EXCESSIVE COLD.—Another fall of snow took place on Sunday night, which as the roads were previously smooth and icy very much improved the sleighing. The weather however is so intensely cold as to make it we suspect rather an uncomfortable enjoyment. Yesterday was probably the coldest day we have yet had this winter. Several accidents happened last week to sleighing parties, such as running off of horses and the over turning of sleighs with their fair occupants, but in no case attended with very serious personal injury. Another great snow storm commenced this morning.

SAINT VALENTINE'S Day is again near at hand, and elegant varieties of appropriate missives may be found at Haverstick's and Mr. Piper's.

DR. JAMES McCLELLACK'S FAMILY MEDICINES.—We are not in the habit of recommending Quack medicines, nor do we propose to begin now. Most of the nostrums advertised are made by ignorant pretenders to medical skill; they generally profess to cure all diseases, or nearly all that flesh is heir to.—but the case is widely different, when a physician of high standing, whose knowledge and skill in his profession are beyond dispute, offers remedies for precise ailments for general use. Such is the case with Dr. McClellack's Family Medicines, a list of which will be found in our columns. Dr. McClellack was for many years a Professor in one of the Medical Colleges upon the various branches of medical science. In Morbid Anatomy he is perhaps unrivalled, as no physician of the age has dissected the human body more frequently than he. The remedies which he offers are the result of thirty years of practice, observation, and study; and each is prepared for the disease to which it is specially adapted. In especially those parts of the country where it is difficult to obtain promptly the aid of a physician in cases of disease, we should think it wise and prudent to have on hand Dr. McClellack's remedies. A timely use of them might ward off dangerous disease, or be the means of saving life.

SAVANNAH DEBATING SOCIETY.—Monday evening, Jan. 29th, 1855.—Society met and the President appointed as Judges for this evening, Messrs. Capt. Samuel Stuart, Chas. Lee and James Coyle. The subject adopted at the last meeting for debate this evening, was now taken up and warmly discussed. The question was, "that the present wants of our Country require a Protective Tariff." Joseph Ritter, jr., James Lee and William Morrison, supported the Affirmative, and John Lee, Samuel M. Kenyon, Esq., and Geo. W. Leidligh the Negative. The Judges decided in favor of the Negative. James Lee offered the following, which was adopted for discussion at the next meeting: Resolved, That the principles involved in the Nebraska Bill, with regard to slavery, are just. On motion, adjourned to meet Monday evening, Feb. 5th 1855.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.—The Rev. John Moore not being eligible for Governor, another Know Nothing Convention was held. Another ballot was held for Governor. Whole number of votes cast, 372; Ralph Medeniff, of Newport, 356; Scattering, 16. Mr. Metcalf is an old Democratic politician, who was for several years State Secretary, and now is understood to belong to the "Old Guard," of which ex-Commissioner Burke is the leader, and which is now in violent and open war with the administration.

A SOVEREIGN DEAD!—The illustrious Kamehameha III, of the Sandwich Islands, is no more. This piece of royalty was aged about 40. He was chiefly distinguished for getting drunk, whether on those French brandies introduced at the canon's mouth by the French or no less refined liquors, made little difference. He was of medium size and dull physiognomy. His predecessors King Kamehameha II, and his Queen, both died in London, while on a visit. Under his reign the Sandwich Islands were near being annexed to the United States; but Liholiho, his son, who traveled in this country and in Europe four years since, is said to be unfavorable to the measure.

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS. SUMMARY OF NEWS.

WEDNESDAY, Jan. 31. Congress.—Yesterday, the Senate passed a resolution of inquiry as to the receipts of the Collins line of steamers up to this date, for freight and passengers. The Army Appropriation bill was taken up and discussed. In the House, Mr Houston gave notice of his intention to move, on Thursday next, that the house go in to committee on the bill to modify the tariff, and to make that a test vote. A resolution was adopted calling for the correspondence between the United States and Spain touching the disturbance of friendly relations, the instructions of the U. S. department to its envoy, and the correspondence between this government and France and Great Britain respecting Cuba. The House then took up territorial business in Committee of the Whole.

