

Take Care of Your Overcoat.

[CONCLUDED FROM SECOND PAGE]

Luxurious pillows, Mr. Mansfield dreamed of his paletot and Mr. James Smith; and Susy of Harry Gordon and his fascinating manner; whilst Harry didn't sleep at all, but thought all the while of the blue eyes and waving hair of Susy Mansfield.

Next morning there were three persons gathered round the breakfast-table by the fireside. Mr. Mansfield had gone up early and sent down suitable apparel for his daughter, and had promised to call for her in a few hours.

Merrily the three talked over the last night's events, and the ball; and Mrs. Gordon quizzed Harry about his overcoats, and unmercifully told Susan how Harry always did lose his overcoats; and then Susan laughed at him too, and Harry bore it wonderfully well, and seemed rather to like it than otherwise.

And then there was a concert in the evening for which Mrs. Gordon had tickets, and Miss Mansfield had not—and so, another supply of clothes was sent for, and Mr. Mansfield stayed to dinner, and Miss Mansfield stayed again till the next morning, and then Mrs. Gordon told Harry she thought Miss Mansfield was too sweet and refined a creature to be at a boarding-house—and Harry coincided with this opinion—and then Mrs. Gordon suggested she should ask her to stay with them for just the time they were to remain in New York.

You're so much away, Harry, it would interfere with you to have a young lady in the house.

Harry thought it wouldn't, and so Miss Mansfield stayed, and Mr. Mansfield came and dined, and talked with Mrs. Gordon, and they found out many mutual friends, and were quite taken up with old remembrances. And Harry and Susy—oh, they strolled about the long, pompous parlors, and Susy opened the fine Chickering piano, which from a mere thousand dollar piece of furniture, became, beneath her skillful hand, awakened into all the dignity and magic of art—and her light step and silvery laugh sounded through the rooms, and up and down stairs, making Mrs. Gordon smile and feel happy, even when Harry was away—and altogether, it appeared as though rays of light had suddenly penetrated into the calm, solemn dignity of the happy but quiet home.

Susan stayed, and stayed. First it was one excuse, then another, then another, there were plenty to be found in the busy carnival time of New York; and, at last, when really neither Mrs. Gordon could find another for keeping Susy, nor Susy for staying, nor Mr. Mansfield for delaying his return to Alabama, Mr. Harry Gordon found an admirable one, which satisfied them all—he converted Miss Susan Mansfield into Mrs. Harry Gordon—and so she never went away at all.

'Take care of your overcoat,' said Mr. Mansfield, laughingly, to his son, as the bride and bridegroom drove off on their wedding excursion, 'for the last you lost found you a wife, and Susy is very jealous, I warn you.'

'I'll take care of both Harry and his overcoat,' said Susan, smiling and kissing her hand to her father.

And we suppose she did for Harry looked happier and happier every year—and he never lost his overcoat again, because it was always, when he went to balls, most carefully wrapped up with a beautiful, delicate, discreet white satin bonnet, which never wandered from its mistress, and which, after once it had taken the impress of her grace and elegance, never could be mistaken for anybody's but the sweet darling, Mrs. Harry Gordon's—as everybody called Susy, for everybody loved Susy excepting Harry and his mother—and they adored her.

A MODEL SIGN BOARD.

The following was put upon the door of a house occupied by a father and son. The former was a blacksmith and publican, the latter a barber:

'Barnes and sun blacksmith and barbers, work done here, horse-shoeing and shaving and bare curled bleeding teeth drawing and other farriery work, all sorts of spiritous liquors according to the late ordinance treaty.'

'Take notice my wife keeps school and also teaches readin and ritin and all other larned langwatches and has assistants if required to teach horriory sowin and mathewmatix and other fashunable divreshuns.'

AN EDIFYING SPECTACLE.—A Chileno, late-executed at Sonora, California, addressed the spectators from the scaffold as follows: 'He said if he had been an American he would not have been molested, and he advised all Spaniards whenever they met a man with a white skin and fair hair to put a knife in him up to the hilt. He complained much of injustice, but he would now show the people how a Chileno could die. He insisted upon having a woman brought upon the scaffold to play the harp for him to dance his way out of the world, otherwise he would die unhappy. In conclusion, he said if any one present desired to send word or money to their friends where he was going, he was just the man to take it.

DOMESTIC RECIPES.

USEFUL HINTS FOR LADIES.

