Anecdote for Farmers.

We have seldom read anything more sensible or apropos than the following remarks and anecdotes from that excellent cotemporary, the Maine Farmer, illustrating the importance of the proper care of stock :

We may send to England for Durham cows, or to Spain and Germany for the choicest sheep ; we may search the world over for cattle that please the eye; but unless they receive the best care and liberal feeding, they will most assuredly deteriorate and eventually become as worthless and unworthy of propagation as any of the skeleton breeds that haunt our rich but neglected pasture lands .- We remember an anecdote in point, and will relate it by way of illustration : 0

A farmer having purchased a cow from a country abounding in the richest pasturage, upon taking her to his own inferior pastures; found that she fell short of the yield which he was informed she was accustome I to give .- He complained to the gentleman of whom he had purchased, that the cow was not the one he bargained for, or, in other words," that she was not what she 'was cracked up to be.'

'Why,' said the seller, 'I sold you my cow, but did not sell you my pasture too.'

The above, which we cut from an exchange, reminds us of a reply which a shrewd old farmer, whom we knew many years ago, made to one of his neighbors. The latter had obtained some pigs from a man residing several miles off, and who because intelligent, particularly surpassed his neighbors in raising. Shortly after, meeting the old gentleman referred to, he says:

Well, Mr. Sweetser, I'm going to beat you raising hogs this year. I've got some of J. M____'s breed." "A-a-h," bawled out the old man,

"you'd better get the breed of his hog trough !"

Iowa.

A correspondent of the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser speaks as follows of this young and growing State :

"Iowa with its 50,000 square miles of territory was a perfect wilderness twenty-five years ago, and in 1840 con-tained only 43,112 inhabitants. Ten years later its population was over 165, 214-an increase of three hundred and forty-seven per cent. Five years ago it had 824,680 acres of improved land, and ses for gentlemen are*still to be found by paying for them; a first rate one stands you $300." A Utica, N. Y. pa-per states that a gentleman is now in that city purchasing carriage and saddle horsos for the Paris Market .--- Wool Graver and Stock Register.

the value of farms was $16,657,567. In this young State, there are to-day fifty thousand horses, a large number of milch cows; and nearly as many working oxen, 'a hun red and seventy thousand sheep and five hundred thousand swine; and the value of live stock cannot be much short of five millions of dollars. It now vields annually upwards of two millions bushels of Indian corn. Iowa will certainly be the New York of the west in agricultural point. She has 4000 square miles of territory more than the Empire State, and now only four or five persons to the square mile, while New York has nearly seventy. Iowa has a million and a half acres of good land unimproved. When all her agricultural sources are dev loped, when she ships her hundred million bushels of corn annually, by one or more of her 'Pacific railroads,' to China and the Islands along the route, then will the Union feel enriched by the Iowa link in the chain of western commonwealths.' Bishop Lee, of Iowa says that such is the great depth and extraordinary tertility of the soil, and such its ready proximity to market, that Iowa connot fail of being one of the leading agricultural States in the Union. Already it is giving homes to emigrants at the rate of 100,000 a year.