Pennsylvania Legislature.—Yesterday, the House passed, among other private bills, one to close finally the trust of the late United States Bank. The act to reduce the number of prison inspectors in Philadelphia to nine was considered. The barque Argyle has been wrecked at Squam Beach, and is going to pieces. Four of the crew and one of the passengers were drowned, and at the last dates five others were clinging to the wreck. Advice from Texas mention a battle near Pecos between the Texan Rangers and the Comanche Indians, in which the former were victorious, seven of the Indians being killed and a large number captured.

THURSDAY, Feb. 1. Congress.—Yesterday, the French Spoliation bill passed second reading in the Senate. Mr. Pearce gave notice of his purpose to introduce a bill to provide for the erection of a building for the Post Office and United States Courts at Baltimore. Mr. Sumner presented a resolution of inquiry as to the expediency of erecting a new building for the U. S. Marine Hospital at Boston. A communication was received from the Secretary of War, containing the militia statistics of the Union. In the House the subject of the Minnesota Railroad charter was taken up again, and the delegate from Minnesota, Mr. Rice, said that the people of that territory would correct whatever errors they may have committed.

Pennsylvania Legislature.—Yesterday, the Senate adopted a resolution of inquiry as to the amount of uncurrent funds in the treasury, and the disposition thereof. Also, a resolution of inquiry as to the defalcation of Jacob M. Struckler, late collector at Columbia. Bills were passed relative to Orphans' Courts, and to the safe transmission of real and personal estate. In the House, a motion to refer the tavern license bill excited much debate. The bill to abolish the Canal Board was reported with amendments. A bill was also reported to punish frauds in the use of trade marks, labels, stamps, etc. The Massachusetts Senate has agreed with the lower house of that Legislature in electing Gen. Henry Wilson, Free Soiler, to the U. S. Senate. The Central American expedition, if it sail, will be prevented by the British squadron in the Caribbean Sea from landing at Mosquito, such being the orders of the commanding officer, it is said.

FRIDAY, Feb. 2. Congress.—Yesterday the House took up the bill authorizing the construction of a subterranean line of telegraph to the Pacific.—The report of the committee of the Whole, striking out the enacting clause, was negatived, and a substitute for the bill offered by Mr. Richardson, was adopted and passed finally. It omits the grant of two millions of acres of land, but grants the right of way, and extends the penal law of the United States over the line for its protection. Two unimportant territorial bills were passed.—The bill establishing the office of Surveyor General in Utah, and granting land to actual settlers in the territory was taken up. A motion to lay the bill on the table was rejected. The enacting clause was stricken out in effect rejecting the bill, but the vote was reconsidered, and a substitute adopted which retained the provisions relative to the Surveyor General and granting lands for school and university purposes.

Pennsylvania Legislature.—Yesterday, the Senate passed the bill relative to telegraph companies, and the transmission of messages. A bill passed second reading to fix the salaries of members of Legislature at $500 per annum, and the mileage at 10 cts. per mile for every mile traveled. In the House an animated debate took place on the bill relative to building associations, and legalizing their past operations.

CONGRESS.—Yesterday the Senate passed various private bills, and also a bill from the aval Committee to establish a retired list of naval officers incapable of service. In the House thirty six private bills were considered in committee of the Whole, and reported to the House favorably.

Pennsylvania Legislature.—Yesterday, the Senate passed a supplement to the Allen Railroad charter. A supplement to the mechanics Lien Law passed second reading. The House passed a bill to increase the pay of members of the Legislature passed finally. In the House, a supplement to the Mechanics' Lien Law was passed in committee of the Whole, as did also a bill to reduce the expense and secure the faithful payment of taxes, and a bill to extend the jurisdiction of the Courts in divorce cases. The bill from the Senate to define and punish bribery, was debated at length.

