

EDITORIAL GOSSIP.

Thank Providence, the election is over, and after this week, we shall have a breathing spell from politics. The battle has been fought; the excitement is cooling off, and as soon as the politicians have finished "dipping out" the returns, society will "simmer down" to its usual quietude, and the Herald resume its former variety.

It is in vain that we scan the news columns of our exchanges, for an "item." Nothing meets the eye, but startling headlines, the passions and prejudices of men, or the stereotyped party catch-words, in stirring capitals. One editor affectionately invites his readers to vote, "the ticket, the whole ticket, and nothing but the ticket," while another reminds them that "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

There is evidence on all sides, of returning prosperity in the business world, and we hope are long the life-blood of trade will be coursing through every artery. We may safely say to our readers, that the worst is over and gone, and that better times may now be looked for. The state of activity that prevailed before the crash of 1857 cannot be expected to be witnessed immediately, but it will gradually return, and after a while all the business relations of the country will resume their accustomed activity and prosperity.

It is gratifying to see the manufacturing establishments in various parts of the country, since the monetary crisis came upon us. Below we publish from our exchanges several paragraphs upon this point, and the same evidence of returning prosperity presents itself every day. The Allegheny Register says: "We are informed that the Catawaga and Hoquemaqua Iron Companies have recently made heavy contracts for the purchase of iron water-pipes for the city of Boston."

September Fourteenth, 1758, one hundred years ago Tuesday, is recalled by the Pittsburg Journal as the bloodiest in the annals of Pittsburg. On that day the French troops at Fort Duquesne routed the English commander Maj. Grant with great loss, and took him prisoner. On the 26th of November, succeeding the English General Forbes captured the Fort, and the whole section of country passed forever from the power of France. The Journal suggests a celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the surrender of the Fort on the 26th of November.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY, FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE VISITORS TO OUR COUNTY FAIR.

As a number of strangers will be in town during the continuance of the FAIR, most of whom will want to make purchases of one kind or other, we propose to give them a Directory of Stores and Shops, so that they may experience no difficulty in finding the right places where they may lay out their money to the best advantage.

We commence with the Dry Good Stores. Gentrywell known as a veteran, who has grown grey in the service, hangs out his banner at the new corner, opposite the Methodist Episcopal Church.

A. W. BRYANT, the Old Stand nearly opposite the Post Office, has his large building filled with new goods, and a room especially for carpets, carpets on the way.

JOHN A. HANCOCK—will occupy the "old corner" on North Hanover street, and has a large stock of seasonable goods, which he is running off at a low figure.

LEITCH & SAWYER—at Fisher's old stand, East High street, are now candidates for a share of the business in Carlisle. They are constantly making additions to their stock, and are fast winning their way to public favor.

JOHN W. EBY—at the Marion Hall Grocery. JOSEPH D. HALL—opposite the Carlisle Deposit Bank.

S. C. HUBERT—Corner of North Hanover and Louthier streets.

C. J. INHOFF—at the new corner, opposite Hanson's Franklin Hotel. All of these stores have large assortments of Groceries, Queensware, China and Glassware, of the best quality.

For Drugs, Perfumery, Fancy Articles, &c., you will find large supplies at S. W. HAVERTICK'S, North Hanover street, S. ELLIOTT'S, West High street, and B. J. KIEFFER'S, South Hanover street.

JOHN P. LYNE & SON, N. Hanover st., and HENRY SARTON, East High street, have each large stocks of Hardware, house furnishing articles, and agricultural implements.

THOMAS COMBS, West High street, opposite J. W. Day's, and W. D. NACOLE, opposite the Hotel office, have the largest and most valuable assortment of Watches, Jewelry and Fancy Goods, in this section of the country.

For Confectionery, Toys, &c., call at MORTIMER'S, North Hanover street, and F. C. PONTNER'S, West High street, opposite the Railroad Station.

CRYSTAL PALACE DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Accounts from New-York, state that the Crystal Palace was entirely consumed by fire on Tuesday afternoon last. The fire broke out in the lumber room, which was filled with empty boxes and a large quantity of old lumber. It is believed the fire was the work of an incendiary.

When the flames were first discovered, the Palace engine was brought out, but the loss was so full of holes, that it was rendered perfectly useless. The flames spread with astonishing rapidity, creating an intense excitement among the visitors of whom it is estimated that upwards of two thousand were present.

