FARM LIFE A SCHOOL OF TRUE MAN Hoop.—The men who have left their mark upon the ages in which they have lived, have done a great and noble work for the race, have been with few exceptions, men of noble physical mould. The foundation of their greatness and of their fame was laid in the patent, training of their physical powers.—Such a man was Washington, and most of the worthies who were associated with him in the struggle for our liberties. Such was Clay struggle for our liberties and Webster, and many of their contem poraries in our national Senate. Their early days were spent upon the farm, and the thoughts of their declining years were given to the improvement and the culti vation, and the embellishment of their respective homesteads. Ashland and Marshfield will long be scenes of pilgri mage-to the husbandman as well as the

The whole tendendy of farm life is to develope the bodyhealthfully and symmetrically. The child is not pent up in the narrow backyard of a city dwelling, not turned into the thronged and filthy streets to purate his sports. His eyes open first upon green fields and fragrant meadows and his first footfall out of doors is upon the matted grass beneath the shadowy trees of his rural home. He drinks in health from every breeze, and all the scenes around him call forth that playfulness which performs so important an office in our early training. And this leads us to speak of the influence of farm life upon the home virtues. No occupation can be more favorable to the cultivation of those qualities which are the charm of the domestic circle. The farmer is much more at home than is possible with any other men: How many there are in our cities, who only see their families at evening, or on the Sabbath. They live for their business, and this, from its location, takes them from home early and late. many from this same cause, forsake housekeeping and huddle into boarding-houses and hotels, where the charm and beauty of the family, as God instituted it, are entirely lost, and children fall under a thousand unfriendly juffuences that would never reach them at home! With the best arrangements wealth. can command in the city, it is well night impossible to keep children under the influence of their parents, so that they shall have a distinct family character, and bear the moral, as they do the physical image of their progenitors. Parental influence is dissipated amid the varied social influences to which they are subjected from their earliest days. Then what perplexities harrass the man of business in the city-his capital often invested in profitless enterprise, exposed to the depredations of dis honest men, betrayed, cheated, and ru-ined by knayes and bankrupts. From the very character of his business, he has to trust far more of his available means to the integrity of his fellows than the cultivator. His debts are often scattered over a wide extent of territory, and collections are not only expensive, but exceedingly uncertair. But his commerc' 1 eredit depends upon this uncertainty, and he is often compelled to fall back on nothing, a ruined man.

Ninty five failures in a hundred, among most business men in the city, toil a sad tale of the perplexity and sorrow, the corroding cares and anguish, of mercantile life. . How can a father, gooded with these anxieties, from the beginning to the end of the year, do justice to his children, even if his business allowed him to be with them a part of the time? He is no in a frame of mind to superintend their education and to perform a father's form preserves the family in integrity.-The home has in it that charming word, and that more charming thing, the fireside, around which parents and childrengather, and where the bright and-cheerful blaze-upon-the hearth is but a true type of the flame of love that glows in every heart. The parents have been drawn together, not by the sordid motives of wealth, or the ambitious desire of social display, but for the personal qualities seen in each other. The glery of the fireside to the husband is that the wife s there; and to the wife that he is there who is head of the woman, and the band in that home circle. Here they gather at morning and evening, and at noon. Their board is almost always surrounded with the same circle, and he e they spend helong winter evenings together. - Journal of Edu cation.

WORTH KNOWING .- One pound of green copperas' costing seven cents, dissolved in one quart of water and poured down a privy, will effectually concentrate and destroy the foulest smells. - For water closets aboard ships and steamboats, apout hotels tnd other public places, there is nothing so nice to cleanse places as simple green copperas dissolved under the bed in anything that will hold water, and thus render a bospital, of other places for the sick, free from unpleasant smells. For butchers' stalls, fish marke's, slaughter houses, sinks, and wherever there are offensive, putrid gases, dissolve copperas _and sprinkle_it_about,_and_in-a_few_days the smell-will pass away .- If a cat, rat or mouse dies about the house and sends forth an offensive gas place some dissolved copperas in an open vessel near the place where the nuisance is, and it will soon purify the atmosphere. SYRIAN WHEAT: A gentleman from Alabama received from the Patent Office some spring wheat, from the "Farm of Abraham," at the foot of Mount Carmel, in the Holy Land, which he sowed during the past spring. It came to maturity in seven weeks, producing a large, ful head, with a berry in every respect equal to the original. This wheat is reputed to ripen in Syria in sixty days from sowing. It will thus be seen that our climate hastened its period of maturity eleven days.

An Agricultural Society up in Vermont, offers the following premium: A heautiful silk dress(the color and quality to be optional with the fair recipient) to the maker of the best loaf of breadthe competitors to be unmarried ladies, and the committee of judges to consist of backelors and widowers. It is generally thought that bachelors in search of good housekeepers will be on hand at that agzioultural fair,

NEW AND IMPROVED POUDRETTF,

(Manufactured_from_the_night_soil_of_New_York_Clivy):
in lots to suit purclasers

This article (greatly improved within the last two years) has been in the market for eighteen years, and still defles competition, as a manure for corn or garden vegetables, being cheaper and more powerful than any other, and at the same time free from disagreeable edor.

