FARMERS HIGH SCHOOL.

The Board of Trustees of the Farmers High School met at Harrisburg, on Tuesday of last week, for the purpose of selecting a site for the location of the school. Judge Watts, from the committee on the subject, made report of an examination which he had made of the Farm which had been offered by Mr. Easton, of Franklin county, which lies equidistant between Mercersburg and Loudon. The competition was close but after due deliberation the Board concluded that it would best promote the interests of the school to accept the offer of Gen. James Irvin, of Centre county, and the institution will accordingly be located there. Gen. Irvin gives gratuitously to the Board of Trustees for the use of the Farm School, two hundred acres of first quality limestone land, eligibly situated at the junction of Penns and Nittany Valleys, with the right to purchase one hundred acres more on each side of the gift tract, at any time within five years at $60 per acre, and to have it on rent in the meantime if they desire it, at $300 a year for each tract. In addition to this the Farmers of Centre county have subscribed $10,000 for the endowment of the School, the payment of which is guaranteed by substantial men.

The Board then proceeded to the election of officers, when the Hon. Frederick Watts was chosen President of the Board of Trustees and Prof. Charles B. Trego, of Philadelphia, was elected Principal of the school. We understand that arrangements have been made to put the institution into operation without any unnecessary delay. A committee, consisting of the President of the Board of Trustees, and Messrs. McAlister and Miles, were directed to procure a plan of the buildings and make arrangements for their erection, so that by next fall pupils may be admitted for instruction.

JOSEPH HENDERSON. The Philadelphia News says the whig nomination for Canal Commissioner is a highly creditable one, and worthy of the support of all, without regard to party, who desire the election of an able and faithful citizen as Canal Commissioner.

We have known Joseph Henderson, of Washington county, for the last twenty years past, and known him to be a man of excellent business qualifications, of sound judgment, and great purity of character. He is emphatically an intelligent, upright, honest man, fully qualified for the office, and possessing the integrity of character, which would afford a guarantee that the duties of his office would be faithfully discharged. In politics, he has all his life been a consistent and straightforward Whig. Had the Republican Convention, at Pittsburgh nominated him, as it should have done, he might have been elected; for, though never an Abolitionist or Free Soiler, he has no love for Slavery, and is opposed to the Kansas outrages, and in favor of the restoration of the Missouri Compromise. Had they presented him as their candidate, they would not only have given character to their organization, but ensured in all human probability, a triumph in the State.

Now that Mr. Henderson is the Whig candidate, standing on a platform of principles which must be acceptable to Republicans, and his own views being well known to coincide with theirs in relation to the restoration of the Missouri Compromise, their true course would be to drop Passmore Williamson as their candidate, and unite in the support of Mr. Henderson. By so doing they might accomplish a two-fold purpose, the defeat of Loco Focoism in the State, and a triumphant vindication of the demand made by them for the restoration of the Missouri Compromise. Whether they will be likely to do this, we know not, but certain it is if they have a greater regard for the triumph of their own principles, than desire to have everything their own way, they will not hesitate a single day to unite in support of Mr. Henderson. Adhering to Mr. Williamson can result in nothing but the success of Mr. Plumer, the Loco Foco nominee, which will be proclaimed as an endorsement of the Pierce Administration and condemnation of the restoration of the Missouri Compromise. Uniting in support of Mr. Henderson may, most probably would, lead to the defeat of Mr. Plumer and a vindication of the Republican policy. We hope good sense and patriotism will so far characterize the conduct of the Whigs, Republicans and Americans, in the State, as to unite in support of one candidate in opposition to the Loco Foco nominee. Let them do this, and they cannot fail to prevent a Loco Foco triumph in the State.

THE NAVAL BOARD.

The recent sweeping decisions of the Board of Naval Officers are beginning to attract more than ordinary attention.—The fact that upwards of two hundred officers have been selected for judgment by fifteen, and without the slightest chance of being heard, is naturally exciting astonishment and indignation. The Boston Courier, speaking of the secret Board, says: "It is suspected that the proceedings of this 'Court of High Commission' were more remarkable for haste and personal prejudice, than for that calm, judicial investigation which the law authorizing it clearly intended."

We are inclined to concur in the same opinion from the gross injustice done a meritorious officer within our own knowledge—one who has seen twenty years of active service at sea, and who has time and again received the commendation of the Secretary of the Navy for efficient performance of duty. The proscription of such an officer indicates that prejudice rather than discrimination largely influenced the action of the Board.

