GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE We have published the Governor's Metsage on our first page, to the exclusion of our usual variety. It is an able, high-toned document. and gives a gratifying report of the finances of the State. His views on the Banking system, the Tariff, the Slavery question, and the separation of the State from the public miprovements, are eminently sound and conservative; they were advanced years ago by the old Whig party, and are now advocated by the American Republican party of the State. As far as the house and interests of Pennsylvania are coheerned, we fully endorse the recom -mendations of . Gov. Packin And ask for his first-annual Message, a careful-perusal. and a second CONGRESSIONAL.

-- Congress-assembled on Tuesday last_after_ the holidays. In accordance with previous arrangements, the Senate was to meet for the last time in the old Hall, and take a fornial leave preparatory to their taking possession of the new Sonate chamber, which has just been finished. Mr. Crittenden rose and made ome remarks upon the occasion of the parting of the body from the old chamber, reminding the body of the many pleasant and prond , associations connected therewith. The chamber, he went on to show, had been the scene of great events - the theatre of great actionsin which the actors were great men. He mentioned some of the departed by name, the offer of whose well carned fame filled this hall.

The Vice President followed with a historical review of the circumstances attending the selection of a seat of government. The lifficulty was of such a nature that it appeared for omotime to be incapable of adjustment. But the good genius of our government prevailed over the sectional differences, and Congress, in 1790, passed an act fixing the location of the ten miles square.

He proceeded further-to-remark upon, the stability of the government, the prosperity of this flourishing city, and the gradual change which has occurred in the working of the constitution in reference to the Senate, which, was originally not a popular body as it is now and allowed no accommodations for spectators This chamber allowed of one third of the whole space for the public, and the new one twothirds of the whole space. The progress of the country in civilization and the arts, in commerce and power, he postrayed in a graphic and impressive manner. The Senate, preceded by the Vice President and their officers, repaired to the new hall, where, after mayer, they proceeded to business. On Wednesday, the death of Gen. Guitmon the respect and the admiration of the world was minounced in both Houses, and appropriate enlogies, having been pronounced on the deceased Congresss adjourned.

Thursday, Mr. Seward presented to the Senate the Leavenworth free State constitution of Kansas, which was referred to the Committee on Territories. On motion of Mr. Crittenden, the French spolation bill was faken up, and

Mr. Crittenden proceeded to speak on the subject. After which the Pacific railroad bill was debated.^

In the House, Mr. Craig, of Missouri, was refused leave to introduce a bill granting lands in Kansas and Nebraska in aid of raflways. Mr Colfax of Indiana, introduced a bill to or-

The flouse then went into committée, and various private bills

🔨 were reported. The House Committee on Territories has decided to report the bills for organizing the new territories of Dacotah and Arizona, but decided against the proposed territory of Colona. Eleven private bills were passed. A message was received from Presi-·. dent Buchanan giving the reasons why, on the last day of the former session, he had not signed the joint resolution to lessen the time of the overland mail trip, being that the matter had already been attended to.

On Saturday the Senate was not in ression having adjourned until Monday. In the House a message was received from the President covering the documents relative to the claim of Carnack and Ramsay, of damages for an alteged abrogation of the Vera Cruz and Acapulco mail contract. A debate on the subject ensued, after which the documents were referred to the Committee on the Judiciary. A motion to adjourn out of respect for the day

(the anniversary of the battle of New Grleans) was rejected by yeas 86, nays 93. Re-olutions were adopoted calling for information as to whether the Rock Island military reservation has been transferred from the War to the Interior Department, and throwar over to preemption at $1 25 per acre, and expecting a
