Character army beath from the

VOL. LVII.

CARLISLE.

PA., WEDNESADY MAY 20. 1857.

PUBLISHED FOR THE PROPRIETOR BY WILLIAM M. PORTER.

Miscellancous.

ATOTICE OF APPEALS.—The Commissioners of Cumberland County have fixed upon following times, at the Commissioner's Office, in Car-, for holding the appeal for the several Townships Borouths in said County, pper Alicu, Lower Allen, New Cumberland, on Mon-

Ay, April 23th.

Est. Pounsborough, North Middleton, Shipponsburg ownship, on Tugaday, April 28th.

Dickinson, Hopowell, on Wodnesday, April 29th.

Silver Spring, Frankford on Thursday, April 35th.

Solpponsburg Borough, Newrille, on Friday, May 1st.

Harmada, Mannes on Saturday, May 2d. lekinson.

Hyer Spring, Frankford.

oliponaburg Borough, Newville, on Friday,

Lampden, Monree, on Saturday, May 2d.

Kastpensborough, Miglin, Monday, May 4th.

South Middleton, Newton, on Tuesday, May 5th.

Carlisia and Mechanicsburg, on Wednesday, May 6th.

Southampton, on Thursday, May 7th.

GEORGE M. GRAHAM,

GEORGE M. GRAHAM,

Comth'rs. W. M. HENDERSON,
ANDREW KERR,
Comm'rs. Office, Carlisle, April 16, 1857.

NEW FIRM!—NEW GOODS!— PARIS & KNIGHT, Late of Philadelphia, Fapor Hangings, House, Sign, and Decorative Paluters Initators of Wood and Marble, challenge all others to compute with them in the various branches of the above

PAPEL Having fitted up our store for the exclusive sale of WALL PAPEIR, BO RD EIR. FIRE BOARD PRINTS, WINDOW CORTAINS, SHADES, &c., we respectfully invite the public to an examination of our stock, from which we are confident of giving entire satisfaction to all who favour us with a call. Our goods having been selected with care from the first manufactures in Philadelphia, will be furnished at the lowest prices. All orders for Paper Hanging or Painting promptly and personally attended to and executed in a workmanlike manner.

iptly and personally attended to and executed in innalike manner.
J. W. PARIS, Practical Paper Hanger.
H. F. KNIGHT, Practical Paper Hanger.
the Hanover street, next door to Hannon's Hoteled Paper. South Hanover stre Carlisie, Pa. April S. 1857.—6m.

NUMBERLAND VALLEY BANK PROPRIETORS.
WILLIAM KER, MELCHOR BRENNEMAN, —
ROBERT C. STERRETT, JOHN DUSLAP,
RICHARD WOODS, JOHN S. STERETT,
JOHN C. DUNLAP,
HENRY K. STURGEON.
JOHN C. BUNLAP,
BUSHNESS IN the name of KER.

RICHARD WOODS,
JOHN S. STERRIT,
JOHN C. DUNLAP,
HENRY A. STUDGEN.
This Bank, doing business in the name of KER, BRENNEMAN & CO. is now fully propared to dea geneard Banking Business with promptiness and delity—Monoy received on Deposit and paid back on demand without notice. Interest paid on Special Deposits.— Certificates of Deposit, bearing interest at the rate of FIVE PER CENT. will be issued for as short a period as FOUR MONTHS.

Interest on all certificates will peace at weight t on all certificates will coase at maturity.

ARBIVAL OF FALL GOODS FOR 1856.

ARRIVAL OF FALL GOODS FOIL 1856.

The subscriber has just opened in the storistoon formerly occupied by Geo. W. Hitner, on the corner of the public square. Main street, near the Market House, and adjoining the Jewelry Store of Wn. B. Nangle, an entirely n w and splendid assortment of Fall and Winter Goods—comprising the latest styles of HATS, CAPS. JUQUIS AND SHOES, of every virtely and fluish.

His Hats consist of extra fine Moleskin, Beaver, Pearl, Clarck, Kossuth, Sporting Hats, &c. Also.Straw Hats of all varie ties. These HatS are manufactured by Oakford. Morris & Co., and other celebrated hatters of Philadolphia. He has also every variety of h. me manufacture. All these goods he will guarantee to give entire stiffection.

satisfaction.

His stock of Shoes is made up of every variety and style from the cheapest to the best article in the market, and cannot full to please.

He respectfully solvitist the patronage of the public, feeling confident that he can sell the cheapest and best each in the converted. J. B. KELLER.

Sep. 17, 1856. HARD WARE SPRING ARRIVAL

IMMENSE STOCK OF HARDWARE. DIMEASE STUCK OF HARDWARE.

The subscriber has just returned from the Eastert lites, and would call the attention of his friends an he public generally to the large and well-selected as returned of HARDWARE which he has now on hand; his lating in part of BUILDING MATERIALS, such as its Serews, Hinges, Roits, Locks, Glass of every deription and quality, such as Common, White, polished merican, French, Enamelled and Double thick of all tes, Paints, Oils, Varnishes, &c., &c.

