

Miscellaneous.

Popping the Question.

Popping the question, which has heretofore proved such a 'teaser' to bashful youths in the pursuit of matrimony under difficulties, is likely, after a while, to be rendered as easy as 'rolling off a log.'

A few nights back a small party of ladies and gentlemen were laughing over the supposed awkwardness attending a declaration of love, when a gentleman remarked that if he ever offered himself he would do it in a collected and business-like manner.

WASN'T that a modest way of 'coming to the point,' and a lady-like method of taking a man at his word?

A STUBBORN JURY.—The Portland Transcript tells a good story of Col. M., living in Washington county, Maine, who had a great aptitude, for serving as a juror.

Col. M.—arose, turned a withered glance upon his brother jurors, and exclaimed: 'May it please the court, we have not; I have done the best I could do, but here are eleven of the most contrary devils I ever had any dealings with.'

REMEDY.—A young widow was asked why she was going to get married so soon after the death of her husband. 'Oh, la,' said she, 'I do it to prevent fretting myself to death on account of dear Tom.'

A lad came in great haste into a Drug store the other morning, and half out of breath exclaimed: 'Mother thent me down to the hotheyan pop to get a thimble full of pallegorie. Bubs as thick as the dickenth, and not exthepeked to live from one end to the other.'

An old farmer, standing on the corner, was terribly out of humor, because he had lost all his wheat by the Weevil for more than two successive years. He was advised by a bystander to sow Mediterranean wheat hereafter, as that escaped the ravages of the insect.

Girls never marry a man until you have seen him eat. Let the candidate for your hand pass through the ordeal of eating soft boiled eggs. If he can do it and leave the table spread, the napkin, and his shirt unspotted, take him. Try him, next with a spare rib. If he accomplishes this feat without putting out his own eyes, or pitching the bones into your lap, name the day at once; he will do it to tie.

The new Russian Minister to the United States is called Somonsoff, (saw my nose off.) An Attache of the same legation at Washington, Blownnosoff, (blow my nose off,) besides which we have Col. Kutmanosoff, (cut my nose off,) of the Imperial Guard; Marshal Polmanosoff, (pull my nose off); General Nozbecone, (nose begone), and many others.

Wm. C. Quirk, K. N. candidate for constable of the first justice's court in New Orleans, challenges his Democratic competitor, John W. Mader, to a public discussion of the various issues between them, either oratorically, anecdotically, vocally, instrumentally, or otherwise.

'Dawtler, dawtler,' said an exquisite the other day, 'I want you to tell me what I can put into my head to make it right.'

'It wants nothing but brains,' said the physician.

Beware of a Man that never laughs.

In a sermon delivered by Rev. Dr. Bellows, of New York, before the Western Unitarian Conference, is the following paragraph:

For my own part, I say it in all solemnity I have lived to be come sincerely suspicious of the piety of those who do not love pleasure in any form. I cannot trust the man that never laughs; that is always sedate; that has no apparent outlets for those natural springs of sportiveness and gity that are prenal in the human soul. I know that nature takes her revenge on such violence. I expect to find secret vices, malignant sins or horrid crimes springing up in this hot-bed of confined air and imprisoned space; and, therefore, it gives me a sincere moral gratification anywhere, and in any community, to see innocent pleasures and popular amusement resisting the religious bigotry that frowns so unwisely upon them.

SOMETHING FOR THE LADIES.—The London Gazette contains some information for the ladies in regard to the manner of placing their lips when they desire to look amiable, dignified, &c. It says that when a lady would compose her mouth to a bland and serene character, she should just before entering the room, say Bosom, and keep the expression into which the mouth subsides, until the desired effect upon the company is evident.

A good old Quaker lady, after listening to the extravagant yarns of a storekeeper as long as her patience would allow said to him; 'Friend H—, why a pity it is that it is a sin to lie, when it seems so necessary in thy business.'

'Papa, why don't you give the telegraph wire a dose of gin?'

'Because the papers say they are out of order, and mother always takes gin when she is out of order.'

Nature is shockingly immodest. 'Till children are taught what is what,' they would as soon run round with nothing on their arms and legs, as they would in breeches and petticoats. Blushing is an artificial commodity, and came into the market with knowledge and mantua-makers.

The Hoosiers on the Wabash turn their 'agy shanks' to some account; they climb into the top of a 'shellbark' just as the chill comes on, and by the time the 'personal earthquake' leaves them, there's not a hickory nut left on the tree.