It is feared that many were killed. One dead body has been taken out. The heat was intense. The services of the firemen were of no avail. The whole building is in ruins.

That a very small portion of the contents was saved. Two only, a pair of boots, and a pair of shoes, were got out unharmed. The building was crowded with articles on exhibition of every description.

It is impossible to estimate the loss with accuracy. The building itself is estimated to have been worth $250,000, and the contents must have been worth double that amount.

All sorts of rumors and incidents are told about the fire. The Fire Marshall, it is said, has a clue as to who the incendiary is; but he declines to communicate his suspicions until they shall be so far confirmed as to warrant an arrest.

One of the heaviest losses was sustained by Messrs. E. C. Hall, Lucien Ayer, and Madison Page, who owned the celebrated Panorama of the Rio del Plata, painted by Chammy. The Panorama covered 30,000 feet of Canvas, and was valued at $20,000. It was totally destroyed and not a cent of insurance upon it.

Important from Japan. The Paris Press publishes intelligence from Japan to the 10th of July, according to which the authorities were doing all in their power for the faithful execution of the terms of the treaties.

It will be recollected that the Americans presented a memorial and a telegram to the Emperor. An imperial decree authorized the creation of commercial exchanges at Simoda, Nagasaki, and Hakodadi, and appointed a number of merchandise brokers to facilitate commercial intercourse with the various nations included in the treaties.

It will be recollected that the Americans presented a memorial and a telegram to the Emperor. An imperial decree authorized the creation of commercial exchanges at Simoda, Nagasaki, and Hakodadi, and appointed a number of merchandise brokers to facilitate commercial intercourse with the various nations included in the treaties.

It will be recollected that the Americans presented a memorial and a telegram to the Emperor. An imperial decree authorized the creation of commercial exchanges at Simoda, Nagasaki, and Hakodadi, and appointed a number of merchandise brokers to facilitate commercial intercourse with the various nations included in the treaties.

It will be recollected that the Americans presented a memorial and a telegram to the Emperor. An imperial decree authorized the creation of commercial exchanges at Simoda, Nagasaki, and Hakodadi, and appointed a number of merchandise brokers to facilitate commercial intercourse with the various nations included in the treaties.

It will be recollected that the Americans presented a memorial and a telegram to the Emperor. An imperial decree authorized the creation of commercial exchanges at Simoda, Nagasaki, and Hakodadi, and appointed a number of merchandise brokers to facilitate commercial intercourse with the various nations included in the treaties.

Weather and County Matters.

Table with columns: Date, Thermometer, Rain, Remarks. Rows for Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Sunday, Monday, Weekly Mean.

The degree of heat in the above register is the daily average of three observations.

DR. DUFFIELD'S ADDRESS, NOW READY FOR SUBSCRIBERS.

The admirable discourse entitled "ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO," delivered by the Rev. Geo. Duffield, D. D., during the Centennial Celebration of the First Presbyterian Church, of Carlisle, is now ready.

Price 25 cents per copy.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

We call attention to day, to the advertisement of Crittenden's Commercial College. It is undoubtedly one of the best institutions of the kind in this country.

J. C. Callio & Co. have just received large additions to their full stock of hats and caps. Leitch & Sawyer, are also receiving of new invoices of seasonable goods.

Arnold & Livingston, have received their usual supply of ready made clothing for fall and winter; give them a call.

FASHIONABLE CLOTHING.—Our old friend HANCOCK, at his extensive Clothing Emporium, opposite the Railroad Station, has just received from the Eastern cities a large stock of Cloths, &c., for Fall and Winter use.

NEW IMPROVEMENT.—Mr. W. D. A. NAUGHT has purchased of E. M. BROWN, Esq., the vacant lot on West High street, east of the Methodist Episcopal Church, on which he intends to erect a three-story brick building, by 40 feet, with a front somewhat similar to Mr. Hanson's new building, on the corner.

FIRE IN THE LOWER END.—We learn from the Mechanicsburg Gazette, that on Monday the 4th inst., a house, on the new road leading from that place to Shepherdstown, belonging to and occupied by a Mr. HANSEN, was destroyed by fire. The fire was first discovered about 2 o'clock in the morning, and the inmates had barely escaped, when the roof fell in. It is supposed the fire originated from a spark from the chimney the previous afternoon about 3 o'clock, and was slowly burning until the time it was discovered. Scarcely any of the furniture was saved. There was insurance on the property of about $600.