Cauvags, Cioth, Dannass, Fring, Law, Scool Spring Belts, &c., &c.
Cablinet Makers will find a large assortment of Varnishes, Oak, Walnut, and Mahogany Veneers. Knobs of all kinds and sizes, Mouldings, literts; Hair Cloth, Plush, Curled Hair Chair and Sofa Spongo, &c., &c.
Housekeepers will also find a large assortment of Kaiveşiand Forks, Bratannia, Albata and Silver Plated Table and Tee. Spons, Caullesticks, Walters, Shovels, and Tongs, Iron and Brass, Kottles, Pans, &c., together with Colverage of all kinds, such as Tubs, Buckets, implements, embracing Plows of all kinds, es, Shovels, Rakes, Forks, Chains, &c. diffrators, Ilbes, Shovels, Rakes, Forks, Chalus, &c. IRON, a large sto k, comprising all kinds in general io, which I am selling at city wholesdlo prices. Remember the cid stand, East $\frac{1}{2}\

GREAT ATTRACTION!—A. G. Carnels-rend the public generally that he has reput-chased that well known DAGURICAEN GALLERY, in Mari in Hall, formerly occupied by Goo. M. Hoffer. The Carisle and the public generally tunk he has reperchased that well known DAGURIAAN GALLERY, in Marior Hall, formerly occupied by Goo. M. Hoffer. The Gallery is now on the second instead of the third floor. This will be a great inducement to the diffy people in particular, as it is easy of access. The rouns have been fitted up a superior style, and no pains will be spared to make it a Filtst Charle Adaller Y.—The apparatus used is of the best quality. We receive our materials direct from the manufacture in New York city, which enable as to be in receipt of all the latest styles of lange and other cases, and we warrant them to be of a superior quality to any over offered for sight in the stellity. I have placed in this Gallary an artist who has been in the coalcay in the Gallary an artist who has been in the coalcay in the Gallary an artist who has been in the coalcay operation in the Gallary an artist who has been in the coalcay of the co We invite all to call and examine our specimens, where they want pictures or not; then judge for the ming, manufactured and language water free cooking stores, thras Kettles, &c. Also, overy article in the line of Tin and Copper Ware. The public are respectfully invited to call as he is confident with his large stock, variety, and cheapness, of being able to give on tire satisfaction to every purchaser. Call and see.

DREPARE FOR WINTER!

Oct. 25, 1854.

M. WORRIS

TEW SAW MILL.-The undersigned would inform the public that he has lo-cated a Saw Mil, three miles from Mount Holly, on the road to Laurel Forge, and its now prepared to saw all the various sizes of YELLOW PINE OAK and CHESTRUM TAHLER, which are usually waited. He is also pre-pared to saw and furnish Chestnut and Pine SHIN-GLES to order. Also, PLASTERING LATHE. Those LES to order. Also, PLASTERHING LATTIS. Those estring these articles are requested to send in their riters.

S. N. DIVEN.

Papertown, March 4:—6 mos.

NEW GROCERIES! choice selection of Operation of every variety, in-ding spices and Teas have been added to our former ortment, among which may be had strictly prime RIO, JAYA, LAGUYRA MOCHA COFFES.

together with a general assortment of BRILWA & WITTER, SUGARS, including Grashed, Gyalulated, Palyertzed, and Clarified Sugars. Also a lot of New Cheese, Fareira, Corn Euroch, Martard, Cheestate, & Also Green and Black Tons, of Jonkiu's select brand. Tone, of Jonkin's select brand.
For sale at the lowest priors at MARION STALL GROURRY by (Oct 21).

TEW GOODS .- The subscriber has just opaned a variety of Listics Talmay, Broche, Long and Square Shawks, Blanket-Ehawks, Merimes, House de Letines, Glughams, Calloose, Blan-kets, &c., to which he invites the attention of the Li-dius. GEO. W. HITNSK: Doetru.

"For the Herald." n hearing her exclaim, "Oh! I cannot trust to myself."

Trust in God.

BY LILLIE LEE. I the clouds above thee lower-Trust in God. If the waves around thee tower, Never caust thou, feel their power, If thou, in that stormy hour, Should'st thou taste the oup of sorro Trast in God. If the light of faith thou'lt borrow, Grief to thee will lose its horror, And will vanishere the morrow. Trust in God.

When in deep and dark distress, Trust in God. When thine enemies oppress. He will all thy wrongs redress And to thee, thy sufferings bless, Trust in God.

Does thy lot seem hard to bear? · Trust in God. Never yield to sad despair. Cast on Him thy every care, Trust in God.

Select Cale.

THE MURDERER'S PARDON.