Some practical contemporary gives the following items for the ladies. Britannia should be first rubbed gently with a woolen cloth and sweat oil, then washed in warm suds, and rubbed with soft leather and whiting. Thus treated, it will retain its beauty to the last. New iron should be gradually heated at first; after it has become incured with the heat it is not likely to crack. It is a good plan to put new earthenware into water, and let it heat gradually until it boils—then cool again. Brown earthenware, particularly, may be toughened in this way. A handful of wheat or rye bran, thrown in while boiling, will preserve the glazing, so that it will not be destroyed by acid or salt. Clean a brass kettle, before using it for cooking, with salt and vinegar. The oftener carpets are shaken, the longer they will wear. The dirt that collects under them grinds out the threads. If you wish to preserve fine teeth, always clean them thoroughly after you have eaten your last meal at night. Woollen should be washed in very hot suds, and not rinsed. Lukewarm water shrinks woollen goods. Never allow ashes to be taken up in wood, or put into wood. Always have your matches and lamp ready for use in case of sudden alarm. Have important papers all together, where you can lay your hands on them at once in case of fire. Do not wrap knives and forks in woollen.—Wrap them in good strong paper. Steel is injured by lying in woollens. Old bread may be made almost as good as new by dipping the loaf in coal water, then putting it in the oven after the bread is drawn, or a stove, and let it heat through. Isinglass is a most delicate starch for fine muslins. When boiling common starch, sprinkle in it a little fine salt; it will prevent its sticking. Some use sugar.

CORN CAKE.

We eat corn cake every day, and our folks have flattered us, until we think, for a plain, wholesome kind, ours excels all others. We take six cups of good buttermilk, one egg, salt enough, and a teaspoonful of saleratus; make it thin as butter for frying; beat quickly, and only long enough to make it free from lumps; pour into a large buttered bread pan, and bake half an hour. This is light, with a nice, tender crust, and plenty for a family of six.

THE ORATOR.

A regular old toper, slightly reeling, eyes half shut, and partly sober, is thus supposed to address a 'select few' of his old cronies, while leaning against a lamp post in some secluded spot.

'Now, I ax you, fellers, who's the best citizen, him that supports government, or him as don't do it? Why him that does it, in course. We support government—all as drinks support government—that is if he lickens at a licensed house. Every blessed drop of lick that he swallows is taken to pay the salaries of them are great officers, such as mayors and Corporations, High Constables, Presidents and Custom House gentlemen. 'Spose we was to quit drink, why government must fail; it couldn't help it no how. That's the reason I drinks; I don't like grog—I mortally hate it. If I followed my own inclination, I'd rather drink buttermilk or ginger-pop, or sody water. But I take lickens for the good of my country, to set an example of patriotism and virshous self denial to the rizen generashun.'

AN OLD GENTLEMAN CHARMED OUT OF TWELVE HUNDRED DOLLARS.—The gipsies have stolen $1,200 from an old man named Pearse, of Limerick, Maine. They made him believe that $4,000 was buried in a pot on his farm, and persuaded him to get the $1200 together, and deposit it in a small trunk, to remain in his possession six days, while they were working the charm to find out the spot where the $4,000 was hidden. Soon afterwards, the gipsy woman returned, and accused the elderly greenhorn of opening the trunk, thereby defeating 'the charm.' He confessed he had done so, and that the gipsy woman counted the money again, and took the key, leaving the trunk and money, as he thought, with Mr. Pearse; but at the expiration of the six days he found that the charm had worked so potently that neither the money nor the gipsies could be found.

DEATH OF A MISER.—The Chicago Press mentions that a few days ago a miser, named Andrew Granderson, died in that city from the effects of the miserable food his avarice compelled him to eat, and because he would not take medicines or have a physician, lest he should be called upon to pay the expense. Since his death it has been ascertained that he had $4,000 deposited in a bank, and owned a block in the western division of the city. He left no will, and had several respectable children, who, when he was ill, flocked to his bedside and relieved his sufferings as they could.

