POETICAL.

WE clip the following "Sonnets," appropriate to the season, from "Porter's Spectator of the Times" of last year. They were written by a young woman of our day, and we think our readers, who appreciate our work, will be glad to see them in the HERALD.

SEASON SONNETS.

NO. 1.—CHRISTMAS.

The Christmas morn'g when fatten'd turkeys look
Upon each passer with a mournful eye,
For well they know the hatching season's o'er,
And 'neath the plum-tree, where the birds are
Will come full soon to ask them to die.
Ah! Joyous time! (for all that poultry) when
The man seems happy as a fatted calf,
And the plum and puddings in the good wife's store,
And mince-pies will make a feast for ten.
But look out, Porter!—'neath the light,
You might 'pile up bricks' before 'twas time to eat,
And find some trouble 'ringing up the street'—
For 'tis not always Christmas time, 'a' day!
At least I've known some anti-Christmas sinners,
So light 'fore noon they couldn't eat nice dinners.

NO. 2.—NEW YEAR'S DAY.

Last night, at twelve, the Old Year heath'd his last,
And quickly journeyed to the "Erenewed Land."
To shake hands with that "silver-headed" brother,
God's chosen record-keeper of the Past.
And 'right well she heeded, "I'll be true to you,
And plot, and nought, and all, all welling out;
Whit' arches hang full of vermillion about,
For boys and girls, and all, all welling out;
Just think! 'twill be a Christmas time, 'a' day!
Were sent to Jester's, what a light would be,
For long in Utah (where "dear woman's free"),
For her people to embrace in rhyme,
If she would sing, and sing, and sing first,
Her own soul would be a "Christmas" hymn.

THE LORD'S PRAYER ILLUSTRATED.

OUR FATHER—
By thy right creation,
By thy boundless provision,
By thy gracious adoption;
Who art in Heaven—
The throne of thy glory,
The position of thy children,
The temple of thy angels;
Hallowed be thy name—
By the thoughts of our hearts,
By the words of our lips,
By the works of our hands;
Thy Kingdom come—
Of Providence to defend us,
Of grace to renew us,
Of glory to crown us;
Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven—
Toward us without restraint,
In our hearts without exception,
Externally without declination;
Give us this day our daily bread—
Of necessity for our bodies,
Of eternal life for our souls;
And forgive us our trespasses—
Against the commands of thy law,
Against the sinners of thy Gospel;
As we forgive them that trespass against us—
By defaming our characters,
By encroaching our property,
By abusing our persons;
And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil—
Of overwhelming afflictions,
Of evilly contentments,
Of Satan's seductions,
Of sinful affections;
For thine is the Kingdom, the power, and the glory forever.
Thy Kingdom govern all!
Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven.
Amen.

FOR THE CARLISLE HERALD.

JOHN JACOB JONES, ESQ.

AN UNPUBLISHED CHAPTER IN HIS LIFE.

BY FINLEY JOHNSON.

With a father's advice, and a mother's benediction, John Jacob was thrown upon the world. He was a young man of noble lineage, and his early years were spent in the study of the law. He was a man of high character, and his life was a model of virtue. He was a man of high character, and his life was a model of virtue.

JOHN CLARK'S FORTUNE.

BY MRS. M. A. DENISON.

"Never mind the house, John, we've got one of our own," whispered John Clark's wife, as she sat by his side, looking at the old man who was sitting in the chair, looking at the old man who was sitting in the chair.

"What in the world has he left me?" muttered John Clark, "I believe he hated me."

"I believe the old man hated me," muttered John Clark, "I believe he hated me."
