra, large double flowers will be produced, while the romainder of the seeds, if planted near the change of the moon, will produce only single flowers, and if the sign be a Lee or Scorpi, they will not develop even one full row of petals.

The writer referred to above, goes or to say that if his opponent will sow, plant, or transplant herb, vine, or tree, when the moon is near the full and the sign Virgon, he will have abundance of blosms, and of long succession, but great paucity of seed or fruit; and that if he shall transplant trees or cut down weeds briers or thistles, when the moon is old, and in the sign of the heart, if they do not dis at once, they will never thrive, but dwindle away and perish. Are these 100 things 10 ?- Exchange.

Tron Scythe Snaths

Inventors and manufacturers of machines could have learned much, if they had only given attention to the extraordi nary examples of contrivance so numerously displayed in the works of creation. We may cite achromatic lenses as one example of this sort, which even Newton pronounced impracticable, while at the very moment he was writing that assertion. he was looking through two mos perfectly constructed achromatic leases just like millions of others which had been in existence for thousands of years. The ancients were puzzled for a sub stance to write-wasps had been making paper since the creation-a crude, brown fabric, to be sure. Flies and tree frogs had for the same period illustrated practically the pressure of the atmosphere, and the principle of the suction pump, with beautifully constructed miniature machines; and the structure of the arch which the more ancient nations, notwithstanding their superlative skill in masonry and architecture, knew nothing about/ nderstood and constantly practiced all that time by a little mining ant. The most perfect form of a rod, shank or beam, to combin strength and lightness, is illustrated by the tube of birds, quills, and by the straw of grains and grasses-the hollow rod or tube. This principle has been already applied in a number of instances i but not till now, the middle of the nineteenth century, has the hint beer taken in the construction of scythe snaths,-implements in which lightness and strength are pre-emmently requir-

Through by Express.

Through by Express. MESSRS, A G BRAGG & CO.-GENTLE-NEN. We have been using your MEXICAN. MUSTANG LINMENT with the most pir-fect success. One of our most valuable Express horsos had been much troubled by large swellings or tumors on the fetlocks; they had grown lar-ger than hen's eggs. Besides being disfigured by these appendages, the limbs and Joints ap-neared quite stittened, swollen and lame. We had tried many Li nuents and other remedles, but nothing appeared to produce any effect upon them. We would willingly HAVE. GIVEN TWENTY-FIVE DOLLAR'S to have had them removed, and the horse restored to soundness. Our hostler obtained some of your Liniment, and applied it without knowledge. A few days ago he called our attention to the horse, and to our surprise and gratification, his legs were perfectly smooth. THE TUMORS, HAVING ENTIRE-LY DISAPPEARED! We asked him by what smooth, THE TUMORS, HAVING EXTINC-LY DISAPPEARED! We asked him by what magic he had effected such a remarkable cure i His reply was that he had been using the MUS-TANG LINIMENT on them about ten days, and the result was the entire removal of the tu-mors without producing any soreness or leaving a son.

Since the above certifica'e was given, Messrs Kinsley & Co have informed us that one of his duvers was thrown from his wagon in the upper part of the city, and very budly bruised, the wagon passing over his body. He did so, and all the soreness, hameness, and stiffness was re-moved, so that the, next day he was about his business as usual.
