Honor thy Mother.

'Come on boys l' shouted Harvey B. to a troop of his playmates.

'Where? where!'

'Lets go down to the river and have a good skate; I'll show you how to cut your name scientifically.'

'Yes come on! let's go! let's go!' answered they.

'Where are you going, Millard?'

'I am going home.'

'Come on, don't back out.'

I dare not go without the consent of my mother.' 'Coward! coward!' cried the -bóys.

'I'm not a coward,' replied Millard, his eyes flashing and his manly form erect: T'm not a coward, I promised my mother I would not go where there was danger without first obtaining permission from her.' He is right,' said George, 'I am going with him to ask my mother.' 'You can wait or go on, as you choose,' said Millard; 'I am going immediately, and if she consents, I'll join you;' and he turned on his heel and walked off with George. 'Let them go?' cried Harvey;' 'they are the milksops, we're the bravos!' and he ran toward the river, followed by the

It was early in the spring, and the sur was thawing the ice very fast, which made it dangerous to go on it, and for t'iat reason Millard would not go.

Harvey was a bad boy; he respected neither his father nor his mother; he pri led himself on his manliness, smoked segars, and was coming on very fast.

Millard respected his mother, obeyed her in all things, loved all his playmates and feared God.

How many Millards and Harveys are there, I wonder who read this paper every week? I think not many Harveys.

Dear boys do you always obey your mother? Do you respect her? If I were to say you did not love her, you would be yery much shocked, would you not? Well you must prove your love by obeying her always.

As soon as a boy thinks he is too old to obey his mother, scourns her consels, smokes segars, runs with fire companies, stands at corners making remarks on all who pass, then it is all up with him. I would not think much of him, but pity him and think of his poor mother, his wasted youth and unhappy old age.

Many a ruined man looks back to the time when he was tempted to do wrong, as the stepping stone to all misery.

If you have moral courage, you will never fear to be called a coward. The real coward, is he who disobeys his mother from fear of ridicule.

Mr. Z. Lake—Sir: Please send me another bottle of Fit Medicine, as I do not like to be without it on hand. When I commenced giving the medicine to my son Edgar, he had from one to three fits per day. He has now taken the medicine over five months and has had, I think, but two fits in that time, and fines very light.—His body and mind are very mape' improved: and hy the blessing of tiod, I feel that the medicine will restore his body and mind to their wonted activity. He is 28 years old, and has had fits over 12 years, which have been very frequent, and very destructive to his constitution and mind. Hundreds of dollars have been expended for medicine to "cure firs," but nothing has relieved him until he used your medicine. Respectfully yours,

From Judson Landon, County Superintendent of the Ashtabula County Infirmary.

Mr. Z. Lake—Sir: Please send a few more bottles of your "Fit Medicine;" I may not need it, but think safer to keep it on hand. Your medicine has done wonders, I gave it to Miss Jane Delano; she has had fits for 26 years, brought on by having the measels when but four years old, which could not be brought out to the surface. After taking the medicine a few days, sus HAA a FINE CROF OF MEASELS, and has had no fits since. She had fits or symptons almost daily. She and her father concur with me in saying that we believe the medicine has or will work a perfect cure. I also gave the medicine to Miss Jane Henderson and Aris Carby, who have had fits almost daily; for a number of years. Their fits have ceased, and I believe the medicine to perform, and I can cheerfully recommend it as a valuable distributed and the fitter of the above patients for detering, all to no purpose.—The cure was left for your medicine to perform, and I can cheerfully recommend it as a valuable distributed and the perfect of the above patients for detering all to no purpose.—The cure was left for your medicine t

It is impracticable in so short a space as this to give an adequate idea of the variety of subject, and the extent of research which this Volume contains. The whole field has been carefully explored. And no dispartment however intricate has been passed over, but treated until the subject has been made perfectly clear, and intelligible to the simplest mind; indeed one of the great peculiarities of the Bock is its freedom from dry detail, and statistics, (so common to works of this character.) which no doubt is one of the causes of its very great popularity.
