From the Farm Journal. The Fennock Corn Drill.

We have equally favorable account as the following of the Pennock Corn Drill, from several of our Chester county friends, who gave it a thorough trial this spring. The advantages of drilling in corn are so manifest, that this implement must soon come into general use.

MR. EEITOR :- I was tempted, by the notice in your April number to purchase one of Pennock's new Corn Drills, and its performance has given such entire satisfaction, and so greatly exceeded my expectations, that I feel it a duty I owe the farming community to call their attention to this implement, that they may take advantage of it another season. I have long been of the opinion that drilling in corn will supercede all other modes of planting, as soon as a real good drill is within the reach of every farmer at a moderate price. And I do pronounce the Pennock corn planter a real good one though not perfect, as I can suggest what in my opinion, would be an improvement, to wit :' to arrange it so as to drop regularly and without fail. one grain one foot apart. This distance will low more stalks on the ground without being too close, than any other mode of planting. The Pennock planter, as now contracted, drops two to six grains every eighteen or thirty-six inches, as the operator may desire. I prefer the former distance, and I now have as handsome and evenly planted fields of corn as the State of Delaware has ever produced .---When my corn first came up it averaged over three grains to the hill -- none too many perhaps, at first, as it is safest to make a liberal allowance for birds and worms. At the second dressing, I weeded it out to two stalks, allowing the most healthful and vigorous to remain.

Some of the advantages of arilling in corn are these : 1st. Economy .- I have over thirty acres in corn this spring ; one man and a boy to ride the horse, drilled it in three days. It being our first attempt at using a drill, we lost half a day in in experimenting, and "getting our hand in."-Next season 1 will guarantee to put in thirty acres of corn in handsome style with the same drill, in less than two and a half days. To plant the same ground in the ordinary way would keep the man and boy busy enough during ten days, at least. Here then, besides the time gained for attending to other work, is a saving of the whole labor of planting, in the ordinary way; as you will plant the thirty acres with a drill in just the time required to "mark out" the ground before dropping the corn by hand.

use the phrase, in every respect. It is planted at a uniform depth, and therefore comes up evenly. The grains are drop-ped sufficiently close together, and the hills are in straight lines, and can be cultivated to better advantage. I can run my harrow teeth as close as I please, to every stalk in every hill in the field .-Every farmer knows the trouble of har rowing when dropped in the usual zigzag style of careless and tired boys.

. 3d. The corn is not so easily washed out of the ground by floods, as when planted in marked out furro vs. One of my fields is on quite a hill-side, and though a heavy rain came on soon after it was planted, it required one man but a couple of hours to repair the damages while my neighbor's corn in the next field was so much washed up, as to require several men a whole day to replant

One of our most valuable Express horses that been muler troubled by large swellings or tunors on the fellocks; they had grown lar-ger than her's eggs. Besides being disfigured by these appendages, the limbs and joints ap-peared quite stiffeded, swolfen and lame. We had tried many Liziments and other remedies, but aothing appeared to produce any effect upon them. We would willingly HAVE GIVEN TWENTY FIVE DOLLARS to have had them removed, and the horse restored to soundness. Our hostler obtained some of your Liniment, and applied it without knowledge. A few days ago he called our attention to the horse, and to our surprise and gratification, his legs were perfectly smooth, THE TUMORS HAVING ENTIRE-LY DISAPPEARED! We asked him by what magic he had effected such a remarkable cure? His reply was that he had been using the MUS-TANG LINIMENT on them about ten days, and the result was the entire removal of the tu-mors without producing any soreness or leaving a gear. We therefore take great pleasure in recom-

We therefore take great pleasure in recommending the Liniment, and shall continue to use it whenever occasion requires in preference to any oth repearation, so long as it produces such remarkable results. to drilled corn as when planted by hand. It is a singular fact that the crows and blackbirds would wander over my fields searching for the hills, apparently taking no notice of the young corn peeping thro' the level ground. In a few spots where the corn was out off by worms and replanted they would invariably find it and pull it out. They seemed to think that unless the corn was in hillocks it was not genuine, or worth pulling up. Whother they will "progress" with the age, and discover that corn is corn, whother planted by hand or by drill, remains to be seen.

Other advantages might be named, Mr Editor, but I have trespassed enough upon your columns already, I will close with the prediction, that in a few years every good farmer will as soon think of doing without. a plow as without a corn drill