HERRING'S PATENT, CHAMPION FIRE PROOF SAFES, with Halls Patent Powder Proof Locks, which were awarded separate Medals at the World's Fair, London, 1851, and also at the World's Fair, New York, 1853 and 54. The subscribers are the sole manufacturers and proprietors in this State of the above unequalled Safes and Locks. The reputation of the Herring's Patent is world wide, and for the last thirteen years the mercantile community have witnessed and borne testimony to their superior qualities. More than 12,000 of these Safes have been actually sold, and over two hundred have passed triumphantly through accidental fires. The public are assured that all Safes manufactured by the subscribers are not only guaranteed to be fully equal, but in many instances are superior to those which have been so severely tried by fire. Few will forget their services in the burning of the "Tribune establishment," New York, and at the Great Fire in Strawberry street, at the large fire last July, opposite the Girard House; and still more recent in the Fire at Fifth and Chestnut sts. in the city of Philadelphia, in which these Safes came forth the acknowledged CHAMPION, when many other securities failed. IRON SAFE AND BANK LOCK MAKERS, 34 WALNUT Street, Philadelphia. Chilled Iron Safes, with Powder Proof Locks, manufactured expressly for Banks, Brokers, Jewellers, and others requiring security from rogues, Bank Vendors, Doors, &c. on hand and made to order. All the most celebrated Locks for sale at manufacturers' prices. Second hand "Safes," and "Iron Chests" of other makers, have been taken in part payment for Herring's for sale at half price.

MATCHES! MATCHES!!—JOHN DONNELLY, manufacturer and inventor of SAFE PATENT SQUARE SHIPPERS MATCHES, No. 106 North FORTTH Street (above Hall's) PHILADELPHIA. Matches having become an indispensable article in housekeeping, the subscriber after a great sacrifice of time and money, and enabled to offer the Public an article of superior quality and cheapness. His invention, knowing the danger apprehended on account of the flimsy manner in which Matches are generally packed in paper, has by the aid of New Steam Machinery of his own invention, succeeded in getting up a PATENT SQUARE UPRIGHT WOOD BOX; this box is far preferable, in as much that it occupies no more room than the old round wood box, and contains at least two hundred per cent more Matches, which to Shipper is a considerable advantage; it is entirely new, and is secure against moisture and spontaneous combustion, dispels all danger on transportation by means of Railroad, Steam boat or any other mode of Conveyance. These Matches are packed so that one gross or more may be shipped to any part of the World with perfect safety. They are the most desirable article for Home Consumption, and the Southern and western market that have ever been invented. JOHN DONNELLY, 106 North FORTTH St. Philad'a. Phila. Dec'r 4, 1854.

FRENCH TRUSSES, Weighing less than 2 1/2 ounces, for the cure of Hernia or Rupture acknowledged by the highest medical authorities of Philadelphia, incomparably superior to any other in use.—Sufferers will be gratified to learn that the occasion now offers to procure not only the best, but the most durable as durable a Truss as any other, in lieu of the cumbersome and uncomfortable article usually sold. There is no difficulty attending the fitting, and when the pad is located it will retain its position without change. Persons at a distance unable to call on the subscriber, can have the Truss sent to any address, by remitting five dollars for the single Truss, or ten for the double—with measure round the hips, and stating size ascertained. It will be exchanged for the best fitting, by returning at once, unsoiled. For sale only by the importer, CALBET H. NEEDLES, Corner Twelfth and Race streets, Philadelphia. Persons requiring the benefit of Mechanical Support, owing to the derangement of the Womb, Vesical, Dyspeptic, Nervous and Spinal Weakness, are informed that a competent and experienced LADY will be in attendance at the Rooms, (not part for their exclusive use) No. 114 TWELFTH St., 1st door below Race, July 26, '54.

GRATIS! Just Published—A new DISCOVERY IN MEDICINE.—A few words on the Rational Treatment, without Medicine, Spasmodics, or local weakness, nervous debility, low spirits, lassitude, weakness of the limbs and back, indigestion and it capacity for study and labor, dullness of apprehension, loss of memory, aversion to society, love of solitude, mildity, self distrust, dizziness, headache, involuntary discharges, pains in the side, affection of the eyes, pimples on the face, sexual and other infirmities in man. The important fact that those alarming complaints may easily be removed WITHOUT MEDICINE, is in this small tract clearly demonstrated, and the entirely new and highly successful treatment, as adopted by the Author, fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to cure himself perfectly and at the least possible cost, avoiding thereby all the advertised nostrums of the day. Sent to any address, gratis and post free, in a sealed envelope, by remitting (not paid) two postage stamps to Dr. B. DeLancy, 17 Lispeard street, York. March 1-ly.

ATTENTION DYSPEPTICS.—Those of you who have been afflicted for years with this distressing disease, and who have been using almost every Nostrum before the public without relief, we say to you try "Kliffor's Anti-Dyspeptic" and you will soon be convinced of its great superiority over every other preparation. A few could be mentioned, but every one is enabled to cure himself perfectly, but a single trial is worth more than all. This remedy is prepared and sold at the Drug Store of B. J. KEFFER, 84th Hanover street, a few doors south of the Court House, Carlisle.