The winter of affliction, the hot sun of Ibe ris, and fatigues of many a field of chivalry, and robbed six-and twenty summers of their gladsome beauty, giving to the warrior Pilgrim an appearance matured and scilate. Tall and finely proportioned, his mien was dignified, while his features regular and handsome, Interest on an extinence will coase a landuly provided, however, that if said certificates are renewed at any time therefore for another given period, they skill bear the sainerate of interest up to the time of ronewal. Particular attention paid to the collection of Notes, Dratts, Checks, &c., in any part of the United tates or Canadas. TEW HAT, CAP, AND SHOE taches and Spanish costume. In the front of his brond flapped, upwards turned hat, he wore a scallop shell, which showed that he had been on a pilgrimage to the shrine of San Jago de Compostello. He rode an Andalusian jennet, black as jet, excepting a white star in gin forgive me. the centre of the forchead, and a white ring above the hoof of the near hind leg. At some said the farmer, 'thou knowest not what thou distance behind him rode, on an English horse, sayest.' his Bisenyan valet, leading a Spanish mule loaded with the baggage and arms of the Pil-

Guilt-deep and fearful crimes-but in their youth he had felicitated himself in the success | not know, in leed !' of a midnight fraud; but when the morning & Ay, av, you heard enough I doubt not, lawned, and the terrible truth became, known to his victim, reason from that hapless fair one fled, and his own avenging brother fell beneath his unwilling sword. that scence of horror! How profound had lady did not go stark staring mad!"

The turrets, clustered chimneys, high roofs. notched gables, and bay windows of a mansion the main body of which was concealed by some majestic limbs; the sun was sinking behand the distant woods, and darted a parting beam on that battlemented tower. The gold- Charles having done all these horrors?' on light faded away, and a purple haze every moment deepened into a more sombre gloom ; that golden gleam was like one moment of life-that gloom the years that follow-the served, at a furlong's distance, a cluster of good wife. What do you say is your masbuildings, corn and haystacks, a pend, a fine ter's name ? REPARE FOR WINTER!

The subscriber at his old stand on North Hanver st. Carlisto, the sign of the "Mammoth Red Coffee Pot" derives to call the attention of the public to his large as orthont of SLUXES, of the newest and most fashionable styles, from the best manufactories in the country, and at all prices from $3 to $15.

Among his PAREJE & CHAMBER FOVES.

Also, Even and additionable or coal.

Also, the Dining Room Cooking Stove—a new and elegant article, to which he invites the particular attention of families. His cooking stoves range in price, from the state of the substantial English yeoman: in connexion with which was, it to 25, with the dixtures complete. Also, Nine Plate 8. ves of various patterns and different prices.

Also, ENAMELLED AND TEINED WARE for Cooking Stoves, Brass Kottles, &c. Also, every article in the line of Th and Comper Ware. The public are respectash, an aged, almost leafless onk, und some sions, from the granary to the cow house and and haystacks of sufficient magnitude to prove the rural wealth of the owner. As the traveller approached, the large mastiffs, chained in the yard, growled, and the unrestrained ours and terriers ran to meet him, yelling and barking incessantly. The yeomen bimself, with two or three children, and a farm servant, stood in the yard, gazing on the approaching stranger in silent wonder, but he was courteous and bland in his man ners, and when he craved shelter for himself and servant for the night, the farmer dropped his fears of freebooters, and opened his gate with a frank and kindly welcome. The mule | why in that was the madness of the whole ! was unloaded, and the farmer's lads taking

When the stronger had finished a homely his former position, repast and was seated on a high backed setter Do you think; sir, Master Charles knew to the right of the fire and his bost on one they were married ! said the good wife, after apposite, while in a corner, will nearer the ca. a pause, with the feminine that at cross exparious chimney, up which a coulded the blue amining, for which some members of the legal smoke from the blazing wood fire, sat the nged long robe so greatly pique themselves. 1.

The second of the gable industry a large stocking of blue worsted The good wife was still bustling about, and two comely wenches were putting the house in order; while leaning against a long and high dresser, were three or four youths, whose sleek and rosy faces, and vacant expression of countenance, were strongly contrasted with the swarthy and shrewd visage of the Biscayan valet, who stood a little distant from where his master sat. The young children were seated on stools or on the floor, amusing thomselves with a kitten, but occasionally-stesling a look of fearful inquiry at the travellers.

The stranger sat some time musing; his yes fixed on the crackling and blazing billets; which fitfully lighted the more prominent objects in the irregularly built chamber, while it left others in impervious gloom. At length he addressed some observations to his host on matters likely to be interesting to him, and, in the course of a somewhat desultory conversation, let full that he had himself recently arrived from Spain, and not being pressed for time on his journey to London, would like to tarry a few days at the farm if agreeable to the host. After sundry deprecatory apologies for the lowliness of the abode and fare for a gentleman of the stranger's supposed rank, his proposition was agreed to The point beng arranged, the stranger again spoke of the urrounding country, and at last mentioned the ivy-clad tower of the church he had seen in the distance with the castellated mansion beyond it.

'I never like to look at either,' said the far ner, ' and am glist it is not our parish church.' . Why ?' said the stranger, and the next oment seemed to regret that he had naked the question.

