SALE OF THE MAIN LINE .- Decision of the Supreme Court: This decision which was so anxiously looked for, was delivered on Tuesday by Chief Justice Lewis. The opinion of the Court is too long for our columns; the points decided are as follows.

1. That the Legislature had constitutional authority to authorize the sale of the Main Line.

2. That the Pennsylvania Railroad Company may lawfully become a purchaser at such sale. 3. That the Legislature have Consti tutional authority to repeal the tonnage

4. That the Legislature cannot bine the State by contract from imposing equal taxes, and that the condition of sale to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in that respect is void, and an injunction to that extent is granted.

5. That in all other respects the sale may go on and the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., may bid and purchase on the same terms as other corporations or indi viduals.

The decision concludes in these words There is no constitutional objection to the repeal of the tonnage tax, or another tax, whenever the Legislature, in the exeroise of their discretion shall think proper to pass such a law. The objection is to the sale of the taxing power in such a way as to put the resources of the State out of the reach of future legislatures. should the public necessities require a resort to them.

There is no legal objection to the sale of the Main line, nor to the right of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to become a competitor and purchaser, upon equal terms with every other person or corporation. The objection is to that part of the proviso, in the third section of the act of 16 May, 1857, which requires the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to bid $1,500 000 more than any other bidder and, in a consideration thereof, propose to release the said Company, and also the Harrishurg, Portsmouth, Mount Joy and Lancaster Railroad Company for ever, from the taxes therein stated. The injunction is to be awarded merely to prohibit a sale of the Public Works upon these terms .- All other parts of the act are constitutional. and there is nothing to prevent a sale to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company or any other corporation, or person or rsons, under the general provisions o the act.

On Thursday, the main line of the Public Works were sold at Philadelphic. in accordance with the act of assembly passed last session. 🐬

The president of the Central Railroad Company was the only bidder and the works were struck off, at$7, 500 000, the being the minimum price fixed by th

This town is in the heart of the noted for the fertility of its soil, the salubrity of its atmosphere, and the energy and industry of its inhabitants. A railroad passes within a hundred yards of the College, connecting at Harrisburg with the great lines of travel, lend ing to our large cities, thus rendering it easy of access from all sections of the country. A more beautiful and picturesque spot could not have been selected for its site. From the dome of the College, the most enchanting views spread out before the eye. The town of Mochanicsburg, reposing in queenly beauty just below, with its neat private dwellings and Christian temples, whose spires proclaim the appreciative regard of its inhabitants for morality and religion;—the highly cultivated farms, beautified with clumps of forest trees, and silvery streams which thread their way in various directions; --- and the bold, majestic ly, and sudden transitions, were made, from mountain, which furnishes a sublime background to the whole, constitute a panorama of surpassing loveliness. The College edifice merits special notice. It is built of brick, and is of sufficient dimensions to accommodate in the most comfortable manner, one hundred boarders. Its chambers are unusually large for an institution of this kind, and furnished in the most approved style. No pains seem to have been spared by its noble founder in his arrangements for the physical thealth and comfort of those who should seek instruction within its walls. Every room is furnished with registers for heat and ventilation, a most important feature in buildings ercoted for educational purposes. VISITOR. June 80, 1857.

MR. EDITOR. During last week, we had the pleasure of attending the closing exercises, of Irving Female College, located at Mechanicsburg, and under the charge of the Rev. A. G. Marlatt, A. M .- We were not only agreeably enter tained, but also highly gratified, with all the various exercises, and they reflected great credit both on the faculty of instruction, and on the students: The examination of the students, on Thursday, was one of the furrest, n. ever witnessed. They were examinedstopical one part of the subject to another, and to different subjects, yet all the answers, were prompt and correct. It was very evident that they fully understood what they were saying, and that it was not a imere recital from memory. The questions put, were of the mest searching character, and calculated to test most fully, each student's acquirements The examinations were interspersed with Essays and delicious Music; which, while it afforded a very pleasing variety, also showed the students' attainments, in those departments. We were much pleased with the beau tiful specimens of penmanship, which the young Ladies handed in as samples, and their drawing books, contained many fine specimens in that arr. All the drawings were made, without the aid of measurement, depending entirely on the eye, for correctness of outline, and proportion .- At the close of the examinations, the Rev. George Morris, pastor of Silver Spring Church, made some very approprinte remarks, expressive of the gratification he felt, while listening to the exercises, He complimented the young Ladies on the thouroughness which they evinced, and warmly recommended that they continue in the same course, and return next year, to complete their icademical education, under the same system He reminded them, that in an Institution. they did not receive a complete education, but that there, the foundation, is only laid, upon which the beautiful structure is, in after years, o be erected, and upon the solidity of tha oundation, depended the durability and use ulness of the edifice. He was followed by the Rev. A. A Reese of Carlisle, who said, that he fully endorsed the happy remarks of his Reverend friend; that he was surprised at the progress the young Ladies had made in the brief period which the Institution had been in operation, and that the remarkable degree of prosperity which had attended the College in this, its beginning, gave assurance that the day was not far distant when it would rank among the first in the land. Mr. Reese was followed by the Rev. R. D. Chambers, of East Baltimore Conference, who said that he recchood the sentiments of his predecessors, and that although he had, for a number of years been one of the examining committee to some one of the fan ale Institutions in the bounds of the late Balamore Conference, yet at no

