LOVE.

Every one has admired Parthenia's definition of Love to Ingomar: "What Love is, if thou would'st be taught, Thy heart must teach alone-Two souls with but a single thought,

Two hearts that beat like one." Some profane cynic, having no fear of Cupid before his eyes, has sent us the the following villainous parody: Love is a night mare with one foot;

Two children with one bun: Two turnlps with a single root; Two cabbage heads as one."

LAME AND LAZY.

Two beggars, Lame and Lazy, were in want of bread. One leaned on his crutch, the other reclined on his couch.

Lame called on Charity and hunbly asked for a cracker. Instead of a cracker he received a loaf.

Lazy, seeing the gift of charity, exclaimed, What, ask for a cracker and receive a loaf! Well. I will ask for a for a loaf." Lazy now applied to Charity and called for a loaf of bread. Your demand for a loaf,' said Charity, proves that you are a loafer. You are of that class and character who ask and receive not; you ask amiss.' Lazy who always found fault, and had rather whine than work, complained of ill-treat mont, and even acused Charity of a breach of exceedingly great, a precious promise .-'Ask and thou shalt receive.'

Charity points him to a painting in her room which presented to his vision three personages, Faith, Hope, and Charity. Charity appeared larger and fairer than her sisters -He noticed that her right hand held a pot of honey, which fed a bee disabled, having lost his wings. Her left hand was armed with a whip to keep off the drones.

Don't understand it,' said Lazy.

Lazy turned to go.

'Stop,' said Charity, 'instead of coin I will give you counsel. Do not go and live off your poor mother, for I will send you a ridh

A HUSBAND FOR A DAY.

A very funny farce is sometimes presented to the public called, 'A Nabob for an hour. A melo-drama has recently been enacted in St. Albans, Vermont, which may be denominated 'A Husband for a Day.' A few evenings since, as we are informed by a correspondent, a lady whose husband has been in California about five years, was agreeably surprised by the unexpected return of her better half, as she supposed. He wore a heavy beard and moustache, and was familiar with many inci dents of their early life, and so fully established himself in the capacity of her husband that be passed an agreeable day in her company, and obtained possession of some $300 previously remitted for her use. The happy pair were receiving the congratulations of their neighbors during the next day, when lo and behold! the joy of the lady was suddenly changed to bitterness by one who had recent ly returned from the gold region, and who proved to her satisfaction that the would-be husband was nothing more or less than a good imitation of the genuine article-bearing the same form and features, and having been an intimate friend of the true one. The marital impostor has been arrested, and now awaits his examination for (so the indictment reads) 'assault and battery.'

What a momentous life does the follow ing epitaph, from an England tombstone evince:

"Departed this life, my obedient wife, With whom I lived without quarrel or strife: Thirty long years in marriage she spent, Without calling on me for a single cent."

A VARIETY TRUNK .- The Portland Advertiser says that a suspicious trunk was seized at a depot in Portland, by the police, on Monday, and upon being opened was found to contain a neat looking cask of liquor, various articles of clothing, several large tailors' shears, and a number of Catholic books, including a massve and elegant Bible.

HARD TIMES AND LOCUSTS. - Hard times are said to be like that species of locusts which visits us every seventeen years. In support of which the following years are quoted as · peculiarly distinguished for high prices and escarcity, beginning with 1803:-1820, 1837 and 1854.

-----MAIL MATTER, - On the 11th instant a horned frog in a small box, was received from . Fachs, through the mail. The creature had is fed days on the roots, and one alive my siethig when the box, was opened.

Man's Right.-Machiavel the celebrated Italian political and miscellaneous writer, says, is one of his treaties-"Man has a right to speak, think, and write with freedom upon all subject; but he has no right so force his opinions upon others, or to persecute those who differ with him in belief,"

THE STARS -The constellation follow in each other's train like the different ears of of man's life The evening star is the herald of youth and joy, the moon is mature age, bright and quiet but cold, and followed by a brief darkness soon to be succeeded by the splendor of the rising sun of immortality.

Too Modest by Half .- Have you any limbhorn bonnets?' inquired a very modest miss of a shop keeper.

'Any what?'

'Any limbhorn bonnets!' 'Any-you don't mend leghorn !'

The young lady was brought to by the proer restoratives.

THE TRUE CAUSE.—The Passaic water at Jersey City, N. J., is said to have a very fishy taste, to account for which, a certain Water Commissioner gave as a reason, that the body of an Irishman had been found in the reservoir at Bergen, just after Lent.'

Johnston says he never was in a tight place but once, and that was when he had an insane bull by the tail. Had he held on he said he would have been dragged to death over a stubble field! while if he had not hold on the critter would have turned round and gored his bowels out. The question is, which did Johnson do, hold on or let go. Auswers may be sent by return mail

TMPORTANT TO FEMALES!

The combination of ingredients in these Fills is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain of restoring nature to its proper channel. In overy instance have these Fills proved successful. They invariably open these obstructions to which fomales are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel. However, the liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from expesure, cold or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decilize, and the want of such a remety has been the cause of so many consumptions among young fomales. To halles whose health will not rornat of an increase of their family, these pills will prove a valuable acquisition, as they will prevent pregnancy.—Headsche, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loating of food, and di turbed sleep do mest always arise from she interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the pills will invariably remedy all thert evils Nor are the less afficacious in the cure of Leucorrhea commonly called the "Whites." These pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetatie, and free from anything injurious to hid or health.