Because you see sir, I loved the old night, said the farmer, the was a good friend o me when a friend was most needed. The stranger shaded his eyes from the fire, out did not speak.

'I benr, resumed the farmer, 'that the cirs-at-law are claiming the estate, as though Master Charles were really dead.'-'And so he is,' said the goodwife stopping in the middle of the kitchen. 'It was out of nature that a ship could ever cross the sea with such a fiend on board-the blessed Vir-

· Hold thy peace, Bridget, hold thy peace !'

· Not know ! said Bridget, coming forward, then I should like to know who should know if I don't. Was not my poor sister-Heaven rest her soul! sworn gossin to Alice Mayfield. mormity wholly unpremeditated, had banish, the still woman of the hall, and did not Alice ed him's voluntary exile from his native land. | tell the whole rights of the story to my poor In the unthinking, impassioned rashness of sister, and did not Kitty tell them all to me?

> said the farmer; 'but I don't believe all I hear.'

· Then you ought to be ashamed of yourself for doubting honest folks,' said Bridget; 'but With what deep anguish had be fled from I suppose you won't say the poor dear young that scence of horror! How profound had American, French, Enamelied and Double thick of all sheep, Faints, Oils, Variables, &c., &c.

1018—Including Edge Tools of every description, Easy, Irans, Brace and Bitts; Augers, Squares Guages, Files, Rasps, Hannuers, Vices, Anvil, Scrow Plates, Blacksutths Bellows, &c., &c.

Shoemakers and Saddlers will find a large assortment of Tools of every description, together with Ladies' and Gontlomen. Moreous Limit, Bladdle Trees, &c., and Saddlers, will find a large assortment of Tools of every description, together with Ladies' and Gontlomen. Moreous Limit, Bladdle Trees, &c., and Saddlers, will find a large assortment of Tools of every description, together with Ladies' and Gontlomen. Moreous Limit, Bladdle Trees, &c., and Trimmings of all kinds. Harness Mounting, Collars, Oiler, Moss, Akles, Spring, Belts, &c., &c.

As he pow traversed the border, of Hamp-thing that incarnate field by the total straining and! The stranger groaned.

And that incarnate field but looking at the stranger instead of at her shirt, and easy to youth; the pleasure they would have excited was changed into Husband, and as she thus plunged into the very middle of the tragical story, the various agony, as they reminded him with all the virging state. There was some sad mistake, said the farmer state of the family silently closed around. There was some sad mistake, said the farmer state of the stranger groaned.

The stranger groaned.

And that incarnate field, Madt him to glos that the following personed. And that incarnate field to the stranger groaned.

And that incarnate field to the stranger groaned.

And that incarnate field to the stranger groaned.

And that incarnate field the total stranger groaned.

And that incarnate field the total stranger groaned.

And that incarnate field the total stranger groaned.

As he pow traversed the border, of Hamp-thing the pleasure of the stranger groaned.

As he pow traversed the border, of Hamp-thing field, March the pleasure of the stranger groaned.

As he po

* Mistake ! oried his wife. 'What were they mistaken who found Master Edward run were seen, for a moment, through an opening through the body with his own brother's of the trees; and more continually, from its sword? Were they mistaken who watched elevated site, the ivy clad tower of a church, the poor crazed lady? Was the old father mistaken when he followed his son and her to the grave, and was laid down in it himself, within three short months of that serpent The stranger abruptly rose and walked from the cottage. The wife looked at her husband, and the husband at the wife. . Thou art always talking about what thou knowest nothing of,' said the farmer 'If I had I should not have been heeded,' said the dame significantly, - and I will - make no bed to night for nobady knows who with the Wight, goody,' said the farmer.

*I beg pardon, young man,' said the wife to the Biscayan, ' Who is your master?' 'Non Inglesi, senora,' replied the Spaniard, bowing. . I never heard the name before,' said the

"Non-Inglesi, senora," was the reply, and none other could she obtain fom the honest

Biscuran. "I believe he can't speak English," said the good wife to her husband, which is a proof, that he is no better than his master, and so I think the sooner we send them both spacking

The stranger re-entered the cottage, his face, in spite of a southern sun, was pallid, his eyes heavy, and the expression of his countenance full of melancholy. The farmer filled a horn of nut brown ale, and presented it with a kindly manner to his guest, who declined not the well meant offer; but the good wife pig-sty, and beyond these a cluster of corn had certain vague suspicions and imaginings, to satisfy which she would not let the subject > drop. So, as I was saying, sir, and she addressed ierself directly to the stranger, when poor Mirtress Amelia died-...

The stranger again raised his hand to his forehend. This breen hearted old knight had her name put on the coffin as the lawful wife of his poor murdered son-what do you think of that, sir ?'

'Think!' said the stranger, turning his end, and looking so wildly; in her face that the good wife started two paces back. * Think! The blessed Virgin protect us l' ejaculated the good wife, ' why they were not all mad.' The stranger, recovering himself, resumed mother of the yeoman, knitting with indefati- If he had he would indeed have been the ful wife!" 'Woman! why speak you thus!' said the 'To rest!' muttered the excited hostess.

