

DAKOTA, PA. WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 19, 1887.

Union State Ticket, For Governor, DAVID WILMOT, of Bradford Co. For Judges of the Supreme Court, JAMES VEECH, of Fayette Co. JOSEPH LEWIS, of Chester Co. For Canal Commissioner, WILLIAM MILLWARD, of Philadelphia.

COUNTY CONVENTION. DELIBERATE ELECTIONS TO BE HELD ON SATURDAY, AUGUST 22d, 1887.

The Voters of Cumberland County, opposed to the present Democratic party, and in favor of the election of David Wilmot, and the Union State Ticket, are requested to meet in their several Townships, at the usual places for holding their elections, on SATURDAY, the 22nd inst., and choose two Delegates to represent them in a County Convention, to be held in Education Hall, in Carlisle, on TUESDAY, the 25th inst., at 11 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating a COUNTY TICKET, and transacting such other business as may be deemed advisable.

August 5th, 1887.

In pursuance of the above notice, all who are in favor of the election of the Union State Ticket, and opposed to the present Democracy, in the West Ward of the Borough of Carlisle, will meet at Hauser's Tavern, and those residing in the East Ward, at Heiser's Tavern, on Saturday evening next, at 7 o'clock for the purpose of electing two Delegates from each ward, to represent them in County Convention.

To Readers and Correspondents.

We have appropriated a large portion of the first page of our paper this week, to an article from the Philadelphia American, on the subject of the Pennsylvania Southern Railroad, to Pittsburgh and Wheeling. It is a matter of considerable interest to the citizens of this county, as the Cumberland Valley Railroad, will undoubtedly be a link, in that chain, and we think the time is not very distant, when the people of this section of the country, will have a direct communication with the west, without the necessity of going round by way of the Central route.

Many of our readers, will recollect a beautiful sentiment uttered by Prof. Caldwell, to his wife, when he was dying, and which was extensively copied by the Press. We omitted at the time to notice an original poetical article of rare merit, on that subject, published in the Herald of last week. It is the production of DILL A. SMITH, of Pittsburgh, whose graceful pen, we hope will frequently enrich the columns of the Herald.

THE CAMPAIGN.

The prospects for the election of David Wilmot, as the next Governor of Pennsylvania are of the most encouraging character. The campaign has fairly opened, large and enthusiastic meetings have been held in several counties, by the friends of Wilmot. The American Republican Party, is organized fairly, and we hope efficiently, on the following PLATFORM OF PATRIOTISM, adopted by the convention at Harrisburg, which nominated the Hon' David Wilmot for Governor, and of which, we invite your special attention.

Resolved, That the maintenance of the principles promulgated in the Declaration of Independence, and embodied in the Federal Constitution, is essential to the preservation of our Republican institutions, the liberties of the people, the sovereign rights of the States, must and shall be preserved.

Resolved, That with our Republican fathers, we hold it to be a self-evident truth that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; that to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men; and the primary duty of government is to secure these rights to all persons under its exclusive jurisdiction. That, as our Republican fathers, abolished slavery in all the national territory, and ordained in the Constitution that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law, it becomes our duty to maintain this provision of the Constitution against all attempts to violate it for the purpose of establishing slavery in the Territories of the United States. That we deny the authority of Congress, of the Supreme Court, of a Territorial Legislature of any individuals, to give legal existence to slavery in any territory of the United States, while the Constitution shall be maintained.

Resolved, That the Constitution confers upon Congress sovereign power over the Territories of the United States, for the purpose of organizing a government, and for the purpose of establishing slavery in the Territories of the United States. That we deny the authority of Congress, of the Supreme Court, of a Territorial Legislature of any individuals, to give legal existence to slavery in any territory of the United States, while the Constitution shall be maintained.