FIREMEN'S VISIT TO HARRISBURG.—On Friday morning last, the "Good Will Hose Company" of Carlisle, numbering thirty-four members, paid a visit to Harrisburg, to join the Firemen of that place in a celebration and parade. The "Washington Engine Company" of Mechanicsburg was also in attendance.

MELANCHOLY SUICIDE.—The Shipping News, of Saturday last, says: "We deeply regret that we are called upon to record the suicide of Mr. H. H. HOUVER, a resident of Lurgan township, Franklin county, which occurred in a stable near his residence, on the morning of the 6th inst. But a short time previous to the 6th, he left his family in apparent health and sound mind to attend to some duties about his barn, while breakfast was preparing. Not returning to the house at the expected moment, he was sent for the person sent to summon the deceased, on entering the barn, beheld him suspended by the neck. Immediate alarm was given, and the body taken down, but the spirit of Henry W. Hoover had taken its flight. Life was extinct. Not five minutes were supposed to have elapsed from the time Mr. H. left his house until he was found a suicide.

MELANCHOLY SUICIDE.—The Shipping News, of Saturday last, says: "We deeply regret that we are called upon to record the suicide of Mr. H. H. HOUVER, a resident of Lurgan township, Franklin county, which occurred in a stable near his residence, on the morning of the 6th inst. But a short time previous to the 6th, he left his family in apparent health and sound mind to attend to some duties about his barn, while breakfast was preparing. Not returning to the house at the expected moment, he was sent for the person sent to summon the deceased, on entering the barn, beheld him suspended by the neck. Immediate alarm was given, and the body taken down, but the spirit of Henry W. Hoover had taken its flight. Life was extinct. Not five minutes were supposed to have elapsed from the time Mr. H. left his house until he was found a suicide.

MELANCHOLY SUICIDE.—The Shipping News, of Saturday last, says: "We deeply regret that we are called upon to record the suicide of Mr. H. H. HOUVER, a resident of Lurgan township, Franklin county, which occurred in a stable near his residence, on the morning of the 6th inst. But a short time previous to the 6th, he left his family in apparent health and sound mind to attend to some duties about his barn, while breakfast was preparing. Not returning to the house at the expected moment, he was sent for the person sent to summon the deceased, on entering the barn, beheld him suspended by the neck. Immediate alarm was given, and the body taken down, but the spirit of Henry W. Hoover had taken its flight. Life was extinct. Not five minutes were supposed to have elapsed from the time Mr. H. left his house until he was found a suicide.

MELANCHOLY SUICIDE.—The Shipping News, of Saturday last, says: "We deeply regret that we are called upon to record the suicide of Mr. H. H. HOUVER, a resident of Lurgan township, Franklin county, which occurred in a stable near his residence, on the morning of the 6th inst. But a short time previous to the 6th, he left his family in apparent health and sound mind to attend to some duties about his barn, while breakfast was preparing. Not returning to the house at the expected moment, he was sent for the person sent to summon the deceased, on entering the barn, beheld him suspended by the neck. Immediate alarm was given, and the body taken down, but the spirit of Henry W. Hoover had taken its flight. Life was extinct. Not five minutes were supposed to have elapsed from the time Mr. H. left his house until he was found a suicide.

MELANCHOLY SUICIDE.—The Shipping News, of Saturday last, says: "We deeply regret that we are called upon to record the suicide of Mr. H. H. HOUVER, a resident of Lurgan township, Franklin county, which occurred in a stable near his residence, on the morning of the 6th inst. But a short time previous to the 6th, he left his family in apparent health and sound mind to attend to some duties about his barn, while breakfast was preparing. Not returning to the house at the expected moment, he was sent for the person sent to summon the deceased, on entering the barn, beheld him suspended by the neck. Immediate alarm was given, and the body taken down, but the spirit of Henry W. Hoover had taken its flight. Life was extinct. Not five minutes were supposed to have elapsed from the time Mr. H. left his house until he was found a suicide.

