which is not enveloped in mystery. The flower that springs at your feet-who has revealed the wonderful secret of its organization? Its roots shoot down, and leaf and flower rise up and expand into the infinite abyss of mystery. We are like emigrants travelling through an unknown wilderness; they stop at night by a flowing stream, they feed their horses, set up their tent, and build a fire, and as the flames rise up, all within the circle of a few rods is distinct and clear 'in its light. But boyond and bounding this, are rocks dimly seen, and trees with vague outline dimly stoop forward to a blaze; and beyond the branches waters murmur over their beds; and wild, unknown animals howl in their dark realms of night and silence. Such is the light of man's knowledge, and so it is, bounded by the infinite realms of mystery.

NEWSPAPERS. --- Judge Longstreet, whose views on any subject are sensible, practical and worth treasuring up, thus sets forth the value of a newspaper:

"Small is the sum that is required to pat ronize a newspaper; and most amply remunerated is the patron. I care not how hum. ble and unpretending the gazette he takes, it is impossible to fill, a sheet fifty-two times a year without putting into it something that is worth the subscription price. Every parent whose son is off from home should furnish him with a paper. I well remember what a difference there was between those of my schoolmates who had and those who had not access to newspapers. Other things being equal, the first were always decidedly superior to the last in debate and composition at least. The reason is plain : they had command of more faots. Youths will peruse newspapers with our bank, or I will bring out our revolvers." delight when they will read nothing else."

A BIG STORY .- An old gentleman who had any house, when at once I saw a dark heavy cloud rising in the west. Soon I saw the torrents of rain descending at a distance, and rapidly approaching the place where I stood with my horse and wagon. Determined-if possible-to escape the storm, I instantly leaped into the wagon, and started my team towards home. By constant application of the whip to my horses, I barely escaped being overtaken by the rapidly approaching torrent.

But so tremendously did it pour down, that my little dog, who was close behind me, actually had to swim all the way !

ILLINOIS BANKING .--- A man had a draft on one of the banks of Illinois for three thousand dollars, for which he demanded specie. The bank officers invited the applicant to come behind the counter, which invitation was accepted, when the door of the bank safe was opened, and the officer addressed the following language to his visitor : "Say, stranger, look in that further corner of this safe, and you will see a small' pile of gold. Now, that pile is the least possible sum that the law will allow us to keep on hand, a wasting, while we are à banking institution; and if you think I am going to break one of our State laws to pay you in specie, you don't know who I am,-You never wronged me, and I have no ill-will against you, but take cure how you run on

A BIG STORY.—An old gentleman who had a neighbor rather addicted to telling large stories, after listening one day to several that taxed his credulity, boasted that he himself could tell a bigger one still; and he proceeded to relate the following: Said he—one day I was quite at the farther end of my farm, more than half a mile from any house, when at once I saw a dark heavy
