

his countenance, inspired a deep emotion in the assembly. All the courtiers prostrated themselves upon the marble floor. They thought they saw again the young and glorious Soliman in one of those audiences when he made the rebellious pashas quail before him.

After a moment of respectful silence, the cry of "Long live Amurath!" shook the roof of the seraglio, and was echoed in the distance by the crowd who were thronging toward Saint Sophia. At the same moment the body of Mustapha fell lifeless to the ground. The time-piece slowly struck the hour, and the mezzain, in a solemn voice, repeated from the cupola, "it is eight o'clock!"

Little Folks.

THE TREE THAT NEVER FADES.

"Mary," said George, "next summer I will not have a garden. Our pretty tree is dying and won't have another tree as long as I live. I will have a bird next summer and it will stay all winter."

"George, don't you remember my beautiful canary bird, and it died in the middle of summer, and we planted bright flowers in the garden where we buried it? My bird did not live as long as the tree?"

"Wall I don't see as we can have anything. Little brother died before the bird, and I loved him better than any bird, tree or flower. Oh! I wish we could have something to love that would not die."

"George let us go into the house. I don't want to look at our tree any longer."

The day passed. During the school hours George and Mary had almost forgotten that their tree was dying, but at evening as they drew their chairs to the table where their mother was sitting, and began to arrange the seeds that had been from day to day gathering, the remembrance of their tree came upon them.

"Mother," said Mary, "you may give those seeds to cousin John; I never want another garden."

"Yes," added George, "you give them all away. If I could find some seeds of a tree that would never fade, I should love to have a garden. I wonder if there ever was such a garden, mother?"

"Yes, George, I have read of a garden where the trees never die."

"A real garden, mother?"

"Yes, my son. In the middle of the garden I have been told, there runs a pure river of water, clear as crystal, and on each side is the Tree of Life—a tree that never fades. The garden is Heaven. There you may live and love forever. There will be no death—no fading there. Love the Saviour here, and He will prepare you to dwell in those green pastures, and besides those still waters."

The teacher stumped. I happened in a school room one day, while a class of very small boys and girls were reciting a lesson in arithmetic. It was about their first lesson.

"Five from five leaves how many?" asked the teacher of a little girl of some six years of age.

After a moment's reflection, she answered "five."

"How do you make that out?" said the teacher.

Holding her little hands out toward him, she said, "here are five fingers on my right hand, and five fingers on the other. Now, if I take the five fingers on my left hand away from the fingers on my right hand, won't five remain?"

The teacher was stumped and obliged to knock under.

WASHING A LITTLE SWABBER'S MOUTH.—The California Christian Advocate says: "An intelligent lady of our acquaintance, whose little boy was beginning this talk, anxious to express to her child her horror of profanity, hit on the novel process of washing out his mouth with soap suds whenever he swore.—It was an effectual cure. The boy understood his mother's sense of the corruption of an oath, and the taste of suds, which together produced the final result."

THE WAY TO MAKE REPUBLICANS.—To make any nation of people republicans, do not attempt to remould the grown up men, for like the sturdy oak that will not bend, so he becomes firmly planted in the principles of his early education, and the eloquence of reason and truth to him is lost. Rather take the infant in its cradle, which, like a twig, as it is bent, will incline—hence no nation can thoroughly eradicate despotism and monarchy in one generation.—American Sentinel.

Publications.

VOLUME TEN OF THE "SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN" commences on the 10th of September. It is chiefly devoted to the advancement of the interest of Mechanics, Inventors, Manufacturers and Artists, and is edited by none practically skilled in the arts and sciences. Probably no other Journal of the same character is so extensively circulated, or so generally esteemed for its practical utility. Nearly all the valuable Patents which issue weekly from the Patent Office are illustrated by Engravings, and the claims of all the Patents are published regularly in its columns.

Subscription prices are as follows: Single copy, ten cents; Six months, $5.50; One year, $10.00. Single copies of the individual issues are sold at the price of one cent each.

TOOTH WASH.—A beautiful White

Teeth Healthy Gums and a Sweet Breath—All who are desirous of obtaining these benefits should use Zerkman's Tooth Wash. It is a most valuable article and is sold by all the Druggists.

Inflamed and bleeding gums are immediately benefited by its use. Its action upon them is mild, soothing and refreshing. It cleanses the teeth so thoroughly, that they are made to rival pearl in whiteness, and diffuses through the mouth such a delightful freshness that the breath is rendered exquisitely sweet.

Dr. J. A. CARMAN, Dentist, Harrisburg, Pa.

Read the following testimony: Mr. Zerkman—Dear Sir: I have fully tested the merits of your valuable Tooth Wash, and can, without hesitation, recommend it as the best that has come under my notice during an experience as a Dentist of more than sixteen years.

It cleanses the Teeth, soothes and hardens irritated Gums, and imparts a delicious fragrance to the breath. From the mouths of those who make use of it, however, it will certainly speak for itself.

It is used and recommended by all the eminent Dentists in New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and in all the cities where it has been introduced. All should give it a trial.

Prepared only by Francis Zerkman, Druggist and Chemist, Philadelphia, and by Samuel Elliot, Carlisle, J. Borchard, Mechanicsburg, J. Heron, Newville, J. C. Williams, Shippensburg, and by all Druggists at only 25 cents per bottle.

EPILEPSY Can be Cured. Lake's

VALIABLE COMPOUND, for the cure of Epilepsy or Fits, is performing more wonderful cures than any other medicine yet known or before the public—PRICE FIVE DOLLARS A BOTTLE.

The proprietor has in his possession numerous certificates, attesting the curing of numerous cases effected by this medicine, and directs attention to the following only, to assure those who are so unfortunate to be afflicted with the terrible disease heretofore regarded incurable, that Lake's preparation is almost infallible in its effects.

From Mrs. Brooks, widow of Maj. Jas. Brooks, late of Connant, O.

CONANT, Feb. 3, 1853.

Mr. Z. Lake—Sir: Please send me another bottle of Fit Medicine, as I do not like to be without it on hand.

When I commenced giving the medicine to my son Edgar, he had from one to three fits per day. He has now taken the medicine over five months, and has had 12 fits; but two fits in that time, and those very light; his body and mind are very much improved; and by the blessing of God, I feel that the medicine will restore his body and mind to the state of health which he enjoyed before he was afflicted with this disease.

Respectfully yours, J. POLLY BROOKS.

From Judah London, County Superintendent of the Ashland County Infirmary.

KEOSAUQUON, Feb. 4, 1853.

Mr. Z. Lake—Sir: Please send me a few more bottles of your "Fit Medicine." I may not need it, but just safer to keep it on hand.

Independent of the fine map, it is a remarkably cheap work; but accompanying it, the publisher has no hesitation in pronouncing it the cheapest Book published.

The Publisher has gone to great expense in publishing the book in proper style. The engravings are beautifully executed; the type large and clear; and the paper of a fine texture, while the book is published at a price that renders it accessible to every individual who is desirous of obtaining it.
