Dickinson College.---Commencement.

The anniversary exercises of Dickinson College were celebrated on Thursday last, in the M. E. Church of this borough. An immense concourse of spectators was present, and the exercises were of the highest interest. Dr. Collins, President of the college, presi ded, and the occasion was distinguished by the presence of Governor Pollock, Hon. A. G. Curtin, Secretary of State, and Hon. Ell SLIVER, State Treasurer. Among the distinguished elergymen on the platform we noticed. Bishop Waugh, Dr. Durbin, formerly President of the College, Dr. Nevin, formerly Presi dent of Marshall College, and other prominent ministers of the gospel, together with a large number of gentlemen from a distance, parents of students and friends of the Col-

The addresses delivered by the members o the graduating class were as follows, and it is doing but simple justice to the speakers to say that their productions, bore ample evidence of thought and cultivation, and were generally spoken in a graceful and spirited manner. "The blind old man of Scio's rocky isle," entertained his audience for more than an hour, in a strain of remark so novel and so scholarly, as to charm every class of hearers. The chief point of his address-at least the point which chiefly arrested our attentionwas a contrast between Homer and Shakespeare, which was most ingeniously conceived. and most happily executed. Dr. Whedon displayed throughout, a delicacy of taste, and a refinement of scholarship, which is extreme ly rare on such occasions; and the interest which the audience took in his acute criticisms and in his fine tissue of observation, amply proved, that even for popular audiences, ge nius can always more than supply the place of rant. There was no fustian in the address from beginning to end; no extravagance of thought or of language; no attempt at "fine writing" in the ordinary sense of the phrase; yet the entire audience, so far as we could see, went along with the speaker in his nice and delicate discriminations, and appreciated his refined and classical wit. We are glad to learn that this admirable address is shortly to be published. Prof. TIFFANY's Baccalaureate address, delivered on Wednesday evening, was listened to by an immense audience with entire satisfaction. His theme was the "Elements of character essential to success in life," and in the opinion of all was treated with great skill and address was to inculcate the need of energyof back bone-in order to the achievment of the great ends of life. This point was worked out with much strength of thought and apt illus tration. . ARRIVAL OF THE ARAGO.

DEATH OF LORD RAGLAN.

Speech of the Emperor of France.

The steamship Arago, from Southampton. arrived at New York Monday afternoon, about 2 o'clock.

DEATH OF LORD RAGLAN.

The Arag brings the ann uncoment of the d ath of Lord Raglan. The melancholy news was received by Lord Pannure from General Suppon on the afternoon of the 30th ultimo. For some days previously, Lord Ragian had been suffering from indi-position, but until 4 P. M., on the 28th, his Lordship progressed o the satisfaction of his medical attendants. Afterwards alarming symptoms developed themselves, a tended with difficulty of breathng, which gradually increased. From 5 P. M. he was unconscious, and from that period he gradually sunk until 2) minutes before nine, at which hour he died. The event has plunged the whole army into the most pro-found grief. It is stated that Major General Simpson had succeded Lord Ragian pro tem.
Pelissier ann unces the death of Ragian in the following despatch to the Minister of War: "It is with profound regret I have to anounce to you that the venerable chief of the English army breathed his last sigh this evening, at 9 P M. We are the more grievel, ashis condition for the last twenty four hours was mućh improved.'

FROM THE BALTIC.

The Times correspondent, writing from the Biltic, states that on the 21st ult, the Amphion 36, new frigate, while employed reconnoitering the fortifications at Swenborg, accidentally mistook the channel, and in consequence foundered. The boats were immediitely despatched in all directions to sound, and while so employed, one of the near forts pened a brisk fire upon the frigate. Four shots struck her, killing one man and wounding two others. The Captain of the Amphion, returned the compliment with such energy and precision that he succeeded in blowing up a large Russian powder magazine, and occasioned other damages to the fort.

THE ATTACK ON THE MALAKOFF.

The detailed accounts of the attack on the Mainkoff and Redan towers made by the Allies on the 18th ult, have been received, and are published in extenso in the London morning ournals. The various correspondents ascribe the repulse and great loss which the French and English experienced to the want of proper management, and the total absence of that military knowledge and judgment so requisite in such hazardous and difficult undertakings.

FRANCE.

The Extraordinary Session of 1855 of the French Legislative Assembly was opened on the afternoon of the 2d inst, by his Majesty Emperor. In his speech to the Senate and Legislative Corps, His Majesty said "that the 'onferences lately held at Vienna having failed o secure the return of peace, he came before hem to make a new appeal to their patriotin. He justified the conduct of the Allies he conferences, and demonstrated their mod-eration.