MELANCHOLY SUICIDE.—The Shipping News, of Saturday last, says: "We deeply regret that we are called upon to record the suicide of Mr. H. H. HOUVER, a resident of Lurgan township, Franklin county, which occurred in a stable near his residence, on the morning of the 6th inst. But a short time previous to the 6th, he left his family in apparent health and sound mind to attend to some duties about his barn, while breakfast was preparing. Not returning to the house at the expected moment, he was sent for the person sent to summon the deceased, on entering the barn, beheld him suspended by the neck. Immediate alarm was given, and the body taken down, but the spirit of Henry W. Hoover had taken its flight. Life was extinct. Not five minutes were supposed to have elapsed from the time Mr. H. left his house until he was found a suicide.

MELANCHOLY SUICIDE.—The Shipping News, of Saturday last, says: "We deeply regret that we are called upon to record the suicide of Mr. H. H. HOUVER, a resident of Lurgan township, Franklin county, which occurred in a stable near his residence, on the morning of the 6th inst. But a short time previous to the 6th, he left his family in apparent health and sound mind to attend to some duties about his barn, while breakfast was preparing. Not returning to the house at the expected moment, he was sent for the person sent to summon the deceased, on entering the barn, beheld him suspended by the neck. Immediate alarm was given, and the body taken down, but the spirit of Henry W. Hoover had taken its flight. Life was extinct. Not five minutes were supposed to have elapsed from the time Mr. H. left his house until he was found a suicide.

CARLISLE DISTRICT—OCTOBER, 1858.

Table with columns: Name, Votes. Rows for Supreme Judge, County Commissioner, Congress, Assembly, Sheriff, Commissioner, Auditor, and various candidates.

Yesterday was a glorious day for Old Mother Cumberland. Notwithstanding the day was disagreeable, the PEOPLE turned out in their strength, and the result is the triumphant election of part of our ticket, and the balance is so close, that the exact result cannot be known until the returns are all in.

Robert McCartney is elected Sheriff by a majority of over 100.

We give above, the vote of the Carlisle District, all correct.

SHIPPENSBURG DISTRICT.

Table with columns: Name, Votes. Rows for Sheriff, Assembly, and various candidates.

THE PROGRESS OF THE PARAGUAY FLEET UP THE RIVER.

On board the FULTON, OFF GOSPORT NAVY YARD, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 13, 9 A. M. We are on the point of starting. The Water Witch has steamed up, and the greatest excitement prevails in the vicinity of the Navy Yard. Commodore Dornin, Captain Hurd, and Constructor Hart, visited our ship yesterday. Inspected her, pronounced her in first-rate trim, and left, wishing us a speed and successful termination to the important mission on which we are bound. We have been in the stream since Saturday, but procrastination is common to naval vessels generally, and amongst naval people, we are provisioned for four months, have on board 280 tons of coal, of which we will consume about 100 tons before we reach the mouth of the river. Our eleven and two inch guns go out in a starry ship; the whole of our forecastle is taken up with another gun, the carriage of which also goes out in the supply. The most novel anchor we have on board is a new kind of anchor, which arrived here on Saturday. It is about fifteen feet long, and is constructed something like the leaf of an umbrella, braced with wood, and made of iron. The center is iron, and by throwing this machinery overboard in a heavy sea, the ship would be instantly hoisted and anchored, and the sea over so deep. We have 400 feet of board, twelve thousand shells, three thousand Minnie Rifle balls, three thousand carbine balls, fifteen thousand percussion caps, sixty-four muskets of which fourteen belong to the guard, one hundred pistols, fifty Sharp's carbines. We measure six hundred and ninety tons. We will go direct from Barbadoes to Rio, as we will be able to take enough of coal at the former place, should no unforeseen accident occur. Our companion, the Water Witch, can only carry eight days' coal, and should she meet with contrary winds, we are appalled to the generosity of Venezuela. You may rely implicitly on my promise to write to you regularly, and as our ship will go all the way to the river, we will be able to do so necessarily. The Steamer Southern Star is nearly ready, she brings a mail bag, and I hope all our friends will send us letters and newspapers. The night courier, which is expected every minute, and I have no doubt that all the vessels of the Paraguay expedition now at Norfolk, will have sailed by Monday.