MONDAY, Feb. 5. Congress.—The upper branch of Congress was not in session on Saturday. In the House the thirty six private bills considered on the previous day, were passed. The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the private Calendar, and a bill to extend the Colt Patent was taken up on which a discussion ensued.

Pennsylvania Legislature.—On Saturday, the Senate passed a bill to authorize the Philadelphia and Baltimore Rail and Canal Company to declare dividends in certain cases.—A bill to incorporate the Philadelphia Literary Institute was rejected. In the House the bill to consolidate the wards of the city of Pittsburg, for educational purposes, passed finally.

TUESDAY, Feb. 6. In Congress, yesterday, a bill was passed by the Senate to change the boundaries of a land district in Arkansas. Mr. Broadhead's bounty land bill was also passed. In the House a bill was passed to refund the duties on Railroad iron paid by the West Feliciana and Georgia Railroad Companies. The bill from the Senate was also passed, making an appropriation for the creation of a Post Office at Milwaukee.

In the State Legislature, yesterday, the supplement to the act of 1836, relative to the commencement of actions, was passed finally. In committee of the whole the bill to extend and continue in force the land graduation bill, was passed. In the House, a special committee was ordered to be appointed to investigate the charges against the Northern Liberties Bank. The select committee on the Northampton contested election case reported in favor of the sitting member, Mr. Bush, and submitted a resolution, which was adopted, dismissing the petition of the contestant. A resolution was, however, adopted allowing him his pay and mileage since the commencement of the session. The bill to incorporate the Point Breeze Park Association was passed finally.

The Legislature of Illinois has rejected resolutions endorsing the Compromise measures of 1850, and others have passed the House censuring Senators Douglas and Shields for their course in favor of the repeal of the Missouri Compromise. Booth & Ryecroft, who were convicted at Milwaukee, for aiding the rescue of a fugitive slave from the United States officers, have been discharged from arrest by the Supreme Court of that State, on the ground that the indictment was illegal, the fugitive slave law being unconstitutional. The first Legislature of Nebraska territory has met and organized. The choice of officers is said to be favorable to the administration. The Pennsylvania Railroad bridge, over the Juniata river at Lewistown was destroyed by fire on Saturday night. It was 520 feet long, and cost $10,000.

DISMISSAL OF LIEUTENANT HUNTER.—We learn from Washington that Lieut. Charles G. Hunter, the hero of the capture of Alvarado during the Mexican war, and lately in command of the brig Bambridge, has been dismissed from the Navy for insubordination. His ship lately formed a part of the squadron stationed on the Brazilian and Buenos Ayrean coasts, and when the difficulty between Consul Hopkins and the Paraguayan Government was reported to the Commodore, Lieut. Hunter asked permission to proceed with his ship to the scene of difficulty, and give protection to the Consul and such other American citizens who were residing in Paraguay. The Commodore refused this request probably fearing that the hero of Alvarado would reenact the Greytown exploit at Asuncion and the Lieutenant, professing to be disgusted with his superior's pusillanimity, brought home his ship, determined to appeal to his government and his country. His dismissal is his government's response to his appeal, and public opinion says "served him right." It is stated as a remarkable fact that during Hunter's naval career he had previously been twice dismissed the service, once dismissed the squadron, six times court martialled, and once before a Court of Inquiry.

Advices from Chicago say that all the railroads in that locality are heavily blocked with snow. On the Rock Island Road, five locomotives, with one train, were frozen up solid. On the Chicago and Mississippi Railroad the snow drifts were tremendous. One, reaching from Lexington a distance of eighteen miles, is said to be from three to eight feet deep. In this bank a number of locomotives have got stuck fast and frozen up in their attempts to drive through it. The Illinois Central Railroad is utterly impassable, as are also the Calumet and Aurora and Dixon roads.

BISHOP REZE, recently a Roman Catholic prelate of Detroit, Michigan, having been reported as imprisoned at Rome, the Louisville Journal denies the statement, and says that he was, at the last accounts, living with his friends in Germany.