The second second

The stranger rose, but recovering his self- plumed bonnets to the cavalier. ression, he resumed his state and seemed and single-minded host, of cafile, corn, and but for this brave fellow !' pastures : leaving the hostess to bustle about, and prepared her best bed for the stranger, for your grace.' and when she again approached the kitchen with his moustaches.

voice and manner as though her beloved Kings royal word it shall be granted, were in the hands of the evil one.

But the child heeded her not. She took hold of his right arm. / 'Come to me, lammy,' she said coaxingly. No, I won't, said the child, I'll stop and sleep with gentleman-naughty mammy not make bed for nobody. The good wife colored, and looked for a mo ment in the now mildly smiling and handsome face of the stranger-so beautiful, he could not be bad !- it was impossible ! These are chords to a woman's heart, which, if touched are yours-no matter what else you be." From this moment all allusion to the tragionl events of bygone years were cerefully sojourned at the farm in uninterrupted quiet. His chief gratification appeared to be in penetrating the depths of the forest, in which he would wander for many hours apparently ab rorbed in thought, so much so that when his path was occasionally crossed by a countryman he seemed unconscious of the respectful salutation with which he would be greefed. Frequently had he approached that desert of sepulture, and he had not once entered heir immediate precincts. He had indeed istened to the garrulous chroniclings of the ged sexton, who, with bonnet in hund, had nvited him to enter and see the toombs, and ven the hall of which he had the charge; and when those offers were deconed, he seemy by relating many wonderous events of past and escort you to your home, if so it pleases cenerations; but none of which were so truly you. ppalling as the fatal one which has been aleady dimly sketched. To this ead tale, with ill its coloring, the stranger listened with constrained composure, but offered neither incrruption nor comment; but when after a hort silence, the sexton said, · Master Charles was a ed youth. I can even yet scarcely believe im capable of such fearful deeds-if he be live what a sorrowful heart he must have! oor fellow !-his good father prayed God to orgive him.'

The stranger breathed with difficulty. .

· God forgive him ! said the Sexton .--· God forgive him !' murmured the stranger, and drawing his hat over his brow, and touch- fully of marrying a young lady, for no better ing, in doing so, the scaleop of San Jago de qualifications than beauty, sense, and good-Compostello, he turned clowly awny, and was ness, without regard to those worldly consid-37.5

the stranger, buried in thought, was still live, a small estate in the Island of Ceylon; wandering in the forest. For some time the and to obtain a commission in a Dutch regiheeded, so completely was the agency of the the rank of lieutenant colonel. external senses in abeyance to the profound operations of all-absorbing mind, when a mile from the beautiful village of Negumbo, gazing on a cavalier of most noble presence, who was manfully contesting with his coulong cut-and-thrust swords. . stant on which side he should array himself, William, a child remarkable for his affectionand drawing his highly tempered steel of far ate temper, his intelligence and his beauty; famed Toledo, sprung forward to the succor upon whom both parents doted, more particuof the cavalier. Although thus placed, in larly, perhaps, his mother, whose own health point of numbers, on an equality, the ruffians did not give up the contest, but seemed to opposite directions, and in an instant disap-

· Then hast done well,' said the cavalier to words, approached the lady they had rescued.

tears: By holy Paul, said the chavaller, approaching, thou hast done me good service, ruffians for practical levers?"

The Indy sobbed but could not speak. their rescuer.

nuicit du tinoco sum

fiend you have styled him, said the stranger | ere too late, the foul assault ;-she's beauti Then as he was a friend of yours, sir,' said ful, i' faith, but I-like not tears-they spoil he good wife, 'I suppose you don't think the eyes; -cheer ye, cheer ye, lady, we'll here was any harm in his going under cover have aid anon.' And so saying, he raised a of the night, and passing himself as his broth- silver bugle to his lips, and sounded a call er, because he did not know the poor orphan that awoke a score of echoes in the forest These no sooner died away, than other horns adopted by his father was that brother's lawwere heard, and by and by, a crashing thro the trees, and trampling of horses, and yet w stranger sternly. 'I would retire to rest.' little while and hunters gaily apparelled came by ones, twos, and threes, galloping to the spot, who all, as they arrived, doffed their

'Ode fish ! my gallants," he said, with imo forget the presence of the person who had patient gesture, 'I owe you marvellous so greatly excited him. He spoke to his frank thanks! I should have been dead as Richard

'My liege!' said one, throwing himself muttering and glancing at him eyes of suspi- from his horse, and hending his knees to the cion and of dread. But her beart was not young King Harry the Eighth, we have been takind, and forgetting her threat, she went traversing the forest in all directions search-

. I like not such hooded hawks, said the fire she absolutely started on beholding her king. But as to you, Stanley-and the rest youngest and favorite child, a boy between mark me-I will grant this gentleman a boon, three and four years of age, standing on the when to ye I may say may.' So, turning to stranger's knees and laughing and playing the traveller, he said, Soho! brave pilgrim from San Jago, what boon thou askest, were *Come to me Willy, said the mother, with it the brightest jewel of my crown, on a

The stranger bent his left knee, and said looking in the king's face, "My liege it is the brightest jewel in your crown I claim.' "Ha!' exclaimed the king."