EXPLOSION OF AN ANVIL.—TERRIBLE EFFECTS. The Chicago Times learn that in Lodi, a small village in France county, an election was held on Friday last, on the question of incorporating their town; that the opposition to the corporation carried the day, and were so elated thereat that they presented an old anvil, charged it with gunpowder and fired it with great force, thus celebrating their victory. While a crowd of people was close about the anvil, it burst, with a tremendous report, one surgeon striking Dr. William Kennedy, the only surgeon in the place, and breaking his leg. A fragment of iron weighing about ten pounds, struck white coat about six inches in diameter, and cut it off short, as effectively as if hit by a twelve pound cannon ball. Another piece, weighing 6 or 8 pounds, hit George Brooks, a young man, the oldest son of L. Brooks, of Lodi, and inflicted a wound which is evidently mortal—the hip bone being smashed to pieces. The father of the wounded man carried his son home, but fainted on beholding the extent of his injury. The coroner's jury has not yet returned, but it is expected that the man who carried the anvil, and before her return her seduction was accomplished. When she awoke to the reality of her condition, she was stricken with remorse, and procuring arsenic, swallowed a large dose. The following morning she was found in the agonies of death, lying by the roadside leading to her home. She lingered a few hours, and then died in great distress for charity, and her melancholy end is much lamented by her friends. The bodily murderer, Nathaniel Whitler, a worthless fellow now in Amherst jail. His companion is still at large.

THE LOSS OF STEAMSHIPS.—The first Steamship that crossed the Atlantic was the Sirius, in 1818. The regular line of European steamers was started by Mr. Cunard in 1840, and since that time there have been lost on the stormy Atlantic eleven vessels, making an average in eighteen years of one in every eighteen months. The disasters to Ocean Steamships may be summed up as follows:

- 1. President, Never heard of.
2. Columbia, All hands saved.
3. Humboldt, Never heard of.
4. City of Glasgow, Never heard of.
5. City of Philadelphia, All hands saved.
6. Franklin, Never heard of.
7. Arctic, Never heard of.
8. Pacific, Never heard of.
9. Lyoniais, A few only saved.
10. Toupest, Never heard of.
11. Austria, Burned—A few only saved.

SKIES BRIGHT!

Glorious Triumph of the People. Lecompton dead! The Tariff a fixed Principle!

Returns from all points bring us the cheering intelligence that the Democracy have met with a Waterloo defeat through out the State. THE PEOPLE have spoken out against Lecompton, and in favor of a tariff, in a voice not to be misunderstood.

PHILADELPHIA. In Philadelphia, they claim the election of the PEOPLE'S ticket elected. Florence, (dem.) elected. Phillips, Lady and Owen Jones' (dem.) are defeated. LANGASTER. Thaddeus Stevens is elected by 2,500. FRANKLIN. McPherson gains on Reilly, his majority in Franklin will be 500. SCRANTON; in Leidy's district is elected. Campbell, in the Schuylkill district is supposed to be elected, as is also Hickman in the Chester district. Lecompton will not have a corporal's guard in the next Congress. On the vote for the Supreme Judge, it is believed that we have carried the State.

NEW GOODS FROM CARLISLE'S CHEAP JEWELRY STORE. I would respectfully inform my Old Friends, and the public generally, that I have now on hand the largest and best selected stock of Clocks, Watches, and Jewelry ever brought to this place, having added largely to my former stock the latest styles of every article in the line, thought for past favors I solicit a continuance of the public patronage. Oct. 11th 1858. W. D. A. NAUGHT.

WINTER IS COMING! The last few days have given us a perceptible indication of winter weather. Jack Frost has been about, and our people are actively preparing for the cold blasts of winter by laying in their wood and coal.

THE LOSS OF STEAMSHIPS.—The first Steamship that crossed the Atlantic was the Sirius, in 1818. The regular line of European steamers was started by Mr. Cunard in 1840, and since that time there have been lost on the stormy Atlantic eleven vessels, making an average in eighteen years of one in every eighteen months. The disasters to Ocean Steamships may be summed up as follows:

- 1. President, Never heard of.
2. Columbia, All hands saved.
3. Humboldt, Never heard of.
4. City of Glasgow, Never heard of.
5. City of Philadelphia, All hands saved.
6. Franklin, Never heard of.
7. Arctic, Never heard of.
8. Pacific, Never heard of.
9. Lyoniais, A few only saved.
10. Toupest, Never heard of.
11. Austria, Burned—A few only saved.