MAINE ELECTION.—The Republican party has, been defeated in Maine, and the Legislature will contain a majority in favor of the repeal of the Prohibitory Liquor law.

POSITION OF THE WHIGS.

The Harrisburg Whig in stating the reasons which have constrained the Whigs of Dauphin county to maintain their organization and nominate a ticket, expresses so exactly the feelings which have actuated the Whigs of Cumberland county in pursuing a similar course, that we transfer the article to our columns. "Against the men and measures of Democracy," remarks that paper, "the old-line Whigs are as firmly fixed as ever, whilst in regard to our brethren-of the American order we commend the principles and oppose only the mode of their operation. The American party is composed largely of Whigs, and by its secrecy has withdrawn from the Whig party thousands of its family friends and formed new ties with only hundreds of its ever bitter foes. In all their preliminary proceedings, as well as in the important council nominations, the Whigs have been barrel and forbidden. Though we felt the loss of friends, we did not complain. Even though part of the Whig ticket was sacrificed last fall by this alliance, we submitted in silence and without repining. But we could and we have determined to maintain our organization, and adhere to our creed. We refrained from all participation in the Democratic nominations, and we were excluded from those of the Americans. What then could the old-line Whigs do? What should have been our policy? Should we submit to the indignity in silent contempt, and vote for the men who despise us, or should we in the hour of need turn traitor and vote for the men who have ever denounced and battled against us? We could do neither; and thus far have done neither.

A convention, called by the Whig county committee, met, and have put forth such candidates as must command the respect of all parties, and at least the united support of the Whigs.

In this Whig convention an entire reaffirmance was had of the principles of the old Whig party, and to it was superadded the American sentiment of a change in the naturalization laws. To the secrecy of the American order in effecting this this change we objected, and still object. We can see no reason for midnight meetings, and for denials, amounting almost to falsehoods, in the support of a principle true in theory and necessary in practice. It implies cowardice in itself, and exhibits a dread and fear of the enemy it despises and whom it can readily overwhelm. There is no difference, then, in the creed of the Americans and ourselves, but there is a difference in the way in which those principles are to be carried out and made effective. We do openly and in the public gaze, that which they do secretly and in conclave.

WIG-WAG

We see it stated in some quarters that Gen. Cameron will not be a candidate for the U. S. Senate next winter. He seems determined however, to try and have some friends on hand in the next Legislature for whatever may turn up. It is stated that the American Assembly nominations in Lancaster County comprise four Cameron democrats, and one former Whig. Kirk Hains, of Perry county, who voted for Cameron last winter, is again the American candidate for Assembly in that county.

The fifth annual exhibition of the Pennsylvania State Agricultural Society will be held on the 25th, 26th, 27th, and 28th of September inst. The annual address will be delivered by the Hon. F. WATTS, of Carlisle, and the ploughing match will take place on Friday, the 28th.

NEW PAPER.—The Weekly American Whig is the title of a handsome new weekly paper just started at Harrisburg, devoted to Whig principles. Its editorial columns display a good deal of talent, and altogether the paper deserves the encouragement of the Whigs of the Commonwealth.

WE THINK SO TOO.

Our sensible editorial friend, Worth, of the Lebanon Courier, notices the tickets presented by the Whigs and Americans of Cumberland county, and remarks in conclusion—"it seems now to be generally regretted that the Americans of Cumberland County did not come out openly and unite with all favorable to their principles. By another year they will learn wisdom."

INDEPENDENT MOVEMENT.—The opponents of the Democratic party in Berks county Pa., have followed the example set in the western part of the State, of calling general public meetings to elect delegates to nominate local candidates, instead of confining them to restricted party associations. For this purpose a meeting, composed of Whigs, Americans, and Democrats, was held at the Court House, in Reading, on the 8th inst., at which a most intolerably long string of resolutions was adopted, providing for the election of delegates by the people to nominate a county ticket.

FRANKLIN COUNTY FAIR.—The Third Annual Exhibition of the Franklin County Agricultural Society will be held at Chambersburg on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the 2d, 3d and 4th of October next. The list of premiums is unusually large, and Gov. POLLOCK has given a positive assurance that he will deliver an address on the grounds, on Thursday at 1 o'clock.

THE MAN FOR THE WORK!—While we must say that President PIERCE has generally succeeded in making very unfit appointments, candor compels the acknowledgement that WILSON SHANON was the very man of the nation to be selected for Governor of Kansas. A despatch from St. Louis tells us he had arrived at Westport on the 31st ult, made a speech, acknowledged the legality of the Legislature, and avowed himself in favor of Slavery in the territory.