"Tis mercy !" said the kneeling pilgrim. So won, so pledged, so asked, replied the monarch, thou hast it were thou traitor to our-crown and life.'

"From such iniquity God shield me.' said the pilgrim. Mine is a private crime of deepest die." 'I grieve to hear such acknowledgment of guilt from one of such noble bearing,' said Henry; thut my royal word is plighted, and the great seal shall confirm thy pardon. God, not man must be thy judge.' avoided, and the stranger during some days

'My future life shall speak my gratitude,' said the pilgrim; and my penitence depreoate the wrathful judgment of God.' Arise, and tell me who thou art, said the monarch.-'Charles Brandon!' replied the pilgrim anding erect.

Hu! Charles Brandon!' exclaimed—the King, and all the courtiers looked with ind mansion, and the ivy clad tower, and field or eased curiosity at the pilgrim I have heard the tragedy of thy house; beswrew me but thy cunning feint had a doleful end, but thou shalt tell me the tale thyself. Gnd so! thou art marked for adventures !- here is our fair rescued demoiselle who hath gotten half a dozen knights to console her, while we are wasting time on perogative. Fair lady, we shall mount you on a gently-pacing palfrey,

> The rescued lady was with all care escorted to her home, and from the hour of that meeting with the king, the deep grief of the pilgrim began to soften, and then arose the bright star of Charles Brandon's splendid fortune.

> > THE LOST PEARL

"The gorgeous East, with richest hand, Showers on her kings barbaric pearl and gold." MILTON.

It was somewhere in the last quarter of the last century, that Charles Pemberton; the younger son of an ancient but impoverished family, having committed the old familioned soon lost in the deepening shades of the for- erations which modern prudence deems indispensable, esteemed himself most, fortunate to A fine autumnal day was closing in, and inherit, through the bequest of a distant relaclash of swords, and brief ejaculations of hu- ment serving in that colony, in which in the man voices, close at liand, were wholly un- course of fourteen or fifteen years, he attained

Living chiefly upon his own property, about iercing shrick tent the gates of the temple, amongst some of the finest scenery of Ceylonnd he started, completely awakened to sur, (which the inhobitants imagine to have been ounding circumstances. He had penetrated the abode of ou rfirst parents, the paradise of he very de the of the forest, in which huge the old world); enjoying an elegant compeaks throwing their knarled and fantastic irms around, gave with their sacred foliage; a wild horror to the scene. He beheld, leaning against a massive tree, a young and bendtiful female, overwhelmed with terror, and the country they loved so dearly, and the sotean de chasse, against the combined assaults successive deaths of several promising chitof two powerful and visored men, armed with lowed to the grave; and the only one who The stranger could not doubt a single in-rely on their more gigantic frames as superior dergone.

No tutor had been provided for Willy, to the more slight and elegant proportions of whom they intended hereafter to send to Engtheir error, and their blood began to flow land for education Meanwhile his father. thught him, when at home in the intervals of tual signal cry, they suddenly started off in duty, whilst Mrs. Pemberton supplied his place in his absence; but the active, lively boy was much about in the cinnamon planta tions (just then beginning to be cultivated by the few British residents on the islands.) his deliverer.

The stranger drew himself up, looked at ed Vinna, a man of remarkable quickness and much apparent fidelity; whilst on longer excursions, he was put in charge of a superior Her heart seemed too full for utterance: domestic servant, a Malay by the name of at length she happily burst into a flood of Gaturs, who, by his pliancy of manner, and powers of amusement, had greatly ingratiated himself with his young master.

So implicit was the colonel's confidence in which shall not be forgotten. Ode fish I what these dependents, especially in Vinna-for. which shall not be lorgotten.

a scrape I was in with those hig-boned knaves a scrape I was in with those hig-boned knaves there was an occasional expression in the dark eye of the Malay, which recalled to redark the denow on my hands;—pretty demoisting the was an occasional expression in the dark eye of the Malay, which recalled to redark the windle of the forest with two masked into the midst of this forest with two masked and oare, that it came upon him like no companions for precised layers? mon shook, to find, having contracted for the la she a stranger to you, sir? inquired sale of some essential oil of chamon (axtract-Never saw her in my life before, roplied en off in packing up the biles), and baving. the cavaller. Lost myself in hunting, and livery, that half-u-dozen bottles of this value-bottle, proved that they had been secretly and cence, except our friend Willy.

who had set so flagrant an example of dishonesty to the labourers under his charge.

exemplary.' Vinna listened in silent subnission, kissed the skirt of Willy's garment, nd departed.