Resolved, That the Constitution confers upon Congress sovereign power over the Territories of the United States, for the purpose of organizing a government, and for the purpose of establishing slavery in the Territories of the United States. That we deny the authority of Congress, of the Supreme Court, of a Territorial Legislature of any individuals, to give legal existence to slavery in any territory of the United States, while the Constitution shall be maintained.

Resolved, That the Constitution confers upon Congress sovereign power over the Territories of the United States, for the purpose of organizing a government, and for the purpose of establishing slavery in the Territories of the United States. That we deny the authority of Congress, of the Supreme Court, of a Territorial Legislature of any individuals, to give legal existence to slavery in any territory of the United States, while the Constitution shall be maintained.

Resolved, That the Constitution confers upon Congress sovereign power over the Territories of the United States, for the purpose of organizing a government, and for the purpose of establishing slavery in the Territories of the United States. That we deny the authority of Congress, of the Supreme Court, of a Territorial Legislature of any individuals, to give legal existence to slavery in any territory of the United States, while the Constitution shall be maintained.

Resolved, That the Constitution confers upon Congress sovereign power over the Territories of the United States, for the purpose of organizing a government, and for the purpose of establishing slavery in the Territories of the United States. That we deny the authority of Congress, of the Supreme Court, of a Territorial Legislature of any individuals, to give legal existence to slavery in any territory of the United States, while the Constitution shall be maintained.

Resolved, That the Constitution confers upon Congress sovereign power over the Territories of the United States, for the purpose of organizing a government, and for the purpose of establishing slavery in the Territories of the United States. That we deny the authority of Congress, of the Supreme Court, of a Territorial Legislature of any individuals, to give legal existence to slavery in any territory of the United States, while the Constitution shall be maintained.

Resolved, That the Constitution confers upon Congress sovereign power over the Territories of the United States, for the purpose of organizing a government, and for the purpose of establishing slavery in the Territories of the United States. That we deny the authority of Congress, of the Supreme Court, of a Territorial Legislature of any individuals, to give legal existence to slavery in any territory of the United States, while the Constitution shall be maintained.

Common and County Matters.

Meteorological Register for the Week Ending August 17th, 1887.

Table with 4 columns: Date, Thermometer, Rain, Remarks. Shows data for Tuesday through Sunday.

The degree of heat in the above register is the daily average of three observations.

Wm. M. POLVER, Herold Office, Carlisle, Pa. N. B.—Exchange papers will please notice.

JUDGE WILMOT'S APPOINTMENTS.

We see by the following announcements that notwithstanding Gen. Packer's refusal to meet Mr. Wilmot on the stump, the Judge is determined, the people shall have light on the subject, and intends therefore to "go it on his own hook."

By appointment of the State Committee, Hon. DAVID WILMOT will address his fellow citizens, at the following places: Somerset, Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 25. Greensburg, Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 26. Washington, Thursday afternoon, Aug. 27. Pittsburgh, Friday evening, Aug. 28. Uniontown, Saturday afternoon, Aug. 29. Bedford, Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 1. New Castle, Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 2. Chambersburg, Thursday afternoon, Sept. 3. Huntingdon, Friday afternoon, Sept. 4. Hollidaysburg, Saturday afternoon, Sept. 5. Altoona, Saturday evening, Sept. 5. Altoona, Sunday afternoon, Sept. 6. Kittingen, Tuesday afternoon, September 8. Clarion, Wednesday afternoon, September 9. Franklin, Thursday afternoon, September 10. Meadville, Friday afternoon, September 11. Waterford, Saturday afternoon, September 12. Erie, Saturday evening, September 12. Beaver, Monday afternoon, September 14. New Castle, Monday evening, September 15. Mercer, Wednesday afternoon, September 16. Butler, Thursday afternoon, September 17. Allegheny county, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 18 and 19.