On Thursday evening the Rev. Dr. T. Daugherty, of Dickinson College delivered a chaste and eloquent address before the young Ladies, of the Institution. His subject was Woman, and in the first part he portrayed, in a forcible manner, the true, relative social position of the two sexes, that the power of the one, resided in the head, the power of the other in the heart. That the empire of the one, is REASON That of the other Love. And those branches which are usually taught in the second part, behowed that christianity, alfirst class Institutions. On Thursday last, the way elevated woman to her proper position, young ladies underwent their first examile and that the Bible should be her great text book. He then showed the literary superiori ty of the Bible, over every other book, and for that consideration, should they carefully study it, even were there no other. The entire address was listened to with great interest, and produced a most happy effect. On Friday evening, the worthy principal and his lady, threw open the entire lower floor of the College, for the recoption of their friends Between six and seven hundred people assembled, and the evening was spent in a very de lightful manner. The Keyetone Cornet Band enlivened the scene with delicious music, and in addition to them, the walls of the music room re-echoed the liquid plane notes, blended with the melting vocal strains of fair songstresses. The whole was a most brilliant af fair, the light from the chandeliers was reflected on beauty's fair cheek, and the air rang with the merry laugh and gay-repartee, It was, we think, the largest social gathering of the kind ever assembled in our county, and n brilliancy it was never surpassed. Thus the whole exercises were of the mos felicitous character, and every thing went merry as a marriage-bell." All connected with the Institution have reason to congratulate themselves on a very successful closing, and we rejeice that there is being established in our county, an Institution of this character, one in which our daughters can be fully instructed and properly accomplished; and one that will reflect credit upon our val-

It has only been in operation since last October, yet it is now patronized by nine States. This will give it permanency, and establish it on a firm basis. In a few months it has extended its influence over more territory than other similar institutions have done, in as many years. Every one must see the beneficial influence exerted by bringing young la dies from different sections of our country and educating them together. One will have an influence on the other, and a benefit will be derived similar to that from travelling. We were much pleased with the excellent feeling which seemed to exist among the stu dents, and between the students and teachers. Gentl ness and kindness seemed to be the ruling power. The government is one of grea nildness, but of equal firmness." Harsh words and scolding have no place there, and this tends to devolope the better nature, and cultivates the finer feelings.

The building is of the first class order, in most thoroughly ventilated, and is heated by four large furnaces situated in the basement, each of which has a large reservoir for water, so that moistened hot air is sent through the building, of a character similar to that which comes from burning wood. We heard ecveral physicians remark, that as regards health, it During the evening, the Captain of which kindly vol. is the best constructed building they ever saw. We were shown around through the chambers, and found them very neatly and tastefully furnished, with all the conveniences of home, and that but two students occupied one room which is not the case in many of our institutions.

We understand that the prospects for next session, which opens on the first of September next, are very flattering, and that the building will be filled at a very early day. We purpose at another time to give a fuller description of the building and general management of the Institution.

He was removed to his residence, and the injury was attended by Dr. Dale. We can only guess, at the origin of the difficulty.

SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS .- We regret that other engagements, prevented us, from attending the annual examinations, of the common schools. We have been informed however, that the schools were well attended by the citizens, who seemed to be much gratified with the result of the examinations. Mr. Hickok, State Superintendant, was here part of the time, attending three of the schools, at one of which, he delivered a very chaste and instructive address to the pupils.