For awhile the boy missed his kind and pearl fishery at Condatchy

"A gay and pleasant scene was this pearlbe East, from the rich travelling merchants felt, and he intimated to-Gatura his desire to the supply the great jewellers of our European cities, to the poorest of the Cinglese women and children, who hover around the sieves, and pour for days over the heaps of sand which have been thrown aside, in hopes of are, may forget; but, on my memory that day lighting upon the smallest seedling pearl, is burnt in characters of fire-when for strikcrowd the streets of the temporary town (at ing this horse, ay, this very horse, as Colonel other times a mere fishing village,) washing, sifting, boring, drilling, equabbling, and bar-gaining, in every variety of dialect and jargon; ed me with it, as if I had been a beast? I all intent upon the beautiful luxury destined grasped the crease in my bosom; but that to add a costlier splendour to the monarch's would have been a brief and common vento add a costlier splendour to the monarch's would have been a brief and common vengrown, or a rarer charm to the brow of beauty.

Willy was delighted; all the more delighted that he met his old friend Vinna, and that Vinna had been singularly prosperous. A light be hidden in the mount; that stripping are smooth to go the control of the beauty that pearls might be hidden in the mount; that stripping the decrease and searching the beauty and searching the beauty that person was not search to the beauty and the decrease and searching the beauty and the decrease and the beauty and the decrease and the decrease and the beauty and the decrease and the beauty and the decrease and the decr engaged divers on his own account, but had employed shall never come to tell your father that tale, thrown by after passing, or being supposed to pass, through the seives. Vinna had been fortunate enough to discover, in a portion which must have been spilled before being subjected to that process, a pear-shaped pearl of and frightened at some real or imaginary such size and beauty, as had not been found off the coast of Ceylon within the memory of the earth and rode rapidly away, leaving in the oldest trader connected with the fishery. the oldest trader connected with the hanery.

An agent of the King of Candy, specially des-ed after the oriental fashion round the waist patched by his royal master for the purpose of the Malay. A small packet dropped from of obtaining such a jewel, to gratify a fancy exitemit was the lost pear. ressed by his favorite wife, who wanted such a one to complete a set of ornaments, was at his presence of mind, the pocketed the that moment treating for it with his employer. Vinna ran to procure it to show to the boy, and placed it on a crimson shawl to display the shape and colour to the best advantage, far beyond his own knowledge he only plung-At Willy's entrenty, Colonel Pemberton also latura, who had accompanied them to Condatchy; and a little crowd of merchants and intives gathered round the place, enlarging fortune, or rather the extraordinary luck of tions for security on the branches of trees he tions for security on the branches of trees he climbed the toll trunk of the foggos to sleep. gree of carelessness, a pearl of such magni tude could have escaped from the seives.

Whilst these assistants, in the heat of their liscussion, stood divided into separate groups, and Colonel Pemberton, at Willy's entreaty, was speaking with a grave and measured kind ness to Vinua, his employer and the agent of the King of Candy having concluded their bargain, returned for the pearl. They applied o Vinna, who motioned to the shawl whic's lie had deposited on the top of a high covered daries of Candy. He, toc, poor child, was basket close behind him. The basket was heart sick and home sick. The high courage there, and the shawl; but the penri was gone? The consternation was general. Vinna wrung his hands in agony; the buyer and seller of the precious commodity were in equal dismay. Every man looked suspiciously on his fellow. Some disclaimed; some accused. Gatural who had stood nearest to the basket upon which the valuable jewel had been so unhappily left; insisted so vehemently upon being scarched, that rather to pacify him and rid themselves of his clamour, than from any positive mistrust, his dress and person were, as he desired subjected to a very rigorous examination; nothing, of course, being found that could implicate him in any way in the delinques. there, and the shawl; but the pearl was gone! of the second quency.

In the meantime, the less successful adventurers, who had before been loud? in the exdelight, clapped his little hands, together, and pression of their astonishment that such a blouted, Vinns I dear dear Vinns I. pearl could be found in such a manner, began to gather round Golouel Pemberton, to sxam respectful salutation, with his arms folded upine into the character which Vinna, whom on his bosom stood in the presence of the they understood from what had passed behautiful wife of the Gandian king. She listened to his little story, and listened pity-tween them, to have been heratofore employed tween them, to have been heretofore employed ingly, for the was a work, and incidently him, had been while in his service. The She promised with the grace of concluss powagent of the King of Candy, the purchaser of the pearl, and the speculator who had sold it, Lalso approached with the same view. Willy regarded the oll of cinnamon, whice she justly also approached with the same view. Willy auspected Gatura to have stolen, or the pearl, who, child as he was, as we the turn that mat-and with regard to the pearl or pearls, the tern were about to take, golded an opportunity mobile boy Willy, she made it her first business. to stabl towards his friend.

