THE CHILD SEER.

Jenny, the maid. The two women concealed themselves so effectually in the thick under brush, that they remained undiscovered, though the shouts of the savages came to their ears with horrible distinctness, and even the blaze of their burning home reddened the sunlight that struggled through the thick foliage

When, at length, the party left the little valley, it passed within a few yards of the fugitives. Oh! how fervently the mother thanked God that her haby slept tranquilly on her bosom, and by no cry betrayed their hiding place! They did not venture to leave their leafy sanctuary until eventing. They were on the side of the clearing opposite the barvest-fields, and near the road leading to Cherry Vally. This they found, and set out at once for the self ement, which they reached in safety about midnight, and were kindly received at one of the fortified houses. The next day a party of brave men, moved by the passionate entreaties of the two young women.