By appointment of the State Committee, Hon. DAVID WILMOT will address his fellow citizens, at the following places: Somerset, Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 25. Greensburg, Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 26. Washington, Thursday afternoon, Aug. 27. Pittsburgh, Friday evening, Aug. 28. Uniontown, Saturday afternoon, Aug. 29. Bedford, Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 1. New Castle, Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 2. Chambersburg, Thursday afternoon, Sept. 3. Huntingdon, Friday afternoon, Sept. 4. Hollidaysburg, Saturday afternoon, Sept. 5. Altoona, Saturday evening, Sept. 5. Altoona, Sunday afternoon, Sept. 6. Kittingen, Tuesday afternoon, September 8. Clarion, Wednesday afternoon, September 9. Franklin, Thursday afternoon, September 10. Meadville, Friday afternoon, September 11. Waterford, Saturday afternoon, September 12. Erie, Saturday evening, September 12. Beaver, Monday afternoon, September 14. New Castle, Monday evening, September 15. Mercer, Wednesday afternoon, September 16. Butler, Thursday afternoon, September 17. Allegheny county, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 18 and 19.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

CALEDONIA COLD SPRINGS.

As this charming summer resort seems scarcely so well known to our citizens as it deserves, we have persuaded a friend, who has just returned from a protracted sojourn there to prepare a short account of it for our columns.—E. H. HAZEL.

The Caledonia Cold Springs are situated in Adams county, among the spurs of the South Mountain, and as claimed by the proprietors, are four hundred feet above any other springs in the State, and fourteen hundred feet above the level of Chambersburg. As Carlisle is only 500 feet above tide-water, and Chambersburg at least 100 feet above Carlisle, this would give to Caledonia an altitude of 2000 feet above the sea.

However accurate this estimate of altitude may be, it is certain that the elevation is very great. This is shown by two circumstances, the summer temperature of the air, and that of the water. As is well known, the comparative mean annual temperature of different localities is indicated quite accurately by that of their spring waters. At Carlisle, the coldest well water is about 54 degrees; the Meeting House Springs 66 or 67; the hydrant water at Caledonia are 49 degrees at the surface, and 47 degrees at the bottom. The temperature of the air is also much lower than at Carlisle. In two weeks, the thermometer at 8 o'clock in the morning never exceeded 70 degrees, on several occasions standing at 65 degrees, while at mid-day it did not rise above 30 degrees. During the last Friday of last week the air was perfectly comfortable. There is always a cool, fresh breeze, and the atmosphere in its coolness, crispness, and exhilarating properties, is more like that of Lake Superior than any other inland locality known to the writer.

The water at Caledonia is almost chemically pure, as shown, both by careful analysis, and its remarkable softness and cleansing properties. White linen or cotton articles of dress, that have resisted all ordinary means of "doing up," become whitered almost with a single dip.

It is very difficult to express in words the sensation of enjoyment felt, after taking a bath in the pool at Caledonia. The water is so excessively cold that it is scarcely possible to do more than run down the steps into the water and back again as rapidly as possible. But few persons are able to remain in longer than a few seconds, while to three times round the pool, about twelve or fifteen feet square, is considered quite an extraordinary feat. It is not a little singular, too, that many persons who cannot take an ordinary cold bath of hydrant water, without being chilled, after taking a Caledonia dip, experience all desirable reaction, the flesh almost assuming the color of a boiled lobster. Where this reaction is very great, the skin tingles as after taking a mustard bath. The dead epidermis softens and peels off at once, and with the aid of a coarse towel, all the beneficial effects of a Turkish bath can be realized.

There are two bathing pools, one for ladies, the other for gentlemen, both well protected from intrusion, and provided with dressing-rooms. There are also other bathing apartments, with arrangements for heating the water to any degree of temperature.

Having said so much about the external attractions and peculiarities of Caledonia, a word in regard to the house may not be amiss. This consists of a main building about one hundred feet long with two wings about sixty feet each. It is a fine story high with colonnades on every story. The rooms, one hundred in number, are unusually large, and well ventilated.