"Go, Vinna ! go!" said Willy ; and, with a sulden start, and a momentary pause, Vin- faithful Cinglese, ble oil, which sometimes sells as high as ten | na obeyed the injunction. , He disappeared pounds British a pint, were missing; and among the crowd; and, by the time that the hat, upon subjecting all concerned to an ex- questions that those interested had extracted amination, two of the very peculiar bottles, in from Colonel Pemberton the cause of his diswhich the oil had been contained, were found in a corner of Vinna's hut, behind the earthen termined called out to arrest him, he had vessels used for cooking rice! whilst another made such good use of his time, as completely was hidden between the brass basin and the to baille every effort of his pursuers: his flight, pestle and mortar, where the spices are whilst it saved him from almost inevitable pounded, upon the bench which surrounded punishment, producing upon every body, exthe apartment, and formed with the articles cept Willy, who did battle manfully in his bewhich we have enumerated, nearly—the whole—half, the most complete conviction of his guilt. of its simple furniture. The bottles were not It seemed as certain that he had stolen the nerely distinguishable by their fabric and pearl, --porbaps, that he had twice stolen itshape; but the strong aroma of the precious as that he had stolen the oil of cinnamon. commodity, and even a few drops left in the No one believed in the possibility of his inno-

NO. 37.

hastily emptied of their contents; and that . The boy and his father returned to Negum-Vinna, the trusted superintendent of this val- bo; and, in a little while, the colonel was inble manufactory, was himself the thief: onlied away on service; and Mrs. Pemberton After one simple but earnest denial of the being in delicate health, Willy was left much harge—a denial to which his master made no | to the care of Gatura, who spared no pains in other reply than pointing to the concealed his endeavor to win the favor of the lively bottles the delinquent attempted no further and spirited boy. He constructed a pad on . defence, but resigned himself tranquilly to which to take him before him on a blood whatever punishment the laws might decree. horse, belonging to the colonel, and carried; That extremity was, however, averted by the him every day upon some excursion to the ntercession of Willy, whose urgent entreaty cocoa groves (or topes) or the dreary forests for pardon for his friend was so far complied which surrounded their habitation. One day, with, that Colonel Pemberton contented him be took him to see the manner in which wild self with dismissing the favoured cervant, elephants are caught; and Willy was delighted with the sagacity and affection displayed by one of the tame ones, who apparently re-Remember, said his master, impressively, cognising an old companion in the largest of when paying the wages due to him and dis- those that had been enemared, actually opened charging him from 'his service, 'Remember, the fastenings of the gate for the release of that I have abstained from punishing you at his friend; thus showing, although enslaved the earnest solicitations of this child; but himself, his sense of the value of freedom. that if you ever again come before me for any Willy was enchanted; and on Gatura's dwellact of theft or fraud, the chastisement will be ling upon the grandeur and interest of a buffao hunt, never ceased importuning the Malay to afford him that gratification. One fine morning, accordingly they set forth professedly to witness this remarkable spectaleasant face in the cinamon plantations and cle. The high-bred steed carried them rapidbout the home grounds; but the griefs of ly through the cocoa tope; into the very depth childhood are enviably brief, and be had of the forest No sign appeared of the hunnearly forgotton his old playfellow, when he ters; but pleased with the beauty of the scewas thrown unexpectedly in his way many nery, the golden rays of the sun darting months afterwards, in a visit paid by himself through the shaddock and the tamarind, and and his father, attended by Gatura, to the resting on the beautiful fruit of the jambon, and amused by the variety of bright coloured birds and gorgeous butterflies, the boy took fishery. Thousands of persons, of all colours no note of the distance. At last as the day and nations, in the picturesque contumes of advanced the claims of hunger began to be return home. " Home!" said the Malay, in the low accent of bitter hate; " you never shall return, Do you remember the day-you, child as you Pemberton, my master, your father, was persons to examine the sand that had been unless, indeed, you can win your way through it—it was the lost pearl!

Hungry and bewildered as he was, the stout hearted boy lost neither his courage nor At Willy's entrenty, Colonel Pemberton also ed deeper and deeper in the forest. He advanced to admire the treasure, attended by avoided, however, with remarkable sagacity and boldness, the frequent dangers from anakes and wild animals, took refuge, under a talipot tree from a storm, which sent the shricking flor-mouse to the same friendly upon its merits, marvelling at Vinna's good shelter; and at night, remembering that the ortane, or rather the extraordinary luck of Cinglese sometimes constructed their habita

What was the agony of the berenve er during that long and solitary night! Gatura had not returned, and wholly unconclous of his treachery; the imagined that some fatal accident had happened to him and his charge. Massenger after messenger did she despatch in every direction; Colonel Pemberton was recalled; and every means taken that the most auxious affection could dictate, to recover the missing child.

He, meanwhile, wandered on, subsisting on wild fruits by day, and slouping in trees by night, until he had nearly reached the bounwhich he inherited from his father, roused at raged animal. Willy was saved ; and, turning to thank the friend to whose boldness and ad-her first pleasure; to send him home to his distracted parents, lader with presents, and accompanied by his brave preserver, the