WINTER IS COMING! The last few days have given us a perceptible indication of winter weather. Jack Frost has been about, and our people are actively preparing for the cold blasts of winter by laying in their wood and coal.

FROM WASHINGTON.—Official Dispatches from China—Washington, Oct. 7.—Hon. Wm. B. Tiedel, our Minister to China, says, in his official dispatches, received to-day, that after the signing of the treaty, he made proposals of arrangement with the commissioners for the adjustment of the difficulties at Canton, by which portions of the duties at Shanghai, Peking, and Canton are to be appropriated to the end. He intended to visit, during the summer months, each of the ports of Japan as might be accessible, and return to the United States by way of Bombay, in November or December next.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a very peculiar position. It is to be wished, for the perfect safety for our own country, that we should turn with the squadron to the coast of China, about the last of October.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a very peculiar position. It is to be wished, for the perfect safety for our own country, that we should turn with the squadron to the coast of China, about the last of October.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a very peculiar position. It is to be wished, for the perfect safety for our own country, that we should turn with the squadron to the coast of China, about the last of October.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a very peculiar position. It is to be wished, for the perfect safety for our own country, that we should turn with the squadron to the coast of China, about the last of October.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a very peculiar position. It is to be wished, for the perfect safety for our own country, that we should turn with the squadron to the coast of China, about the last of October.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a very peculiar position. It is to be wished, for the perfect safety for our own country, that we should turn with the squadron to the coast of China, about the last of October.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a very peculiar position. It is to be wished, for the perfect safety for our own country, that we should turn with the squadron to the coast of China, about the last of October.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a very peculiar position. It is to be wished, for the perfect safety for our own country, that we should turn with the squadron to the coast of China, about the last of October.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a very peculiar position. It is to be wished, for the perfect safety for our own country, that we should turn with the squadron to the coast of China, about the last of October.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a very peculiar position. It is to be wished, for the perfect safety for our own country, that we should turn with the squadron to the coast of China, about the last of October.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a very peculiar position. It is to be wished, for the perfect safety for our own country, that we should turn with the squadron to the coast of China, about the last of October.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a very peculiar position. It is to be wished, for the perfect safety for our own country, that we should turn with the squadron to the coast of China, about the last of October.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a very peculiar position. It is to be wished, for the perfect safety for our own country, that we should turn with the squadron to the coast of China, about the last of October.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a very peculiar position. It is to be wished, for the perfect safety for our own country, that we should turn with the squadron to the coast of China, about the last of October.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a very peculiar position. It is to be wished, for the perfect safety for our own country, that we should turn with the squadron to the coast of China, about the last of October.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a very peculiar position. It is to be wished, for the perfect safety for our own country, that we should turn with the squadron to the coast of China, about the last of October.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a very peculiar position. It is to be wished, for the perfect safety for our own country, that we should turn with the squadron to the coast of China, about the last of October.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a very peculiar position. It is to be wished, for the perfect safety for our own country, that we should turn with the squadron to the coast of China, about the last of October.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a very peculiar position. It is to be wished, for the perfect safety for our own country, that we should turn with the squadron to the coast of China, about the last of October.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a very peculiar position. It is to be wished, for the perfect safety for our own country, that we should turn with the squadron to the coast of China, about the last of October.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a very peculiar position. It is to be wished, for the perfect safety for our own country, that we should turn with the squadron to the coast of China, about the last of October.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a very peculiar position. It is to be wished, for the perfect safety for our own country, that we should turn with the squadron to the coast of China, about the last of October.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a very peculiar position. It is to be wished, for the perfect safety for our own country, that we should turn with the squadron to the coast of China, about the last of October.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a very peculiar position. It is to be wished, for the perfect safety for our own country, that we should turn with the squadron to the coast of China, about the last of October.

Commodore Tatnall, in his dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6th, after saying that the entire fleet of steamships would soon be shown to the Japanese, remarks that no better opportunity could be selected for demonstrating the superiority of our steamships. The recent treaties and termination of hostilities, together with the swarms of English and French ships in the rivers, must place all the foreign interests of a lawful kind in a