The establishment is well kept by an experienced host, aided by a large corps of waiters. The table is amply supplied with all the necessaries and luxuries of the season. All the ordinary amusements of summer resorts are provided for the guests as billiards, tennis, croquet, &c. The walks and drives in the vicinity are all of them very pleasant, some of them leading to extensive views of the surrounding country.

It will be quite evident from the preceding statement of facts that Caledonia possesses all the attractions as a summer resort seldom found associated together. Its ready accessibility, its "do-it-yourself" character, and its proximity to Chambersburg with the afternoon train of cars from Harrisburg, and a ride of a little over three hours over an excellent road brings visitors to the springs in a dozen miles, of which twelve are over the Gettysburg and Chambersburg Turnpike.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

CARLISLE SULPHUR SPRINGS.

A few weeks ago, we ventured a description of the Carlisle Sulphur Springs, in connection with the other watering places in the neighborhood, in an article designed to show the many inducements we have in this county, for strangers to make it a summer resort. A recent visit to the "Springs" reminds us that we have hardly done justice to it. The improvements projected, and carried out by the Proprietors, within the last three or four years, render it now, one of the most delightful watering places in the country.

Situated five miles north of Carlisle near the base of the Blue Mountain, its location gives it all the advantages to be derived from pure air, and mountain scenery, while the waters, strongly impregnated with sulphur, magnesia, &c., possess medicinal qualities of rare value, for those whose constitution need renovating. The buildings cover a space of about 400 feet, and an addition now in process of erection, will give an extension of 100 feet more, they occupy three sides of a quadrangle, the area forming a most delightful arbor, which seems to be the favorite drawing room of the company. The rooms are elegantly furnished, and the house fitted up with all the appliances of a first class Hotel. Boarders and visitors, speak in the highest terms, of the attention paid by the proprietors, Messrs. Owen & Chandler, to the wants and comfort of their guests; their bill of fare, embraces all the luxuries of the season, with an efficient corps of attentive servants, and a fine band of music, always on hand for a "hop" in the evening. An avenue of trees leads to the Springs and bath rooms.

They have now about a hundred permanent boarders, in which, Baltimore, Washington city, and Philadelphia are well represented, including a fair sprinkling of beautiful women, among whom, there is not a single Flora McFinnay, as we can assure our readers, they all have "something to wear," there is also about the usual number of "blessed habes." The company seem intelligent and agreeable, and look as though no wish had been left ungratified; they will no doubt regret the end of the season.

To those who are seeking health or pleasure, we would say, go to the Carlisle Springs and you will find both.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

GOOD IDEA.

To Hartford, Conn., Mr. J. G. Eggleston, desirous of introducing water pipes from the direct "main" to his house, instead of tearing up the sidewalk and digging a trench four or five feet deep, and attaching an iron rod three feet in length to it, bored through the ground under the sidewalk until he hit the main, where the connection was made. It was the work of a few minutes, and cost but a trifle compared with the old mode. The Times suggests that Angers be made for the purpose, and the plan be adopted for gas and water purposes.

This may do in Hartford, but here, it would puzzle a legislative body to reach our water mains, under the sidewalk, especially if he came in contact with one of our "hard-heads," in the shape of a limestone rock.

Those who wish to make investments in real estate are referred to the advertisements in the Herald of this week. David Ballston offers for sale the farm which he now occupies, in Silver Spring township, Henry Welbert and George Brindle, Executors of George Welbert, deceased, advertise for sale a Farm in South Middleton township, and Henry Webbs offers a farm in Silver Spring township, lately owned by Henry Dutton, deceased. For full description, see advertisements.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil; and we call upon our own Legislature to guard by effective and stringent laws the purity of the ballot-box.

Resolved, That the sale of the Main Line of our improvements is demanded by every consideration that should weigh with intelligent and honest men. As a part of our system of government, and as a means of promoting the welfare and progress of the State, it is not only a duty, but a necessity, that we should, by every means in our power, secure the completion of this great work, and we call upon our good citizens to unite for the suppression of this evil;