Carlisig, March 4, 1857.

THE NEW ADMINISTRATION.

Mr. Buchanan was to leave Wheatland for Washington on Monday, and we hope arrived there safely. The rush of visiters to the inauguration, which takes place to-day, has been immense, and the demonstration promises to be of the most imposing character. The last rumor in respect to Pennsylvania's representation in the Cabinet is that Arnold Plumer, of Venango county now in the board of Canal Commissioners, has been selected as Post Master General.

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES.

We learn from Harrisburg that the democratic nominees for the next campaign, as fixed by the State Convention lows :-- For Governor, William F. Pack er, of Lycoming county; Judge of the Supreme Court, Ellis Lewis, one of the present Court; / Canal Commissioner Nimrod Strickland, of Chester County. The proceedings of the Convention were warm and exciting. Ool. J. W. Forney was present and delivered an ac dress at the opening. He made a very delicate allusion to the election of U.S. Senator, saying that not withstanding the great democratic triumph in the Presidential election, the usages of the party had since been violated and their tri umph was suffered to rot away under their feet. After a stormy debate. James M. Anderson was rejected as a delegate from York, under the allegation that. he influenced Mencar to vote for Gen. Cameron. The ballotings for Governor amounted to near fourty and Packer at last succeeded over Black and Witte, by a majority of one or two. Cumberland County's candidate for the Supreme Bench was again " sot back," and Judge Lewis who didn't want the nomination got it, as of course he knew he would. The Union State Convention will meet on the 25th inst., when if a judicious se lection of candidates is made, we may enter the field with a fair prospect of success. UNION OF THE OPPOSITION .--- The Opposition look forward to the meeting of the Republican State Convention, at Harrisburg, on the 25th of March, with deep interest. - The Lehigh Register says quite a number of names have been suggested by the press in different sections for the various offices, and from their tone we are led to believe that both Republicans and Americans, are agreed to overlook the distinctive features of their respective organizations, and go for the men who will be best able to cope with and overpower the sham Democracy. The lesson of last year is fresh in the minds of every one, and it would be strange indeed if a few miserable disorganizers are permitted to repeat the game that proved so disastrous in the Presidential contest -- With pru dent management the future of the Op position in this State is full of hope. The majority of the voters of the Commonwealth are with us, and it only remains that our force should be united and rendered effective to bear .down all opposition an put an end to the reign of the sham Demogracy, in the Keystone State.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 25. Some excitement was produced in the House f Representatives this morning by certain disalosures made by the Speaker, affecting the integrity of a reporter or reporters in the House. Tuesday is the day set apart, by a rule of the House, for the consideration of private bills. These bills are printed on the calendar, which is placed on the deak of each member. A single objection knocks a bill off bill over, and it will again come up on the calendar. The Speaker stated that these bills had been objected to, which were of interest to his constituents ; that a friend of his, wh was interested in their passage, was approach ed by a reporter, and told that if he would pay $800. he (the reporter) would have the objections removed; at the same time stating that the objections were made by his friends, who would withdraw them at his request.

The gentleman refused to pay the sum do manded, and disclosed the matter to the (done by a two-thirds rote. They were sever-ally postponed on pecond read ag. A resolution was adopted by the House to appoint a committee for the purpose of inves-tigating the case noticed by the Speakor, and the conduct of reporters generally. This bol-currence arises entirely, out of the very objec-tionable notice which a single member has of tionable power which a single member has a "objecting bills off the calendar, giving as i "does, to any one nember the right 'to delay or prevent the passage of a private bill, from week to week. This is often done by way o rataliation.