Two barrols will manure an acro of corn in the bill, will save two-thirds in labor, will cause it to come up quicker, to grow faster, ripen catler, and will bring a larger grop on poor ground than any other fertilizer, and is also a preventative of the cut-worm; also, it does not injure the seed to be put in contact with it.

The L. M. Co, point to their long standing reputation,

Is required to cure any one troubled with Liver Complaints, unless the mest desperate of cases, when the second bottle will, with scarce a single failure, restore the patient to health and vigor. We wish to call the attention of all to these facts, that the Invigorator's compounded by a physician who has used it in his practice for the past twenty years with a success almost credulous, and that it is entirely vegetable, being composed wholly of gums.

Some idea of the strength of these gums may be formed when it is known one bottle of the invigorator contains as much strength as one hundred doses of Calomel without any of, its dejeterious effects.

One bottle is the surest thing known to carry away the had effects of minoral potent of any kind. Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness. OF CHOICE PARHING LANDS,
OF CHOICE PARHING LANDS,
In tracts o 40 acres and upwards, on Long credits and at Low Rates of Interest.

A Companyed by the Government to ald at Low Rates of interest,

These lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Rical, and are among the richest and most fortile in the world. They extend from North-east and North-west, through the middle of the State, t. the extreme South, and include overy variety of climate and productions found between those paralels of latitude. The Northern portion is chiefly prairie, intersporsed with fine groves, and in the middle and Southern sections timber, predominates, alternating with heautiful prairies and openings.

The climate is more healthy, mild and equable, than any other part of the country—the air is pure and aracing, while living streams and springs of excellent water abound.

Bituminous Gal is extensively mined, and supplies a aracing, while living streams and springs of excellent water abound.

Bi(auminous Ghal is extensively mined, and supplies a cheap and destrable fuel, being furnished at many points at $2 to $4 per ton—and wood can be had at the same rate per cord.

Building stone of excellent quality also abounds which can be precured for little more than the expense of transportation.

The great fertility of these lands, which are a black rich mould from two to five feet deep, and gently rolling,—their contiguity to this Road, by which every facility is furnished for travel and transportation, to the principal markets North, South, East, West, and the economy with which they can be cultivated, render them the meat valuable investment that can be found; and present the most favorable opportunity, for persons of industrious habits and small means, to acquire.

them the most valuable investment that can be found; and present the most have able opportunity, for persons of industrious habits and small means, to acquire, a comfortable independence in a few years.
Chicago is now the greatest grain market in the world—and the facility and economy with which the products of these lands can be transported to that market, make them much more profitable, at the prices asked, than those more remote at government rates—as the additional cost of transportation in a perpetual tax on the latter, which must be borne by the producer, in the reduced price he receives for his grain.

Sr. Paul, January 1, 1855. PROFESSOR O. J. WOOD.

PROFESSOR O. J. WOOD—

DEAR SIR:—Unsolicited, I send von this certificate. After being nearly baid for a long time, and having tried all the hair restoratives extant, and having tried all the hair restoratives extant, and having no faith in any, I was induced, on hearing of yours to give it a trial. I plaged mysolf in the bands of a barbar, and had my head rubbed with a good silf brush, and the restorative them applied and well rubbed in, till the scalp was in aglow. This I repeated every myrning, and in three weeks the young hair appeared and grew rapidly from August hast till the present time, and is now thick, black, and strong—soft and pleasant to the touch, whereas, before, it was harsh and wiry, what little there was of it, and that little was disappearing very rapidly. I still use your restorative about twice a week, and shall soon have a good and perfect crop of hair. Now, I had read of these things—and who has not? but have you ween hitchroting case where any persons half was really benefitsed by any of the bair tonice, etc., of the day; and it entily gives me pleasant to record the result of my experience. I have recommended your preparation to others, and it already has a large and generous scale throughout the Territory. The people here know its effects, and have confidence in it. The supply you sent us, as wholessle agents for the Territory, is nearly exhausted, and daily inquiries are hands for it. You serve credit for your discovery, and I for one, return you my thanks for the benefit it has done me, for I certainly had despoired long age of ever affecting any such result.

Yours hastily,

Yeurs hastily,

Firm of Bond & Kelley, Drugsists, St. Paul.

Dear Sin:—Having become prematurely quite gray; I was induced, some six weeks since to make a trial of your Restorative. I have used less than two bottles, but the gray hairs have all disappeared; and although my hair has not fully statined its original color, yet the process of change is graunally going on, and I am ingreat topes that in a short time my hair will be as dark as formerly. I have also been much gratified at the healthy misture and vigor of the hair, which before was harsh and dry, pud it-has coased to come out as formerly.

Respectfully yours, D. C. M. RUPP, Professor Wood. ... CARLYLE, Illinois, June 19, 1850.

I have used Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its wonderful effect. My hair was beening, at a thought promaturely gray, but by the use of his "feetarative," it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt, permanently so.
